REPORT

ON THE

REVENUE ADMINISTRATION,

N.-W. PROVINCES AND OUDH,

FOR THE

Revenue year 1891-92.

No. $\frac{845}{\text{XII}-356}$ OF 1893.

FROM

JOHN HOOPER, Esq., C.S.,

SECRETARY TO THE BOARD OF REVENUE,

NORTH-WESTERN PROVINCES AND OUDH,

To

THE SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT,

NORTH-WESTERN PROVINCES AND OUDH,

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

DATED ALLAHABAD, THE 15TH MARCH 1893.

SIR,

Present :

J. R. REID, Esq.,
AND
W. KAYE, Esq.

I am directed to submit, with the usual enclosures, the Board's report on the Revenue Administration of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh for the revenue year ending on the 30th September 1892.

2. This report is the first amalgamated report for the two provinces. The appendices have as far as possible been assimilated; and, in the body of the report, except in the sections dealing with rent law litigation and one or two other matters in respect to which the law or procedure in the North-Western Provinces differs materially from that of Oudh, the two provinces have been treated as one. Efforts have been made to abridge the report in view of the comments of the Government of India in their letter No. $\frac{3023}{117}$, dated the 12th October 1892, a copy of which was forwarded to the Board with G. O. No. $\frac{2873}{\text{I}-745\text{A.}}$, dated 4th November 1892. These special conditions have rendered the preparation of the report, within the limited time allowed, somewhat difficult, and, had it not been for the commendable punctuality with which, except in the cases of Meerut and Lucknow, the divisional reports were submitted, the Board would have been unable to give even the partial effect, which they are glad to have been able to give, to the orders as to its earlier submission. In order to reduce the length of the combined report, it has been necessary to omit much detail which it has been customary to give, and which the Government were understood to expect. The references to the minutiæ of revenue administration, such as, for instance, the mode of disposal and duration in different districts of cases under the Rent and Revenue Acts, have been greatly curtailed. It will be understood, where these and similar matters are not specially noticed in the report, that the Board have issued the necessary orders.

3. The office of Senior Member was held by the Hon'ble J. J. F. Lumsden until the 15th November 1891, when he was succeeded by Mr. J. R. Reid, then Junior Member, who held the office of Senior Member for the remainder of the year, while that of Junior Member was held, for the same period, by Mr. W. Kaye.

PART I.

Chapter I.—AGRICULTURAL.

SEC. I.—RAINFALL AND HARVESTS. App. C.I.

4. The year was abnormal. A few light showers fell at the beginning of June, but the monsoon did not break until the end of July or the beginning of August, being especially late in the districts of the Benares Division. The rainfall was unusually heavy in August, and except in some of the eastern districts, where it was irregular, continued till the end of September or in the first days of October. The winter rains were very late all over the provinces, not falling until the end of January, or in some cases till late in February, and then but lightly. Their deficiency was specially disastrous in the hill districts of Kumaun, Garhwál, and Jaunsar Bawár, where scarcity ensued. Over the entire province the rainfall of the year averaged 39·4 inches, which is decidedly below the average of the past five years (45·6 inches). The deficiency was specially felt in the Benares and Gorakhpur Divisions.

5. A glance at the appendix will show for the province, what several officers have noticed within the limits of their districts, the uneven distribution of the rainfall. The Commissioner of Allahabad (Mr. F. N. Wright) attributes this largely to variable methods of measurement and reading, and for some of the most pronounced eccentricities this explanation is probably correct. But the differences are spread over so wide an area, they may almost be said in some cases to be so consistent, that faulty registration cannot be the universally or even generally assignable cause. In illustration of the local character of the rainfall, the remarks of Mr. Harrison, Collector of Aligarh, may be quoted. He says: "I have known occasions when it rained heavily "in parts of the civil station, while in the city not a drop fell, and vice versá."

Hardoi shows an increased fall as compared with a decrease in the other districts of the Lucknow Division; but a fair idea of the volume of water which generally poured down in August may be derived from the rainfall return of the month for this district, which shows 31 inches at the head-quarters and from 25 to 28 inches at the other rain-gauge stations. Again in Hardoi, Sitapur, and Kheri there was in the last week of September a sudden and excessive downpour, to which apparently were due the floods in the Gumti and smaller streams alluded to below. In Aligarh nine inches of rain fell on the 10th of August, and in Garhwál, within 24 hours on the 26th and 27th of August, 13·74 inches were registered. In no district was the irregularity of the season so marked as in Gházipur, where the rainfall was the lowest recorded since the drought of 1877. There was a heavy fall in the first week of June, followed by a break lasting until the second week in August, and between the 23rd of August and the 3rd of September there was no rain at all. The rains ceased, except for a few scattered showers, on the 23rd of September. Relief works were started at head-quarters with Municipal funds, but were abandoned when the rain really fell. After this, it is gratifying to read of the present year that "if the rainfall had been ordered, it could hardly "have come more opportunely."

6. Notwithstanding the irregularity of the rainfall, however, the autumn crops were, on the whole and except in the Benares Division and the Azamgarh district, good, and, according to the district reports, were generally distinctly better than those of the preceding year. Accumulations of water did considerable damage in low-lying lands, more particularly in the Meerut, Agra, and Rohilkhand Divisions, and the heavy rain in August, and, in many localities, at the beginning of September, beat down the crops and interfered with weeding. This was unhappily the case in the Aliganj tahsíl of the Etah district, one of the most deteriorated tracts in the Agra Division.

Cotton, maize, rice, til, and other crops which are sown early, suffered all over the provinces except in lands artificially irrigated, and the merchants of Háthras complained that they had not had such a bad cotton season for years. In Cawnpore the outturn of rice sown with the aid of canal water was excellent. This method of rice cultivation was also employed in the Dún, with equally good results. The sugar-cane crop was everywhere very good, and in Rohilkhand is said to have prevented the year from being one of distress and difficulty. The local variations of harvests were, as usual, noticeable. In Gorakhpur the autumn crop was excellent. In Azamgarh the rice crop totally failed and the other crops were very poor; and the case was similar in other districts of the Benares Division.

7. The spring crop is said to have been almost superlatively good in Bijnor, and it would have been good almost everywhere but for the hot winds in March, which did serious damage to the cereals and the poppy. In the Meerut district and elsewhere, where the land is retentive of moisture and the rainfall in August and September was continuous, it was impossible to prepare the soil for wheat, and the spring crop was on this account less valuable than usual. There was, nevertheless, a fair spring crop in nearly every district; and it is satisfactory to note that in the tracts of the Agra Division, which have suffered of late years from unfavourable seasons and other causes, the spring crops were generally excellent. But in Azamgarh, Almora, and Garhwál the failure of the spring crop, following a very poor autumn crop, caused great anxiety. In the two latter districts extensive measures for relief had to be undertaken, which have been separately dealt with by Government. The condition of the Azamgarh district is said to be such that it requires careful administration. Further reference to this will be found in Chapter II of the report. During the most critical period the district was visited by the Commissioner; and it was the subject of weekly reports to Government. There was also scarcity in the hill pargana of Jaunsár Báwar in the Dehra Dún district, owing to the almost total failure of the wheat and barley.

8. The average outturn of the different crops for the entire province, as reported by the Director, is noted below: the averages of the previous year are also noted for comparison, 16 annas being taken as a full crop:—

Cotton	11	8
Rice	12	11
Maizé	12	10
Juár	11	12
Bájra	11	12
Wheat	13	11
Barley	13	12
Gram	12	13
Opium	12	10
Linseed and rapeseed	11	13
Tobacco	13	15

These figures (which do not show sugar-cane) do not, taken by themselves, indicate that the harvests were any better than in the preceding year. The district reports, however, generally indicate that they were, and the Director notes that juár and bájra, which are the staple food crops of the autumn season, gave a much higher outturn than had been obtained for some years past, while in the cold season there was little or no damage from frost or blight; and linseed, rapeseed, tobacco, gram, and arhar generally gave a much higher yield than in 1890-91.

9. The following summary of the character of the season of 1892, and the prospects of the current year, is taken from the half-yearly Agricultural Report of the Director of Land Records and Agriculture:—

"The monsoon opened early. On the 6th of June there was a general fall of rain all over the provinces, and light rains continued up to the 16th, when they ceased.

"Fortunately this cessation lasted for a much shorter period than in the preceding year, "and the rains again set in on the 28th June. Both the total fall and the number of "rainy days in this month were thus more than in June 1891. In July the falls were "more frequent and much heavier than in the corresponding month of 1891, while in the "next two months they did not prove so heavy as in the same months last year. Thus "the rains in the present year were more evenly distributed and more closely approached "the normal fall for the period than the rains of the previous year. The break in the "rains in the middle of June tried somewhat seriously the vitality of the young plants "in fields which had been sown on the first fall of rain, and in some places a second "sowing was necessary. The continuous showers of July interfered to a certain extent "with the weeding of crops, particularly on the low lands; and the short rains of Sep- "tember affected the outturn of rice. But, on the whole, the season has proved more "favourable than any during the past four years.

"The following table shows the average condition of the principal crops for the "united provinces for the present and previous years, 16 annas denoting a full condi- "tion :—

Rice	11	12
Maize	10	11
Juár	12	14
Bájra	12	13
Mandua, kodon, and other small millets	10	13
Úrd, mung, and moth	12	12
Cotton	8	10
Til	10	11
Indigo	13	15

SEC. II.—HAIL-STORMS AND FLOODS.

10. The following districts were visited by hailstorms of varying, but in no case of remarkable, severity: Dehra Dún, Mainpuri, Bijnor, Sháhjahánpur, Cawnpore, Allahabad, Bánda, Hamírpur, Jalaun, Jhánsi, Mirzapur, Almora, Garhwál, Naini Tal, Partábgarh, Bara Banki, Lucknow, Unao, and Hardoi. Relief by way of remission or suspension of revenue was promptly given wherever it was required.

11. In Bareilly the sudden and heavy downpour of rain put all the rivers in flood, but the volume of water drained away and did less damage than was expected. A great flood swept down the Karon Nadi valley in Aligarh, destroying the kharíf crops on its way, and the Collector had to postpone the collection of land revenue to the extent of over Rs. 22,000. In the Lucknow Division the floods in the end of September and beginning of October were exceptional. There were extensive inundations from the Gumti and the Gogra in the Kheri district; and, in Lucknow, the overflow of the Gumti flooded the city. Referring to the floods at and about Lucknow, the Commissioner (Mr. Moule) writes: "It is supposed to have been the highest of the century. "The Husainabad quarter, including the gardens and the Imámbára, was under 4 to 5 "feet of water, and the river washed the lintels of the doors of the Chattar Manzil." The agricultural losses due to these floods were, however, not very serious or widespread.

Towards the end of the year, in August and September 1892, the Gogra overflowed its banks with disastrous effect to the adjacent country in Ballia, Gorakhpur, and Azamgarh, and in respect to Ballia the Commissioner of Benares (Mr. Adams) urges the necessity for a full enquiry into the cause of the floods by the Public Works Department. In Gorakhpur the Rapti did even greater damage than the Gogra, and on the 31st August 1892, after bursting a sluice gate and inundating the city, it reached a level 4 inches higher than any previously recorded. But these floods, though they made the prospects for the present year unusually gloomy in some parts of the districts of the Gorakhpur Division, did not affect injuriously the harvests of the year under report.

12. Locusts passed over the following districts: Meerut, Bulandshahr, Etáwah, Mainpuri, Budaun, Benares, and Kheri. In Etáwah they spent their nights on úsar plains, and in Bulandshahr and Benares alone did they do any damage, which in the latter district was inconsiderable.

SEC. III.—HEALTH.

13. The public health was not good during the year of report, though it seems to have been better in the Allahabad and Benares Divisions than it was in the preceding year. As usual, large numbers of the population were carried off by fevers, and there was a marked increase of mortality from this cause in Saháranpur and Cawnpore. Cholera attained severe epidemic form in parts of Meerut, in Dehra Dún, in the Kumaun Division, in Bareilly, Allahabad, parts of Jalaun, Ballia, Basti, Kheri, Gonda, Partábgarh, Fyzabad, and Gorakhpur. In the last mentioned district the number of recorded deaths (11,237) has only once been exceeded. The demands of religious usage aided in spreading the infection. The disease was brought to the western parts of the Meerut district by fasting Muhammadans from Delhi. In Benares, during the Mahábárni fair, there was a virulent outbreak, and, in spite of stringent remedial measures, the disease did not wholly disappear for three months; while from the fair held and dispersed at Hardwár the disease was carried to remote parts of the provinces and fell like a scourge on the hill population of Dehra Dún and Garhwál. The scarcity of food in these districts, and the use of coarse grains by the people, appear to have accelerated its progress; and it is reported that there had been no such visitation in the hills for at least 15 or 20 years. In Jaunsár Báwar, out of a population of 50,000, no fewer than 2,000 fell victims to the disease.

The Commissioner of Kumaun cites an instance so remarkable of the panic that the epidemic created and the consequent despair, that it seems worthy of permanent record. "On the 17th August," he writes, "cholera attacked a family of Tharus in the "Tarái. A woman died on the 18th, and two others were attacked at her funeral. The "family moved off to another village, but were refused admittance by their relatives. "They went on to another with the same result. Then they went home, further deaths "occurring on the way, and on the 20th the head of the family died. The family con-"sisted of 21 persons (8 men, 7 women, and 6 children), of whom 7 were attacked by "cholera and died. The survivors were too prostrated with grief and panic to even "carry the dead bodies out of the house, and during the night of the 21st, after the "death of the head of the family, some of the survivors fired the house and all "perished."

14. The Collector of Allahabad again notices immunity from cholera within the limits of the new water supply; but in Agra there was much sickness, and the Commissioner (Mr. Neale) observes that until general sanitation has improved, there is little prospect of an enduring amelioration of the public health. As usual, District Officers were strenuous in their efforts to prevent the spread of cholera. The Commissioner of Meerut (Mr. Harington) adverts to a patent medicine which was successful in Dehra Dún. Everywhere, such sanitary measures as were practicable were promptly undertaken; and vaccinators were sent out to distribute pills and medicines. In this connection, the arrangements of Mr. Harrison, the Collector of Aligarh, may usefully be noted. He received reports of the movements of the vaccinators and the sanitary condition of the villages visited by them, through the Civil Surgeon, while he issued orders to all patwáris and chaukidárs to report at once any visits of these officials to their respective circles.

15. The majority of officers point out the unreliable character of the present statistics of the various diseases causing reported deaths; and, indeed, when their sources are considered, there is ample reason for receiving them with distrust. Dispensaries are, however, multiplying rapidly, and it is probable that they will bring with them more discriminative registration as to the causes of death. Whatever defects may at present exist in the returns, one fact stands out clearly from the district reports, and that is the very marked and almost universal diminution in the number of deaths from small-pox, which can only be accounted for by the beneficent effects of vaccination to which in many districts increased attention and effort have been given in recent years.

SEC. IV.—CATTLE DISEASE.

16. There was the usual amount of disease among the cattle during the year, but in no case did it reach epidemic form, and notwithstanding the lateness of the rains, the supply of fodder was sufficient. Rinderpest and dysentery prevailed, as usual, in the Kumaun Division, but to a less extent in Garhwál than in the previous year. The Deputy Commissioner of Almora writes: "The value of the animals that die of cattle "disease every year cannot be less than the land revenue of the district." It seems almost impossible to prevent this annual loss owing to the incorrigible apathy and neglect of the hill-men. In Aligarh deaths are reported as due to the eating of coarse grasses in the marshy lands, and in Mainpuri there was a fatal disease, locally known as "bissi," the symptom of which is swelling of the neck followed by rapid death. The disease is said to be caused by a leech-like worm that the cattle swallow while grazing in marshy pastures.

The accuracy of the statistics of cattle disease is open to question. But of the fact of the periodical prevalence of cattle disease, and the necessity for the spread and application of veterinary knowledge among the agricultural population there can be no doubt.

SEC. V.—PRICES. App. E.I.

17. Prices were, on the whole, except in the case of wheat, distinctly easier than in the preceding year. In Kumaun, however, the great scarcity lifted them up to famine level. There are still considerable local variations, but the tendency is everywhere towards uniformity. The Commissioner of Agra (Mr. Neale) writes: "The "question of the fall in the purchasing power of the rupee within the limits of India "itself is open to debate. I am myself of opinion that prices are slowly rising, first "of all in the luxuries of life, such as ghí, wheat, oil, firewood, horses and cattle, to be "ultimately followed by an appreciable dearness in the millets and other staple food "of the vast agricultural and labouring population."

Chapter II.—FINANCIAL.

SEC. I.—INTRODUCTORY.

18. The total receipts from the several sources of income treated of in this report amount to Rs. 7,51,01,639, as against Rs. 7,44,42,087 in the previous year, showing an increase of Rs. 6,59,552. The details are given in the following table :—

19. The two statements inserted below show separately, as far as this is practicable, the current and arrear demands under each head of revenue, with the collections, remissions, and classified balances. As has been explained to Government, the arrear and current demands cannot be separated for all heads of account, and the items numbered 10 to 19 in the statement of current demand include both. These statements, besides exhibiting the financial results of the year in a convenient form, have the further advantage that they have enabled the Board to omit the paragraphs which it has been usual to devote to some of the less important heads of receipt, such as málikána, the figures in the statements and the appendices to the report supplying all the information that is required.

SEC. II.—LAND REVENUE ON THE ROLL.

App. A.-I.

Collections on account of the current demand.

20. The demand, collections, and balances of the land revenue on the roll for the year under report were as follow :—

Division.	Demand.	Collections.	Balances.	Percentage of demand collected in—1890-91.	1891-92.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.

GRAND TOTAL ...	5,93,95,078	5,88,56,119	5,38,959	98·9	99·1

The increase in the demand over that of the previous year was Rs. 2,67,896 in the North-Western Provinces and Rs. 29,470 in Oudh; altogether Rs. 2,97,366. It consists, mainly, in the North-Western Provinces, of the enhancement of revenue made at the regular revision of settlement in Muzaffarnagar; and, in Oudh, of the revenue assessed on the resumption of revenue-free grants in Unao, Hardoi, and Kheri. The percentage of the total demand collected was 99·1, against 98·9 in 1890-91. If the nominal balances that will eventually be removed from the accounts are eliminated, the percentage of collections to demand becomes 99·47. The percentages, thus calculated, in the different Divisions are shown in the following table :—

	1890-91.	1891-92.
Meerut	99·94	99·83
Agra	96·17	98·14
Rohilkhand	99·87	99·76
Allahabad	99·31	99·75
Benares	99·91	99·97
Gorakhpur	99·14	99·6
Kumaun	99·16	88·97
N.-W. Provinces* ...	98·98	99·36
Lucknow	99·99	99·63
Fyzabad	99·99	99·99
Oudh ...	99·99	99·82
N.-W. Provinces and Oudh ...	99·22	99·47

The total balance is thus classified :—

	Rs.
(1) Recoverable	2,95,494
(2) Doubtful	5,496
(3) Irrecoverable	16,296
(4) Nominal	2,21,673
Total ...	5,38,959

The amount returned as doubtful is composed almost entirely of authorized suspensions in the over-assessed villages in Jalaun* ; and the greater portion of it will probably be remitted when the revised assessments of these estates, which the Collector is framing, are completed. The irrecoverable balance consists of remissions for damage caused by hail or floods. Of the nominal balance of Rs. 2,21,673, about 70 per cent. belongs to the Agra Division, where it represents for the most part the reductions of revenue granted during the year in the deteriorated tracts. The amounts shown as nominal on this account are—

	Rs.
(1) Muttra	5,434
(2) Farukhabad	61,852
(3) Mainpuri	18,232
(4) Etáwah	8,324
(5) Etah	52,603
Total ...	1,46,445

There is also a nominal balance of Rs. 10,143 in Bánda, due, as in the Agra Division, to reductions of revenue granted in deteriorated villages.

* Vide paragraph 13 of the last report.

The actual reductions sanctioned are noted below for comparison :—

	Rs.
(1) Muttra	11,436
(2) Farukhabad	63,152
(3) Mainpuri	18,187
(4) Etáwah	8,355
(5) Etah	57,187
	1,58,317
(6) Bánda	18,119
Total ...	1,76,436

In addition to these permanent reductions of revenue, outstanding arrears have been remitted, and in many cases the reduced assessments have been antedated. The total amount, which has thus been remitted and refunded in the Agra Division and in Bánda, is Rs. 2,92,475; the actual arrears remitted amounting to Rs. 2,15,573, and the refunds granted by giving retrospective effect to the reduced assessments to Rs. 76,902. The revisional proceedings in the Agra Division have been completed, and the results reported to Government, except as regards Etah, where relief has recently been proposed in a few more villages and sanctioned by the Board. The revision in the Agra districts is now, it may be hoped, closed. In Bánda all the estates infested with káns have been inspected, and relief has been sanctioned in the cases where it was required.

Of the recoverable balance, Rs. 89,238 were collected soon after the close of the year. The details of the amount (Rs. 2,06,256) still outstanding, according to the classification in Appendix E.-II, are as follow :—

	Rs.
(1) Suspended on account of scarcity in Dehra Dún, Almora, and Garhwál	54,993
(2) Under recovery from the Chaudhri of Bishengarh	41,528
(3) Suspensions on account of hail and floods	33,987
(4) Under recovery	29,475
(5) Due from estates under attachment or under Government management	19,260
(6) Due from distressed tracts in Etah	10,576
(7) Due from impoverished zamíndárs and recusant Thakur communities of Mainpuri	10,588
(8) Due from proprietors residing in other districts or tahsíls ...	5,849
Total ...	2,06,256

21. It will be seen from the district details given in Appendix A.-I that the whole of the realizable demand was collected in all the districts in Oudh, except Lucknow and Unao, and in eleven districts in the North-Western Provinces, viz., Saháranpur, Muzaffarnagar, Meerut, Moradabad, Fatehpur, Hamírpur, Allahabad, Mirzapur, Jaunpur, Gházipur, and Ballia. The Basti district is also practically clear, as the small doubtful balance of Rs. 126 will probably be removed from the accounts eventually. In Muzaffarnagar, one of the twelve districts with clear balance sheets, the enhanced revenue imposed at the recent revision of settlement took effect from the commencement of the year under report. The Collector reports that the revenue was collected as usual without much difficulty.

The district balances that require special notice will now be referred to. It will be understood that in other cases the Board have received sufficient explanation of the arrears, and that they have either been collected since the close of the year or that the proper steps have been taken for their realization. In the Meerut Division, the district of Dehra Dún shows a balance of Rs. 11,285, of which Rs. 10,272 have been suspended in the hill pargana of Jaunsár Báwar on account of the scarcity that prevailed there. Most of this will probably have to be remitted. The unusually large balances in the Kumaun Division are also the result of scarcity, which prevailed during the year in Almora and Garhwál. In the former district Rs. 22,326 remained outstanding, of which Rs. 13,216 have since been collected. In Garhwál, where it was necessary to make large advances of grain and money for the subsistence of the people, no pressure could be employed for the collection of the revenue, and the balance, Rs. 33,379, is about 35 per cent. of the district demand. Rs. 5,000 of this have since been realized; and if the rabi of 1893 is an average one, it is expected that the rest of the arrears will be got in during the current revenue year.

22. Over 56 per cent. of the recoverable arrears in the North-Western Provinces were in the Agra Division, where the outstandings at the end of the year, exclusive of the nominal balances already referred to, amounted to the large sum of Rs. 1,53,352. Nearly half of this was due from the Chaudhri of Bishengarh, a landowner whose persistent default has been noticed in previous reports. The sale of a large number of villages in the Chaudhri's estate has been sanctioned, and the arrears due from him will be promptly recovered. The balance also includes a sum of Rs. 6,987, which will be adjusted from collections made in previous years in excess of the reduced assessments recently sanctioned in Etah; and Rs. 3,376 held under suspension on account of injury caused to crops by hail and floods. If these items, and the arrear on the Bishengarh estate (Rs. 76,070), which is entirely due to the extravagance and mismanagement of the proprietor, are deducted, the balance in the division is reduced to Rs. 66,919, of which Rs. 17,429 were collected shortly after the year closed, leaving Rs. 49,490 to be accounted for. An examination of the district balance sheets in more detail will show where it is that serious difficulty in the collection of the revenue is still experienced. Etáwah is practically clear; and in Muttra and Agra the balance still uncollected is trifling. The Chaudhri of Bishengarh is responsible for Rs. 62,514 of the balance of Rs. 66,929 shown against Farukhabad; and, of the remainder, Rs. 2,644 have since been collected, leaving only Rs. 1,771, which is due from a number of petty defaulters against whom final coercive action has been taken. The Collector's remarks regarding these arrears may be quoted as showing the difficulty of revenue administration in Farukhabad and the firm and careful management that has been applied to overcome it. Mr. Rose writes: "There is not an instance in which the "existence of the arrears is due to over-assessment, and in many of the cases the "arrears could have been realized by enforcing the joint responsibility of the proprietors "under section 146 of the Land Revenue Act, but I preferred the transfer of the "defaulting share to a solvent co-sharer to the use of that somewhat drastic remedy. "The severe coercion to which it has been necessary to resort is, however, a measure of "the difficulties which have attended collection * * *, but I shall be "much surprised if, with Mr. Trethewy's excellent revision of settlement of the de-"teriorated tract, and the stiffening which has been introduced into the collections "(and it was sadly wanted) the collection of the revenue of this district does not in "future become comparatively easy." The Collector hoped to get in the outstandings by the end of December 1892. The Board desire to commend the great care and vigour which have marked Mr. Rose's management of the revenue collections in Farukhabad.

It is in Mainpuri and Etah that the collection of the revenue continues to give most trouble, and it is in these two districts that the portion of the divisional balance referred to above, as still to be accounted for, chiefly belongs. In Mainpuri, the recoverable balance, exclusive of arrears due from the Chaudhri of Bishengarh and sanctioned suspensions for injury to crops, was Rs. 10,688, nearly the whole of which is in the Bhongaon tahsíl. In this tahsíl the revenue has recently been reduced by Rs. 10,161, and arrears amounting to Rs. 4,826 have been remitted; but the Collector reports that the relief granted has not facilitated the collection of the revenue to any appreciable extent. On the contrary, the tendency to default has in many cases been intensified, and the revenue payers are stated to be holding back payment until the last moment under the impression that this is the best way of securing a further reduction in the demand. It was remarked in the last report that revisional proceedings, such as have been carried out in the Agra districts, tend to encourage recusancy; and that, when once the land revenue demand had been adjusted, punctual payment should be insisted on. The Collector is fully aware of the necessity for strict measures in order to prevent the default in Bhongaon from becoming chronic. He was about to make (as he ought to have done at an earlier stage in the year) a thorough inquiry into all the outstandings, and will endeavour to clear them off during the current year, by resort to sale and other coercive processes if necessary. (A full report upon the subject has just been received by the Board, and is under consideration.)

After deducting amounts that will be adjusted from excess collections made in previous years, and arrears that may be called accidental, such as one of Rs. 6,556 due from a Court of Wards' estate for which the Collector of Aligarh was responsible, the balance still outstanding in Etah is Rs. 28,826. The whole of this balance is in the Kasganj and Aliganj tahsíls, where large reductions and remissions of revenue were granted at the recent revision of settlement.* The Commissioner, after visiting the parganas in which the arrears accrued and discussing their condition with the Collector, has submitted a special report on the revenue balances in Etah, which he ascribes, in part, to a spirit of holding out produced by the protracted inquiry, commencing as it did with postponements of revenue and resulting eventually in large remissions. Mr. Neale concludes his report by observing that, "though it must not be forgotten that the people are as a body desperately poor, "still in some half dozen, or less, instances severity may be necessary in order to pre-"vent the whole system of administration from becoming absolutely unstrung." He adds that Mr. Galbraith is fully aware of this, and of the difficulty of reconciling clemency with the claims of good government. The position in Etah is still a difficult one, and careful management and watchful supervision over the tahsíldárs in the matter of revenue collection is needed. Mr. Galbraith's report shows the close attention which he has given to the matter; and the Board have every confidence that, if he remains in the district, he will successfully carry through the difficult task of collecting the revenue in the deteriorated tracts.

	Rs.
*Reduction of revenue ...	55,952
Remissions of revenue, rates, and canal dues	1,62,886

Though the revenue collections in Mainpuri and Etah are somewhat disappointing, in the Agra Division, as a whole, there has been decided improvement. Muttra is reported to be thriving. In Fatehpur Sikri, the Commissioner is satisfied that there has been great improvement and that further progress may be expected. The wild pigs are disappearing, and the people are anxiously awaiting the extension of the wire fence which has been promised them, and which alone can effectually protect their villages from the wild cattle from Bhartpur. If the fence is completed, and the floods of the Banganga can be controlled (a matter that is now engaging the attention of the Government), all cause for anxiety regarding the condition of this portion of the Agra district should be removed. Etáwah is now in a satisfactory state. In Farukhabad and Etah the reductions of revenue recently sanctioned are admittedly sufficient; and the condition of the saturated areas in the latter district has materially improved. The drainage of the Burhganga valley, which is being carried out in the Etah district, is proving a success. The cultivation in the lowlands of the Burhganga has nearly doubled in the last two years, and in the uplands the káns is reported to be gradually disappearing. As regards Mainpuri, the Commissioner (Mr. Neale) is of opinion that the reductions and remissions of revenue that have been granted in the Bhongaon tahsíl, although not unfair in respect to the rental assets, are insufficient to enable the present proprietors to regain a solvent condition; and he expects that the difficulties of the Thakur proprietors will be enhanced by the increased water rates recently notified. The Junior Member (Mr. Kaye), who has personal knowledge of the tahsíl, is not prepared to endorse the Commissioner's opinion that the relief granted was inadequate. The detailed statements recorded in the revision proceedings show that the revised assessments bear a fair and moderate proportion to the rental assets of the estates as ascertained after personal inquiry and inspection of each estate concerned by the Settlement Officer; and that the Thakur proprietors collect in full the rents and canal dues due from their tenantry. They also show the thriftless and contumacious character of these Thakurs as payers of revenue. The Collector writing of them recently says: "Nearly all are heavily involved in debt or litigation and have spent their collections [of rents and canal dues] in staving off the most urgent demands of their private creditors, in contesting suits, or in marriage expenses, there having been quite an unusual number of marriages this year. In short the State has come to be looked on as the least pressing of those whose demands have to be met and the one to whom payment can be most easily deferred for a more convenient season. * * * * *

It is clear no remissions or reductions can ensure the punctual payment of the Government demand when the proprietary body is determined to make default and wilfully misappropriates all assets that it can lay hands on." The Commissioner himself remarks that the Thakur proprietors of Bhongaon have always given trouble; and in the Board's opinion it is clear that by the prompt and rigorous enforcement of the State demand that has now been assessed upon them, they must now be made to understand that its payment has the first claim upon the assets of their estates, and that they will not succeed in re-opening the general revisional proceedings which have now closed merely by passive resistance to the Collector. The management of the tahsíl calls for energy and care on the part of the Collector, and payment of the revenue must be insisted upon wherever the Collector is satisfied that the rental assets from which it should be met are reasonably proportionate to the demand.

23. In the Rohilkhand Division none of the balances are of serious amount. The largest is in Sháhjahánpur, where the necessary steps are being taken for its recovery.

The collections in the Allahabad Division are extremely satisfactory. The balances still outstanding, after deducting amounts received shortly after the close of the year, are only Rs. 175 in Cawnpore, Rs. 1,500 in Bánda, Rs. 1,126 in Jhánsi, and Rs. 1,256 in Jalaun. The arrears in Bánda are mostly in a few villages troubled with káns. Revisional proceedings in this district have now been finally closed, and the Collector has been instructed to enforce the punctual payment of the dues of Government.

The small balance in Benares is due from three attached estates from which the revenue is always realized with great difficulty.

In the Gorakhpur Division, two districts—Gorakhpur and Azamgarh—show real balances. The former district would have been clear, but for the floods which came towards the end of the year. Of the recoverable balance of Rs. 18,256 in Azamgarh all but Rs. 1,658 has since been collected. There has been some difficulty of late in collecting the revenue in Azamgarh. The district is not, it is believed, over-assessed; but it has suffered from a succession of unfavourable seasons which have pressed heavily on the resources of the landowning classes; and the Collector gives statistics showing that the number of sales and mortgages of landed property is steadily increasing. The revenue condition of this district will need careful watching by a competent and alert Collector.

As has been remarked above, the only real balances in Oudh are in the districts of Lucknow (Rs. 3,091) and Unao (Rs. 22,185). Except a small sum in Unao, for the recovery of which due action has been taken, the entire balance is held under suspension on account of injury to crops caused by hail.

App. A.-II. Outstanding balances of previous years.

24. The outstanding balances of land revenue on account of previous years amounted to Rs. 8,94,269. Of this, Rs. 3,38,875 were remitted during the year, and the sum of Rs. 1,92,249, shown in the appendix as nominal, will also be remitted. Including this, the remissions amount to Rs. 5,31,124, of which 68 per cent. has been, or will be, expunged from the accounts of the distressed villages in the Agra Division. The realizable balance was thus Rs. 3,63,145, of which Rs. 2,88,480 were collected within, or shortly after, the close of the year, leaving Rs. 74,665 for future adjustment. This amount includes Rs. 20,303, held under suspension or realizable by instalments, Rs. 15,198 of which will probably be written off. Of the real balance, Rs. 34,768 are outstanding in Etah. This will be partly adjusted from collections made in previous years in excess of the reduced assessments recently sanctioned, and steps are being taken for the recovery of a large portion of the remainder. The Collector succeeded in getting in over Rs. 86,000 of the outstandings, and the Board agree with the Commissioner in commending the energy and diligence shown by Mr. Galbraith in collecting the old arrears. The greater part of the balance in Muttra is due from Gangoli, an estate which was injured partly by saturation from the canal and partly by the unreasonable enhancements of rent made by the proprietors, and is held under attachment with a view to ascertain its true rental value on which a fair jama may be fixed. The estate will be released and settled at a fair jama in the current year. The arrears in Agra, after the deduction of collections made and remissions granted after the year closed, are mostly realizable in instalments. The Mainpuri balances still outstanding are chiefly due in tahsíl Bhongaon, where the difficulty experienced in collecting the revenue has already been noticed. In Bánda Rs. 6,674 were outstanding, of which Rs. 929 have since been got in, and almost the whole of the rest is due from attached estates. Nearly all the balance of Rs. 15,361 in Jalaun is held under suspension pending the result of the inquiry which is being made into the condition of the over-assessed villages to which it belongs. In Oudh, the Unao district shows a small balance of Rs. 674. This is due from an attached estate, and will, it is hoped, be collected shortly.

Advance collections of land revenue on the roll.

25. Including the figures for Oudh, the opening balance was Rs. 72,658, and Rs. 77,91,995 were collected during the year, making the total amount for adjustment Rs. 78,64,653. Of this, Rs. 78,12,043 were credited, and Rs. 169 refunded, leaving Rs. 52,441 for future adjustment.

App. A.-III.
Demand, collections, and balances of land revenue not on the roll.

26. Particulars of the demand under this head of account, which fluctuates from year to year, are given in Appendix E.-IV. The total demand, including arrears, stood at Rs. 53,791, compared with Rs. 74,504 in the previous year. The collections were Rs. 50,184. Of the balance of Rs. 3,607, Rs. 443 have since been realized, and Rs. 16 are nominal. With the exception of Rs. 26, which is held under suspension pending enquiry, the unadjusted item is composed of sums due either from mahâls the lambardârs of which have refused to accept the settlements made, or from mahâls the assessments of which were sanctioned late.

SEC. III.—STATEMENT SHOWING THE ALTERATIONS THAT HAVE OCCURRED IN THE DEMAND FOR LAND REVENUE ON THE ROLL.

App. A.-IV.

27. The demand of land revenue on the roll for the North-Western Provinces fell from Rs. 4,52,43,768 at the beginning of the year to Rs. 4,51,15,742 at its close; while that for Oudh rose from Rs. 1,41,51,310 to Rs. 1,42,29,791, the result being a net decrease in the two provinces of Rs. 49,545. The decrease in the North-Western Provinces was caused by the reductions of revenue recently sanctioned in the districts of the Agra Division, of which mention has been made in a previous paragraph. Some further alteration of the revenue-roll on account of these reductions will be made in 1893-94, as the revenue accounts of all the villages of which the assessment has been revised could not be adjusted before the close of the year of report. The increase in Oudh is made up chiefly of enhancements of revenue declared at the recent regular revision of the settlement of three parganas of the Unao district, and of the revenue assessed on the resumption of the revenue-free holdings of the late Rája Madho Singh of Amethi in Sultánpur. Details of the variations in the demand are given in Appendix E.-VI. The enhancements of land revenue declared at the recent regular revision of the settlement of the Jhánsi district have not been brought on the revenue-roll for 1892-93, and will be treated as revenue not on the roll during the current year.

SEC. IV.—TWELVE PER CENT. LOCAL RATES, N.-W. P.
Apps. A.-V. and A.-VI.
Local rates, current demand, and collections.

28. The revision of settlement in Muzaffarnagar raised the demand for the 12 per cent. local rates in that district by Rs. 37,193; but reductions of revenue made chiefly in pargana Fatehpur Sikri in Agra counterbalanced a portion of this increase; and the net increase in the demand for the North-Western Provinces over that of the previous year was Rs. 34,936. The total demand then stood at Rs. 50,25,151, of which Rs. 49,82,649, or 99·1 per cent., were collected within the year and Rs. 4,463 shortly after the close of the year, leaving a balance of Rs. 38,039, which is classified as follows:—

	Rs.
Recoverable	16,428
Doubtful	28
Irrecoverable...	21,583
Total ...	38,039

The explanations of these balances (of which further particulars will be found in Appendix E.-VII) are similar to those already given of the balances of land revenue. Thus, the collection of Rs. 7,856 of the recoverable balance has been suspended on account of scarcity in the hill districts, and injury to crops by hail and floods; and a large portion of the remainder is due from the defaulting landowner, the Chaudhri of Bishengarh; while the irrecoverable balances mostly represent the rates on the reductions of revenue that have been granted in the Agra Division.

App. A.-VII.
Outstandings of previous years.

29. The demand, collections, and balances on account of arrears of local rates outstanding from previous years have been given in the statement of arrear demands at the beginning of this chapter, and further details will be found in Appendix E.-VII. All that need be noted is that the recoverable balance was reduced at the end of the year to Rs. 1,250, of which Rs. 101 have since been collected.

SEC. V.—SETTLEMENT CESSES AND LOCAL RATES, OUDH.
App. A.-X.
Current demand.
App. A.-XI.
Not on the roll.
App. A.-XII.
Outstandings of previous years.

30. In Oudh the whole of the demand for settlement cesses and local rates was collected, with the exception of a sum of Rs. 277, which was remitted. The demand of Rs. 375 not on the roll was also realized, and there were no recoverable outstandings of previous years.

SEC. VI.—ACREAGE RATES AND OTHER CESSES, N.-W. P.
Apps. A.-VIII AND A.-IX.
App. A.-VIII.
Current demand, collections, and balances.

31. In the upland portion of the Mirzapur district the acreage rate was assessed, at special rates, for five years, with effect from the commencement of the kharif of 1295 fasli. This period expired with the close of the past revenue year. The Commissioner has reported that, in accordance with the directions of Government, the Collector submitted to him a report as to the method in which the rate should be revised, but, owing to some errors in the statements of assessment and to the loss of one of those statements, the submission of the Commissioner's report has been delayed. It would appear, however, that the proposed revised rate was actually assessed during the year under report and the enhanced amount (Rs. 5,987) collected. The erroneous assessment was noticed by the Board on receipt of this Appendix from the Collector's Office and explanations were called for, which elicited the foregoing facts. Pending the disposal of the matter the amount erroneously collected will be treated as an advance collection for 1892-93. Meanwhile the subject of the revision of the assessment is under correspondence between the Commissioner and the Board, and it will in due course be laid before Government. The gross recorded demand of acreage rates and other cesses for the provinces thus rose from Rs. 5,91,531 in 1890-91 to Rs. 5,97,092 in the year under report. The collections and balances are given in the statement of current demand at the beginning of this chapter. The recoverable balance of Rs. 47 has since been collected. The rest of the balance is nominal, and will be removed from the accounts.

App. A.-IX. Outstandings of previous years.

Of the outstanding balance of the previous year Rs. 26 were realized, and the rest has been, or will be, remitted.

SEC. VII.—ACQUISITION OF LAND. App. A.-XIII.

32. During the year 4,476 acres were appropriated in the two provinces, 3,740 acres having been acquired permanently, and 736 acres temporarily. Rs. 2,56,016 were paid as compensation, and revenue was reduced to the extent of Rs. 6,406. The amount paid in compensation represents an average rate per acre of Rs. 63-9-5 in the North-Western Provinces, and Rs. 66-6-5 in Oudh, for land permanently acquired, as compared with the corresponding rates of Rs. 32-11-1, Rs. 58-0-8, and Rs. 81-6-2 for the last three years in the North-Western Provinces. The cost of land acquired temporarily shows a small increase. Seven hundred and ninety-two acres of land were given up by Government and realized a price of Rs. 23,318. In the Bareilly, Moradabad, Lucknow, and Rae Bareli districts the acquisitions for railway purposes were dealt with by special officers.

The total number of cases (278), in which land had been acquired, but compensation had not been paid up to the close of the year, again shows an unsatisfactory increase. This is due to the very large number (170) of pending cases in Bareilly. The majority of these are, it is reported, in course of settlement, but the Collector's attention has been specially drawn to the necessity for clearing the file during the present year. Excluding these cases, the figures are satisfactory; especially in the Allahabad Division, where the Commissioner (Mr. Wright) has made special efforts to clear off arrears, with the result that the pending file for his Division now stands at 24 cases as compared with 129 cases pending at the end of the preceding year. In Bánda, where the large number of cases outstanding was remarked on in the Board's last report, the pending file has been reduced from 71 to 3. The Board share the Commissioner's satisfaction at the result of his attention to the matter.

The following are the oldest pending cases :—

Saháranpur	March 1890.
Meerut	July 1888.
Farukhabad	November 1889.
Bareilly	August 1890.
Bánda	November 1889.
Benares	May 1890.

The Board are making enquiries in connection with such of these long standing cases as require further explanation, and will issue the necessary orders with a view to their disposal.

During the year the Board again drew attention to the necessity for the proper maintenance of the appropriation registers by its Circular Letter No. $\frac{1}{\text{VIII}-6}$ of 1892, and the reports show that District Officers generally have either revised the registers or have them under revision.

A memo. is given at the foot of the Appendix showing the cases in which land was acquired by Government without resorting to the provisions of Act X of 1870 : 95 acres were thus acquired during the year.

SEC. VIII.—RESUMPTION OF REVENUE-FREE HOLDINGS. App. A.-XIV.

33. Ninety-five revenue-free tenures lapsed during the year, by the assessment of which Rs. 28,717 were added to the revenue-roll. Rupees 6,448 were assessed on 2,565 acres of grove land which had been brought under cultivation. One hundred and six cases of resumption of revenue-free grants, and 168 of re-assessment of grove lands, remained unsettled at the end of the year: 32 cases of the latter class were settled but not reported.

SEC. IX.—MISCELLANEOUS LAND REVENUE. App A.-XV.

34. Inclusive of the recoverable arrears of 1890-91 (Rs. 254), the total demand for the united provinces was Rs. 74,694. Of this sum all but Rs. 994 belong to the North-Western Provinces, and the demand was all collected except Rs. 601 on account of water mill rents in Naini Tal and Almora. This is being recovered. The receipts from the Mirzapur stone quarries rose slightly, owing to two abnormal items and to an increased export of stones for hand mills. The normal income, as has been separately reported to Government, is stationary, if not declining.

SEC. X.—CANAL OCCUPIERS' AND OWNERS' RATES.

App. A.-XVI.
Occupiers' rate, current demand.

35. The increase in the canal revenue which was noticed in last year's report continued, but in a diminished ratio. The current demand amounted to Rs. 51,17,921, as compared with Rs. 49,76,450 in the previous year, the increase being Rs. 1,41,471, or nearly 2·8 per cent. Explanations of the variations in the demand in the different districts will be found in Appendix E.-VIII. The tardy monsoon and the scanty winter rains naturally led to an extension of canal irrigation in the province as a whole; but the district statistics exhibit a curious want of uniformity. Thus, in Saháranpur, Muzaffarnagar, and Bulandshahr an extension of the canal-irrigated area took place, while in the adjacent districts of Meerut and Aligarh, under apparently similar climatic conditions, there was a decrease. In Cawnpore the cultivation of rice with the aid of canal water continued to extend. The outturn of the crop is reported to have been most encouraging, and a further extension of the cultivation is anticipated. There was a marked falling off, regarding which no explanation or remark has been offered by the Collector or Commissioner, in the irrigation from the Betwa Canal, the demand for water rates in Jalaun having declined from Rs. 98,534 to Rs. 79,600. The receipts from this canal were still, however, considerably higher than those for 1889-90, and the figures for 1890-91, so far, seem to have been exceptional.

After deducting remissions amounting to Rs. 15,818, the provincial demand stood at Rs. 51,02,103, of which Rs. 49,82,848 were collected within the year, and Rs. 19,933 shortly after its close. A further remission of Rs. 4,073 has been proposed by the Canal Department in some villages in Cawnpore the crops of which were damaged by hail, and the amount still to be collected is Rs. 95,249, which is 1·8 per cent. of the total demand. Explanations of the district balances are given in Appendix E.-IX. The three districts of Farukhabad, Mainpuri, and Etah show the least punctual and most defective collections of canal, as of land, revenue. About half of the total balance of canal revenue is attributed to delay on the part of the Canal Department in furnishing Collectors with particulars of amounts to be collected. Thus, in Mainpuri the collections are reported to have been considerably retarded by the late receipt of correction slips for a demand of Rs. 39,680, and the Collector of Cawnpore was obliged to postpone the collection of Rs. 8,734 for want of details of the amounts to be remitted and collected in the villages that suffered from hail. The Collector of Etáwah has also complained of the late receipt of correction slips, which seriously embarrassed the punctual realization of the canal dues. This cause of delay is one which the Irrigation Department should take steps to obviate. Collections were worst in the Etah district, where the balance, Rs. 37,651, amounted to 15·5 per cent. of the demand. Nearly Rs. 28,000 of this were due in the Kásganj tahsíl alone; and the Collector reports that, in spite of repeated warnings, the tahsíldár (who has since been transferred to another Division) failed to pay proper attention to his duty in respect to the collection of the canal revenue. The report for the Etah district contains observations on the position of Government in the matter of canal dues, and the Collector recommends the employment of severe measures, such as the stoppage of the water supply in cases of persistent default. The Board think, however, that the existing rules for the realization of water rates are, in general, sufficient. The provincial realizations are, on the whole, satisfactory, and the arrears in certain districts named above were due to the special causes which have been explained and which do not operate generally. The amount disbursed to lambardárs and patwáris on account of fees for collection and measurement was Rs. 1,30,544. The schedule of occupiers' rates in force in the Agra and Lower Ganges Canals was imposed in the Saháranpur and Muzaffarnagar districts with effect from the rabi of 1892. Under recent orders, the higher rates will be levied with effect from the kharíf harvest of 1893 on lands irrigated from all canals in the province, except the Dún Canals, the Rohilkhand and Bijnor Canals, the Betwa Canal, and the Bundelkhand Lakes.

App. A.-XVII. Occupiers' rate, arrears of previous years.

36. In consequence of additional demands subsequently made by the Canal Department in Mainpuri and Etah, the opening balance is shown as Rs. 1,39,362, which is Rs. 503 in excess of the arrears given in Appendices A.-XIII and A.-XIV for 1890-91. Of this sum, Rs. 13,832 were remitted, and Rs. 94,374 collected, leaving Rs. 31,156 still outstanding. Of this, Rs. 239 have since been recovered, and Rs. 8,242 remitted in some of the deteriorated villages in Etah on account of want of assets. The realizable balance for the province is thus reduced to Rs. 22,675, over 72 per cent. of which belongs to the Etah district. The attention of the local authorities was drawn to the directions in the last sentence of paragraph 6 of the Government review on the last report, regarding the arrears in this district, and the matter has been engaging the Collector's attention with the result of the remissions (Rs. 8,242) above noted. The balance still outstanding against the villages referred to was Rs. 6,492, part of which also may have to be remitted.

App. A.-XVIII. Owners' rate, current demand.

37. In paragraph 29 of the last report it was stated that the owners' rate in Saháranpur was no longer assessed except in the case of estates of which the revenue was remitted, redeemed, or assigned, and of revenue-free plots. It was also stated that owners' rate had been assessed in these cases on the principles laid down by Government. It now appears that the Board were misinformed as to this last point. The principles applicable under Government orders were that estates of which the revenue was assigned, redeemed, or remitted should be assessed to owners' rate for a period of 10 years (or more in the case of some assignments) on the basis of the average payments made for the five years previous to the settlement. Detached revenue-free plots, on the other hand, were to be assessed each season as heretofore by the Canal Officers, who were to be supplied with lists to enable them to do so. Owing to neglect or misapprehension of orders in the Collector's and Settlement Officer's offices, the estates, as well as the plots, have been assessed for each season since the new settlement, and the Canal Officers have been supplied with lists of fields for the estates instead of only for the plots. Moreover, these lists appear often to have included fields which should have been exempt altogether on the ground of their having been irrigated previous to the settlement of 1860. The result has been over-assessment, which will necessitate refunds. The matter is under enquiry and will form the subject of separate correspondence and report to Government if necessary.

The provincial gross demand for owners' rate fell by Rs. 16,335, a decrease which is more than accounted for by Muzaffarnagar, where the rate disappeared on the revenue-paying area from the 1st October 1891, and the demand fell by Rs. 33,741. In Bulandshahr the demand fell by Rs. 4,100, because in 1890-91, in addition to the demand of the year, the amount was collected which should have been assessed in 1889-90, but was not assessed for reasons given in paragraph 28 of the last report. The total demand was Rs. 3,51,717 and collections were Rs. 3,29,017, against Rs. 3,68,052 and Rs. 3,45,461 in 1890-91. Of the Rs. 16,088 outstanding, Rs. 3,134 are shown as doubtful and Rs. 12,954 as in train of liquidation, Rs. 1,446 having been collected since the close of the year. The sum shown as doubtful has since been struck off as irrecoverable, in consequence of the orders of Government (since received) foregoing all claim to the rate in the deteriorated villages of Farukhabad from which it was due, and it is probable that most of the outstanding arrears in Mainpuri and Etah will have to be similarly written off under these orders as now extended. Appendix E.-IX gives particulars of balances.

App. A.-XIX. Owners' rate, arrears of previous years.

38. At the instance of the Canal Officers, a sum of Rs. 34 has been added to the amount shown as outstanding at the close of the previous year. The opening balance is therefore shown as Rs. 16,873, of which Rs. 8,978 have been collected and Rs. 3,305 remitted, leaving Rs. 4,590 still due. Particulars of this sum are given in Appendix E.-IX.

SEC. XI.—STATE PROPERTIES AND WASTE LANDS.

39. At the commencement of the year there were 392 State properties in the united provinces, including the villages in Bánda previously managed on the "sliding scale" system but now classed as ordinary Government estates. During the year 7 estates were acquired, and 19 were removed from the accounts, including the "Gházipur Stud Farm," which was leased for a term of years by Government direct. At the close of the year there were 380 estates paying a revenue of Rs. 1,31,962. Apps. A.-XX. and E.-X.

The total current rental increased from Rs. 7,41,975 to Rs. 7,88,691, due to the inclusion of the Bánda "sliding scale" villages and to revisions of rent in the Bhábar estates. The total demand, including arrears, was Rs. 8,02,370, of which Rs. 7,85,000 were collected. Of the balance (Rs. 17,370) Rs. 9,205 are in fact nominal or irrecoverable, though not so shown in the appendix. After payment of land revenue and rates, the profit to Government amounted to Rs. 6,08,600. App. E.-X.

The balance is heavy only in Bánda, where, however, it consists mainly of arrears (Rs. 8,743) due from previous years. The collections of the current year were Rs. 40,812 against a current demand of Rs. 43,778. A considerable portion of the outstandings was for the unfavourable season of 1296 fasli, and lands affected by káns; and this will probably have to be remitted. In the villages of Janharpur and Jaspura, referred to in paragraph 14 of the Government review of last year's report, the current collections of the year were good, and the management of those villages now appears to be satisfactory. Proposals for the appointment of a Special Manager for Government and Court of Wards estates in Bánda were submitted; but Mr. Kaye, having discussed the matter with the Collector and Commissioner on the spot, has directed a strict enforcement of responsibility on tahsíldárs and issued other instructions respecting the system of management which, it is hoped, may result in improvement. The management in Bánda, owing to the extent of káns grass and other causes, will never be a simple matter.

The expenditure was as follows :—

	Rs.
Establishment	78,599
Contingencies	78,460
Improvements	1,58,504
Total ...	3,15,563

The expenditure on improvements has decreased, mainly in the submontane estates of the Kumaun Division. Explanations of the decrease have been given in the separate reports for these estates, which have been submitted to Government.

40. The total demand, inclusive of the amount due at the commencement of the year, for the price of confiscated and escheated lands was Rs. 2,958, of which Rs. 1,726 were realized. App. A.-XX.

41. Particulars of the demand and collections of patwári rate are given in the statements at the beginning of this chapter. Of the recoverable balance of the current demand (Rs. 5,852), Rs. 1,514 have since been collected, Rs. 1,960 are due from estates attached or held under direct management, Rs. 1,724 are suspended on account of scarcity in Dehra Dún and Garhwál, and the rest is in course of recovery. Of the recoverable, but still uncollected, arrears of previous years (Rs. 472), Rs. 380, were due from villages in the deteriorated tracts of Mainpuri and Etah. SEC. XII.—PATWÁRI RATE. DIRECTOR'S App. IX–XII.

42. The figures in this return, which for the first time includes those for Oudh, call for no comment. The deposit of over three years' standing in Hardoi will shortly be adjusted. SEC. XIII.—REVENUE DEPOSITS. App. A.-XXI.

43. The following table gives the details of remittances of land revenue by money-orders during the year under report and the previous year; the figures for Oudh for the year 1890-91 differ from those at page 9 of the last report, as the latter included miscellaneous revenue remittances, which have now been separated :— SEC. There was an increase of 8·5 per cent. in the number and 10·9 per cent. in the value of the money-orders issued. The system continues to gain in popularity among small revenue payers both in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, though in Oudh, where large estates are numerous, the amount of revenue remitted through the Post-office is not, in most districts, considerable. It was remarked in the Oudh report for last year that the use of revenue money-orders was assuming comparatively large proportions in Fyzabad. The Deputy Commissioner reports that the bulk of the remittances belong to a single tahsíl, and that the reason why they are made is the distance of one of the parganas from the tahsíl head-quarters. The landowners in about 400 of the 450 mahál of which the pargana is composed are reported to have remitted their land revenue by money-order. Two Collectors in the North-Western Provinces report that, on analysing the lists of money-orders at some of their tahsíls, they found revenue remitted by money-orders obtained from the post-office at the tahsíl head-quarters—a circumstance which they have rightly considered to require explanation, and into which they are making inquiry. The subject is one to which all Collectors should direct their attention.

Miscellaneous revenue remittances.

44. From the 1st October 1891 the application of the system of remittance by money-order was extended to all the heads of account detailed in Circular No. 26—IX, rule 5. As will be seen from the following table, remittances of miscellaneous revenue have increased, but not very largely :—

Chapter III.—RENT LAW.

SEC. I.—SUITS AND APPLICATIONS. Apps. BI, II, IIA, IIB, III, III A, B, C, and D.

45. This chapter includes for the first time statistics of rent law litigation in Oudh. It has not been possible to exhibit the statistics for the two provinces in a single series of returns in consequence of the differences that exist between the Rent Act of Oudh and that of the North-Western Provinces. These differences extend not only to various main provisions of the law, but also to the classification of cases as suits and judicial proceedings. The North-Western Provinces Rent Act distinguishes "suits" from "applications," and it has been the invariable practice to deal with them separately in the appendices to the Board's report. The Oudh Rent Act contains no such distinction, but, much more logically, classes as "suits" all descriptions of claims or applications that are dealt with judicially by the Revenue Courts. The Oudh appendices have been based as far as possible on those already prescribed for the North-Western Provinces; and the statistics of appellate litigation for the two provinces can be discussed, for the most part, together; but, in examining the character and results of the litigation in Courts of original jurisdiction, it will be necessary to deal with the Oudh returns separately.

46. The most marked feature of the year under report is the general increase of rent law litigation throughout the united provinces. In the North-Western Provinces the number of suits increased by 6,722, or 7·82 per cent., and the number of applications by no less than 18,231, or 12·59 per cent. In Oudh for all suits the increase was 746 or 2·24 per cent. The following table shows the figures by districts and Divisions as compared with the preceding year:—

The decline in litigation noticed in the Board's report for the North-Western Provinces for 1890-91 thus appears to have been only a temporary retrogression in the ever swelling tide of rent law litigation. The amount of litigation during the year under report reaches the highest figures yet recorded, amounting to nearly 25,000 cases, or nearly 11 per cent. more than the number instituted in the preceding year. The increase in Oudh as a whole is, on the other hand, not great, and only serves to bring into prominence the abnormal rise in the North-Western Provinces. The explanations that have been offered by District Officers and Commissioners regarding the increase in the North-Western Provinces have been noticed below.

Suits, North-Western Provinces.

47. The following table shows the annual institutions of suits under the North-Western Provinces Rent Act since that Act was passed:—

48. The chief increase was in suits for arrears of rent, a class that, as in previous years, formed the bulk of the litigation, the variations under the other classes being of no great importance. An examination of the district figures under this head shows, as usual, curious variations. In the Meerut Division, for example, these suits increased in Saháranpur, Muzaffarnagar, and Meerut, but fell off in Dehra Dún, Bulandshahr, and Aligarh. As regards Saháranpur, it is said that the slight increase was due to fewer suits than usual having been instituted in the previous year. The increase in Muzaffarnagar is attributed partly to tenants disputing the higher rents recorded at the recent settlement, and partly to remittances of short rents by money-orders. For the large increase of 887 cases in Meerut the Collector can give no explanation, but he regards the total number of such suits as very small in proportion to the population. The decrease in Dehra Dún is attributed to the action of a single landholder, who filed an abnormal number of suits in the preceding year. The decrease in Bulandshahr is regarded by the Collector as satisfactory ; but he is unable to say whether it is due to more regular payments by the tenants, or to greater forbearance on the part of the landlords. In Aligarh suits for arrears fell off partly in consequence of the fine rabi harvest, and partly owing to a more extended use of printed receipts for rent.

These explanations put forward by Collectors in the Meerut Division show how difficult it is to frame any satisfactory theory to account for local variations. Saháranpur, Muzaffarnagar, and Bulandshahr are alike in having recently come under settlement; yet it is not suggested that tenants in Saháranpur or Bulandshahr find themselves compelled to dispute the rents recorded at the settlement as they are reported to do in Muzaffarnagar. No special causes are known to be at work in Meerut that might not be supposed to be in operation in Bulandshahr and Aligarh as well; yet in the former district suits for arrears of rent largely increased, while the two latter show a considerable decline.

The Agra Division shows similar variations. In Muttra these suits decreased by 385 ; in Farukhabad they increased by 76 ; in Mainpuri they decreased by 67 ; in Etáwah they increased by 164. Agra and Etah show increases of 180 and 37 respectively. The decrease in Muttra is attributed to the action of the receiver of the Paikpara estate and may therefore be regarded as accidental. The Collector of Farukhabad connects the small increase in arrears of rent suits with a still smaller decline in suits connected with distraint, but the figures are hardly extensive enough to form the basis for a general inference. On the whole, suits for arrears increased in the Agra Division, though slightly only. The increase is by the Commissioner attributed to good harvests.

In Rohilkhand suits for arrears increased, with singular variations, in Bijnor, Moradabad, Bareilly, and Sháhjahánpur, but fell off in Budaun and Pilibhít. The net increase is probably attributable to the good cane crop, which, though it may have only made up for an inferior kharíf outturn, yet put money into the tenants' pockets and made it worth the landlords' while to sue for their arrears of rent.

The statistics for the Allahabad Division are extremely perplexing. Cawnpore and Allahabad show increases in suits for arrears of rent of 263 and 935 respectively, while the intermediate district of Fatehpur shows a decline of 419. Of the Bundelkhand districts, Bánda, Jhánsi, and Jalaun show small decreases, and Hamírpur a considerable increase. The Collectors of Allahabad and Cawnpore have given attention to the matter, but their reports are not conclusive. The Collector of Cawnpore is at a loss to account for the increase in rent suits; the Collector of Allahabad explains it as the result of the breaking down of the lambardári system and of increased friction between landlords and tenants. The Commissioner does not altogether concur in these explanations, being of opinion that it is beyond the power of human ken to account for variations in litigation.

In the Benares Division arrear suits increased considerably in every district except Mirzapur, the increase being attributed generally to successive bad seasons and to anxiety on the part of the zamíndárs to secure the arrears due by decrees of the Courts. That the seasons were indifferent in the Division is indubitable.

In the Gorakhpur Division there was a general increase in these suits. This is ascribed in Basti to the recent settlement operations, in Gorakhpur to the good harvests, and in Azamgarh to the indifferent harvests.

On the whole, while acknowledging the labour expended by many officers in inquiring into the facts connected with litigation for arrears of rent, the Board do not find in the district or divisional reports explanations capable of application to the statistics of the North-Western Provinces as a whole, or in many cases accounting reasonably for even the local variations that are noticed. Ordinarily, landholders go to the expense of filing suits for rent either because they have been unable to recover their rents and anticipate the necessity for assistance from the Collector, or because they wish to declare and register their claims with the object of ejecting defaulters under section 35 of the Rent Act. How it comes that in different districts these general motives have had more or less potency the reports before the Board scarcely explain, and they are themselves unable to hazard any explanation of a general character.

Disposal of suits.

49. The following table shows the manner in which the suits decided were disposed of:—

Without trial	...	...	...	...	10,481
Compromised	...	...	...	...	5,920
Decreed on confession	...	...	...	...	15,439

Decreed after contest	...	...	...	...	17,534
Dismissed „	...	...	...	...	4,433
			Total	...	91,986

Out of a total of 97,487 suits for disposal, 10,481 were disposed of without trial, and 59,289 without contest, while 249 were referred to arbitration. Twenty-one thousand nine hundred and sixty-seven were decided by the Courts after contest, and 5,501 remained pending at the close of the year.

The cases disposed of without trial and those disposed of without contest may be treated together. They amount to the large number of 69,770 suits, so that more than three-fourths of the total litigation was decided without the opposing parties being brought together before the Courts. This result need not be regarded as unsatisfactory. The inference to be drawn from it seems to be that the vast majority of the suits filed originate in the default of tenants to pay rent legally due and not in disputes over the amount of rent payable. The district and divisional reports contain numerous assurances that the large number of suits decreed ex parte can in no way be regarded as indicating careless procedure on the part of the process serving establishments and the Courts. The Commissioner of Rohilkhand, noticing the large proportion of suits for arrears decided without contest, makes a suggestion that admitted claims should be registered and used as decrees, whereby litigation might be largely reduced. He has not explained how he thinks such a scheme could be arranged for, so as to make it easier, cheaper, and more agreeable to landlords and tenants to appear before a trustworthy registering authority nearer their homes than the tahsíldár's and sub-registrar's offices. As the scheme would in any case involve amendment of the law, the Board are not prepared to form an opinion on the suggestion until it is put forward in a more elaborate form.

50. The proportion of cases disposed of without contest is, as previously, far lower in the Gorakhpur Division than elsewhere in the North-Western Provinces. Detailed figures by Divisions are given in the annexed table :—

The pending file at the end of the year in all the Divisions is heavy, with the exception of Agra, but it is satisfactory to note that the cases pending for more than three months are few. The number of these cases is noted in the margin.

The figures showing the average duration of cases by Divisions call for no special remark; but the district variations were as usual considerable. To show a low average duration is an object not generally absent from the mind of the ordinary Assistant Collector. But the district reports show that in some Courts the average duration of suits is rendered unnecessarily high by the practice of granting adjournments for insufficient reasons. This is a fact verified by the Board in their inspection of the files of some district offices. The remedy for this lies in the hands of the District Officer, who, by means of periodical reports from the Courts subordinate to him and inspection of their pending files, can readily check undue delays. The districts in which the duration was longest were Ballia, where the average duration of contested cases was 3 months, and Basti and Jaunpur, where the duration was 2 months 14 days and 2 months 6 days respectively. Ballia shows better results than last year; but the duration might still be considerably reduced. The Collector reports that he instituted fortnightly returns of work, but that his efforts were hampered by frequent changes of staff. The delay in Basti is attributed by the Collector to the same cause as in Ballia. From Jaunpur the Board have received sufficiently satisfactory explanations, and the Commissioner hopes that the present year will show improvement.

Rent money-orders.

The statistics of the rent money-orders issued are, as usual, inserted in this portion of the report as being of interest in connection with the litigation for arrears of rent, and as giving some indication of the state of agricultural relations in the different districts. The net increase in the North-Western Provinces is not remarkable; but some of the district figures deserve examination. The largest increase was in Bijnor and Moradabad, in which districts the relations between landlords and tenants are described as being strained. In Moradabad there is a growing antagonism between landlords and tenants and the Commissioner fears that both there and in Bijnor there are many harsh and untrustworthy landlords. In both these districts, and also in Allahabad, the extended employment of rent money-orders was coincident with increased litigation for arrears of rent. This was not, however, the case in all districts; in Gorakhpur and Azamgarh, for instance, rent money-orders declined while suits for arrears increased. In Gorakhpur deposits of rent in Court partly took the place of remittances by money-order. Basti offers a contrast to the other districts of the Gorakhpur Division, and the increase there is attributed in part to disputes about rent, the result of under-statements of rent at the recent settlement. From Muzaffarnagar, as has been already noted, it is reported that tenants often make short remittances of rent by means of money-orders. This is the only indication in the district reports that the use of money-orders for the payment of rent in any way encourages litigation. The Collector of Aligarh thinks that the postal commission is so high as to deter many tenants from remitting their rent through the Post-office. The Board, however, do not think that there is any need to encourage the further development of the money-order system by reducing the commission.

In Oudh, except in three districts, the use of rent money-orders is increasing, but they are only employed to any noticeable extent in Fyzabad, Gonda, and Partábgarh.

With reference to paragraph 18 of the Government review of the Board's Revenue Administration Report for 1890-91 for Oudh, enquiry has been directed by the Board to ascertain what classes of tenants most avail themselves of the system of payment of rent by money-order. The District Officers who were addressed on the subject have not had sufficient time to enable them to embody the result of their enquiries in their present reports, and Government will be addressed on the subject separately.

The Postmaster-General has represented that, in order to discourage the remittance of rent by money-orders, landholders not infrequently refuse to accept the rents so remitted by their tenants. The Board are of opinion that in such cases the Courts, in decreeing the rent, should deny the costs of the suit to the landlord; and enquiry is being made as to the actual practice of Revenue Courts in the matter. The enquiry is not yet complete, but sufficient information has been obtained to show that in the majority of Courts the procedure suggested is followed.

Printed receipts for rent.

52. Another matter of interest in connection with rent law litigation is the use of printed counterfoil receipts for rent. These were extensively used in the Meerut Division, except in the Dehra Dún district. In the Agra Division their use is advancing slowly. In Rohilkhand they are in fairly general use. In the Allahabad Division, they are used extensively in Cawnpore, but are not in any great demand elsewhere. No marked progress has been made in the introduction of their use in the Benares Division, where they are employed only by the larger landholders: nor are they much in demand in the Gorakhpur Division. On the other hand, in most districts in Oudh the system is reported to be rapidly gaining ground.

Various suggestions have been put forward with a view to bringing printed receipts for rent into more general use. One of the means suggested is that the Courts should refuse to admit oral evidence as proof of payment of rent—a remedy of questionable legality or expediency. The Commissioner of Agra proposed last year to take advantage of the opportunity afforded by the local revision of settlement in the Division to make the use of printed receipts by landholders to whom a reduction of revenue was granted compulsory. The proposal did not commend itself to the Board, who are not in favour of any compulsion in the matter, since the enforcement of printed receipts might not always operate to the benefit of the illiterate tenants. Nothing more can be done than to encourage their gradual introduction by the influence of the Collector, and by the action of the Courts in giving proper weight to the use of them in cases that come before them.

One hindrance to the general adoption of the counterfoil receipt books issued by the Government Press and the obtaining thereby of statistics as to the use of printed receipts is reported to be the greater cost of these forms as compared with the productions of local vernacular presses. This difficulty has been practically felt throughout Rohilkhand, and the Commissioner remarks that unless Government can undersell private printers complete statistics of the use of the forms will never be obtained. From Aligarh it is reported that the Government Press was unable to meet the local requirements, and the Collector was obliged to get large numbers of the receipt forms printed locally. In the Benares Division many landholders use printed forms of their own devising, both with and without counterfoils. The Board will ascertain whether the price of the counterfoil books printed by the Government Press can be reduced; but it is comparatively unimportant where the receipts are printed so long as fairly complete forms are used. What is wanted is that receipt forms shall be brought into general use, and, if landlords have begun to get them printed for themselves, the fact is a sign of their being more commonly adopted, which is most encouraging.

N.-W. P. Rent Act applications.

53. The number of applications under section 95 of the North-Western Provinces Rent Act in each year since it passed is given in the list below :—

1891-92	163,076	+12·59

The following statement compares by classes the applications under section 95 of the North-Western Provinces Rent Act, which were instituted during 1890-91 and 1891-92 :—

Total ...	144,845	163,076	18,231	...	+12 59

There was thus an increase in every class except classes XVI and XVII, the total increase in applications being 18,231, or more than 12 per cent. The following table shows the comparative figures by Divisions :—

	1890-91.	1891-92.	Increase or decrease.
Meerut ...	34,701	39,173	+4,472
Agra	19,413	24,637	+5,224

Gorakhpur ...	20,777	18,238	−2,539
Total ...	144,845	163,076	+18,231

The decrease in the Benares and Gorakhpur Divisions has been continuous for two years ; and the only districts in which the number of applications declined largely compared with 1890-91 are in these Divisions. These districts are—

Basti	1,784	„ 28·83 „

There was also a decrease, though not a large one, in Mirzapur, Ballia, Saháranpur, and Jhánsi.

Briefly stated, the prominent feature of the year was the large increase in the number of cases of ejectment and enhancement of rent. Applications for determination of the value of crops also increased considerably. The percentages contributed by these classes to the total number of applications are noted on the margin. As usual, they account for all but a fraction of the litigation under section 95 of the Rent Act.

54. After these general remarks, the statistics of the more important classes of applications will now be noticed separately in their order.

Class III.—The large number of applications under the ejectment sections of the Act naturally produced an increase in applications under section 42 for determination of the value of crops standing at the time of ejectment. These applications would probably be less numerous if earlier dates were fixed for the issue of notices of ejectment. Thus, in Bulandshahr, it is reported that the Courts were unable to dispose of all contested ejectment cases before the close of the agricultural year, and the number of applications to determine the value of crops rose in consequence. The Collector points out that these cases give rise to much ill-feeling, and are difficult to dispose of satisfactorily, and he is in favour of amending section 38 so as to fix more suitable dates for the issue of notices. This matter is referred to at greater length in paragraph 56 below.

Class VI.—Applications for enhancement or determination of rent were not largely resorted to except in Muzaffarnagar (583), Bulandshahr (1,577), Agra (471), Moradabad (838), Allahabad (994), and Jaunpur (733). In Muzaffarnagar the number of enhancement cases was not larger than might be expected to follow a revision of settlement in which adjustment of rents did not precede adjustment of the revenue. In Bulandshahr the number was slightly less than in 1890-91, but was still sufficiently formidable. There was a considerable increase in these cases in Agra, for which no explanation has been furnished. The increase in Moradabad is attributed to abiding and increasing tension between landlord and tenant. In Allahabad there is an increase of 136 cases, which is reported to be chiefly the outcome of bad feeling in one talúka between landlords and tenants. The large number of cases in Jaunpur is ascribed to a similar cause; but the figures for the district, though higher than in 1890-91, are less than those of 1889-90.

Class XVIII.—The increase of 1,485 in the applications under section 35 of the Rent Act for the ejectment of tenants with rights of occupancy was almost entirely in the two eastern Divisions, in portions of which during the past two years the people have been less prosperous than in other parts of the province. The districts in which any noticeable increase occurred are entered in the margin. It will be observed that they all belong to the two Divisions above referred to; and in all these districts, except Gorakhpur, the increase is attributed to the inability of the tenantry, owing to bad times, to satisfy decrees made against them, even when threatened with deprivation of their occupancy rights. In Azamgarh alone during the last two years over 3,000 acres have been lost to the occupancy tenants. In this district the proportion of actual ejectments to the notices issued, 56 per cent., was exceptionally high. The facts are regrettable. The Board think that on the whole the district courts exercise fairly well in favour of the tenants their discretionary authority of allowing reasonable time for payment before the extreme penalty of ejectment is enforced. But should the Act be amended, it may well be considered whether some further specific provision as to the time within and way (by instalments or otherwise) in which satisfaction, at least of recently passed decrees, may be allowed to be made before ejectment is ordered, would not be advisable.

The number of notices actually issued as the result of applications under section 35 of the Act, including those relating to the applications pending from 1890-91, was 19,142 (Appendix B-III). Ejectment followed in 7,197 cases, the area affected being 42,273 acres compared with 43,553 acres in the previous year. Here an examination of the district and divisional figures discloses an exactly opposite result to that remarked on above in discussing the returns of applications under section 35. The number of notices decreased in every district of the Benares and Gorakhpur Divisions except Benares, while there was an increase in almost every district of the Meerut, Agra, Rohilkhand, and Allahabad Divisions.

The main object of landholders in issuing these notices doubtless is to prevent the accrual of rights of occupancy before the 12 years' period of occupation has been completed, more especially upon lands where and at times when enhancement of the rent is possible. It seems reasonable, therefore, to connect the increase in notices of ejectment in the western and central districts with the state of the harvests, and to conclude, as several officers have done, that these notices tend to become more numerous when the seasons are prosperous. Among others, the Commissioner of Agra, who has given careful attention to the working of the ejectment sections of the Rent Act, thinks that the circumstances of the year in his Division show conclusively that a rise in suits and applications follows upon prosperity. He notes that in Muttra, Etah, and Etáwah there has been reduction of revenue, and that this, taken with the favourable harvests, has led to an increase in litigation. Mr. Neale's remarks on the subject may be quoted. He writes—

"The leading idea in the zamíndár's mind when the harvests are good is to in"crease his rent either by direct suit or by the terrors of ejectment. The tenant in "the latter case generally submits; it is cheaper, at all events for the moment. This "is well proved by the increase of ejectment proceedings in Etáwah, which is more than "50 per cent. And Etáwah I hold to be the most prosperous of all the districts. In
"Etah, which is rising, the increase is nearly 30 per cent. Proceedings under section
"35 are less in all districts but Muttra and Agra; yet in neither of these, considering "the revenue, is the number excessive. In my opinion, zamíndárs are not anxious as a "rule to evict their pauper tenantry. They are not governed by 'the commercial
"principles' of the west. It is rather the obstinate right-of-occupancy defaulter
"whom they attack. The ne'er-do-weel tenant they let alone partly from compas"sion, partly from the feeling that he is always in their power, and partly because they "hope to grind something out of him in future years. But they have as a body no in"tention to let the budding occupancy tenant grow to maturity, nor to pass by a good
"harvest without securing some of the extra profit to their own share. This spirit is "extending; it is essentially the modern spirit. And as our rent laws are conceived
"in that spirit we should not be surprised if it produces its natural result."

Besides the state of the harvests, various special causes are said to have contributed to the increased resort to notices of ejectment in different districts. In Muzaffarnagar a large number of notices were issued with the object of contesting the entries of occupancy rights made at the recent settlement. The Collector of Aligarh notes that the notices were most numerous in two tahsíls where the money-lending classes, who are supposed to have less regard to the interests of the tenantry, are taking the place of the old proprietors. He also traces the issue of notices, in some cases, as the result of partitions, and quotes one instance where a village was partitioned into 52 mahâls, and the proprietors at once proceeded to eject the tenants wholesale. Applications for the eviction of tenants-at-will largely increased in Rohilkhand, an increase which is principally attributed to the approach of settlement in some districts, the desire on the part of landlords to convert cash rents into grain rents, and strained agricultural relations. Thus the rise in Bijnor is ascribed to the proximity of settlement operations, which induces landlords to resort to ejectment in order to convert cash rents into payments in kind, and thereby render the task of assessing the revenue on assets more difficult. From Moradabad increasing tension is reported between landlords and tenants, especially in grain-rented tracts, where the prevailing high prices render the landlord's share of the produce very valuable, and no means are spared to get rid of tenants the length of whose occupation is approaching the twelve years' period. The increase in the Allahabad Division, as in Agra, is ascribed by Commissioner to better harvests.

56. In accordance with the orders of Government,* a return has been obtained of the number of applications for service of notice of ejectment on tenants-at- will that were filed in each tahsíl for each fortnight between the 1st January and the 31st March 1892. The return shows that the bulk of the applications were filed on the latest possible dates, over 83 per cent. of the total number having been presented during the month of March, and over 67 per cent. in the second fortnight of the month. During the latter half of March these applications are received by hundreds at every tahsíl, and the pressure of work is so great that it is difficult to serve the notices with due regularity. It becomes impossible for the Revenue Courts to dispose, before the end of the agricultural year, of the numerous cases of contested ejectment that come before them; and the result is that, as has been remarked in a previous paragraph, they have to decide a number of troublesome cases of determination of the value of crops, which need not arise if the ejectment cases could be disposed of earlier. The Commissioner of Rohilkhand would meet the difficulty by fixing a progressive scale of fees, beginning with a single fee in January and rising to Re. 1 in February, Re. 1-8-0 in the first half of March, and Rs. 2 in the second half of March. Another suggestion made by some officers is to permit the applications to be made at any time during the year, the ejectment taking place with effect from the 1st July following the completion of the ejectment proceedings. A third suggestion is to make the last day in February instead of the 31st March the latest date for filing the applications. It may be pointed out, however, that the Oudh Rent Act requires notices of ejectment to be served upon the tenant on or before the fifteenth of November, and the same date might reasonably be adopted in the North-Western Provinces. It further permits actual dispossession to be carried out only between the first of April and the thirtieth of June. The rule obviates many disputes as to the existence and value of crops growing upon the land at the time of ejectment, and it would probably act beneficially for all concerned—parties and Revenue Courts—were it also introduced into the North-Western Provinces. Whatever the remedy adopted its early application is urgently called for. The evils caused by ejectment proceedings being protracted beyond the end of the agricultural year are very real.

57. Class XX and class XXI.—Of the 64,321 notices issued under section 36, the tenants contested 17,753 under section 39, or 27·6 per cent., which is about the Seventeen thousand four hundred and thirty-two of the applications under section 39 were tried during the year, of which 12,655 or 73 per cent. were disposed of by judicial decision after contest. The tenants were successful in 7,023 cases, which is 55 per cent. of the number contested. The percentage of success attained by tenants in each Division in these cases is given below :—

The results of 17,285 contested notices however settled, affecting an area of 87,931 acres, were ascertained (Appendix B.-III). In 9,047 cases tenants were successful as regards an area of 41,418 acres. The percentage of success or failure in each Division on the total number of these notices is compared for the past three years in the following table :—

Applications under section 40, for assistance to eject, were made in 41,122 cases; that is, in respect of nearly two-thirds of the notices issued.

58. The following statistics of the areas held by the different classes of tenants in 1889-90 and 1890-91 are here inserted as being of interest in connection with the operation of the ejectment provisions of the Rent Act. It will be seen that the protected area continued to increase.

59. There were altogether 175,623 applications under all classes for disposal, against 156,328 in 1890-91 : 159,534 or 90·84 per cent. were decided as compared with 143,781 or 91·97 per cent. in the previous year, leaving 16,089 pending, of which 1,047 were awaiting disposal for more than three months when the year closed.

Of the decided cases, only 25,259 or 15·83 per cent. were contested. It will be remembered that certain classes of applications do not admit of contest. In the contested cases 17,780 or 70·39 per cent. were decided in favour of the plaintiff and 7,479 in favour of the defendant.

60. The average duration of contested and uncontested applications improved, as will be seen from the following figures. Considering the increased volume of work, this is satisfactory.

Various explanations are given, such as the increase in the number of cases, changes in the district staff, non-appearance of parties, adjournments for local inspection, service of summons on parties living in other districts. The possibility of reducing the duration of cases received careful attention from the Commissioner of Gorakhpur, who lost no opportunity of impressing on the Courts (and, it is understood, with good effect) the necessity for proceeding with cases on the dates fixed for hearing and for promptness in decision. The worst instance noticed by him was one in which, after numerous fruitless postponements, 11 months elapsed before decision was given. There were others of a similar, if not quite so exaggerated a, kind. By the local officers the extreme pressure of the judicial work after the notice of ejectment season was put forward as the cause of delay. It afforded an excuse for cases not being heard for some time after they had been presented; but none for the repeated fruitless postponement, noticed by the Commissioner.

61. The interest of this return is in the statistics of relinquishment and distraint, these being the only classes in which applications are at all numerous. The district figures of the past two years for the two classes are given below :—

The decline in notices of relinquishment, like the increase referred to in a previous paragraph in notices of ejectment against tenants-at-will, is probably the result of the better harvests. As the Commissioner of Allahabad remarks: "The harvests "and the general state of agriculture have much to do with an increase or decrease in "such notices. While there has been a large increase in cases under class XIX "(applications to serve notice on a tenant-at-will), notices of relinquishment have been "fewer, clearly showing that in good seasons landlords are anxious to get hold of land "letting at low rates, while tenants are equally reluctant to give it up—and that in "bad seasons the reverse is the case."

The decrease in relinquishments in the Agra Division, which was noticed in the report for 1890-91 as an encouraging sign of the recovery of the deteriorated tracts, continues. In the Division the number fell from 3,389 to 2,438. In one district, Farukhabad, there was a small increase over the figures of the previous year; but in none of the districts are these notices now numerous. In paragraph 27 of the review of last year's report the Government remarked on the large number of relinquishments in Moradabad and the districts of the Allahabad Division. It will be seen from the table given above that there was a considerable decrease in the year of report in all the districts referred to except Bánda; but the number remained comparatively high in Moradabad (1,401), Cawnpore (2,218), and Allahabad (1,752).

In Moradabad the number of relinquishments is attributed to one and the same cause as the resort to notices of ejectment, namely, the increasing tension between landlord and tenant and the desire to prevent the accrual of occupancy rights. It is reported that, in many instances, in order to avoid the protracted procedure involved by the issue of a notice of ejectment, the landlords put pressure on non-occupancy tenants to give in resignations. In Budaun, another Rohilkhand district where relinquishments are pretty numerous (1,057), the largest number was in the sadar tahsíl, where many of the proprietors are reported to be inclined to rack-renting and oppressive in their treatment of their tenantry.

The Collector of Allahabad states, as the result of the inquiries made by him, that the principal reasons for giving notices of relinquishment are—

(1) A demand by the landlord for higher rent;

(2) The issue of a notice of ejectment, to which, in order to save the expense of further proceedings under section 40, the tenant replies by a notice of relinquishment.

"Thus," the Collector writes, "in perhaps a majority of instances these notices "are more a stratagem in legal warfare than an evidence that the tenants are "oppressed or reduced in circumstances so as to be obliged to give up their holdings."

Relinquishments were much fewer in Cawnpore than in the previous year; but they are still far more numerous than in any other district, and they include a good many resignations by occupancy tenants. In respect to the relinquishments generally, the Collector reports that they were more numerous in parganas where the condition of cultivators is distinctly good than in those where the tenants are not so well off. He also notes that the old landlords have not the means, and the new bania landlords have not the inclination, to help their tenants by giving them takávi when they need it in order to enable them to retain their cultivation. As regards relinquishments by occupancy tenants, Mr. Bird has had special inquiry made in all the villages, 83 in number, where there were three or more such cases, and altogether the circumstances of 378 cases were examined. The details which Mr. Bird has given are interesting; but only the general results of the inquiry can be stated within the limits of this report. In the large majority of cases it was found that the notice was filed on account of inability of the tenant to cultivate from want of means or cattle, or because the managing member of the family had died without leaving a successor capable of carrying on the cultivation, or because the land was too poor to be worth retaining. In the cases examined the landlords appear to have treated their tenants with consideration, having allowed them to give up their bad fields and retain their good ones; having in some cases reduced their rents; and, even when the notice was issued in consequence of a dispute, having reinstated them at the rent previously paid. Mr. Bird sums up the result of his inquiries by stating that the real reason for the relinquishments is that there is not the same demand for land as in some other districts; that there is in parts of the district no difficulty in getting good land; and that the tenant prefers to hold good land as a tenant-at-will to cultivating, as an occupancy tenant, land that yields scarcely any profit. The outcome of the inquiry is so far satisfactory in that it shows that the relinquishments of occupancy holdings are not the direct result of ill-feeling between landlords and tenants; but the fact remains that many landlords in Cawnpore have practically ceased to help their tenants, and that there are a good many holdings which cannot be profitably cultivated at their present rents.

In Fatehpur and Hamírpur, two other districts where relinquishments are somewhat numerous, the reason is that there is plenty of land to spare. The sudden increase in these notices in Meerut (from 566 in 1890-91 to 1,275 in 1891-92) has not been explained; and explanation has been called for, as well as from Aligarh where the number increased from 356 to 837.

The figures in the statement show an increase in the number of applications by distrainers for the sale of distrained crops during the year under report. But the Board are not confident of the accuracy of the figures for either that year or the preceding one with which comparison is made. It is, for example, incredible that in neither year should there have been any such applications in the Benares and Gházipur districts; and that while there were 1,841 in Farukhabad in 1891-92, there were none in 1890-91. The applications are made to kurk amíns and are not, it is understood, brought upon the mislband registers of the tahsíldár or pargana officer. The Board will issue instructions for the more careful preparation of the district returns in future.

Oudh rent law litigation.

62. The statistics of rent law litigation in Courts of original jurisdiction in Oudh are contained in Appendix B.-I (statement of suits), Appendix B.-IIA (statement of miscellaneous applications and proceedings), and the special returns for Oudh of notices of enhancement and ejectment (Appendices B.-IIIA, B, C, and D).

App. B.-I. Suits.

63. An abstract statement showing the classes of suits filed under section 108, Act XXII of 1886, will be found at page 91A of the appendices. The materials for a detailed comparison of the character of the litigation by classes with that of previous years are not available, the form of statement now used being different from that in the preceding year. The district and divisional totals for all suits for the past two years are given in the table in paragraph 46 above. The district returns for suits as a whole show a comparatively small increase or decrease, the former chiefly in the western, the latter chiefly in the eastern districts.

As in the North-Western Provinces, the majority of suits were for arrears of rent (24,309); next come suits under section 108(8) to contest notice of enhancement or ejectment (3,577); and next suits under section 108(10) for recovery of occupancy (3,089). These three descriptions of suits account for 91 per cent. of the total, and are the only classes in which institutions were at all numerous. The chief variations in numbers as compared with 1890-91 took place in the suits for arrears of rent.

Regarding suits of this class it may be said generally that their number is smaller in proportion to the population than in the North-Western Provinces, the proportions being in Oudh one suit to every 520 persons, and in the larger province one to every 397. The only districts in which the increase or decrease in this class of suits as compared with the preceding year calls for notice are Sitapur, Kheri, Fyzabad and Gonda. The Deputy Commissioner of Sitapur attributes the large increase of 373 suits (49 per cent.) to the bad kharíf and light rabi in parts of his district. The Deputy Commissioner of Kheri offers no explanation of the increase of 106 cases (19 per cent.) in his district. In Fyzabad greater activity of management in the estates of the talúkdár of Ajudhya accounts for the large number of suits (541 in excess of 1890-91) filed in 1891-92; while the Deputy Commissioner of Gonda attributes the decrease of 939 cases in his district partly to diminished institutions by the same talúkdár and to better seasons.

The suits under section 108(8) are almost entirely to contest notices of ejectment, the number of enhancement notices issued, and consequently of suits preferred to contest them, being very small. Further remarks regarding this class of litigation will find a more appropriate place in the paragraph dealing with the returns of enhancement and ejectment. The other classes of suits do not require separate notice.

64. The following comparative statement shows, for the two Oudh Divisions, the number of suits under the Rent Act for disposal during the past two years, and the manner in which the suits decided were disposed of:—

It will be noticed that the proportion of contested suits is much higher in Oudh than in the North-Western Provinces, probably because less recourse is had to the Revenue Courts in Oudh in matters that do not really call for judicial decision between the disputants. This feature of Oudh litigation is only in a small degree accounted for by the difference between the two Rent Acts in respect to the descriptions of cases which are technically classed as suits, as it is almost equally noticeable when the percentages in the two provinces for corresponding classes of cases (such as suits for arrears of rent) are compared.

The pending file at the end of the year was heavy in the Fyzabad Division, where the number of cases pending for more than three months (188) was also large. The majority of the undecided and long pending cases in this Division belong to the two districts of Fyzabad and Gonda. The number of cases for disposal in these districts was considerably larger than in any others in Oudh; and in Fyzabad there was a special reason for the heavy pending file in the large number of cases instituted by one of the talúkdárs towards the close of the year. In Hardoi the duration of contested suits (1 month 19 days) is the highest in Oudh. Explanation has been called for, and the necessary orders will in due course be issued by the Board.

Apps. B.-III A, B, and C. Notices of ejectment.

65. Of greater interest than the statement of suits are the returns of ejectment and enhancement as illustrating the working of the special provisions of the Oudh rent law. As usual, considerable space in the district and divisional reports is devoted to the discussion of the statistics in these appendices, and to the cases of evasion and breach of the law that have been detected.

66. The numbers of the different classes of notices or applications for ejectment issued during the past two years are given in the following table :—

	1890-91.		1891-92.
	Number.	Area in acres.	Number.	Area in acres.

The increase in the number of notices and applications taken together is over 52 per cent.; in notices of ejectment alone it exceeds 63 per cent. At the same time the area affected is smaller than in 1890-91. The number of holdings from which tenants on whom notices had been served were actually ejected was 6,037 with an aggregate area of 34,300 acres; and applications under section 61 resulted in eviction in 1,130 cases, covering an area of 9,945 acres. Altogether, therefore, actual ejectment took place from 7,167 holdings with an area of 44,245 acres.

The Commissioner of Lucknow remarks that the increased resort to the legal processes of ejectment need give rise to no uneasiness as to the working of the Rent Act; and that it merely means that the tenants are becoming less willing to submit to arbitrary eviction, and that consequently the landlords are obliged more and more to have recourse to regular legal methods. Mr. Moule's opinion is that generally expressed in the reports, and it is, so far, supported by the information given regarding the number of cases in which tenants have been forcibly deprived of their holdings without legal process. The lists of these informal evictions which are given in the district reports are probably not complete, and it is not clear whether they include any of the 3,089 cases referred to at page 39 above in which the tenant brought a suit under section 108 (10) to recover occupancy. On the other hand, in some instances, lands voluntarily abandoned by tenants, but in respect to which formal resignations were not presented to the tahsíldár, or the landlord did not avail himself of the provisions of section 21 of the Rent Act, have been included in the returns of informal evictions. As was remarked in the review of last year's report, there is still reason to believe that the inquiry as to forcible evictions has not been made with the same thoroughness in every district, and the statistics for all districts are not equally trustworthy; but there is evidence enough in the district reports to warrant the general conclusion that forcible evictions other than by legal process are becoming fewer year by year. The total number of such cases reported has fallen from 4,340 in 1890-91 to 2,732 in 1891-92. Of the districts mentioned in paragraph 18 of the Government review of the last report, Lucknow returns 804 cases against 1,297 in the previous year, Fyzabad 513 against 547, Sultánpur 571 against 724, and Bara Banki 509 instead of 945. The Deputy Commissioner of Gonda gives no details this year. Hardoi alone shows a small increase, returning sixteen cases instead of three. Kheri, one of the remaining districts, reports 319 cases. The Deputy Commissioners of the other districts have not given figures, but the Deputy Commissioner of Unao repeats the opinion he had previously stated, that unlawful evictions are not common in his district, and his report shows that he has made careful and systematic inquiries. The Deputy Commissioner of Partábgarh expresses a similar opinion as far as his district is concerned.

App. B-IIIA. Notices of ejectment on statutory tenants.

67. If the ejectment appendices are examined separately, it will be seen that, while 4,301 notices were issued on statutory tenants, affecting an area of 15,415 acres, the tenants were actually ejected from 2,365 holdings with an area of 7,857 acres—that is to say that nearly half the area affected by the notices remained in possession of the old tenants. According to the return, the average rise in the rent of re-let lands in districts in which the rents were entirely taken in cash was between 10 and 11 per cent., which is considerably less than the result given by the statistics of the previous year, when the average rise in the rent of re-let lands was 26 per cent. Whether, however, this indicates a better observance of the provisions of the Rent Act in respect to enhancement is by no means certain; and it is clear that the law on this subject continues, in some districts at any rate, to be extensively disregarded. Thus, in Kheri, the enhancement on the land that was re-let at cash rents is reported to have ranged from 6¼ to 75 per cent. and in some instances to have reached 100 per cent. In one tahsíl in Fyzabad the average enhancement was 22 per cent., and in Bara Banki, where the average rise for the district was nearly 16 per cent., the increase in one of the outlying tahsíls was 30 per cent.

The return shows 1,869 or 43 per cent. of the notices issued against statutory tenants as contested, a somewhat lower proportion than in previous years. Not quite half the suits brought were successful. There are some apparent discrepancies between the statistics of suits given in the ejectment and enhancement appendices and those in the statement of suits (Appendix B-I), which throw doubt on the accuracy of the former series of returns. It has not been possible, within the time fixed for the submission of this report, to obtain explanations of the differences in the figures. Steps will be taken to secure that, in future, the returns are correctly prepared, and all apparent differences explained.

App. B-IIIB. Notices of ejectment in respect of which no court fee was paid.

68. Of the 5,845 notices on which no court fee was paid, 5,183 were issued under sections other than sections 48 and 69, most of them by landlords in their sír and by tenants against their sub-tenants. The increase in this class of notices is 72 per cent. on the figures of the previous year. The area affected by the notices of all kinds entered in this appendix was 42,360 acres. The proportion of contested notices is, as might be expected, smaller than in the case of those issued against statutory tenants, while the proportion of actual eviction is higher. Only 27 per cent. of the notices were contested, and 43 per cent. of the suits brought were successful.* The tenants were actually evicted from 26,443 acres, or 62 per cent. of the area to which the notices of ejectment referred.

The average rise in the rent of land re-let after eviction (exclusive of the figures for the districts in which a portion of the land was re-let on grain rents) was 14 per cent. As was remarked in the last report, there is no statutory limit to enhancement in this class of ejectments, except in the comparatively rare cases of ejectment of long lease tenants.

App. B.-IIIC. Applications for ejectment under section 61.

69. Applications under section 61, to eject tenants for failure to pay decreed arrears of rent, increased from 2,201 to 2,695. The increase is principally in Fyzabad and Gonda. In the former district it is the result of greater activity of management on the part of the talúkdár of Ajudhya, who filed 263 applications during the year. No special reason is given for the increase in Gonda, where the number of applications rose from 421 to 666. These cases continue to be carefully dealt with by District Officers, and orders for ejectment are not passed without reasonable time being given to the defaulting tenants to pay the arrears they owe when they are able and willing to do so.

App. B.-IIID. Notices of enhancement.

70. Only 58 notices of enhancement were issued during the year, of which 50 were in Bahraich and the rest in Hardoi and Sultánpur. As has been remarked in previous reports, enhancements of rent in Oudh are almost universally made by private arrangement between landlord and tenant, and there is seldom any need for resort to legal procedure. The return of notices issued therefore throws little, if any, light on the operation of the provisions of the law regarding enhancement of rent, and the important point to consider is the extent to which those provisions are evaded or disregarded in the arrangements that are made without the preliminary of a notice. Actual cases of enhancement beyond the legal limit, or within the statutory term of occupancy, are reported from seven districts; but it would be unwise to say or conclude that the reported figures include all the cases in which the law is disregarded. One hundred and thirty-one cases are reported from the Lucknow district, in which the rent was raised by 22 per cent. The Deputy Commissioner of Rae Bareli reports six cases. In Hardoi 48 cases were detected, in which the increase in rent was 35 per cent. M. Mazhar Ali, Honorary Magistrate and Secretary to the Sandila Municipal Board, is mentioned as a prominent offender in Hardoi.* In one village in Bahraich the rents were raised 16 per cent. all round. The report for the Sultánpur district mentions 35 cases of illegal enhancement, one of which occurred in the estate of the Rája of Hasanpur, whose prominent disregard of the law was noticed in the last report. Further reference to the action of this proprietor will be found in the following paragraph. The Deputy Commissioner of Fyzabad reports 280 cases, the enhancement in which amounted to 25 per cent. He states that the Mahárája of Ajudhya has profited by the observations made on his conduct last year, and that only 12 cases of illegal enhancement were found in his estate. Four hundred and thirty-seven cases, resulting in an average enhancement of 12 per cent., are reported from Bara Banki. Lastly, in Kheri, the rents of 4,542 tenants are reported to have been enhanced by mutual consent at rates varying from 1 anna to 2 annas 6 pie per rupee, a single talúkdár, the Rája of Oel, being responsible for 3,467 cases. In Unao and Partábgarh enhancements are reported to be in abeyance during the progress of settlement operations. In the remaining districts illegal enhancements are reported to be prevalent, but the District Officers have not cited actual instances in support of their opinion. It is not clear that all the enhancements in Kheri were contrary to law; those of one anna in the rupee were not necessarily so, and, moreover, the case of Kheri is, in some respects, exceptional. The value of land in some parts of this district has largely increased, and the question whether the limit of enhancement should be raised in the tracts that have recently been opened up is under inquiry. A report on this subject will shortly be submitted to Government.†

71. If the enhancements in Kheri are set aside as doubtful and exceptional, the reported instances of illegal enhancement are not numerous. But, as the Deputy Commissioner of Fyzabad remarks, it is difficult to obtain correct information of the extent to which the law of enhancement is disregarded; and the annual inquiries that are made, and the notice that is taken by the authorities of the cases that are discovered, tend to induce concealment of the illegal enhancements that take place by the exclusion of the increase in rent from the village rent-rolls, or by the substitution of veiled forms of enhancement, such as a premium on renewal of tenancy. The demoralizing effect of the well meant provisions of the law in inducing evasion and concealment is strikingly brought out by some inquiries that have been made, since the district report was received, by the present Deputy Commissioner and Settlement Officer of Sultánpur under the instructions of the Senior Member of the Board. Mr. Brownrigg has submitted a list of 57 authenticated cases, 27 of them in the estate of the Rája of Hasanpur, four in the Derah estate, 25 in the Maniarpur talúka, and one in a village belonging to the talúkdár of Ajudhya. The list contains instructive examples of the devices that landlords have begun to resort to in order to obtain largely increased profits from land without open disregard of the law of enhancement; and it shows that, in the case of the Rája of Hasanpur at any rate (the talúkdár mentioned in the preceding paragraph), a policy

* This landlord, it may be noted, is reported to have adopted the precaution of taking bonds to secure his illegal enhancements.

of systematic evasion of the law has been adopted. One of the methods employed is to add a small patch of waste land to a holding so as to constitute an alteration in the area (section 7, Act XXII of 1886). In the instance given, which occurred in a village belonging to the talúkdár of Ajudhya, seven biswas of waste were added to a tenant's holding, and the rent was raised from Rs. 13 to Rs. 20. Another method, commonly employed by the Rája of Hasanpur, is for the landlord to take the land of an evicted tenant into his own cultivation (khúdkásht) or even to let it lie and be recorded as waste for a time with the object of evading the provisions of section 47. A third device, also apparently a favourite one with the Rája of Hasanpur, is to let land after ejectment to a nominal tenant (in the Hasanpur cases, sometimes one of the Rája's brothers, sometimes his private secretary) at the legal rate of enhancement, and at the same time to sub-let to the actual cultivators at an enormously increased rent. Of several cases of this kind that are specified by Mr. Brownrigg, the following may be quoted as an example. A tenant was ejected from a holding paying a rent of Rs. 119. The land was then let by the Rája of Hasanpur, nominally to his secretary at an enhanced rent of Rs. 126-7-0, the limit of one anna in the rupee being strictly observed; but the rental actually imposed on the sub-tenants was Rs. 286-11-1. In some cases an enhancement of rent was secured, and at the same time kept out of the village rent-roll, by inducing the tenant to execute a bond for an amount payable without interest by annual instalments in seven years (the statutory term). A striking instance of this was discovered by Mr. Brownrigg in the Derah estate, where a tenant, the rent of whose holding was Rs. 141, was served with a notice of ejectment and, on the same day, registered a bond for Rs. 1,148 in favour of the talúkdár, in which he engaged to pay the amount in seven annual instalments of Rs. 164 each. The practice of levying a premium, or nazarána, regarding the prevalence of which the Government directed inquiries to be made,* is shown by Mr. Brownrigg to be common in the Hasanpur estate; and, in the Maniarpur talúka, to be general. In both estates the premium is taken in addition to the legal enhancement of one anna in the rupee. It will be sufficient to give two of the numerous cases reported as samples of the rest. Both occurred in the Hasanpur estate. In one, besides enhancing the rent from Rs. 130 to Rs. 138-2-0, the Rája took from the tenant Rs. 100 in cash, and a cart, oxen and other property of the value of Rs. 200. In the other, the old tenant was ejected from a holding with a rental of Rs. 43-2-0, and the land was let to new tenants at an enhanced rent of Rs. 46 on their executing bonds for Rs. 118-4-0.

The practice of levying nazarána is reported to exist in most of the other districts where inquiries have been made; though, except in Bara Banki, few specific instances, such as those reported from Sultánpur, have been discovered. A few cases have come to light in Kheri where the landlord took nazarána to recoup himself for the legal expenses of ejectment. The Deputy Commissioner of Fyzabad discovered two cases in which a premium of 2 per cent. on the rental had been paid to the landlord, and he states that there are two estates in which nazarána is believed to be generally levied. In Bara Banki the Deputy Commissioner reports that the practice of taking a premium is general throughout the district, and that one of the wealthiest talúkdárs is in the habit of demanding nazarána as well as the legal enhancement of one anna on the rupee in all cases when he proposes to evict. Further inquiries are being made by District officers, the result of which will be embodied in the next report.

Another method of enhancement, to which reference was made in the Government review of last year's report, is the conversion of cash rents into rents in kind.† The Deputy Commissioner of Sitapur (where the practice is said to be common) was requested to make special inquiry into the matter during the cold weather, and a separate report will be submitted.

In respect to all these evasions of the law, the moral effect of which is much more serious than the merely pecuniary result that may in particular instances take place, the Senior Member of the Board has only again to express his conviction that real and effective compliance with legal provisions which invite attempts at evasion is not to be secured by extra-judicial comment and advice. The true remedy lies in the amendment or removal of the provisions.

72. In discussing the working of the enhancement sections of the Rent Act, the Commissioner of Lucknow takes the opportunity of pressing on the attention of the Board and Government the necessity of fixing, by law, a limit to enhancement of the rents of occupancy tenants. He urges that the Rent Act, as it now stands, leaves the occupancy tenant, who is generally an ex-proprietor, in this respect naked and defenceless against ruinous and oppressive enhancements, and he suggests that enhancement cases should be limited to two annas in the rupee on the existing rent. But, in the first place, it may be doubted whether, in practice, the question is at present one of much urgency, as the number of suits for the enhancement of the rents of occupancy tenants is very small. During the year only 17 suits under section 108, clause (3), were instituted in the Lucknow Division, and 88 in the whole of Oudh. It is not unlikely that such suits may become more numerous in districts that come under revision of settlement, and that occupancy tenants will have to take their share in the enhancements of revenue that are imposed upon their landlords; but special provisions for the benefit of occupancy tenants have been inserted in the settlement rules for Oudh, which are now before Government, and further action, by way of prescribing a particular rate of increase does not, in this view of the matter, appear to the Board to be required. In the second place, the occupancy tenant, differing from the statutory tenant, is secured by law in a permanent heritable tenancy at a rent which shall bear a definite relation to and shall in no case exceed the fair letting value of the land as gauged by the rents already paid by other occupancy tenants or by statutory tenants of social and agricultural status similar to his own. To more than this he has, in the Board's opinion, no equitable title whatever. In particular cases, where the occupancy tenant has been cultivating land at a rent much below the fair letting value of the land, the hardship of a sudden enhancement of rent is undoubtedly considerable. The reasonable remedy for such cases of hardship—and it is needed in the North-Western Provinces as well as in Oudh—is not to fix a universal rule prescribing a rate of increase, but to grant discretion to the Revenue Courts in cases of hardship to pass decrees for suitable progressive enhancements similar to the progressive enhancements granted by the Government in respect to its revenue. Rather than see a general rule of two annas in the rupee enhancement introduced for occupancy tenants in Oudh, the Board would see the one anna in the rupee enhancement rule abolished for statutory tenants.

App. B-IIA. (Oudh). Miscellaneous applications and proceedings under the Oudh Rent Act.

73. This return includes the miscellaneous applications and proceedings under the Oudh Rent Act other than ejectment notices and applications and notices of enhancement. As in the North-Western Provinces return, the only classes that need be noticed are class II, notices of relinquishment, and class X, applications for sale of distrained produce. The number of formal relinquishments by tenents was 4,860 against 5,975 in the preceding year. Unao heads the list with 1,545 (a smaller number, however, than in 1890-91), and next comes Bara Banki with 663. In both districts the relinquishments are chiefly in riparian tracts that have suffered from floods. The distraint applications were mainly in Hardoi (2,657) and Sultánpur (1,183). In the former district the number was nearly double that of the previous year. The Deputy Commissioner explains the remarkable increase by the character of the seasons, which, however, was much the same in Hardoi as elsewhere.

App. B.-IV. Appeals to Collectors from decisions in suits.

In 1891-92, out of 16,333 appealable suits decided in the North-Western Provinces and 6,315 in Oudh, 3,194 were appealed to Collectors in the North-Western Provinces and 719 to Deputy Commissioners in Oudh.

The percentages of appeals to appealable cases were 19·56 for the North-Western Provinces and 11·39 for Oudh, and 17·28 for the entire province. The following table shows the percentages for each Division, and at the same time exhibits the amount of appellate work which fell upon Collectors. In this and the other statistical tables given in this portion of the report, the columns for 1890-91 have been left blank for the Oudh Divisions, as complete statistics for that year are not available.

The work was heaviest in the Gorakhpur and Benares Divisions, but by no means oppressively heavy in any Division or district. Azamgarh with 294 cases, Ghâzipur with 271, Basti with 269, and Gorakhpur with 212 were the districts with most appellate work. In Basti and Azamgarh the percentages of appeals filed were as high as 32 and 31 respectively. It will be observed that in both Divisions of Oudh the percentage of appeals filed was considerably below that of any Division of the North-Western Provinces. Exclusive of appeals summarily rejected or dismissed for default, there were 4,046 appeals for decision, of which 299 only remained pending at the close of the year. Of these the Gorakhpur Division, where most appeals were instituted, is responsible for 118.

The table in the margin shows, for all appeals filed, the percentage in which the decisions were undisturbed. The percentage is somewhat lower than last year. Rohilkhand fell off owing to a low percentage in Budaun, for an explanation of which the Board will call. Agra improved, notwithstanding a bad percentage in Etâwah due to the unsatisfactory work of two tahsîldârs. The average in Benares was lowered by a bad percentage in Ballia, which requires explanation. The results in Fyzabad are not nearly so good as in the previous year; but the percentage of undisturbed decisions is still not below the average.

With 1,258 cases pending from last year, there were 3,016 appeals for disposal, of which only 1,572 were decided. The pending file was slightly reduced in the North-Western Provinces; but in Oudh it rose from 657 to 868 cases, and in the united provinces it increased to 1,444 cases, of which 1,005 were pending for over three months. The average duration also rose to 7 months 23 days. This branch of appellate work seems to be falling seriously into arrears, especially in Oudh. The percentage of undisturbed decisions was 56·94 in the North-Western Provinces, against 56·14 last year; but in Oudh it fell from 78·27 to 68·92. For the united provinces it was 61·90 against 62·10.

In the North-Western Provinces the percentage of appeals was higher than in 1890-91, and the number increased by 431, which is entirely accounted for by the Meerut Division, though the largest increase in appealable cases decided was in Agra and Rohilkhand.

In the Meerut Division, 829 out of 1,644 appeals filed belong to the Bulandshahr district, where for some years past the relations of landlord and tenant have been embittered. The large pending file in Meerut is accounted for by the heavy appellate work which fell on the Commissioner, who had altogether 1,950 appeals for disposal. He transferred 865 cases to Collectors and decided 530, leaving 555 pending at the end of the year. A heavy pending file (202) in Rohilkhand is due to 197 appeals having been presented in August and September. The Commissioner of Gorakhpur accounts for his pending file of 204 as the result of his practice latterly adopted of invariably calling for the record in appeals unless they were plainly barred by limitation. In Benares numerous appeals filed at the close of the year account for 173 pending cases. The Commissioner only transferred 6 cases out of a total of 721 for disposal. The Commissioner of Fyzabad has offered no explanation of his 193 undecided cases; but it should be noted that appeals were more numerous in Fyzabad than in any Division except Meerut. Altogether Commissioners had to deal with 5,570 appeals; and the Collectors of the Meerut and Benares Divisions, and the Deputy Commissioners of Gonda and Bahraich (with powers of Commissioners), with 1,029.

The remarks of Government in paragraph 30 of their review of last year's Administration Report for the North-Western Provinces have given rise to separate correspondence between Government, the Board, and the Commissioners of Benares, Meerut, and Agra, which was not concluded till after the end of the year of report; and it is unnecessary to do more than note the figures for summary rejections in the Divisions concerned:—

The following table shows by Divisions the percentages of results in appeals. The percentage of decisions upheld entirely fell in the North-Western Provinces from 75·97 to 71·62; but rose in Oudh from 66·06 to 68·38. In both provinces together it fell from 73·25 to 70·97. The large proportion of reversals and remands in Rohilkhand is reported by the Commissioner to be due chiefly to the necessity for interference in enhancement cases. Mr. Cadell nevertheless considers that the work of the subordinate Courts in his Division has, on the whole, improved. The large proportion of reversals in Oudh is not explained, as it should have been, by the Commissioners.

The total number of cases disposed of by the Board in the North-Western Provinces amounted to 2,309 against 3,351 in the previous year, the total number pending at the close of 1891-92 being 244. The Board examined records of Lower Courts in 851 cases, and in 49 cases parties were heard. The orders of Lower Courts were disturbed in 254 cases, being 11 per cent. of the total number of cases disposed of.

79. The judicial work of the Board of Revenue for Oudh for 1891-92, which was mostly heard and disposed of at Lucknow, was as follows :—

(a) Appeals under the Oudh Rent Act—

80. From the records that they had occasion to examine and the appeals which they have heard, the Board see reason to think that on the whole, and notwithstanding the pressure of judicial work at certain seasons of the year (for example, during the hot weather months following the issue of notices of ejectment) the work of the original Revenue Courts is fairly well disposed of. But they are distinctly of opinion that the system in the North-Western Provinces, whereunder the orders of Assistant Collectors in a large number of suits and applications are final and not subject to appeal to their local superiors, dissatisfied parties being left to apply for revision to the Board of Revenue, is radically bad. There are other defects in the system of appeal under the North-Western Provinces Rent Act; and there can be little doubt that the system of appeals and the procedure in appeals in that Province should be assimilated to those prescribed in the Oudh Act and for Civil and Revenue Courts elsewhere throughout India. This is one of a number of amendments of the North-Western Provinces Rent Act which the Board think to be highly expedient.

App. B.-IX (N.-W.P.).
Action taken to avert sale of land in execution of decrees of Revenue Courts.

81. The number of cases in which applications for the sale of land in execution of Revenue Court decreees were pending at the close of 1890-91 was 143, and not 136 as shown in last year's report. With 258 fresh applications there were 401 for disposal, which were distributed between the Divisions as noted in the margin. Of these 296 were decided. The Collector succeeded in averting sale in 80 cases, and 217 were submitted to the Board for sanction of sale. The Board sanctioned 210 sales and otherwise disposed of six cases. The remaining case was returned for further information.

App. B.—X.-XII. Summary and regular suits in the Kumaun Division.

82. Summary suits in Kumaun remained at practically the same figure as last year; but regular suits declined from 1,468 to 1,023. Out of a total of 2,062 suits for disposal 1,756 were decided, leaving 306 against 400 last year, pending. Appeals to the Commissioner fell from 304 to 214, and the pending file was reduced from 76 to 23. Proposals for altering the rules respecting revenue suits and appeals in Kumaun were submitted to Government during the year and are still under consideration.

SEC. III.—DEPOSITS OF RENT. App. B.-VIII.

83. Owing to mistakes in the accounts of the previous year in two districts, the number and value of the items in deposit at the beginning of the year in the North-Western Provinces have been corrected to 883 deposits, amounting to Rs. 28,178. According to the returns, the amount deposited in Court during the year in Oudh was considerably larger than in the North-Western Provinces, the figures for the two provinces being—

	Rs.
Oudh	82,857
North-Western Provinces	58,349

It appears, however, from the district report that the Gonda return includes deposits of revenue, which, as well as deposits of rent, are made under the Oudh Rent Act; and it is probable that the returns for some other Oudh districts have been prepared in a similar manner. Steps will be taken to separate the two classes of deposits in the returns for the current year. In the North-Western Provinces there was an increase in the rent deposits as compared with the previous year; but the only district in which the amount is noticeably large is Gorakhpur, where Rs. 14,446 were placed in deposit during the year. The large number of deposits in this district is reported to be the result of disputes between landlords and tenants in cases where rents were under-stated at the recent settlement, and the tenants now refuse to pay more than the rents which were recorded. In Bara Banki two small items were not credited to Government, as they should have been, at the end of three complete financial years. The Deputy Commissioner has issued orders for the adjustment of these. Other items of long standing have been satisfactorily explained.

* Not given in last report.

These figures indicate that the revenue was generally collected with less difficulty than in the previous year. There was a decrease of between nine and ten thousand in the number of processes issued; and (exclusive of Oudh, for which comparative statistics are not available) of over Rs. 14,50,000 in the arrears for the recovery of which coercive measures were employed. The decrease is common to processes of every description except that of sale. The number of sales rose from 2 to 11; but this increase is more in appearance than in reality, as 8 of the 11 cases were sales of pattis comprised in a single village and owned by a single defaulter. If the figures for Oudh are examined separately, it will be seen that there was a small increase in the minor processes; but cases of attachment of immovable property diminished, and there was no resort to the severer measures of transfer, annulment of settlement, or sale. The average number of processes per district in Oudh was only 1,130 against 1,763 in the North-Western Provinces, a difference which is explained by the fact that a considerable portion of the revenue in Oudh is paid by large and prosperous talúkdári estates, which give little or no trouble in collection.

In the Meerut Division, the largest issue of writs was in Aligarh, where there was an increase over the figures of 1890-91. In the review on the last report the Government observed that the statistics of processes for this district showed pressure of the revenue. The Collector attributes the large number of writs issued to the idiosyncracies of his tahsíldárs rather than to difficulty in collecting the revenue, and instances the case of the Sikandra Rao tahsíl, where a change of tahsíldárs was followed by a largely diminished resort to coercive processes. The increase in writs was counterbalanced by a decrease in arrests, distraint and sale of movables, and attachments; and the revenue is reported to have been collected, on the whole, with much less difficulty than in the previous year. In Saháranpur, Bulandshahr, and Muzaffarnagar, the three districts in the Division in which the revenue has been enhanced at the recent revision of settlement, the number of coercive processes decreased. In the last of the three, Muzaffarnagar, where the enhanced revenue was collected for the first time in 1891-92, the number of writs fell from 838 to 637, a result which is attributed partly to good harvests, and partly to an alteration made by the Settlement Officer in the dates of the revenue instalments. There was a considerable increase in the number of cases of distress, but in no case was the distress followed by actual sale. In the Agra Division, the statistics of coercive processes illustrate the difficulty of collecting the revenue in Farukhabad, Mainpuri, and Etah, to which reference has been made in an earlier paragraph. In all three districts, as already remarked, resort to prompt and stringent measures in realizing the revenue are absolutely necessary, now that, after elaborate inquiries, reductions and remissions of revenue have been made where proved to be necessary. In Farukhabad, where the largest number of minor processes issued, the total (3,270) is nearly the same as in the previous year, and fewer arrests are shown; but the Collector thinks that the arrests are under-stated, and cases of distress and sale of movables increased considerably. Mainpuri shows an increase under all three classes, that in distraints and sales of movables being noticeable, and the arrears on account of which the processes issued were Rs. 7,71,414, against Rs. 6,60,005 in 1890-91. In Etah there was an increase in writs and arrests, and also in sales of movables, though there were fewer cases of distress. Referring generally to the measures that were found necessary for the collection of the revenue, the Collector writes: "I "must admit that the measures taken by me during the year were more severe; for "example, arrests were much more numerous and the people in the district knew that "several villages have been proposed for farm or sale. My excuse for this greater "severity—and I am afraid it will have to continue—are the direct orders I have received "from the Board to collect all Government revenue now that revisional operations have "come to an end. * * * I am in hopes that one or two actual sales in each tahsíl "may have the desired effect; but it is at all events quite clear that the Etah revenue will "not be collected by the ordinary and milder measures." The Board are satisfied that coercive measures have been employed with discrimination, and that no undue severity has been exercised.

The statistics for the Rohilkhand Division call for little comment, the most noticeable feature being the difference in the extent to which coercive processes are issued in the various districts. The Commissioner remarks on the small number of writs in Sháhjahánpur compared with Bareilly; and he notes a case in the former district in which a defaulter was allowed to remain in balance till the end of the year without even a dastak being issued against him. The effect of better seasons in rendering collection of the revenue more easy was marked in the Allahabad Division, where processes of all kinds diminished. Writs fell from 8,353 to 7,959, arrests from 390 to 336, cases of distress from 1,822 to 1,242, and sales of movables from 139 to 96. In Cawnpore, where the statistics of last year were remarked on as indicating pressure of the revenue, there was a slight increase in the number of attachments and sales of movables; but the Collector reports that, notwithstanding this, the revenue was collected on the whole with less difficulty than in previous years. In Jhánsi both the Commissioner and the Collector notice that writs are issued to provide employment for hangers-on at the tahsíls instead of with reference to actual necessities, and a similar practice is reported from some other districts. Only closer supervision on the part of the Collectors is required to put a stop to this practice, and this it is expected will be given. A Collector having discovered that the practice existed in any tahsíl, should not have to confess its continuance. In the Benares Division, where the seasons have been less favourable than in other parts of the provinces, the number of processes issued was larger than in the previous year. The increase in writs is partly accounted for by the inclusion in the returns of writs for mutation fees which should not have been entered; but the increase in cases of distress, and, in some districts, in arrests, points to some backwardness on the part of the landowners in meeting the Government demand. Arrests increased largely in the Benares district, where it was found necessary to employ this process against habitual defaulters who made the character of the seasons an excuse for withholding payment of revenue. There was also an increase in arrests in Ballia. In Jaunpur, where the process of arrest and detention appears to have been employed somewhat too freely in the previous year, there was a satisfactory decrease. In Gházipur there was an abnormal increase in cases of distress, which requires the explanation for which the Commissioner has called. The abnormally large number of writs and other processes issued in Azamgarh was remarked on in the last report. In 1891-92, though the harvests are reported to have been worse than in the previous year, there was a striking decrease in all the minor processes; and the Board agree in the conclusion drawn by the Commissioner that the revenue in former years might have been collected with less coercion than was actually employed. The Collector urges that it is impossible to supervise effectively the issue of coercive processes in a district like Azamgarh, where the number of proprietors is so large. The Commissioner dissents from this view, and the Board entirely agree with him—and the remark is equally applicable to the explanation as to his tahsíldárs' idiosyncracies offered by the Collector of Aligarh—that it should be possible for the Collector to exercise a general control over the action of his tahsíldárs in respect to the issue of processes. Writs, arrests, and distraints are still far more numerous in Azamgarh than in any other district in the provinces. There was a large increase in the minor processes issued in Basti, especially in writs; but there were fewer sales of movables, and no action had to be taken against immovable property. The Collector reports that the enhanced revenue was collected easily and with fair regularity, and explains the increase in coercive processes by the large and increasing number of maháls in the district, and the decay, or rather the non-existence, of the lambardári system.

In the Lucknow Division, the largest numbers of minor processes were issued in Unao and Hardoi, and in the latter district there was a considerable increase over the figures of the previous year. The increase in Hardoi is said to be due to an inferior harvest following a succession of bad seasons, and injury to crops from hail and floods; in Unao the Collector blames his tahsíldárs for not working more through the lambardárs. The Commissioner considers that in both districts the number of writs was unduly high and should be reduced. The Board entirely agree in this opinion as regards Hardoi, at any rate, where, as Mr. Moule points out, writs were obviously used too freely, as many as nine having been issued against a single mahál in a single kist; and the Deputy Commissioner must put a stop to such procedure by his tahsíldárs in future.

In the coercive statistics for the Fyzabad Division there is little to call for special notice. In the Fyzabad district there was an apparent increase in the number of writs, but this was chiefly due to the inclusion for the first time in the return of writs issued for the realization of cesses and other miscellaneous heads of demand. The largest number of writs issued in any single mahál for a single district was, in the North-Western Provinces, two, and in Oudh nine. The longest period of detention on a warrant of arrest was 15 days in both provinces, while the averages were four and six days respectively.

85. The Deputy Commissioners of Sitapur and Hardoi discuss in their reports the experiment that has been tried of serving revenue processes and notices through the post. This was referred to by Government in paragraph 6 of the review of the last report for Oudh, and the discontinuance of the practice in Hardoi was remarked on. It should be explained that what was discontinued was the employment of postal notices bearing a charge of four annas only instead of writs of demand on which the prescribed fee is 12 annas. Miscellaneous notices and intimations of orders are still sent through the post in Hardoi, and the system is reported by the Deputy Commissioner to have hitherto worked well and smoothly. In Sitapur writs of demand were served through the post, the proper fee of 12 annas being levied from the defaulters. The Commissioner writes: "The experiment has been entirely successful; the revenue has been collected with "fair punctuality; the number of writs has fallen, and the zamíndárs have escaped the "petty exactions of a horde of needy hangers-on at the tahsíl." Mr. Moule recommends that the system (1) of serving writs of demand by post at the usual fixed charge of 12 annas, and (2) of serving miscellaneous notices and intimations of orders through the post either at a charge of 4 annas to cover postage, or simply "bearing," at the discretion of the Court, should be introduced throughout the Lucknow Division. This proposal has been approved by the Board, who have directed that the system should also be tried in the Fyzabad Division. In the North-Western Provinces the system of utilizing the Post-office for serving miscellaneous notices and transmitting documents is the subject of a special experiment undertaken, with the sanction of Government, at the suggestion of Mr. Lambe; and the Board now propose to extend the experiment to the service by post of writs of demand.

Another experiment that has been tried with the object of facilitating the collection of the revenue is the distribution, in Hardoi, of behris, or slips, showing the exact demand due from each co-sharer in a village and the revenue payable at each instalment. In paragraph 5 of the Government review last year, it was suggested that definite instructions for the annual revision of those slips should be issued. It has been ascertained that the behris are being kept up to date by yearly revision under the Deputy Commissioner's orders in Hardoi; and the settlement operations which have commenced, in the course of which the khewats will be thoroughly revised, seem meanwhile to render further instructions unnecessary.

Process fees.

86. Including arrears, the demand for process fees was Rs. 48,601, of which Rs. 47,949 were collected. The expenditure was Rs. 34,159. Four districts show a deficit, due to the pay of the establishment of the previous year having been disbursed during the period under report.

(b) Attachments of landed property.

87. The diminution in the use of the process of attachment of estates, which was noted in the last report, continued; and the number of attachments fell from 400 to 237, of which 10 only were in Oudh. The number of mahals against which action was taken under section 154 of Act XIX of 1873 was comparatively large in Etáwah (66), Jaunpur (38), and Gorakhpur (31); but these attachments resolve themselves into a small number of cases. Thus, in Etáwah 47 of the maháls attached belonged to the Chaudhri of Bishengarh, and 11 to another defaulter; the 38 maháls in Jaunpur formed a single estate, which was taken under management on account of the litigation in which the proprietor was involved; and the 31 maháls attached in Gorakhpur belonged to three bodies of defaulting and recusant proprietors.

(c) Transfers of shares and pattis.
(d) Annulment of settlement, and (e) Sale.

88. The rights and interests of the defaulters in 11 pattis were transferred, the settlement of 16 maháls was annulled, and 11 properties were sold for arrears of revenue. These exceptional processes were chiefly resorted to in the Agra Division and in Bánda. Eight of the eleven sales took place in Bánda, where, however, as has been already explained, the properties sold belonged to a single defaulter.

App. E.-XI.
Estates managed direct after annulment of settlement.

89. There were 38 estates under management during the period under report compared with 37 in the previous year. Including arrears, the rental demand was Rs. 59,749. Of this, Rs. 44,496 were collected, leaving Rs. 15,253 outstanding. Nearly the whole of this is due in Bánda (Rs. 3,480), Jalaun (Rs. 5,368), and Azamgarh (Rs. 4,886). The estates from which the arrears were due in Bánda have been released and settled with the ex-proprietors, and the arrears have since been remitted. The Collector does not expect to realize more than a small portion of the arrears in Jalaun. The arrears in Azamgarh, which belong to a single estate, could not be collected on account of unfavourable seasons. Part of the arrears will eventually have to be remitted. The charges were Rs. 2,463, of which Rs. 2,113 are on account of establishment, which absorbed 3·5 per cent. on the rental demand, against 3·7 per cent. in 1890-91.

App. E.-XII.
Estates attached by order of Civil or Rent Courts.

90. This appendix takes the place of statements XI and XII of former Oudh reports, with the omission of the estates hitherto shown in statement XII under classes C and D.

At the end of last year Deputy Commissioners in Oudh held charge of 19 estates as managers or receivers. Ten of these have been released or sold, and 1 has been excluded from the statement, as it now appears to be managed under Act XXXV of 1858. Eight new estates were made over during the year, making 16 at its close, of which 2 have been released and 2 more will be released shortly. The rental demand, including outstanding arrears, was Rs. 1,38,264, and, including advance collections, Rs. 1,20,203 were realized. The total assets for the year, including the opening cash balance and miscellaneous receipts, were Rs. 1,48,173, of which Rs. 88,692 were disbursed for charges and Rs. 36,337 were paid into Court towards the satisfaction of debts. The debts still undischarged amounted to Rs. 89,039, exclusive of the debts on the Rámpur kalan estate in Sitapur, which have not yet been ascertained, as the liabilities of the proprietor (a lunatic) are in course of determination in the Civil Courts. The two estates in Fyzabad entered under class B are Sihipur and Bansgaon, which were erroneously shown under class A in the report of the previous year. Both estates continue to be managed satisfactorily, but Bansgaon is heavily indebted. The owner of Sihipur recently died, and the estate is now claimed by the Khapradih Court of Wards estate. The Babhnipair estate in Gonda was sold during the year, but was not released from management pending confirmation of the sale.

Kharauni estate.

91. In the North-Western Provinces the only estate held under management by order of the Civil Court, for which accounts are received, is that of Kharauni in the Ballia district. The usual statement, showing the results of the management for the year, is inserted below. The rental demand was Rs. 6,258, out of which Rs. 6,140 were collected; and, after paying all charges, a surplus of Rs. 556 was carried to the credit of the estate.

The figures of increase or decrease in Oudh have been obtained by the Board since the district reports were received. These reports do not attempt a comparison with the figures of 1890-91, as the present detailed statement is new in Oudh.

Private transfers increased by 1,705, the most important variations being in Almora and Garhwál. In the former district the increase is ascribed to the pressure of several bad seasons, and this also probably accounts largely for the increase in Garhwál, though the Deputy Commissioner attributes it to anxiety on the part of transferees of previous years to report, lest they should not be recorded as proprietors at settlement. The variations elsewhere are not sufficiently important to call for notice. Succession cases show an increase of 9,470. There was a large increase in Saháranpur (2,033), which is attributed to more careful supervision of the patwáris and kanúngos, who had got out of hand owing to settlement operations; and in Azamgarh (4,069), where a similar cause is assigned. In the latter district, if the cause assigned is the true one, registration must have been extremely bad in former years, seeing that successions more than doubled in 1891-92. Elsewhere, for the less important variations different causes are assigned, chiefly increased or decreased mortality, greater attention to registration, and abnormal numbers in the previous year due to the death of large landowners or other causes. Transfers by mortgage decreased by 1,586, chiefly in Oudh. On the other hand, redemptions of mortgages increased by 985; and here again the variation is principally in Oudh. The total number of transfers increased by 10,809 cases. High prices were realized for revenue-paying land sold by order of court in Gorakhpur.

In connection with the subject of transfers, that of mortgages of their holdings by statutory tenants in Oudh may be referred to. The inquiry that has been made in accordance with the orders of Government* has shown that such mortgages are, at present, uncommon, and instances of them are reported from four districts only. A few cases were found in Fyzabad, but, in all but one of these the mortgagors considered themselves, not as statutory tenants, but as shankalapdárs possessing a right of transfer. The Deputy Commissioner of Gonda reports that the practice is not as yet common, but that not a few instances have come to his knowledge and that of his subordinates in which statutory holdings have been mortgaged either with or without possession. In Partábgarh these mortgages are said to be not unfrequent in the estates of talúkdárs, whose agents compel bankrupt tenants to mortgage their holdings with possession to solvent cultivators, occasionally to the landlord himself. That a landlord should take a mortgage of an insolvent tenant's land, instead of ejecting him, seems a singular, and is not likely to be a common, transaction, but the Deputy Commissioner gives two instances of the kind that have come under his own observation. A somewhat similar arrangement appears to prevail in Hardoi, where, however, it is not described as a mortgage, the landlord letting the land of an insolvent cultivator to a new tenant, from whom he takes an agreement to pay up the arrears due from the old one. Besides these arrangements to which the landlord is a party, cases are reported from Hardoi in which tenants in Government villages, who have received leases for the term of settlement, have mortgaged their holdings. The Board have issued the necessary instructions to secure that mortgages of the holdings of statutory tenants are not recognised or recorded in the village papers.

93. The following statement shows the penalties levied under section 97, Act XIX of 1873, and section 64, Act XVII of 1876. In the North-Western Provinces the amount levied in penalties increased from Rs. 50,679 to Rs. 61,713. Figures for 1890-91 for Oudh are not obtainable.

The difficulty of realizing penalties and fees for mutations, especially on small estates, was referred to in paragraph 34 of the Government review on last year's report. The matter is still under the Board's consideration and will be reported on separately.

Complaints are made in some of the Oudh reports of the difficulty of coping with the work of registering mutations, owing to the complicated procedure followed. It is hoped that the difficulty will disappear now that the procedure has been simplified with the sanction of Government and brought more into accord with that of the North-Western Provinces.

95. During the year under report Rs. 2,863-2-3 were advanced to 26 proprietors under the Jhánsi Encumbered Estates Act (XVI of 1882), and 64 loan accounts under the same Act were closed as detailed below :—

By regular payment of instalments	35
„ payment of the whole debt in a lump sum	28
„ transfer of the defaulter's share for 15 years	1
Total ...	64

Six hundred and fifteen accounts remained open at the close of the year. In seven cases sale was sanctioned by the Board for arrears of loan instalments; but sale was averted in six cases by payment of the instalments in arrear, or by discharge of the entire debt, and only one remained pending at the close of the year. The Collector of Jhánsi states, after making special inquiries on the subject, that "in about 90 per cent. of the encumbered estates the effect of action under the Act has been merely to postpone the ultimate triumph of the money-lender; while in possibly 10 per cent. the estate has been really relieved of its burdens. A further regrettable result of the operation of the Act has been the fostering of a widespread idea that what has been done once will be done again, and that, however reckless the borrowing, the estate will not be allowed finally to pass out of the hands of the zamíndárs." As, however, one result of the application of the Act has been that a large number of properties have been sold outright, it is difficult to understand how the above idea has been fostered. Had the power of transfer been taken away from those who paid their debts by the assistance of loans from Government, as was proposed when the Act was being framed, some real good would have been done. As it is, loans have been largely paid by fresh borrowing. For the debts thus incurred the land will become liable as soon as the Government lien on it abates.

SEC. III.—PARTITIONS.
App. C.-IV. (N.-W. Provinces and Oudh).

96. Applications for perfect partition increased by 252 in the North-Western Provinces (chiefly in the Meerut Division), and by 33 in Oudh. Those for imperfect partition fell by 59 in the North-Western Provinces, owing to a decrease of 107 in Kumaun. In Oudh they increased by 36. The total number of partitions for disposal fell from 4,573 to 4,525. The following table shows the distribution of the cases by Divisions, and the progress made in disposing of them :—

The files for disposal were very heavy in Rohilkhand (883), Meerut (775), Gorakhpur (720), and Allahabad (529).

As far as numbers go, the largest tale of work was done in Rohilkhand, where 584 cases were disposed of, out of which 452 represent partitions that were actually carried out. In the Gorakhpur Division, where the cases are usually intricate, a great deal of work was done, especially in Gorakhpur, and the pending file has fallen from 561 in 1889-90 and 391 in 1890-91 to 316 at the close of 1891-92. Kumaun also, where fewer cases were instituted than last year, shows a reduced pending file. Allahabad also shows a good outturn of work. In the Cawnpore district an increase of the pending file is due to numerous institutions towards the close of the year.

The Divisions which show increase in the pending files are Meerut, Agra, Lucknow, and Benares. Of these Agra, Lucknow, and Benares show a comparatively small number of cases disposed of. In Agra, the results were particularly poor in Muttra and Etah, which disposed of 20 and 22 cases respectively, only 22 out of the 42 representing partitions actually carried out. The Collectors of this Division generally, and of the two districts above-named especially, should endeavour to clear their files. The increased pending file in the Benares Division is due to the Benares district, where only one case of imperfect partition was carried out. As the Commissioner has remarked, this work in Benares is in an unsatisfactory condition, and the present Collector has been asked to give his special attention to it. In the Lucknow Division the increase appears to be largely due to partitions being held in abeyance in parts of Hardoi where settlement operations have commenced. In Meerut there was an increase of cases for disposal, and the pending file was swelled by a number of cases instituted in Aligarh towards the close of the year. In Muzaffarnagar the pending file has risen from 71 to 137, and in Saháranpur from 34 to 73. In the latter district 21 pending cases were very near completion, and in both districts partition work had only begun at the close of the settlement, and there were no old cases pending. The oldest case pending is in Basti, where a case of 1886 has been completed since the close of the year and submitted for the Collector's sanction.

The Members of the Board have had opportunities of inquiring into the working of partitions in districts which have been inspected during their tours. They are satisfied that the rules are well observed, and that on the whole partitions are now carried out with care and promptitude, especially in those districts where the whole of the partition work is entrusted to one officer. But the work of partitions will not be done in an entirely satisfactory manner until a class of amíns, more competent than the majority of the men at present employed, is obtained. The Director, in paragraph 4 of his report appended, remarks on the great ignorance of the candidates who presented themselves at the examination recently instituted for amíns, and states that, if better candidates are not forthcoming, the standard of examination will have to be lowered. The only way to attract a better class of men is to improve the prospects of the profession. With this object the experiment of employing amíns on a fixed salary is being tried in Gorakhpur, Cawnpore, Jhánsi, and Meerut, and in the three former districts seems so far to be working well. A special report on the subject is due to Government in January 1894.

Of the 1,774 partitions, shown in the statement on the previous page as carried out, 1,324 were perfect and 450 imperfect. An instance of the result of perfect partition in creating numerous small mahál's has been referred to in a previous paragraph, where it was noted that a village in Aligarh had been divided into 52 separate mahál's; and, in the opinion of the Board, it would be highly expedient that many partitions now carried out as perfect should be imperfect only. So long, however, as the law of the North-Western Provinces makes the consent of all the co-sharers necessary before an application for imperfect partition can be entertained, no real relief can be obtained from this method of avoiding the undoubted evils of perfect partition. The Board have been asked to reject a number of applications for partition belonging to the Meerut district because the sharers concerned refused to consent to exchanges of land held in severalty, and compact mahál's could not in consequence be formed. It is only in cases where the common land to be divided was proportionately small in amount that the Board have felt justified under the law in refusing partition on the above grounds.

If the consent of co-sharers in an estate to its imperfect partition is held to be necessary at all, it would be sufficient to adopt the provision of the Oudh Revenue Act, which requires the consent of the majority and not of every one of the co-sharers.

Advances, it will be seen, were proportionately much larger in Oudh than in the North-Western Provinces. This is the result of the comparatively large loans made in the two districts of Hardoi and Bara Banki, where the activity of the District Officers in encouraging advances, both under the Land Improvement Loans Act and the Agriculturists' Loans Act, has been conspicuous for some years past. Of the loans made to tenants, Rs. 16,303, or more than half, were advanced in Bara Banki, the only other district that shows any considerable advances under this head being Jaunpur with Rs. 5,239.

Generally speaking, there is no great variation from last year in the distribution of the advances sanctioned between the different Divisions. In the North-Western Provinces, the loans continue to be chiefly made in the Meerut, Agra, and Allahabad Divisions. There were scarcely any advances in the eastern Divisions of Benares and Gorakhpur, except in one district, Jaunpur; and in Rohilkhand the loans only amounted to Rs. 3,500, while in three of the districts none at all were granted.

As in 1890-91, the Aligarh district accounts for the greater portion of the advances in the Meerut Division. In the Agra Division all the districts except Etáwah contributed a fair share of the total amount advanced. In the Division, as a whole, there is a falling off as compared with the previous year. It is explained that applications for advances for masonry wells are not numerous, as the Division is well provided with canal irrigation. This is true of the Division generally; but there are tracts, such as that in the neighbourhood of the Bhognipur branch canal in Mainpuri, where the earthen wells on which the people depended for irrigation can no longer be used, and where the construction of masonry wells should be encouraged. The attention of Collectors has already been directed to this. There was a considerable decrease in the Allahabad Division, chiefly in the Bánda district, where the advances sanctioned only amounted to Rs. 3,567 against Rs. 10,243 in the previous year. The Collector states that in few instances loans were refused on account of the wealth of the applicant or a doubt of his good faith; but that no opportunity was neglected of making advances to the persons and for the objects for which the loans are intended. In the Allahabad district the very small sum of Rs. 275 was advanced. The Collector reports that full intimation was given that money was available for the purpose of advances for improvements; but he believes that landowners prefer to apply to the local money-lenders, who, in consideration of the higher rate of interest they charge, do not insist on punctual repayment of the principal as Government does. This explanation, however, is scarcely sufficient to account for the small amount advanced in Allahabad as compared with other districts.

The reasons for the paucity of applications for loans for improvements in the eastern districts of the North-Western Provinces were discussed in the last report; and it is probable that similar causes account for the absence of advances in the Oudh districts of Gonda and Bahraich. As regards Rohilkhand, the Commissioner remarks that advances might no doubt be taken more generally, but they are less urgently required than in dry tracts which require irrigation from expensive wells. In Bareilly, one of the Rohilkhand districts in which no advances were made, the late Collector, Mr. Connell, tried when on tour to induce zamíndárs to take loans; but they were lukewarm in the matter, and his efforts were unsuccessful. The Kumaun Division, in which there is an entire absence of loans for improvements, is peculiarly situated, as the Government is itself the landlord in a great portion of the area in which advances could profitably be made.

App. C.-VII.

98. Including Rs. 3,86,998, arrears of 1890-91, the demand on account of principal advanced was Rs. 5,02,808, of which Rs. 1,09,887 fell due in the year and Rs. 1,04,618 were collected. The balance was chiefly due in Muttra, Mainpuri, Etah, and Bánda. Muttra alone accounts for Rs. 1,500, which is due from a person recently deceased whose estate will have to be sold.

The demand for interest was Rs. 37,002, of which Rs. 22,716 were collected. Of the balance the larger portion is on account of advances which had not become due in the year.

ADVANCES UNDER THE AGRICULTURISTS' LOANS ACT.
App. C.-VIII.

99. As column 4 of this appendix for last year in the North-Western Provinces showed the advances made during a period of 18 months, it is again not feasible to compare the amounts advanced with those shown last year. This remark does not, however, apply to Oudh, where the figures last year were for 12 months only.

The largest advances were made in the Divisions of Lucknow (Rs. 74,461), Agra (Rs. 55,268), Allahabad (Rs. 48,624), and Fyzabad (Rs. 42,048). Meerut (Rs. 30,650) and Kumaun (Rs. 36,731) both show larger advances than usual, which is attributable to the scarcity which prevailed in the hill districts of both Divisions.

In Lucknow advances were large owing to sums provided for the relief of villages damaged by floods from the river Gumti in 1891, as well as to the considerable amount distributed in Hardoi, where special attention has been given by the Deputy Commissioner to takávi for some time past. Advances in the Agra Division remain high, and are likely to continue so until the deteriorated tracts, which have recently been under revision of settlement, have completely recovered. The subject of takávi has received special attention from Mr. Rose, Collector of Farukhabad, who has referred to the subject at some length in his report and proposes to submit for consideration a scheme for improving the method in which these advances are distributed. The Board will request Mr. Rose to submit his scheme on his return from furlough.

The sum advanced in the districts of the Allahabad Division does not vary very much from what has been given in previous years, except in the case of Jalaun, where a system of giving notice, by means of registered letters, of the sanction of loans has facilitated the grant of them. The system of utilizing the post-office for serving miscellaneous notices has been referred to in a previous paragraph, and forms the subject of separate correspondence and trial.

The districts of Pilibhít and Moradabad again show no advances, and the Collectors will be asked by the Board to explain why this is. The subject was noticed in last year's report. The same remark applies to Bahraich, the only district in the Fyzabad Division, for which column 4 is blank. Bara Banki as usual accounts for the largest advances in that Division, Sultánpur being the only other district where any considerable sum was distributed. In the Benares Division, the advances were as usual small except in Jaunpur. The Commissioner has constantly alleged the unpopularity of tákávi in his Division as the cause of the small amounts advanced. Small sums only were given in the Gorakhpur Division in marked contrast to the sum of Rs. 68,762 shown for the previous 18 months. The cause assigned is the absence, until the close of the year of report, of serious damage by floods. In the previous year there were extensive inundations, which rendered liberal grants of takávi necessary.

The expedient of branding the cattle purchased by the recipients of loans was specially noticed by Government in reviewing last year's report for Oudh. The Deputy Commissioner of Hardoi reports that the experiment of branding cattle has been attended with good results, and a similar result is reported from Sitapur. The subject has been noticed by other officers, and on the whole it seems that the plan might well be adopted more extensively than it is at present.

Colonel Quin also reports at length on the cattle fair which he held for the purpose of supplying cattle, which were branded on purchase, to the recipients of loans. He considers it to have been a great success, 866 out of 966 cattle, which changed hands, having been disposed of to borrowers. His attempts to make advances in kind of seed grain, on the other hand, failed, the applicants for advances preferring to go without them rather than take them in the form of seed. Colonel Quin remarks that operations of the kind—directed to ensure the certain application of loans to the purpose for which they were granted—necessarily occupy much time of superior officers. The Board would in ordinary seasons prefer to see that time otherwise occupied, and would refer to their remarks recorded last year in paragraph 47 of their report for Oudh.

100. Previous years' outstandings amounted to Rs. 5,77,498, and, added to the advances of the year, raised the demand to Rs. 9,12,269, of which Rs. 4,63,803 fell due. Out of this sum Rs. 3,87,241 (83·5 per cent.) were collected.

Of the outstandings of Rs. 76,562, 69 per cent. are accounted for by Gorakhpur (Rs. 18,686), Azamgarh (Rs. 10,041), and Garhwál (Rs. 23,996). In Gorakhpur the borrowers had been severely crippled by the floods of the preceding year, and they again suffered by floods at the end of the year of report. In Azamgarh bad harvests rendered pressure for recovery undesirable. The scarcity in the summer of 1892 had a similar effect in Garhwál.

The total demand for interest was, including Rs. 11,882 on account of previous years, Rs. 43,807, of which Rs. 31,923 (72·9 per cent). were collected. Of the outstanding balance (Rs. 11,884) the Gorakhpur Division accounts for nearly half, a fact attributable to the floods and bad harvests above noticed.

101. There are no figures of previous years with which to compare the figures shown in this appendix against the districts of Oudh. As regards the North-Western Provinces, the number of mahál and the amount of the gross land revenue both show an increase. The work in district offices increased greatly during the year, for though the number of letters received and issued shows a slight decrease, the number of cases for disposal increased from 1,079,801 in 1890-91 to 1,150,844 in the year of report, and District Officers are anxiously awaiting the relief which Mr. Alexander's scheme for the revision of establishments is expected to give. It is creditable that, in spite of the large increase in the number of cases for disposal (71,043), the number of cases pending at the end of the year shows an increase of only 3,686.

SEC. V.—LAND REVENUE ADMINISTRATION.
App. C.-IX.

The receipts and issues in the Board's office amounted to 23,352 and 22,018 respectively as compared with 23,469 and 19,372 of the previous year.

The redistribution of the districts of the Kumaun Division, and the omission from the previous year's returns of collections from the Bhábar Government Estate, have caused certain discrepancies in the figures for gross land revenue, but the present figures are believed to be correct.

SEC. VI.—ARRANGEMENT, INSPECTION, AND WEEDING OF REVENUE RECORDS.

App. C.-X.

102. Figures for past years are not available for Oudh, where this statement is a new one.

Altogether 1,201,748 files should have been sent into the record room. At the close of the year 64,078 still remained to be deposited. Of these 38,261 belong to the North-Western Provinces against 34,902 last year. The balance (25,817) in Oudh is proportionately much larger. In the North-Western Provinces, where the increase in the total number of files to be dealt with was 19,362, more work was done than in the previous year, 16,003 more files having passed into the record room.

The districts which show the largest arrears are Muttra, Farukhabad, Moradabad, Pilibhít, Benares, Azamgarh, Unao, Fyzabad, Sultánpur, and Partábgarh, all of which exhibit a balance of over 2,000, and the last two districts show respectively 5,320 and 8,425 cases in arrears. In Benares it appears that cases connected with applications for sale of distrained crops have been kept at the tahsíl in the custody of the kurk amín, instead of being placed in the record room. This procedure is erroneous, and is being corrected by the Collector. In many of the districts which show large arrears in the North-Western Provinces, there is an improvement on last year. In Bulandshahr, Aligarh, Muttra, and Pilibhít, arrears have increased, and the Collectors should take measures for their reduction during the current year. In Fyzabad the Deputy Commissioner reports want of proper supervision by his subordinates—a complaint which is also made by the Collector of Farukhabad, who has repeatedly passed orders enjoining proper watching of the work of the lower officials. The Senior Member, on inspecting the Sultánpur record room, found that its staff was insufficient, and application for special assistance has been submitted to Government. The large outstandings in Partábgarh consist mainly of records of the Settlement Department, which are in the settlement record room, and should not be taken into account.

According to the return, of the 1,137,670 files sent into the record room, 21,980 remained unarranged and unregistered. The balance, however, appears to be exaggerated, as 14,327 of the 14,973 unregistered files shown against Meerut are reported to be applications for copies, which are not entered in the register but are kept in monthly bundles. If these are deducted, the arrears in column 10 for the North-Western Provinces should be 4,352 against 7,388 last year, a decided improvement notwithstanding an increase of work. The large balance (2,018) in Sultánpur is to be accounted for by the insufficiency of establishment referred to above.

103. The total number of bundles in the record rooms was 183,986, of which 163,810 were inspected and weeded according to rules, leaving an arrear of 20,176. The North-Western Provinces show a reduction from 12,823 to 9,790 in the number of unweeded bundles. This work is behindhand in Oudh, where the records of three districts only were completely inspected and weeded. In the North-Western Provinces, the district in which there is the largest number of unweeded bundles is Budaun, where the record room has long been in an unsatisfactory condition, and is only now being got gradually into order. The district shows a larger arrear of unweeded records than last year, but it is hoped that with extra assistance, which has been given, the arrears will be cleared off. In Cawnpore, the majority of the unweeded bastas are those of patwáris' papers separated from mauzawár bastas and not requiring weeding for some ten years to come. In Jhánsi, some difficulty and confusion was caused by the transfer of the Lalitpur records, and there is a necessity for more accommodation, which is now being arranged for. The figures for Lucknow are misleading for, as in the case of Cawnpore, many bundles do not require weeding at present, consisting as they do of jamabandis. Only 1,807 files actually required weeding, of which 1,717 were completed. The Deputy Commissioner notes that his record room system requires to be brought more into conformity with that of the North-Western Provinces. This will be possible under the rules of the revised Oudh circulars which have recently issued. The Deputy Commissioner of Bahraich has not explained the large arrear of 2,729 bundles. From Gonda, Bara Banki, Hardoí, and Fyzabad there are complaints of insufficient establishment, which it is hoped will be set at rest by the introduction of the revised establishments proposed by Mr. Alexander. In the case of Bara Banki and Fyzabad, slack supervision by the record room officer and inefficiency on the part of the staff are also alleged.

SEC. VII.—APPEALS UNDER ACT XIX OF 1873 (N.-W. P. REVENUE ACT) AND ACT XVII OF 1876 (OUDH REVENUE ACT).
App. C.-XI.

104. These appeals rose from 5,044 to 5,152 in the North-Western Provinces. Figures for last year are not available for Oudh, but the number in 1891-92 was 649.

The Divisions in the North-Western Provinces which show large variations are entered in the margin. The total for disposal was 6,637, of which 5,732 were decided, leaving pending 905 as against 836 last year. The largest numbers of cases were in Meerut and Rohilkhand, and these Divisions show the heaviest pending files. The work was specially heavy in Meerut. Of 76 appeals pending over three months in the Commissioner's Court, 40 had been decided before he submitted his report. There was no case of older date than 1891 pending in the provinces.

SEC. VIII.—ACTION TAKEN BY DEPUTY COMMISSIONERS UNDER SEC. 158, ACT XVII OF 1876.
App. C.-XII, and C.-XIII (OUDH).

105. Applications to recover the rent of mahâls held in sub-settlement in Oudh fell off both in number and amount. The number was 471 against 520 in the previous year, and the amount of the arrears claimed decreased from Rs. 1,12,167 to Rs. 96,697. The only districts in which the provisions of section 158 of the Oudh Land Revenue Act were at all extensively used were Fyzabad and Gonda, where the new applications numbered 342 and 86 respectively; and, as in the previous year, the majority of the applications in these two districts were made by two superior proprietors. The talúkdár of Ajudhya sought the assistance of the Deputy Commissioner in collecting his rents in 181 cases, and the talúkdár of Birhar in 162. The reasons which induce these two talúkdárs to resort so freely to the provisions of section 158 were explained in paragraph 63 of the last Oudh report. The particulars of the disposal of the applications, which are given in the appendices, are not of sufficient interest to be reproduced in the body of the report.

SEC. IX.—CERTIFICATES OF ADMINISTRATION ON BEHALF OF MINORS.

106. During the year the only two applications for grant of certificates of administration under section 8, Act VIII of 1890, were made in the Bara Banki district, one being rejected, the other accepted by the District Judge of Fyzabad. In appeal from the latter order the Judicial Commissioner relieved the Collector of the guardianship of the property, though not of the persons of the minors. The costs, amounting to Rs. 200, were met by the sale of movable property.

SEC. X.—MISCELLANEOUS.
Tours by Members of the Board.

107. During the year the Commissioners' offices at Meerut, Agra, Gorakhpur, Fyzabad, and Lucknow, all the Deputy Commissioners' offices in Oudh, and the Collectors' offices at Bijnor, Muzaffarnagar, Meerut, Bulandshahr, Aligarh, Agra, Muttra, Mainpuri, Farukhabad, Cawnpore, Gorakhpur, and Basti, were inspected by one or other of the Members of the Board. The Senior Member also paid special visits of inspection to the Unao, Rae Bareli, and Partábgarh districts, where settlement operations are in progress.

Record Fund Rules.

108. It is generally reported that the record fund rules have worked satisfactorily during the year under report.

Territorial changes.

109. With effect from the 15th October 1891 the districts of Almora and Naini Tal were formed out of the old districts of Kumaun and Tarái. The Naini Tal district now comprises the old Naini Tal sub-division, the Tarái and the Bhábar.

The tahsíl of Madhogarh in Jalaun was abolished with effect from the 1st October 1891, and Lalitpur was merged into the Jhánsi district as a sub-division on the 1st December 1891. A few villages were transferred from one district to another within the provinces, and 6,530 acres were transferred to the Ballia district from the Shahabad district in Bengal, and portions of certain villages were transferred to the latter district from Gházipur under the deep stream rule.

Boundary pillars.

110. Boundary pillars and survey stations are reported to have been duly inspected. The boundary between Nepal and the districts of Basti and Gorakhpur was in two cases disturbed. One case has been already settled; the other is in process of settlement.

Hamírpur forests.

111. The orders in paragraph 20 of Resolution No. 1193, dated 19th May 1883, on the Hamírpur Settlement Report, that the state of the forests for the preservation of which special arrangements were made by the Settlement Officer, in 14 villages of parganas Mahoba and Panwari-Jaitpur, should be annually reported in the Revenue Administration Report of the district, appear to have been overlooked of late years. The attention of the Collector was directed to the orders, and a special report was called for. The Collector reports that the conditions imposed on the landholders are duly complied with, and that he found the trees and grass well preserved in those of the forest plots which he was able to visit.

Service and character books.

112. Service and character books were duly maintained, except in Benares and Basti, where the Collectors have found neglect of rules, which they are taking steps to remedy.

SEC. XI.—MAPS.

113. During the year of report the proof map of the Basti district was examined and returned to the Survey Office to be photozincographed. Tahsíli maps of three tahsílis for the North-Western Provinces and eight for Oudh were prepared and published during the year, making in all 68 for the North-Western Provinces and 12 for Oudh up to date; whilst maps for five tahsílis of the North-Western Provinces and fourteen for Oudh were completed in rough and forwarded to the District Officers for revision. The miscellaneous work of the Department was the same as usual. The following statement shows the progress made in the preparation of tahsíli maps for the North-Western Provinces and Oudh up to the end of December 1892:—

SEC. XII.—ECONOMIC HISTORY.

114. From an economic point of view the year was uneventful. The general condition of the people was good. Prices were easier than in the year preceding, but still pressed heavily on officials with small salaries and the labouring classes in towns. The agricultural labourer, who is still paid at any rate partially in kind, does not feel the high level of prices so severely. There was great scarcity in Dehra Dún, but relief was promptly and liberally afforded. The distress in Garhwál and Almora, and the way in which it was alleviated, have been already alluded to and have formed the subject of special correspondence. Reference has also been made to the relief works, which, until the rain fell, were necessary in Gházipur. In the Benares Division a succession of poor harvests has depressed the agricultural population, and the outlook for the present year for all the districts of the Gorakhpur Division was reported to be far from bright. In Bulandshahr the relations between landlord and tenant have slightly improved; but unhappily the reverse has been pointedly referred to in certain of the Rohilkhand districts. It is satisfactory to learn that in the Pilibhít district the friction between the people and the Forest Department is now likely to disappear. In extending and improving the means of communication some progress has been made, but Commissioners and District Officers generally repeat, in the case of Rohilkhand and Gorakhpur, with louder emphasis, what they stated in their reports last year as to the necessity for larger grants of money for the improvement and construction of roads. The matter is, it is understood, receiving the attention of Government. The Irrigation Department appears to have been active during the year in carrying out drainage operations, with generally excellent results, in the Meerut and Agra Divisions. The Collector of Etáwah however, points out that certain drainage works which have been for a long time in design are in urgent need of execution.

The Collector of Meerut, adverting to the damage done by local accumulations of water, writes, and the Commissioner endorses the opinion, that "the evil which is „ really at the root of the matter is no doubt the rapid silting up of all the natural water-„ courses of the country caused by the cultivation of their banks and beds. This is a „ subject which calls for the particular attention of Government."

115. Mention has been made, in an earlier chapter of the report, of the improvement that has taken place in most of the districts of the Agra Division. In Mainpuri the signs of improvement are less apparent, and the Collector (Mr. Baker) takes a gloomy view of the condition of the district, which he supports by a careful examination of agricultural and economic statistics. The statistics show that the district has during the last decade passed through a period of acute distress, which has left very marked effects in the general condition of the district and its people. Signs of recovery are, however, not altogether wanting. Mr. Baker admits that the year of report was more prosperous than its predecessors ,and the Board observe, from figures given in a different section of his report, that there was an increased area of 8,852 acres under the kharíf and of 8,724 acres under the rabi as compared with the cultivated area of the preceding year. The trouble of káns in Bánda appears to be stationary; and the local officers are alive to the "weak" state of the Jumna parganas in Cawnpore, which will continue to call for careful observation. Regarding the trade of the year there is but little to record. The export of wheat continued and probably will continue; but in some districts, where the area under wheat and the outturn of the crop were smaller, the export was less than in the previous year. Sericulture in the Dún is said to be moribund, and the prospects of tea in Kumaun are little better. There is a large and increasing export trade in ghí from Jhánsi, and the sugar trade in Jaunpur was unusually brisk. It is said that several traders have come to Shahganj in Jaunpur from Cawnpore on account of the imposition of the octroi. The prices of indigo were very high owing to the failure of the crop in Lower Bengal: and the speculative character of this industry is evidenced by the fact that indigo fetched in Aligarh Rs. 215 per maund as compared with Rs. 60 in the preceding year. The economic history of the Oudh districts is very scantily noticed in the reports, and almost the only matter of interest is the reference made by the Commissioner of Lucknow to the agricultural bank started by the Seth Talúkdárs of Muiz-ud-dinpur.* Mr. Moule notes that, out of Rs. 10,684 lent by the bank at 12 per cent. interest during the first half of 1892, Rs. 3,089 were advanced for the payment of rent due to the banker. Loans were also made for the purchase of seed and cattle, and to enable tenants to clear off their debts to village usurers. Loans of this latter class at any rate were for the benefit of the tenants; and, though the bank can hardly be regarded as a mainly benevolent institution, the experiment, as the Commissioner remarks, shows at least enlightened self-interest, which is in itself an advance. In the opinion of the Board institutions of the kind which, working on ordinary business principles, utilize the capital of private persons in return for moderate, if still profitable, returns, would in ordinary times do more for the agricultural population than Government advances made through its officials; and the Board commend the Muiz-ud-dinpur concern to the favourable notice of Government.

116. In general matters Mr. Harington gives a résumé of his views on the depreciation of the rupee and the present acute state of the currency question. The remedial scheme advocated by him is theextension by the Government on its own behalf to all Indian produce for which there is a demand in Europe, of the present opium system minus the monopoly. The proposal is one which can scarcely be discussed in an annual administration report. Mr. Rose expounds the prosperous condition of the agricultural classes as compared to what it was 20 years ago, and Mr. Neale gives some pointed reasons for his scepticism as to this view. The Collectors of Ghâzipur and Ballia draw attention to the comparative affluence of the tenants in their districts, and the Commissioner of Benares (Mr. Adams) observes that the tenant in the eastern districts has always sufficient money to indulge in litigation. These are all matters of great interest; but, as the economic sections of the reports are submitted to the Government in original, no more than a passing reference need be made to them.

* Vide paragraph 11 of the Government Order on the Revenue Administration Report for Oudh for 1890-91.

Chapter V.—SETTLEMENT.

Revision of settlement in temporarily-settled districts.

117. This chapter will be confined to a brief account of the progress made in map and record revision, inspection, assessment, and other operations in the districts under settlement. The Board have omitted this year the details of settlement litigation which it has been customary to give in this portion of the report, as the appendices can be referred to for these, if necessary, and they are of no special interest or importance.

118. Sahâranpur.—Scarcely any work remained to be done in this district except the disposal of a few cases. These were duly decided. There was a small expenditure of Rs. 428-10-2, which brought up the total cost to Rs. 2,75,879-6-4. The final settlement report has been received, and is under review.

119. Muzaffarnagar.—The revised assessments of tahsîl Kairana and the Ganges khâdir were sanctioned by the Board in the early part of the year of report. These amounted to Rs. 4,19,357, an increase of Rs. 66,248, or 18·76 per cent., on the former revenue. This completed the settlement of the district, in which settlement operations were formally closed from the 1st July 1892 by Notification No. $\frac{1870}{\text{I—25B}}$, dated the 20th July 1892. The final settlement report has been received since the end of the year. The expenditure during the year was Rs. 29,529-8-5, making a total of Rs. 2,65,000-6-11 up to date.

120. Jhânsi.—The fairing of the settlement records was completed except for five villages, belonging to the Algi jâgîr, in which a question arose that rendered a reference to Government necessary. The revised assessments of Mau and Moth were sanctioned by the Board during the year, and those of Jhânsi and Garotha in October and November 1892. All were declared in time for the enhanced revenue to be collected at the kharîf of 1892, and the revised demand for the entire district has been entered in the statement of assessments declared during the year (Appendix II). It amounts to Rs. 5,51,175, an increase of Rs. 64,608 or 13·28 per cent. over the old revenue. Settlement operations have been formally closed with effect from the 31st January 1893, by Notification No. $\frac{206}{\text{I—505}}$, dated 24th idem. Rs. 55,045-8-9 were expended during the year, bringing the total expenditure up to Rs. 2,03,630-0-8.

121. Garhwâl.—Good progress has been made in the survey of the southern parganas to which it has been decided to restrict the cadastral survey, leaving the settlement of the northern and wilder portion of the district to be made by a less expensive agency. Two hundred and forty-four square miles were surveyed during the year, and the total area measured since the commencement of operations is 435 square miles. The whole of parganas Barahsyun, Chaundkot, Talla Salan, Malla Salan, and part of pargana Dewalgarh have now been surveyed. The maps of 1,101 villages, and the rough records and statistical forms of a larger number, were prepared by the Survey Department and supplied to the Settlement Officer. The Settlement Department corrected and attested the records of pargana Barahsyun, and good progress was made in preparing fair copies. No inspection was done during the year. The Settlement Officer had hoped to begin inspection work in March or April 1892, but was prevented from doing so by the appearance of scarcity in the district, which practically absorbed his whole attention.

Rules for the assessment of the revenue have not yet been issued. A revised draft is being prepared, in communication with the Commissioner and the Settlement Officer, to meet the views of the Government of India regarding the method of assessment to be adopted in Garhwál; and it will shortly be submitted to Government. It may be noted that case work was fairly heavy during the year. There were altogether 6,165 cases for disposal. The total expenditure now amounts to Rs. 2,24,910-0-3, of which Rs. 1,13,100-8-7 was incurred during the year of report.

122. Kumaun Bhábar.—The delay in completion of the revision of revenue and rents in these Government estates has already been explained to Government in this office No. $\frac{2227N.}{IV-1}$, dated 13th September 1892. At the commencement of 1891-92 there remained to be inspected and assessed 164 villages (22 settled and 142 directly managed). The inspection was completed, and new rates were imposed and collected during the year on the directly managed villages on the same principles as were applied to those assessed in 1889-90. The assessment of the 22 settled villages could not be completed, as there was delay in obtaining information as to the fiscal history of some of them, and Mr. C. H. Roberts was much occupied in connection with water and drainage works at Naini Tal. He hoped to finish the work and to collect the enhanced revenue during the current year. Up to the end of 1891-92 the rent and revenue demand on the estates increased, owing to revision, by Rs. 34,522. With the increase which is expected on the remaining 22 villages, the total enhancement will approximately be Rs. 38,000, the amount estimated last year. The total cost of the revision up to the 30th September 1892 was Rs. 13,271, including the expenditure (Rs. 2,057) of 1891-92.

123. Unao.—Work was started in four more parganas, making ten altogether in which settlement operations were in progress. The revision of maps and records was completed in parganas Harha, Maurawan, Asoha, Purwa, Gorinda Parsandan, and nearly finished in parganas Pariar and Sikandarpur. In Jhalotar Ajgain, Unao, and Asiwan Rasulabad the work of map correction and verification of records was finished, and in the first named pargana the fairing of the records is also well advanced.

The inspection for assessment of parganas Harha, Purwa, and Maurawan was completed last year, and that of Asoha, Gorinda Parsandan, Jhalotar Ajgain, Pariar, Sikandarpur, and Unao, comprising an area of 330 square miles, during the year of report.

The assessment of parganas Harha, Purwa, Maurawan, and Jhalotar Ajgain was completed, the area assessed being 481 square miles. The revised assessments of Harha, Purwa, and Maurawan were sanctioned by the Board during the year. The resulting increase of revenue is Rs. 65,777, or 18·27 per cent.

The total expenditure up to the end of the year amounted to Rs. 1,49,357-9-6. This includes Rs. 16,520-13-1, half the pay of the Deputy Commissioner and Settlement Officer, which, under G. O. No. $\frac{2915}{X-162}$, dated 14th May 1891, has been debited to settlement.

124. Partábgarh.—In pargana Patti the revision of maps and records was completed and fair copies of the greater portion of the records were prepared. Work was started in five other parganas, Partábgarh, Bihár, Manikpur, Dhingwas, and Rámpur; and in the first named pargana all the maps and khasras were corrected, the jamabandis and khewats prepared and verified, and slips distributed. The records of a few villages were also faired. The pargana of Patti, the area of which is 467 square miles, was inspected by the Settlement Officer, who completed his assessment report for it after the close of the year.

The total expenditure up to date, including Rs. 13,584-13-4, half the pay of the Deputy Commissioner, which is debited to settlement, amounts to Rs. 80,081-14-1.

125. Rae Bareli.—This district was brought under settlement by Notification No. $\frac{2551}{I-802}$, dated 14th October 1891, and the work of map and record correction, on the system followed in Unao and Partábgarh, was commenced under the superintendence of a Deputy Collector. Work was first started in parganas Inhona, Mohanganj, Sareni, and Khiron, the current settlement of which expires on 30th June 1895. The maps of all the 444 villages in these parganas were corrected, and satisfactory progress was made in the preparation of the records. The expenditure during the year amounted to Rs. 15,347-2-6.

126. The districts of Budaun, Bara Banki, Hardoi, and Sultánpur have been brought under settlement from the 1st October 1892, and a Deputy Collector, under the orders of the District Officer, has been posted to each district to start the work of map and record correction. Advantage has been taken of the opportunity afforded by the settlements recently undertaken to revise the existing settlement rules in the light of the experience that has been gained of the working of the present system of settlement. Since the close of the year revised codes of rules for the North-Western Provinces and for Oudh have been submitted to Government, which it is hoped may prove generally suitable, and may not require any except minor amendments for some time to come.

PART II.

PATWARIS AND KANUNGOS.

128. The report of the Director of Land Records and Agriculture is appended and the most important of the matters with which it deals are noticed below.

Revision of patwáris' circles.

129. Satisfactory progress has been made in the revision of patwáris' circles and pay schedules. Revised schemes for Saháranpur, Muzaffarnagar, and Azamgarh were sanctioned during the year, as well as a re-adjustment of the supervisor kanúngos' circles in Azamgarh. A revision of the arrangements made in 1887 in Jhánsi has also been sanctioned since the close of the year, and the Board expect shortly to receive proposals for the re-arrangement of circles in Bánda. A scheme for raising the pay of the poorly paid patwáris in Basti, where the circles were re-allocated at the recent settlement, is under consideration. In the pargana of Jaunsár Báwar in Dehra Dún, mentioned in the last report as one in which the revision of patwáris' circles had still to be carried out, it has been proposed to Government to leave the existing circles undisturbed. In the revision of the pay schedules of Muzaffarnagar and Saháranpur, the policy indicated in paragraph 39 of the Government Review of the last report has been followed, and due regard has been paid to the higher standard of living and the more respected and responsible position of the patwáris in the western districts. In the Board's opinion some part of the large surplus in the patwári fund cannot be devoted to a better object than improving the pay and prospects of patwáris. This seems to be specially required in districts where qualified men, willing to reside within their circles (that is, practically to build themselves houses), are not readily obtained. No general revisions of circles and pay schedules, such as have been carried out in the North-Western Provinces, have been possible in Oudh at present; but, as the Director explains, advantage is taken of vacancies to improve existing arrangements, preparatory to a more systematic revision when the new settlements are completed.

Education of patwáris and kanúngos.

130. The number of patwáris who have yet to receive instruction is still large in some districts; and the Director notes a considerable increase in the number of exempted men, a matter that needs the attention he promises to give to it. Obviously, if the rules are properly understood and observed, the number of exemptions should steadily diminish. The largest numbers of untrained patwáris are in Basti (523), where it is nearly as high as in the previous year, and Allahabad (528). The work and training of the patwáris in both these districts still need special attention from the Collectors and Director. Another district where the proper instruction of the patwáris is of great importance is Jhánsi. The settlement maps and records have now to be kept up to date, and there is an unusual scarcity in the district of suitable men for the post of patwári. The Director has made special arrangements for reorganizing the school, and the Collector (Mr. Jackson) may be relied on to give it the careful supervision it will need.

The experiment, referred to in the last report, of opening patwári classes at the tahsíli schools requires further trial before a definite opinion can be pronounced upon it.

The success of the kanúngo school experimentally started at Cawnpore may now be considered as established. It is a distinctly useful institution.

Residence of patwáris.

131. It is disappointing that there is no improvement to record as regards the residence of patwáris in their circles. While some districts show better percentages of resident patwáris, others have retrograded, and the percentage in the North-Western Provinces was lower than in the preceding year. A list of the districts in which there has been a falling-off is given in paragraph 7 of the Director's report. Changes in the arrangement of patwáris' circles account for the decrease in some of these; but not in all; and the subject demands the continued effort of their Collectors.

Filing and testing of patwáris' papers.

132. The village papers were generally filed with creditable punctuality, and the table in paragraph 8 of the Director's report shows a decided improvement over the previous year, when the employment of the patwáris on the census caused some delay. The districts that were most behindhand were Muzaffarnagar and Gorakhpur. Settlement accounts for the unpunctuality of the former district; of the delay in Gorakhpur no sufficient explanation has been furnished. There was also an improvement in the amount of testing done by kanúngos and superior officers. The percentage of fields tested by kanúngos rose from 7·96 in the previous year to 8·44. Gorakhpur again shows badly in this respect with a percentage of 5·38, though this is a considerable advance on the 3·52 per cent. of last year. A few other districts fell short of the prescribed minimum of 7 per cent. Of the fields tested by kanúngos 13·07 per cent. were re-tested by superior officers against 12·79 last year. In several districts, and notably in Basti (in Partábgarh settlement operations are in progress), the sadar kanúngos were not sufficiently employed in tahsíl inspection. The Director remarks that "in several districts systematic arrangements have been made to secure the testing "of every village by some officer on the district staff once at least in three years." The Board must insist that in all districts such arrangements be made, as they should be, at an early date, and the Director should ascertain and report in what districts orders have not yet been issued.

The percentage of error detected in the entries tested was somewhat higher than in the previous year, and in several districts the mistakes were very numerous. Over 10 per cent. of incorrect entries in the field-books were discovered in seven districts, of which Allahabad was the worst with 19 per cent. of mistakes. The large number of unpassed patwáris in this district has been remarked on above. The percentage of error was very high in the rent-rolls of Etah (30·8) and Unao (33·7), and in the former district the field-books also were seriously incorrect. The special importance of an accurate record in the village papers of the Etah district was pointed out in the orders passed by Government on the revision of the assessment of the deteriorated tracts (paragraph 4, G. O. No. $\frac{371}{\text{I.}-314\text{A}}$, dated the 13th February 1893). The remarks of Government have been communicated to the Director, who has been requested to ascertain the nature and cause of the errors reported; and to take, in consultation with the local authorities, measures for securing greater accuracy. The Board have also in a recent circular letter again drawn the attention of all Collectors to the extreme importance of maintaining accurate area returns, as illustrated in the recent history of Etah and the distressed districts in the Agra Division.

In paragraph 13 of his report, the Director summarizes the result of the special inquiries that have been made in some districts as to the correctness of the recorded rents. Some cases in which rents were under-stated were discovered; but Hardoi is the only district where concealment of assets was reported on an extensive scale. In this district a large amount of concealed rent was detected and brought on the rent-roll in 1890-91, and a further sum of Rs. 16,000 was added during the year of report. In one district, Aligarh, a prosecution for concealment of rental was instituted; but it ended in an acquittal.

The experiment of calling on landholders to file lists of their collections at the tahsíls was continued in the Benares and Gorakhpur Divisions, but it is evident from the Director's report that it has not proved successful as a means of obtaining a correct record of realizations of rent, and it will probably have to be given up.

Map correction in Oudh.

133. The excellent work carried out by the Deputy Commissioner of Lucknow (Mr. Mulock) in connection with the correction of village maps was noticed in the last report for Oudh; and the Board are glad to find that equally good progress was made in the past year. Good work has also been done in other districts, notably in Fyzabad, where the Director notes that the maps have been corrected with remarkable accuracy.

Tahsíl registers.

134. Repeated orders have been issued drawing the attention of District Officers to the importance of examining and checking the pargana books. In general these registers are but little utilized, and there are few districts in which notes have been recorded in them. There doubtless are defects in the present form of the pargana book; and the Director questions whether District Officers receive from it the assistance that was expected; but, except in a few districts, it can hardly be said that a serious attempt has been made to utilize it. The experimental introduction of a revised form of pargana book, which will give more information and is expected to be of more practical value than the form at present in use, has recently been sanctioned.

Alterations in the patwári and kanúngo rules.

135. The revised edition of the North-Western Provinces patwári and kanúngo rules issued at the end of the previous year, was followed by amended rules for Oudh, which have been assimilated as far as possible to those for the North-Western Provinces. They were issued shortly after the close of the year.

Miscellaneous.

136. In the concluding paragraph of his report the Director alludes to a system introduced in Gházipur of remitting the pay of patwáris by money-orders, which seems of very doubtful expediency. It entails a compulsory reduction of the patwári's pay for commission, which is sure to be unpopular with the patwáris even if it saves them, as it is intended to do, from improper exactions at the tahsíl. Moreover, the patwáris are obliged to attend at the tahsíl in the regular discharge of their duties; and their monthly attendance for the purpose of receiving their salaries is the occasion on which they are required by the patwári rules to make reports of proprietary transfers and other matters to the registrar kanúngo. There are many other methods, besides that of making deductions from their pay, by which corrupt tahsíl officials can obtain money from patwáris. The Board will call for a special report on the matter, and will direct the discontinuance of the system in the absence of sufficient evidence of its necessity.

I have the honor to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient servant,

JOHN HOOPER,

Secretary.

DIRECTOR'S REPORT.

1. Strength of establishment.—The following table shows the establishment under the control of this Department during the year under report as compared with that of the preceding year :—

12. Sadar kanúngos' peons ...	34	33	12	12	46	45

Two supervisor kanúngos were added to the staff during the year—one in the Jhánsi district in connection with other administrative arrangements, and one in Budaun, where the existing staff was inadequate for the thorough supervision of the patwáris. The decrease in the number of sadar and assistant sadar kanúngos is due to the abolition of the Lalitpur district. The decrease in the number of patwáris is chiefly owing to the new arrangements of circles in Saháranpur, Aligarh, and Azamgarh, where the number of circles has been reduced by 40, 61, and 46 respectively.

2. Revision of patwáris' circles and pay in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—On the completion of settlement operations in Saháranpur and Muzaffarnagar, the circles and pay of the patwáris were revised, and the arrangements proposed have received the sanction of the Board of Revenue. The Settlement Officer of Jhánsi has also submitted proposals for re-arranging and strengthening the staff of patwáris in that district, but sanction has not yet been received to their introduction. A complete revision of circles in Azamgarh, where the old arrangements had been found to work very unsatisfactorily, was also carried out during the year under report; and proposals for a revision have been received from the Bánda district, and will be considered as soon as the proposition statement verified by the Accountant-General, which is required to accompany all these schemes, is obtained. In the district of Basti a revision of the circles of the patwáris was carried out during the recent settlement, and proposals for raising the salaries, which are at present unusually low, have been for some time under discussion. A final report on the subject has recently been received from the Collector, and a much needed improvement in the position and prospects of the patwáris of this district will probably not be much longer delayed. In Agra a revisional scheme has been worked out and will be introduced gradually.

In Oudh, where the circles of patwáris are often extremely incompact, where the grades of pay are very numerous, and where the amount of work varies greatly, opportunity is taken of the occurrence of vacancies to introduce more convenient arrangements. The way is thus being prepared for a systematic revision when the new settlements come into force.

In the North-Western Provinces one object of the revision is to fix the minimum rate of pay as high as Rs. 7; in Oudh it is impossible to fix a minimum rate until satisfactory arrangements for revising the size of the circles can be made, but the salaries of the most poorly paid patwáris are gradually raised as savings are available. The caution given by the Government last year against the introduction of uniform rates of pay into differently circumstanced districts was received after the revisions mentioned in the first part of this paragraph had been carried out; but the policy indicated had been anticipated in the Board's orders on recent cases. In Bulandshahr, Saháranpur, and Muzaffarnagar more liberal terms were given to the patwáris than they would have obtained under the scale approved some years ago for general adoption. One of the objects with which the revisional operations were started was to obtain funds for raising the salaries of the poorly paid patwáris in the eastern districts, but it is fortunately no longer necessary to obtain money for this purpose by extensive reductions in districts where salaries are fixed on a more liberal scale, and in view of the high standard of work now insisted on, and of the important duties thrown on patwáris in connection with settlements, I think that reductions in pay are as a general rule undesirable.

3. Patwári School.—At the beginning of the year under report the number of patwáris and assistants in the Provinces (exclusive of Almora and Garhwál) was 29,664, of whom 21,111 or 71 per cent. had passed through the school course and qualified in the prescribed examination, while 5,352 had been exempted. Of the whole staff 3,201 or 11 per cent. had still to pass. The schools were attended during the year by 1,238 patwáris and assistants, of whom 727 or 59 per cent. passed.

In Dehra Dún, Budaun, Hamírpur, Jalaun, Sitapur, and Fyzabad the patwáris and assistants have either all passed or have been exempted, and in Meerut, Bulandshahr, Mainpuri, Etáwah, Etah, Bijnor, Fatehpur, Hardoi, and Kheri very few have still to pass. The following districts show the largest number of patwáris and assistants that require training:—Saháranpur (190), Agra (107), Bánda (100), Allahabad (528), Jhánsi (109), Gházipur (159), Basti (523), and Azamgarh (183).

The number of patwáris and assistants exempted from examination is large in the following districts:—

Muzaffarnagar	164
Aligarh	274
Bareilly	244
Sháhjahánpur	210
Cawnpore	350
Jaunpur	242
Azamgarh	373
Rae Bareli	214
Sultánpur	197
Bara Banki	169

As the total number of patwáris returned as exempted is considerably larger this year than last, it seems probable that the rule on this subject is not understood in all districts. The number of patwáris exempted should steadily decrease, and in future enquiry will be made as to the reason in all cases in which an increase is reported.

The reduction of the school fee from one rupee to eight annas per month has been followed by a considerable increase in the attendance of candidates, who numbered 3,159 as compared with 2,590 in the preceding year. Of these 1,360 or 43 per cent. passed.

The following table shows the number of pupils that attended the school in each division, the number passed, and the financial results :—

Judged by the percentage of passed pupils, the following districts show good results :—

Bulandshahr	100	per cent. passed.
Dehra Dún...	89	„ „
Farukhabad	70	„ „
Sháhjahánpur	69	„ „
Sultánpur and Rae Bareli	68	„ „
Budaun, Mirzapur	66	„ „
Cawnpore	65	„ „
Benares, Azamgarh, Bahraich	63	„ „
Kheri	61	„ „
Basti	60	„ „

In Saháranpur, Mainpuri, Pilibhít, Allahabad, and Partábgarh less than a quarter of the pupils passed. The Allahabad school did very badly as, of 126 pupils attending the school, only 9 passed. The Collector writes that the school teacher has been severely reprimanded, and if better results are not obtained next year he will be dismissed. The Saháranpur School has been strengthened by the appointment of an assistant teacher, as one man was unable to cope with the work. In Mainpuri the school is mainly kept up for the education of patwári candidates. In Partábgarh the Deputy Commissioner reports that every endeavour has been made to secure a high standard of efficiency, and no candidate was allowed to present himself in the examination whose attendance was below 90 days. There has been a decided improvement in the teaching of the Fyzabad School, and a separate reference regarding the teacher whose dismissal was ordered has been made at the request of the Deputy Commissioner.

In many districts the education of patwáris has been so fully carried out that there is no longer employment for a separate patwári school teacher, and the schools have been closed in Etáwah, Muzaffarnagar, Bulandshahr, Muttra, and Pilibhít. In Etáwah and Pilibhít the expériment of having a special class at the tahsíli school is said to have been very successful; but the Collector of Muzaffarnagar does not think that the result is as yet satisfactory and reserves his opinion till further trial has been made. In Bulandshahr and Muttra a different plan is being tried and the candidates are sent to Aligarh and Agra to school. Possibly this plan may, in the end, be found to be the best.

In Jhánsi the school remained closed for settlement operations, but has since been re-opened. The head master of the kanúngo school was deputed to Jhánsi to assist in re-organizing the school there. There is no district in which the education of the patwáris is more necessary in order that the difficult work of keeping up to date the maps prepared at the late settlement may be properly carried out. Unfortunately there are few districts in which it is more difficult to get good candidates for the post of patwári. In Lalitpur it has been found that many men who had passed the examination are really incompetent. In Basti the Survey School was abolished from April 1892; but as there are still a very large number of unpassed patwáris the school staff has been increased.

4. Annual examination of kanúngos.—Examinations were held during the rainy season with the following results:—

	Number appeared.	Number passed.	Number passed in part.	Number failed.
Kanúngos	4	1	3	...
Assistant kanúngos	13	3	7	3
Patwári teachers	2	1	1	...
Candidates	163	58	90	15
Apprentices	1	...	1	...

Of the candidates 30 were selected patwáris, and of those who succeeded some of the best, judged by such tests as are possible in an examination, were patwáris. The proportion of candidates who passed this year is less than in the previous year, but I should not infer from that that the test was more severe, or that the candidates were inferior. The number who pass completely in any year depends to a great extent on the number who passed "in part" in the previous year. The general character of the candidates differed considerably; in some districts they were evidently selected with care and none were sent up who had not a reasonable chance of passing, in others they were less good; and the advantages of a kanúngo's position might be expected to attract a better class of candidates than were nominated in some districts.

The kanúngo school at Cawnpore, which was started by Mr. Holderness, has met a distinct want by affording the candidates the opportunity of gaining a much more thorough acquaintance with the subjects in which they are to be examined than has hitherto been possible. The school has been well attended; a term lasts between three and four months and gives ample time to industrious students of average abilities to acquire a knowledge of the subjects for examination sufficient to ensure their passing.

	Number appeared.	Number passed in full.	Number passed in part	Number failed.
Kanúngos	3	3	...	...
Assistant kanúngos	4	4	...	...
Candidates	105	70	34	1
Patwáris	13	11	2	...
Total ...	125	88	36	1

Though the examination is stricter than the annual divisional examinations, the proportion of passed men is larger. A series of lectures on agriculture was given to the students in the last two terms by Munshi Ali Husain, the Farm Superintendent, who has been studying at the Poona College of Science.

Under the orders of the Board of Revenue candidates for amínships from a few districts were examined at the kanúngo examinations. Owing to some misunderstanding the amíns of the Meerut district were not summoned to Aligarh where the examination was held, and I have had no opportunity yet of examining them. Of eight men sent from other districts only one passed the examination, and he was leniently dealt with. The attainments of these amíns are altogether below the standard required of kanúngos; they have some skill in mapping, but in other subjects they displayed great ignorance, and if better candidates than those who appeared before me are not obtainable for this work, it will be necessary to fix some lower standard of examination for them.

During the year two kanúngos—one in the North-Western Provinces and the other in Oudh—received temporary promotion as tahsíldárs; 21 kanúngos—18 in the North-Western Provinces and 3 in Oudh—have received temporary promotion as naib tahsíldárs. Three in Oudh have received permanent promotion as naib tahsíldárs, and 2—one in the North-Western Provinces and one in Oudh—have received appointments other than those mentioned above.

5. Residence of patwáris.—A comparative statement showing the number and percentages of patwáris residing in their circles in each division of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh for the last three years is given below :—

* Exclude Garhwál and Almora and those employed in settlement, and include certain estate patwáris.

Of the 25,201 patwáris and assistants shown as resident, 4,572 are reported to have been exempted from residence, leaving 20,629 actually resident. The percentage of resident patwáris in the United Provinces is the same as in the previous year. In the North-Western Provinces the proportion is lower than formerly; while in Oudh there has been some improvement.

6. Considerable improvement in the proportion of resident patwáris is noticeable in the following districts :—

Debra Dún ...	From 75 to 100 per cent.	Mirzapur ...	From 75 to 80 per cent.
Bulandshahr...	„ 55 „ 85 „	Jaunpur ...	„ 87 „ 92 „

Fatehpur ...	„ 87 „ 95 „	Hardoi ...	„ 90 „ 93 „
Jhánsi ...	„ 65 „ 69 „	Bahraich ...	„ 58 „ 61 „

Fyzabad ... From 83 to 87 per cent.

Of the above, Bulandshahr, Fatehpur, and Jaunpur showed very poor results last year, which called for the special notice of the Board of Revenue. The improvement made is satisfactory, and in Bulandshahr further progress may be expected as the patwáris settle down to the new arrangement of circles.

7. The following districts show a falling-off since last year :—

Saháranpur	...	...	...	...	From 77 to 72	per cent.
Muzaffarnagar	...	...	...	...	„ 96 „ 91	„

In Gorakhpur the Collector states that great difficulty is found in keeping patwáris resident in the Tarái tahsíl of Maháráj ganj; and that in future local men will be recruited as far as possible. In this district it is believed that some of the patwáris succeeded in having themselves recorded as non-resident in order to take advantage of arrangements that were proposed to be made to have houses for non-resident patwáris provided by the zamíndárs. The figures therefore exaggerate the number of non-residents, and the Collector has taken steps to have them corrected.

In Saháranpur, Muzaffarnagar, Aligarh, Azamgarh, and Hamírpur the increase of non-residents is due to the revision of patwáris' circles, which always involves a number of transfers. In Sháhjahánpur, out of 82 patwáris shown as non-resident 48 circles are said to be vacant. The Collector of Mirzapur states that he is making some progress in enforcing residence, but the difficulty is to get a good supply of competent men for service in a jungly country and in an unhealthy climate. The Collector of Basti writes that the patwáris living within 2 miles of their circles have been exempted from residence; those living beyond that distance have been ordered on pain of dismissal to reside within their circles. The Deputy Commissioner of Rae Bareli states that strict orders have been issued to the patwáris to build their houses in their circles; but as they have scattered circles and the district is under revision of settlement, the orders could not be strictly enforced.

The importance of enforcing the residence of patwáris is generally recognised, and though the returns show no improvement as compared with last year, the absence of progress is due chiefly to changes in circle arrangements.

8. Filing of patwáris' papers.—Appendix I shows in district detail the dates on which the patwáris filed the more important papers. The parganas that are under revision of settlement in Jhánsi and the districts of Rae Bareli and Partábgarh have been excluded from the statement, owing to the employment of the patwáris on settlement work.

(a) Of these three papers were not filed till the close of the year under report.
(b) „ 1,247 „ „ last revenue year.
(c) „ 403 „ „ year under report.

The statement shows that of a total number of 103,625 comparative area statements, 75,448 or 72·8 per cent. were filed in time against 71·19 per cent. in the preceding year; 26,597 or 25·66 per cent. were filed within one month after date as compared with 24·56 per cent. in 1890-91, leaving a balance of 1,580 or 1·52 per cent. The result compares very favourably with the previous year, when 4·24 per cent. of the papers were more than a month late; and three districts account for almost all the unfiled papers—Gorakhpur (772), Azamgarh (341), and Muzaffarnagar (350). All these were subsequently filed with the exception of three in Gorakhpur, which remained unfiled at the close of the year under report. In Farukhabad and Mirzapur all the papers were filed in time, which is very creditable to the staff.

In the filing of the kharíf and rabi statements there has been similar improvement. Of 103,473 kharíf statements, 77,157 or 74·56 per cent. were filed in time, as compared with 71·08 per cent. in the preceding year; 24,518 or 23·69 per cent. were filed within one month after date as against 23·40 per cent. in 1890-91. The balance is 1,798 or 1·73 per cent. of the whole as compared with a balance of 5·50 per cent. in the previous year. Gorakhpur contributed over half the balance (1,048); in Muzaffarnagar 432 statements were late, and in Unao 138. In Farukhabad, Mainpuri, Allahabad, Jalaun, Mirzapur, and Bara Banki these statements were filed very punctually.

Of 103,597 rabi statements, 79,220 or 76·47 per cent. were filed in time against 68·35 per cent. in 1890-91; 22,867 or 22·07 per cent. against 26·29 per cent. in the preceding year were filed within one month after date, and 1,510 or 1·45 per cent. as compared with 5·35 per cent. in the preceding year were filed after one month. Here, again, Muzaffarnagar accounts for 573, and Gorakhpur for 615, of the statements not filed, and the only other district showing a large number is Gházipur (219). In Farukhabad, Mainpuri, Etáwah, Fatehpur, Allahabad, Jalaun, and Hardoi all the papers were filed on or before the date fixed.

Of a total number of 167,668 jamabandis, 111,644 or 66·58 per cent. were filed in time against 59·0 per cent. in 1890-91; 49,790 or 29·69 per cent. against 33·12 per cent. in the preceding year were filed within one month after date, leaving a balance of 6,234 or 3·71 per cent. against 7·04 per cent. in 1890-91. Out of the balance 5,831 were subsequently filed and 403 remained unfiled to the close of the year under report. The districts in which the papers unfiled after one month were most numerous were Muzaffarnagar (1,605), Fyzabad (831), Bánda (400), Sháhjahánpur (326), Budaun (366), Farukhabad (610), Bulandshahr (246), Muttra (201), Azamgarh (286), and Lucknow (285).

In Muzaffarnagar 263 jamabandis were unfiled at the end of the year under report, and in six other districts there were arrears at the end of the year. Taking the provinces as a whole, the results must be regarded as satisfactory. In Etáwah, Fatehpur, Allahabad, Benares, Jaunpur, and Bara Banki the punctuality with which the papers were filed was very creditable to the patwári and kanúngo staff. The districts in which there was the greatest unpunctuality were Muzaffarnagar and Gorakhpur. In the former the delay was unavoidable and was due to the fact that many patwáris were released from settlement work only in March 1891, and then had two sets of jamabandis to prepare. The Collector has issued orders that will prevent delay in future. In Gorakhpur the Collector remarks that the results are much better than in the previous year, which is true; and connects the delay with the illness and subsequent death of the sadar kanúngo—an explanation which is, as the Commissioner points out, scarcely a sufficient one. In other districts where there has been delay, though not to the same extent, various causes are assigned. The Superintendent, Dehra Dún, reports that delay was due to fresh appointments amongst the patwáris. The Collector of Bulandshahr writes that owing to the lateness and heaviness of the rains, which retarded field work, greater punctuality in filing papers could not be secured. The Collector of Aligarh is justified in regarding the greater punctuality with which papers were filed, notwithstanding the interruption to work caused by the thorough reorganization of patwáris' circles, as very satisfactory; some delay under such circumstances might be expected. The Collector of Muttra has found it necessary to issue strict orders to the kanúngos to prevent delay. In Lucknow and Budaun the instruction of the pátwaris in surveying or their employment in other duties connected with the approach of settlement interfered with the punctual filing of papers. In Unao and Rae Bareli settlement operations were in progress in parts of the district, and in Farukhabad and Jalaun the time of many of the patwáris was taken up with work connected with the revision of the settlement. In Mirzapur the delay was chiefly in two parganas in which the time of kanúngos and patwáris was occupied in the correction of papers and maps which had been found to be very inaccurate and to require fresh measurements for their correction.

9. Results of testing papers.—Appendix II shows in district detail the testing done during the year under report. This statement, from which certain parganas of Unao and Partábgarh which are under settlement are excluded, shows 103,162 villages comprising 76,071,309 fields against 104,475 villages comprising 76,686,214 fields in 1890-91. The decrease in the number of villages is due to the exclusion of the parganas above referred to. On the other hand, Jhánsi, in which regular work has now been resumed on the conclusion of the settlement, is included in the statement, though formerly not shown.

The following table compares the divisional percentages under each head for the past three years:—

10. Of a total number of 76,071,309 fields, 6,425,912 or 8·44 per cent. were tested by kanúngos. In the previous year, when work connected with the census made considerable demand on the time of the kanúngos, the percentage was only 7·96. The returns of Saháranpur, Muzaffarnagar, Bareilly, Fatehpur, Allahabad, Mirzapur, Naini Tal, and Sultánpur show the highest percentages. The kanúngos are supposed to test at least 7 per cent. of the fields. In Budaun, Sháhjahánpur, Bánda, Gorakhpur, and Kheri the work done fell below the prescribed minimum, but, except in Gorakhpur, not to any considerable extent. In that district there has been some improvement, the percentage having risen from 3·52 to 5·38. Of the fields tested by kanúngos, 840,077 or 13·07 per cent. were re-tested by superior officers. In Dehra Dún, Muzaffarnagar, Muttra, Farukhabad, Bareilly, and Pilibhít over one-fifth of the fields tested by kanúngos were retested, and in Jalaun, if the returns are correct, the superior officers (including the sadar kanúngo) re-tested over one-half of the fields tested by the kanúngos. The percentage of re-tested fields was smallest in the districts of Saháranpur (4·28), Fatehpur (5·20), Bánda (5·90), Jhánsi (3·78), Gházipur (5·12), Sitapur (4·07), Kheri (4·98), Sultánpur (5·02), Partábgarh (9·09), and Bara Banki (5·79).

11. In several districts systematic arrangements have been made to secure the testing of every village by some officers in the district staff once at least in three years. In Dehra Dún the Superintendent found a comparatively small proportion of mistakes as the result of his own examination of the papers, but he reports that the patwáris are below the average. In Bareilly and Moradabad the Collectors are not altogether satisfied with the working of the kanúngo staff, and at the special request of the Collector an Inspector was sent to examine the former district. Measures have been taken to set right the defects pointed out, and to have the kanúngo's work thoroughly examined by pargana officers this year. In Etáwah and Moradabad the difficulty of getting correct information, especially about rent collections, is noticed. In Muzaffarnagar the Collector speaks highly of the qualifications of the patwáris as a body. In Mirzapur it is said that there has been a great improvement in the staff, but some trouble is still experienced in getting competent men. In Gorakhpur the proportion of work re-tested by superior officers is much greater than in the previous year. Notwithstanding the special measures taken to train the patwáris of that district, their work is still reported to be indifferent. In Basti an Assistant Collector was specially deputed to test the patwáris' work. The Commissioner of Gorakhpur reports that he has himself regularly examined the patwáris' work when on tour. The Deputy Commissioner of Kheri explains that orders have been issued to secure more frequent testing by superior officers in future.

12. In the following districts the proportion of incorrect entries discovered was over 10 per cent.:—

	Percentage of correct entries.
	In field-book.		In rent-rolls.
Etah	89·9	Etah	69·2
Bánda	89·7	Farukhabad	87·9
Allahabad	81·	Ballia	89·2
Gházipur	88·3	Unao	66·3
Azamgarh	86·4	Bara Banki	82·
Lucknow	88·3
Fyzabad	89·

The largest proportion of mistakes in the field-book is in Allahabad, and in the rent-rolls in Unao. In Etah, where the proportion of correct entries in both records is low, the number of mistakes may be conjectured to be due to failure to make the necessary changes where land has gone out of cultivation.

13. The results of special enquiries made as to the correctness of the recorded rents are noticed in several reports. As a general rule, no extensive concealment of assets was found. In Meerut one case was brought to light, and instructions for a further systematic examination of the jamabandis have been issued. In Aligarh it has been found difficult to get tangible proof, but a note has been made in the pargana book where concealment is suspected. One prosecution was instituted in this district, but ended in an acquittal. In Hamírpur no cases of serious concealment came to light, but the Collector writes that cases have come to his knowledge in which there is believed to be concealment. "In Rath and Kulpahar tahsíls certain well-to-do landlords are "known to conceal rents. There is at least one village in Mahoba tahsíl where it is "done, and from a careful comparison of rental returns I have come to the conclusion "that in villages held by Marwáris and traders of sorts either rents must be concealed or "the tenants must be singularly fortunate in holding under landlords at once so lenient "and so regardless of their personal interest."

The Collector of Jalaun does not believe that assets are concealed in his district, and the Deputy Commissioner of Lucknow expresses a similar opinion. On the other hand, some trivial cases of concealment were detected in Gonda along with one case that may prove to be serious, and in Hardoi concealed assets to the extent of Rs. 16,000 were discovered by local enquiry. The Commissioner has called for a further report regarding the action taken in this district. The Deputy Commissioner of Bara Banki discovered some cases of concealment; but in some estates where he believes concealment to be practised he has found it impossible to get any information from the tenants. Notice has been given to the Settlement Deputy Collector regarding the suspected concealments.

The accuracy of the patwáris' work has on the whole stood the test of examination well. There is no doubt much room for further improvement; and in some districts, such as parts of Bundelkhand, of Dehra Dún, and of Mirzapur, where the condition of residence makes service unpopular, it is difficult to insist on as high a standard of work as elsewhere. In most districts, however, the post is sufficiently sought after to allow of the appointment of fairly educated men.

In Oudh many of the patwáris are at present very poorly paid and can hardly be expected to reach the standard of efficiency of the patwáris in the North-Western Provinces. But very successful attempts have been made in some districts to teach the patwáris to survey so as to enable them to correct their maps themselves. In Fyzabad this work was taken in hand some years ago, and many of the maps in that district have been corrected with remarkable accuracy. More recently a beginning has been made in several districts, notably in Lucknow, where systematic arrangements for the practical instruction first of the kanúngos and then of the patwáris were made by the Deputy Commissioner, with the result that two-thirds of the maps of the district had been corrected by the end of the year under report. I have examined these maps in many parts of the district, and think that the progress made is astonishing. The improvement in the general intelligence of the patwáris from their education in mapping is also remarkable. I cannot speak with absolute certainty on this point as I have not had an opportunity of examining the work of patwáris in other Oudh districts; but the general impression is that the Oudh patwári is not, as a rule, a very intelligent official; whereas in Fyzabad and Lucknow I found most of them thoroughly competent and well acquainted with the affairs of their circles. The work done in these two districts will be of great service when settlement operations are undertaken. In Bara Banki the maps of 137 villages were corrected during the year under report, in Gonda 112, and some progress has also been made in Bahraich, Kheri, and Sitapur. In Lucknow, however, the arrangements were exceptionally thorough, and it is expected that the maps of the whole district will be corrected before settlement begins. The Deputy Commissioner reports that the work has been efficiently supervised by the sadar kanúngo.

The testing done by the sadar kanúngos is also shown in statement II.

The sadar kanúngo of Farukhabad was on tour for 255 days, of Gorakhpur 170 days, of Naini Tal 165, of Moradabad 163, of Hamírpur 158, of Meerut 140, of Cawnpore 139, of Bulandshahr 132, of Hardoi 126, of Jaunpur 124, of Mirzapur 122, of Bijnor and Dehra Dún 118 each, of Rae Bareli 115, of Lucknow 112, of Azamgarh 111, of Fatehpur 110, of Allahabad and Etah 109, and of Kheri 108 days. The sadar kanúngos of the remaining districts spent less than 100 days on tour. The sadar kanúngos of Basti and Partábgarh were on tour only for 28 and 27 days respectively. The largest amount of testing done was in Gorakhpur (33,486), Allahabad (23,098), Gonda (19,165), Fatehpur (17,250), Farukhabad (16,007), Muzaffarnagar (13,936), Rae Bareli (13,632), Bijnor (13,104), and Meerut (11,896).

14. In the following districts testing ranges from 5,000 to 9,000 entries :—

Agra	8,146
Mirzapur	8,751
Hardoi	8,137
Bara Banki	8,302
Dehra Dún	7,820
Saháranpur	7,699
Azamgarh	6,191
Gházipur	6,411
Jaunpur	5,552
Bareilly	5,551
Jalaun	5,360
Cawnpore	5,334

In the other districts the sadar kanúngos tested less than 5,000 entries.

15. Tahsíl registers.—Increasing attention is now paid to the compilation of the statistics that are collected in the mauza and mahál registers, and attempts have been made to have intelligent notes added by the registrars in explanation of any striking variations in the returns. The pargana books are generally kept well up to date, and are frequently taken out by officers on tour. I have not observed many notes in them in districts I have visited, but my experience is limited, and I believe these books are frequently used though no remarks may be recorded. In Bareilly it is reported that a large number of the entries in the pargana books were examined and various notes recorded by the Collector and other senior members of the district staff. The Collector of Benares writes that he had no opportunity of inspecting the books, but he has issued instructions to draw up a note for each village for entry in the pargana book. The Commissioner of Allahabad states that he finds from the reports from the District Officers that "much is still left to be desired in regard to the systematic "use and intelligent checking of these books." He regrets that the orders regarding their scrutiny and the use they should be put to do not in all cases receive sufficient attention, and he has called the special attention of all District Officers to the matter. In Jaunpur instructions for the examination of pargana books were issued to all officers, and in Gházipur and Mirzapur they were tested and utilized. The Commissioner is, however, not satisfied with the manner in which these books are kept up in his Division. It would be premature on my part to express a definite opinion as to whether the pargana book in its present form is really found useful by District Officers. My impression is that they do not receive from it the assistance that was expected. A revised form of the book which will give much more information and will, in my opinion, prove undoubtedly useful was proposed by Mr. Holderness, and its experimental introduction has, I believe, been sanctioned.

16. Inspection of districts.—The districts of Agra, Etah, Bijnor, Moradabad, Budaun, Bareilly, Pilibhít, Cawnpore, Bánda, Hamírpur, Allahabad, Azamgarh, Mirzapur, Basti, Bara Banki, Fyzabad, Sháhjahánpur, and scattered tahsíls of Bulandshahr and Aligarh were inspected during the year under report, and the inspection reports were forwarded to the Collectors.

17. Amendments to rules.—The patwári and kanúngo rules in the North-Western Provinces were issued in a revised form at the close of the year under report. The only important amendment that has been issued since is one requiring patwáris to give tracings of maps to police officers on certain occasions. The Oudh rules have been revised and have as far as possible been assimilated in substance and arrangement to those in force in the North-Western Provinces. The completed edition was issued after the close of the year under report.

18. Preparation of districts for settlement.—The districts of Bánda, Hamírpur, and Bara Banki were examined, as a preliminary to settlement, by Mr. Holderness, who submitted reports on the condition of the maps and records and the probable financial result of a new settlement. He also submitted a note on the proposed new settlement of Lalitpur. In Bara Banki the new settlement has begun: but in Bánda the old settlement does not expire for a considerable time, and in view of the changes that may occur before then the Board have decided that the district should be again examined before any final conclusion is come to. Further statistics have also been called for regarding Lalitpur.

19. Supply of forms.—The total expenditure on patwári forms during the year 1891-92 was Rs. 63,054 as compared with Rs. 58,738 in 1890-91. The increase is due to the printing of the patwáris' permanent register of mutations and certain other miscellaneous forms. The grant for 1891-92 was Rs. 79,000. There is therefore a saving of Rs. 15,946 in the budget allotment.

20. Measures taken to secure greater accuracy in the record by patwáris of rental collections.—An account was given last year of the experiment tried in the Benares Division to obtain a correct account of rent collections by inviting the co-operation of landlords who were to be called on to file lists of their collections at the tahsíl. The results of the first year's working of the scheme were not encouraging, but its continuance for a second year was sanctioned. The reports now received show that the scheme is not likely to succeed unless the landlords are compelled to furnish accounts. The Commissioner of the Benares Division writes: "Another year's experience emphasizes the "remarks I made in my report for 1890-91 regarding the experiment to secure greater "accuracy in the entries made by patwáris in siáhas and bahikhátas. The experiment "is a decided failure and will never work in this Division." The Collector of Basti remarks that "the experimental measures tried unsuccessfully last year in Basti tahsíl "in accordance with Director of Agriculture and Land Records' No. $\frac{P.}{200}$, dated 19th "January 1891, and which have been continued for the year under report according to "Director's No. $\frac{2296}{214}$, dated 17th June 1892, to the address of Commissioner, have "proved as unsuccessful this year as last," but he gives no account of the manner in which the experiment was worked.

Last year the experiment was not carried out in Mirzapur. This year the Collector says of it: "Under instructions contained in Director of Land Records and Agriculture's "letter No. $\frac{P.}{200}$, dated 19th January 1891, tahsíl Mirzapur was selected to introduce "therein experimentally the scheme of inviting zamíndárs to file with the registrar "kanúngo, when they come to the tahsíl, a list of rent collections made by them from "their tenants. For the reasons reported last year the scheme could not be brought into "operation. During the year under report the zamíndárs filed 139 lists showing the "amount of rent collected by them from their tenants. These lists were duly made over "by the registrar kanúngo to the patwáris concerned, who checked them by enquiry "from the tenants, and on finding them correct entered them in their siáhas and "bahikhátas. The orders contained in this circular have been generally circulated, but "without much result. In South Mirzapur in particular the condition of the people is "so backward that it will probably take some time before it can generally be brought "into effect."

The Collector of Benares deals with the matter at some length: "The measures "suggested by the Director of Land Records with a view to securing greater accuracy in "the entries made by patwáris in their siáhas and bahikhátas have been experimentally "tried in the Chandauli tahsíl during the last two years. Babu Balbhadra Sinha, "Deputy Collector, has conducted the experiment since Munshi Lachmi Narain left the "district. During the first year the zamíndárs were invited by printed notices to file "lists of rent collections with the registrar kanúngo, but failed to comply. During the "second year, i.e., the year under report, the same disinclination to filing such lists was "observed; and seeing that no response was made to the notices repeatedly served on "them, the tahsíldár, under Babu Balbhadra Sinha's instructions, bound down the "zamíndárs by written agreements when they came to the tahsíl to pay their revenue "to file their siáhas within certain dates, and the patwáris were also enjoined to send "in lists of those zamíndárs who failed either to file their siáhas with the registrar "kanúngo or to furnish them with the same. I also, in consultation with the Director,

"had orders issued to the effect that those zamíndárs who would not furnish the "patwáris with the necessary information, nor give in their lists at the tahsíl, should be "served with notices under section 19, Act IX of 1889. The result of these measures "has been that out of 1,195 zamíndárs 119 have filed their siáhas with the registrar "kanúngo and 1,063 with the patwáris. The remaining 13 zamíndárs have been served "with notices to the effect that if they fail to comply within 15 days they will be dealt "with according to law." "It will therefore be seen that zamíndárs are opposed to "the measure, and that unless the filing of lists of rent collections is legally enforced "great difficulty will always be experienced in getting them in."

The Gorakhpur report originally contained no account of the working of the experiment, but the present Collector has since submitted a report on the subject. In this district a special establishment of chaprásis had to be entertained as the work thrown on the tahsíl staff was greater than they could reasonably be called on to undertake. Mr. Hoey, having had no actual experience of the working of the system, expresses no opinion regarding it, but notes the great difficulty there is in getting rents verified owing to the ignorance of the tenants and their complete dependence on the landlords. The Commissioner, in referring to the failure of the experiment in Basti, states that the result was only what might be expected: "We might as well ask a "mahájan for a full, true, and particular account of his income as ask a zamíndár "for similar details of his rent-roll." The opinion of the Commissioners should now, I think, be accepted and the experiment discontinued, but a separate reference on this subject will be made.

21. Maintenance of traverse survey and boundary marks.—Under the orders of the Government of India this subject is to be noticed in future reports. Instructions for the systematic inspection of these marks have recently been issued.

22. Miscellaneous.—The Collector of Gházipur gives an account of a system that he has been working for six months of sending patwáris' pay by money-order, so as to save them from the deduction which, he reports, it is customary to make when payment is effected through the tahsíl. Mr. Lambe originally introduced the plan in Jalaun, but on a reference to that district I find that the present Collector is not in favour of its continuance and the Commissioner expresses an emphatic opinion that "a reversion "to the general system of payment of patwáris is to be desired on every ground." It is not stated definitely what defects have come to light in Jalaun, except that much unsuitable work is thrown on the sadar kanúngo, and I hesitate to express a final opinion on the subject without further enquiry. A system such as has been introduced, which is probably very unpopular with the headquarters and tahsíl staff, can be worked successfully only when the Collector takes a strong personal interest in it. When his close supervision can be secured the method of payment is probably an improvement on the prescribed system; but there is no evidence that the evils which it is sought to avoid are so great as to necessitate this addition to the Collector's duties. Without his close control I think that the new system would, in the end, prove to be little, if any, better for the patwáris than the old.

Crop and cultivation returns.—The crop and cultivation returns have this year been received from all districts except Jhánsi proper and portions of Unao, Rae Bareli, and Partábgarh, where settlement work prevented the patwáris from filing their returns in time. Figures for these portions have been taken from previous year's returns to complete the provincial statement. The total crop area of the province thus arrived at amounts to 41,645,886 acres for this year. The total crop area in the preceding year was * 41,860,499 acres. There is thus a decrease of 214,613 acres in the present year's area compared with the area of 1890-91. The decrease is entirely in the area under spring crops and is due to the fact that last year, owing to the favourable character of the rains at the time of sowing for the spring harvest and to the destruction of autumn crops over a large area by the abnormal character of the rains, an exceptionally large area was put down under spring crops. Thus, notwithstanding an actual extension of the total area cultivated during the year and an increase in the area under autumn crops, the total crop area of the province falls a little short of the area returned last year. These remarks also explain a decrease in the area of double-cropped land.

„ „ spring and hot weather crops ...	*21,283,066	20,900,863

When comparison is, however, made with the average area of the past five years then both the cropped and the net cultivated area of the province shows a considerable increase :—

	Acres.	Acres.
1886-87	33,896,866	40,408,625

1891-82	33,861,084	41,645,886

Analysing the statistics by crops, cotton, maize, and small millets show a considerable decrease both when compared with the preceding year's area and the average area of the last five years. These are the earliest autumn crops to be sown, and the break in rains in the middle of June was unfortunate for them. Rice, for which the light rains of June and July proved too scanty, also shows some decrease. Indigo, the cultivation of which has lately considerably declined on account of its low price in Europe, underwent a further decrease of 70,213 acres during the present year. Juár, bájra, and arhar, for the sowing of which the light rains of July proved very favourable, were sown on a much larger area ; and sugarcane, to the cultivation of which a considerable impetus has been given by successive good crops during the past four years, shows a further increase of 258,723 acres. Among the rabi crops the area under pure wheat shows a considerable decrease. The continued rainfall of August and September prevented the cultivators from securing the fine tilth of soil which is essential for the cultivation of this cereal, and a large area, which in ordinary circumstances would have been devoted to pure wheat, was sown with mixed wheat, mixed barley, gram, and peas, the area of which shows an increase. Linseed, which is largely sown as a second crop after rice, also shows some decrease, the late commencement of the rains and the heavy falls of August and September preventing the land from being ready in time for its sowing.

The following table compares the area of the principal autumn and spring crops in the present year with their area in 1890-91 and their average area during the last five years :—

Irrigation.—The total area irrigated during the year was 9,916,850 acres, which is 104,638 acres more than the area in the last year. The increase was due to the late commencement of the winter rains. The area irrigated from canals shows an increase of 23,763 acres, but the chief variations occurred in the areas irrigated from wells and tanks. The western districts, where the rain in the months of August and September was heavy, and the tanks were consequently full when the time for rabi irrigation came round, show a considerable increase in the area irrigated from tanks and a falling off in the area irrigated from wells. But from Fatehpur eastward all over the Benares, Gorakhpur, and Fyzabad Divisions, where the fall was not so heavy, the area irrigated from wells shows a very large increase.

Number of wells.—The total number of wells returned last year was 311,565, but this number included a large number of drinking wells, particularly in the returns received from Saháranpur, Bulandshahr, Fatehpur, Allahabad, Jalaun, Lalitpur, Benares, Mirzapur, Jaunpur, Gorakhpur, and Basti, the exclusion of which leaves 282,042 as the correct number of wells used for irrigation in that year. Of these 3,264 wells are reported to have fallen in, while 5,348 new wells were constructed during the present year. Thus there has been a net increase of 2,084 wells in the present year. Estimating the area irrigable from these at the rates adopted in past years, the present increase in the number of wells provides protection for 17,575 acres.

Classification of holdings and rent collections.—Returns showing the area of holdings and the demand and collections of rent have been received from all districts excepting certain portions of Jhánsi, Unao, and Partábgarh, where patwáris being engaged in settlement work could not file these returns. As observed in past years' reports, the figures given in these returns are a year behind those of crop and cultivation; so that the figures given in the present statements of holdings and rent collections are for 1890-91 while those of crop and cultivation are for 1891-92. The classification of holdings in the case of Oudh is somewhat different from that prevailing in the North-Western Provinces. Figures for the two provinces are therefore given in separate statements.

* Revised figures.

Compared with the figures of 1889-90, the total holdings area in 1890-91 shows an increase of 267,420 acres in the North-Western Provinces and of 74,956 acres in Oudh. There have been small increases in all districts under the head "Land held by "tenants-at-will," due to actual extension of cultivation in 1890-91. The only exceptions are the districts of the Lower Gangetic Doáb (comprising Etah, Mainpuri, Farukhabad, Etáwah, and Cawnpore) and the trans-Jumna district of Bánda, which have suffered considerable distress from successive wet seasons. The excess in the present year's area is, however, chiefly accounted for by Gorakhpur and Basti, for the whole of which the statistics of the new survey are now available. The following table compares the areas under each class of holding in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh in the year 1890-91 with those of 1889-90 :—

Total ...	26,853,650	27,121,070	9,186,898	9,261,854

The increase in the sír and occupancy area and decrease in the khúdkásht and non-occupancy area in the North-Western Provinces is owing to the newly prepared record of rights in Saháranpur, Muzaffarnagar, Gorakhpur, and Basti, where complete statistics of the new settlement have this year been given for the first time.

When comparison is made with the cultivated area of 1890-91 the holdings area given in the present return shows an excess of 8 per cent. in the North-Western Provinces and 4 per cent. in Oudh. This excess is greatest in Bánda, Hamírpur, and Mirzapur districts, where holdings are comparatively large and rents low and tenants often devote a considerable portion of their holdings to pasturage for rearing sheep and cattle. It is also very large in Farukhabad, Mainpuri, and Etah, which have greatly suffered from agricultural depression lately.

In the rental statement appended to this report the rents paid by tenants alone are shown; the areas of proprietors' holdings known as sír and khúdkásht with their nominal rentals and full collections are excluded. The total demand and collections on tenants' land in 1890-91 were as follows :—

	Rs.
Total demand for 1890-91	12,01,60,655
Collections made in 1890-91 :—
(a) for 1890-91	9,75,13,785
(b) for previous years	1,09,75,945
Total collections ...	10,84,89,730

The total collections in Oudh amounted to 94 per cent. of the demand in 1890-91, and in the North-Western Provinces to 88 per cent. The extent of collections in different districts varied greatly; it reached its maximum in Lucknow, where it amounted to 99 per cent. and was lowest in Benares, where it amounted to 54 per cent., but in that district great difficulty is experienced in obtaining returns from landlords. The following figures show the percentage of total collections in each division of the united provinces. The low rate of collections in the Agra Division is due to the distress caused in this division by successive wet years, while in the Benares Division it is due to the fact that zamíndárs often adjust their accounts without the presence of the patwári, and consequently his record of rent collections is not complete.

APPENDIX VIII.

Statement showing the alterations in the demand of occupiers' rate for the Revenue year 1891-92.

District.	Demand of—		Increase	Decrease.	Remarks.
	1890-91.	1891-92.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Dehra Dún ...	32,404	33,648	1,244	...	The increase calls for no explanation.
Saháranpur ...	3,72,831	4,06,125	33,294	...	The increase is due to scantiness of the winter rains.
Muzaffarnagar	6,40,708	6,97,607	56,899	...
Meerut ...	9,01,481	8,78,946	...	22,535	Due to the unusually complete saturation of the soil at the time of the rabi sowings.
Bulandshahr ...	5,35,432	5,46,924	11,492	...	Extended use of canal water due to late rains.
Aligarh ...	3,76,661	3,63,758	...	12,903	Due to unusually complete saturation of the soil by timely rain at the time of the rabi sowings which rendered gram and barley in many places independent of irrigation.
Muttra ...	1,85,955	2,15,780	29,825	...	Increase was a return to the conditions under which a certain quantity of water is required and taken for the spring sowings. In 1890-91 copious rains rendered such recourse to canal water unnecessary.
Agra ...	78,613	74,206	...	4,407	The decrease is small.
Farukhabad ...	1,57,300	1,52,922	...	4,378	In 1890-91 canal irrigation was resorted to owing to break of rains.
Mainpuri ...	3,15,811	3,15,735	...	76
Etáwah ...	4,74,926	4,47,389	...	27,537	Timely fall of winter rains reduced the demand for canal water.
Etah ...	2,14,149	2,42,146	27,997	....	Rise is attributed (a) to the canal not having run full the first year it opened; (b) the people had become accustomed to canal water and are gradually going back to it; and (c) deteriorated land is being broken up. The rains of 1891 were normal and the demand for canal water rose pari passu.
Bareilly ...	60,880	59,341	...	1,539	The decline is small: demand for 1891-92 is, however, much above that for 1889-90.
Bijnor ...	15,451	17,728	2,277	...	Winter rains were late and scanty.
Pilibhít ...	10,442	10,232	...	210	The small decrease calls for no explanation.
Cawnpore ...	4,94,674	5,63,778	69,104	...	The rise is reported to be due (1) to late setting in of the rains and absence of winter rains; (2) spread of canal irrigated rice; and (3) extensive sowings of rabi crops in place of damaged kharíf in two parganas.
Hamírpur ...	4,506	4,847	341	...	Due to growing demand for water from the Betwa Canal.
Jhánsi ...	1,254	1,606	352	...	Increase is nominal as the rate realizable from certain villages which was collected in the previous year by the Political Agent, Nowgong, was collected in 1891-92 in this district.
Jalaun ...	98,534	79,600	...	18,934	Decrease is due to an absence of cultivation of cummin seed and indigo during the year.
Naini Tal ...	4,438	5,603	1,165	...	Due to failure of winter rains.
Total ...	49,76,450	51,17,921	2,33,990	92,519

APPENDIX IX.

Explanatory memo. of balances of the occupiers' and owners' rates for the Revenue year 1891-92.

District.	Current balance.	Out-standing balance.	Explanation of balance.
Occupiers' rate.	Rs.	Rs.
Dehra Dún ...	28	...	Will be realized from the sale proceeds of property attached by the Civil Court.
Aligarh ...	2,585	226	Since realized.
Muttra ...	2,132	...	Rs. 27 since realized; Rs. 964 due from defaulters residing in Agra and Mainpuri, Collectors of which districts have been asked to realize the sums due. For the recovery of the balance movable property has been attached.
Do. ...	...	1,427	Rs. 1,035 due from estates attached or from absentee defaulters from whom recovery is being made by the Policital Agent, Bhartpur. Balance will shortly be realized.
Agra ...	492	...	Rs. 220 since realized; Rs. 272 under recovery from attached estates.
Farukhabad ...	13,082	...	Rs. 11,147 since realized and balance under recovery from estates proposed for sale.
Mainpuri ...	40,220	...	Collections were considerably retarded owing to correction slips for Rs. 39,680 having been received late from the Canal Department. The Rája of Mainpuri and Chaudhri of Bishengarh are also responsible for no less than Rs. 10,774, sale of movable and immovable property has been resorted to.
Do. ...	...	4,620	Due in the deteriorated tract of Bhongaon tahsíl. The realization of the arrears is being pushed on.
Etáwah ...	5,540	...	Rs. 2,967 since realized and balance is under recovery from attached estates.
Etah ...	37,651	...	Rs. 10,944 are due from estates under Government management; Rs. 1,824 from defaulters residing in other tahsíls and districts and much of the rest is payable by deteriorated villages.
Do. ...	...	24,819	Rs. 8,242 since remitted; Rs. 6,400 are due from attached estates; Rs. 3,343 from defaulters residing in other districts and the balance from deteriorated villages.
Bareilly ...	739	...	Since realized.
Cawnpore ...	16,077	...	Rs. 2,117 since realized; Rs. 57 are due from estates under attachment; Rs. 8,734 from estates the crops of which were damaged by hail: this latter sum could not be collected as the Canal Department did not state in which of these villages remissions had been proposed. Rs. 4,073 are proposed for remission and Rs. 1,096 due from defaulters whose movable property has been proceeded against.
Do. ...	...	41	Suspended by order of the Board. Will be realized in two instalments.
Jhánsi ...	...	10	Error in assessment, will be written off.
Jalaun ...	709	...	Rs. 131 since realized. Rs. 578 under recovery by distress and sale of property.
Do ...	...	13	Since realized.
Total ...	1,19,255	31,156
Owners' rate.
Aligarh ...	11	...	Suspended, pending enquiry in a case of acquisition of land.
Muttra ...	...	348	Due from attached estates or absentee proprietors from whom recovery is being made.
Agra ...	9	...	Since realized.
Farukhabad ...	3,744	...	Rs. 453 since realized. Rs. 278 due from defaulters whose property has been proposed for sale and Rs. 3,013 since remitted in deteriorated villages.
Mainpuri ...	6,352	...	Due in the deteriorated tracts of tahsíl Bhongaon: the amount, it is hoped, will be collected in 1892-93.
Do. ...	...	578	Under recovery in the deteriorated tracts of the Bhongaon tahsíl.
Etáwah ...	315	...	Rs. 159 since realized and balance due from attached estates.
Etah ...	4,901	...	Rs. 190 since realized. The remainder is under recovery and mutatis mutandis, the remarks regarding the occupiers' rate balances apply to these arrears.
Do. ...	...	3,664	Rs. 48 since realized. The remainder is under recovery and mutatis mutandis, the remarks regarding the occupiers' rate balances apply to these arrears.
Baréilly ...	88	...	Since realized.
Cawnpore ...	668	...	Rs. 547 since realized. Rs. 121 proposed for remission.

ORDERS OF GOVERNMENT.

No. $\frac{1633}{\frac{I-36B}{4}}$ OF 1893.

FROM

THE CHIEF SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT,

N.-W. PROVINCES AND OUDH,

To

THE SECRETARY TO THE BOARD OF REVENUE.

N.-W. PROVINCES AND OUDH.

DATED NAINI TAL, THE 8TH JUNE 1893.

SIR,

REVENUE DEPT.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. $\frac{845}{XII-356}$, dated 15th March 1893 (received on 5th May), with which you submit the Board's report on the Revenue Administration of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh for the year 1891-92. This report is the first amalgamated report for the two Provinces; the divisional reports were submitted with commendable punctuality, and the Board's report was received by Government a month earlier than the report on the North-Western Provinces for the previous year.

2. The harvests of the year depended on the rains of 1891 and the winter rains of 1891-92. The monsoon did not break till quite the end of July. In August there were heavy falls, and the rainfall, though irregular and unevenly distributed, continued till the end of September. The winter rains were very late and light. Over the whole Province the rainfall of the year averaged 39·4 inches as compared with 45·6 inches, the average of the past five years.

Rainfall and harvests. Paragraphs 4 to 9.

The autumn harvest on the whole was distinctly better than that of the preceding year. With the exceptions of the hill tracts of Almora, Garhwál and Jaunsár-Báwar and of the District of Azamgarh, the spring crops were slightly better than those of 1890-91, and the autumn harvest of 1892 has proved more favourable than any during the past four years.

3. There was again a heavy flood in the valley of the Karon Nadi in Aligarh, which destroyed the autumn crops and caused the postponement of the collection of land revenue to the extent of Rs. 22,000. The land was, however, sown with spring crops, and the postponed revenue was collected without difficulty within the year. By the completion of the drainage schemes which were in progress, the excessive water which poured into this depression has been diverted and the floods have been brought under control. The floods in the Gogra and Rapti valleys are not susceptible of diversion, and even if their causes were more fully understood it would not be possible to control them.

Floods. Paragraphs 10 to 12.

4. The public health was not good. Cholera appeared in an epidemic form in many and widely separated parts of the Provinces, and there were numerous deaths from this cause in Meerut, Benares, Gorakhpur and the hill districts. The concourse of great crowds of pilgrims at Benares and Hardwár was followed by severe outbreaks of the disease. Measures are now in progress for the purification and drainage of the City of Benares, and much has recently been done for the improvement of the sanitation of Hardwár.

Health. Paragraphs 13 to 15.

5. Prices were distinctly easier than in the preceding year, but they were still high and their pressure was no doubt felt by the lowly paid classes of officials and by the labouring population in the larger towns. Agricultural labourers are still for the most past paid in kind. The high prices are maintained even in view of the abundant spring harvest of the present year 1893. The Lieutenant-Governor has no doubt that the fall in the value of silver is taking effect on the prices of Indian produce, and that the assertion, still made by some writers, that the purchasing power of the rupee in India has not been diminished, is not sustainable. In the hill districts prices reached famine level, but in these districts there are no markets and each man keeps his own store of food-grains. Government found it necessary to import grain to relieve the scarcity in Almora and Garhwál.

Prices. Paragraph 17.

6. The outstanding balance of land revenue borne on the roll amounted to no less than Rs. 8,94,269 as compared with Rs. 6,54,700 in the previous year. Of this balance Oudh is responsible for only Rs. 3,923, and at the close of the year the total of outstanding arrears in Oudh was Rs. 674 due from an attached estate in Unao.

State of arrears of previous years. Paragraphs 19, 24 and 36.

In paragraph 24 of your letter a short but clear explanation is given of these arrears, which were mainly due from the distressed villages of the Agra Division. Rs. 2,83,514 were collected during the year, and Rs. 4,966 were collected shortly after its close. Rs. 3,38,875 were remitted and Rs. 1,92,249 are nominal.

The realisable balance is now Rs. 74,665. Of this sum the Etah District is responsible for Rs. 34,768. A large portion of this is said to be recoverable, and the Lieutenant-Governor has noted with satisfaction that Mr. Galbraith succeeded during the year in collecting over Rs. 86,000 of the Etah outstandings.

Outstanding arrears of occupier's rate have risen from Rs. 22,207, at which they stood last year, to Rs. 31,156. Of this sum the arrears in Etah alone amounted to Rs. 24,819. It is said in paragraph 36 of your report that Rs. 8,242 have since been remitted by the Commissioner as irrecoverable owing to want of assets. The arrear in Etah however is still large. The oldest item of the balance dates from 30th September 1888. The estates in Etah should not be hampered under their revised assessments by old arrears. If the arrears are not recoverable they should be remitted. The current demand has not been collected in full in Etah. Possibly there may be villages which in addition to a current demand assessed on the assets have to meet arrears of land revenue and arrears of occupier's rate.

Current demand and collections. Paragraphs 19, 20, 21 and 22.

7. The statement of current demands and collections in paragraph 19 of your report exhibits the revenue of the year in a convenient form and will be useful for future comparison. The demand on account of land revenue borne on the roll has risen from Rs. 5,90,97,712 to Rs. 5,93,95,078, being an increase of Rs. 2,97,366, and the collections have risen from Rs. 5,84,57,516 to Rs. 5,88,56,119, being an increase of Rs. 3,98,603. Excluding nominal items the collections averaged 99·82 per cent. in Oudh against 99·99 per cent. in the preceding year, and in the North-Western Provinces 99·36 per cent. as compared with percentages of 98·98 and 99·12 in the two previous years.

8. The history of revenue collections in Oudh is happily almost a blank. In ten out of the 12 districts the full realisable demand was collected: the balances in Lucknow and Unao are recoverable, and in the latter district are almost entirely due to suspensions on account of injury to crops by hail.

In the North-Western Provinces 12 districts as compared with 14 last year show a clear balance sheet. Among them are the Allahabad, Gházipur, Hamírpur and Ballia Districts, which exhibited a balance in 1890-91. Of the districts the revenue of which has been recently revised, Saháranpur and Muzaffarnagar again are clear of arrears: Bulandshahr has a realisable balance of Rs. 77 only.

The recoverable balance is shown in paragraph 20 of your report to be Rs. 2,06,256, and the sum requiring explanation is the balance of Rs. 56,488, remaining after deduction of the following sums:—

	Rs.
Suspended on account of scarcity in hill districts ...	54,993
Under recovery from Chaudhri of Bishengarh ...	41,528
Suspensions on account of hail and floods	33,987
Due from estates under attachment or Government management	19,260
Total	1,49,768

The only districts which require the special notice of Government are Mainpuri with an arrear of Rs. 10,688, and Etah with an arrear of Rs. 28,826.

9. In Mainpuri the arrear belongs almost entirely to the Bhongaon tahsíl, which is inhabited by small proprietors, and where default had apparently become chronic. It is difficult to obtain a clear idea of the condition of this tract from Mr. Baker's note on the Economic History of the District. The Collector notes that there is much poverty and distress, and seems to think that the relief afforded by reduction and remission of revenue was comparatively small. He points out that the population of Mainpuri tahsíl has diminished by 6·6 per cent. and that of Bhongaon tahsíl by 7·3 per cent. since 1881. Yet he is able to report improvement. Káns has decreased; the canal, which was closed owing to the breaking of the Nadrai aqueduct, is again open. The condition of the people is decidedly better in 1891-92 than in 1890-91. The Lieutenant-Government trusts that Mr. Baker's full report, referred to in paragraph 22, will enable the Board to deal finally with the district, and he will be glad to know the conclusions at which the Board have arrived.

The account of Etah given by Mr. Galbraith is more cheering, and is evidently based on a close knowledge of the district. Káns is rapidly dying out; the necessary drainage cuts have been made; the bed of the Burhganga has been opened out from end to end, and the drainage flows away at a reasonably rapid pace. Cultivation of autumn crops in the Burhganga valley has risen in two years from 2,275 bíghas to 5,403 bíghas. Advances for seed and plough cattle have been made to the extent of Rs. 45,000 in the same period. The Lieutenant-Governor shares the confidence of the Board that Mr. Galbraith will successfully carry out the difficult task set before him in administering the revenue of this district.

Alterations which have occurred in the demand for land revenue on the roll.
Paragraph 27.

10. The land revenue on the roll on 1st October 1891 was Rs. 5,93,95,078. On the 1st October 1892 it was Rs. 5,93,45,533, the result being a net decrease of Rs. 49,545. In the Agra Division revenue was reduced by Rs. 1,51,955, and the revision of settlement in Oudh is not yet sufficiently advanced to compensate this reduction.

Canal occupier's and owner's rates.
Paragraphs 35 to 38.

11. The revenue from canals continues to increase. The demand for occupier's rate rose by Rs. 1,41,471, or 2·8 per cent., as compared with a rise of 11·35 per cent. last year. In Cawnpore the cultivation of rice with the aid of canal water has extended, and a further extension is anticipated. The remarks of the Board regarding delay on the part of the Canal Department in furnishing Collectors with details of the demand will be forwarded to the Irrigation Department. Realisations were on the whole satisfactory and the causes of arrear have been sufficiently explained.

State properties.
Paragraph 39.

12. In State properties the collections have been good. The management of the Bánda estates was noted last year as being unsatisfactory, and the question was taken up by Mr. Kaye in consultation with the Collector and Commissioner, and instructions have been issued, which it is hoped may result in improvement. There is still a large outstanding arrear of Rs. 8,743 in Bánda, and the current collections were short of the demand by Rs. 2,966.

Payment of land revenue by money-orders.
Paragraphs 43 and 44.

13. The Board again note the steady growth in popularity of the system of remitting land revenue and miscellaneous revenue by money-orders. Nearly 33 lakhs of rupees are now remitted by means of money orders; the three districts of the Gorakhpur Division, which are held by small proprietors, remit a third of this sum. It has been found that revenue has been remitted by money-orders obtained from the post office at the tahsíl headquarters. It is at present useless to speculate on the reasons for this strange procedure, but the matter deserves the inquiry which is being made. No less than 152,012 money-orders were issued during the year, and apparently no complaint has been brought against any of the post office officials who disposed of this large amount of work.

Litigation under the Rent Act. Paragraphs 45 to 82.

14. In Oudh there has been a small increase in rent law litigation, but in the North-Western Provinces the increase has been very large. The decline which was noticed last year in the latter Provinces proves to have been but a temporary retrogression. The number of suits and applications has risen from 230,812 to 255,765. In 1881-82 the total corresponding number was 158,723; and while the present figure is far higher than that of any previous year, there seems no ground for the belief that the limit has yet been reached.

15. Out of a total of 92,689 suits, suits for arrears of rent amounted to 83,214, or 89·77 per cent. of the total number, as compared with 89·77 and 90·88 in the two previous years. The number of suits decided without trial and without contest was 69,770, and the Commissioner of Rohilkhand has suggested that some system should be devised of registering admitted claims for arrears of rent, and thus reducing litigation. Such a scheme involves many difficulties, and has not yet been worked out in a form on which Government can give orders. The Board are unable to hazard any theory of a general character which is capable of application to the North-Western Provinces as a whole, and which would explain local variations and the steady increase in the number of suits for arrears. In last year's review the Districts of Ballia, Jaunpur and Gházipur were noticed as showing an excessive duration of contested cases. There has been very little improvement in Ballia in spite of the fact that the Collector has instituted fortnightly returns of work which enable him to check undue delay, and the practice of granting adjournments for insufficient reasons.

16. The total value of rent money-orders during the year increased by Rs. 64,480. From Muzaffarnagar it is reported that tenants often make short remittances of rent, a practice which must stimulate litigation and induce landholders to refuse to accept the rents so remitted. The further development of the system should not be encouraged by a reduction of the commission. Sir Charles Crosthwaite is not persuaded of the benefit of the measure. It tends to break up the village organisation, and to sever still more the ties which naturally connect the landlord and the tenant. Every step that is taken to break up rural society into a number of disconnected units renders the Government of this country more and more difficult. The practice of allowing cosharers to pay their revenue direct, the reluctance to enforce joint responsibility where it exists, and the facility which the law of partition gives for destroying it, have all contributed to break up the village into several small independent estates. When tenants can avoid all personal dealings with their landlords by using the post office as a means of payment, the disintegration will be complete.

17. Applications in the North-Western Provinces have nearly doubled since 1881, and now number 163,076, being an increase of 18,231 on the previous year, or 12·59 per cent. Bulandshahr again shows a very large number of applications for enhancement, and the pending file (1,573 cases) is heavy. A considerable number of applications (908) were disposed of by compromise, but if applications continue to be presented at the present rate, special assistance may be necessary in this district in the cold weather.

18. The returns of applications connected with ejectment for the last two years are compared in the annexed table :—

Applications under	Number.			Percentage of increase.	Remarks.
	1890-91.	1891-92.	Increase.
Section 35, class XVIII ...	17,862	19,347	1,485	8·31	To eject tenants with right.

The total area in acres which were affected by notices to eject was :—

	1890-91.	1891-92.	Percentage of—
Section 35	122,897	116,647	5·08 Decrease.
„ 36	282,508	312,341	10·55 Increase.

Applications to eject tenants with rights increased by 8·31 per cent., though the area affected was less than last year. Ejectment actually took place in 37·60 per cent. of the cases concerning which notices were issued, as compared with 38·68 per cent. in 1890-91 and 36 per cent. of the previous year. The statistics by divisions given in paragraphs 54 and 55 of the report are remarkable. In the eastern divisions where the harvests were indifferent landholders sought to eject their occupancy tenants in increased numbers, while notices to eject tenants-at-will showed a marked decline. In the western divisions where the harvests were favourable the opposite tendency was observed. Other causes are no doubt at work, but there seems to be ground for the general conclusion that when the harvests are good landowners endeavour by means of notices of ejectment to enhance the rents of tenants-at-will. When the harvests are bad nothing is to be gained by serving notices on tenants-at-will, but many occupancy tenants are unable to meet their engagements, and applications to eject such tenants increase.

19. The return called for in paragraph 24 of the review of last year's report shows that over 67 per cent. of the applications to eject tenants-at-will are filed during the last half of March. It is not possible to dispose of these cases, if contested, before the end of the agricultural year, and the Courts consequently have to decide under section 42, Act XII of 1881, the difficult question of the proper price to be paid by the landholder to the tenant for the growing crop. In the year under review applications to determine the value of crops rose from 2,448 to 4,209, or by 71·94 per cent. The Board consider that a remedy is urgently called for, and suggest that it may be found in the adoption for the North-Western Provinces of the provisions of the Oudh Rent Act. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees that the evils caused by the protraction of ejectment proceedings beyond the end of the agricultural year are very real, but the remedy suggested cannot be applied until the rent law is amended.

20. The decrease in the number of notices of relinquishment by tenants in the Agra Division, and especially in Mainpuri and Etah, is a hopeful sign of the improvement of the deteriorated tracts. Mr. Bird has made special and careful inquiries in Cawnpore into the cause of the resignation of their holdings by occupancy tenants. The result of the inquiry is to show "that the relinquishments of occupancy holdings are not the direct result of ill-feeling between landlords and tenants; but that many landlords in Cawnpore have practically ceased to help their tenants, and that there are a good many occupancy holdings which cannot be profitably cultivated at their present rents." Considering the high prices of produce, and in view of the facts in other districts, it is difficult to believe that the present rents in Cawnpore have proved excessive, or that there is less demand for land in this district than elsewhere.

21. The question of illegal enhancements of rent in Oudh, and of the prevalence of methods by which, without actually breaking the law, the landlord systematically adds to his income without adding to his rentroll, was discussed in last year's review. Many important facts have been collected in paragraph 71 of your report. Further inquiries are being made, but in the Bara Banki District and in many estates the practice of taking premia from sitting tenants as a condition of renewal appears to be general. Cases have come to light in which the tenant was induced to execute a bond for the amount of the illegal enhancement, payable by annual instalments spread over the term of his tenancy. The Lieutenant-Governor cannot at present do more than call attention to the great importance of the inquiry which is being made, and request that when it is complete the Board will report their views regarding the amendment or removal of the provisions of the Oudh Rent Act which limit enhancement. The legal limitation of enhancement to one anna in the rupee of the former rent appears to be systematically evaded. The landholders exercise their ingenuity to devise means of evading the law; the tenants are not as a fact protected, and the present law which can with difficulty be defended on economic grounds has seemingly become a dead letter. Meanwhile additional light will be thrown on the subject by the inquiries of the officers conducting the settlements which are now in progress, and an amendment of the Oudh assessment rules may be found necessary so as to secure to the State its fair share of the profits from land obtained by these methods. Those landholders who resort to these devices will deserve little consideration. Their village papers are false and fictitious. And a full assessment at half the value given by the settlement rents-rates may justly be imposed.

22. There were 3,016 appeals for disposal by Judges: 1,444 were pending at the close of the year, and of these 1,005 had been pending for more than three months. The pending file has risen in Oudh from 657 to 868 cases, and the average duration, which in 1889-90 was five months and nine days, is now seven months and 23 days for both Provinces. The work appears to be falling seriously into arrear, and the figures in the statement will be brought to the notice of the High Court and of the Judicial Commissioner.

23. The defects in the existing provisions of the North-Western Provinces Rent Act regarding appeals have before now been brought to the notice of Government, and will demand the attention of the Legislative Department when the time comes for amending the Act.

Coercive processes. Paragraphs 84 to 86.

24. The statistics of coercive processes indicate generally that the revenue was collected with less difficulty than in the previous year. In Sitapur the system of serving writs of demand through the post at the usual fixed charge of 12 annas has proved a success. The number of writs has fallen, and the landowners have escaped the petty exactions of the process-servers. The Board have extended the system to all the districts of Oudh and propose to utilise the post office in the North-Western Provinces also for the service of writs of demand. There seems to be no objection, provided that there exists a sufficient staff of village postmen to ensure the delivery of letters promptly and to the right persons.

Partitions. Paragraph 96.

25. The Members of the Board have satisfied themselves by personal inspection that the rules for partitions are well observed, and that work is carried out with care and promptitude. It is found that the work is best done when entrusted to a single selected officer in each district. On the subject of employing amins engaged on a fixed salary the report of the Board will be awaited. There must be many qualified men with settlement and survey experience who if assured of regular employment would take service. The Lieutenant-Governor concurs with the Board in their view that many partitions now carried out as perfect partitions should be imperfect only, but this reform involves an amendment of the Revenue Act.

Advances under the Land Improvement Loans Act. Paragraphs 97 and 98.

26. The reasons for the paucity of applications for loans under the Land Improvement Loans Act were discussed last year. This year the number and amount of advances shows no great variation in their distribution. The eastern divisions do not apply for advances. The active interest of the District Officers of Hardoi and Bara Banki in encouraging advances is again conspicuous.

27. In Muzaffarnagar and Jhánsi settlement operations were closed, and the Board have now under consideration the final reports of the Saháranpur and Muzaffarnagar Districts. In Garhwál good progress was made in the survey of the southern parganas to which the cadastral operations have been restricted; but owing to the appearance of scarcity in the district, the Settlement Officer was unable to begin inspection work in April 1892 as originally intended. In order to meet the wishes of the Government of India regarding the method of assessment to be adopted in this district, a revised draft of rules for the assessment of the revenue has been drawn up by the Board, in communication with the Commissioner and the Settlement Officer, and it will shortly be submitted for approval.

Settlement operations. Paragraphs 117 to 127.

In the Kumaun-Bhábar the inspection and assessment of 164 villages was completed, and new rates were imposed and collected during the year in the directly managed villages. The assessment of 22 settled villages was held in abeyance owing to delay in obtaining certain information with regard to the fiscal history of some of them; but the Settlement Officer hoped to complete the work and to collect the increased revenue during the current year.

The inspection for assessment of several parganas in Unao was finished during the year, and the revised assessments of four parganas, comprising an area of 481 square miles, have been sanctioned by the Board. The increase in revenue aggregated Rs. 65,777.

In Partábgarh the maps and records were revised in one pargana, and the greater portion of the records were prepared; but the assessment report was not completed by the Settlement Officer till after the close of the year. In Rae Bareli good progress was made in the preliminary work of map and record correction.

28. Very satisfactory progress has been made in the revision of patwáris' circles. In the matter of pay schedules in Muzaffarnagar and Saháranpur, due regard has been paid to the higher standard of living, and the more respected and responsible position of the patwáris in the western districts. The Lieutenant-Governor concurs with the opinion of the Board that some portion of the surplus in the patwári fund cannot be devoted to a better object than improving the pay and prospects of patwáris. It has not been found possible to effect a general revision of circles and pay schedules in the Oudh districts, but advantage is taken of vacancies to improve existing arrangements preparatory to a more systematic revision when the new settlements have been completed.

Patwáris and Kanúngos. Paragraphs 128 to 136, and report of Director of Land Records and Agriculture.

Excluding Almora and Garhwál, 29,664 patwáris were employed in the Provinces, of whom 21,111, or 71 per cent., had passed through the school course and qualified in the prescribed examination. The total number of patwáris (5,352) who were exempted from examination was considerably in excess of that shown last year. As remarked by the Board, the number of exemptions should steadily diminish if the rules are properly understood and observed, and I am to convey approval of the Director of Land Records and Agriculture's suggestion that inquiry should be made as to the reason in all cases in which an increase is reported.

The number of patwáris and assistant patwáris who have still to receive instruction is considerable in some districts, notably at Allahabad (528) and at Basti (523). The Government had occasion to comment last year on the large number of untrained men in the Basti District, and the Commissioner of Gorakhpur was directed to give his immediate attention to the matter. It is to be hoped there will be an improvement in this respect during the current year, not only in Basti, but in the other districts where the number requiring training is shown to be unduly high.

The Lieutenant-Governor notices with satisfaction that the kánúngo school, which was experimentally started at Cawnpore, has proved successful, and is distinctly a useful institution. One hundred and twenty-five kánúngos appeared for examination, of whom 88 passed fully and 36 in part. There was but one failure.

The percentage of patwáris resident in their circles has, in the North-Western Provinces, steadily decreased. It now stands at 84 as compared with 85 in the previous year, and 86 in 1889-90. While a few districts show a great improvement in the proportion of resident patwáris, a falling off since last year is apparent in Saháranpur, Muzaffarnagar, Aligarh, Sháhjahánpur, Hamírpur, Gorakhpur, Azamgarh and Farukhabad. The changes made in the arrangement of patwáris' circles may account for the decrease in some of these districts; but, as the Board suggest, the subject demands the continued effort of the Collectors.

The village papers were generally filed with creditable punctuality, and show an improvement over last year, when some delay was caused by the employment of the patwáris on census work. The percentage of fields tested by kánúngos rose from 7·96 in 1890-91 to 8·44 in the year under review; and 13·07 per cent. of the fields were retested by superior officers as compared with 12·79 per cent. in the previous year. Systematic arrangements are reported to have been made in several districts to secure the testing of every village by some officer of the district staff once at least in three years, and the Board are of opinion that in all districts similar arrangements should be made at an early date. I am to request that the Board will issue the necessary instructions to the District Officers concerned.

It is said that although repeated orders have been issued drawing the attention of District Officers to the importance of examining and checking the pargana books, in a few districts only have notes been recorded in them. A revised form of pargana book, which will give more information and be of more practical value than the one now in use, has recently been sanctioned, and is to be worked out by an officer who has been placed on special duty. The Lieutenant-Governor attaches great importance to the pargana book, which, if properly maintained and periodically examined, will keep the Collector informed of the state of his district, and will prevent the delay in recommending remedial measures which has been noticed in Etah and other districts.

In future Collectors must report specifically for each pargana, whether the book has been written up, and the name of the officer who has examined it. It will be the duty of Commissioners to see that the books are kept up, and to report at once to the Board any failure to obey the instructions on this point. It must be understood that the Lieutenant-Governor intends that these orders should be obeyed.

It would appear from the Director's report that a system has been introduced in the Gházipur District of remitting the pay of patwáris by money-orders. The Board very rightly hold this system to be one of doubtful expediency, as it entails a compulsory reduction of the patwári's salary for commission, and renders unnecessary his periodical visits to the tahsíl to draw his pay. The system in its present form at any rate should be discontinued.

29. In conclusion I am to convey the thanks of the Government to the Board for their efficient administration, and for the concise, clear and suggestive report in which the results of the year have been reviewed. To the Divisional and District Officers of both Provinces the acknowledgments of Government are due for the manner in which the revenue business of the year was conducted, and for the punctuality with which their reports were submitted.

I have the honor to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient servant,

J. J. D. LATOUCHE,

Chief Secy. to Govt., N.-W. P., and Oudh.

GENERAL SECRETARIAT LIBRARY

REPORT

ON THE

REVENUE ADMINISTRATION,

N.-W. PROVINCES AND OUDH,

For the Revenue year 1893-94.

No. $\frac{615}{\text{XII}-163}$ OF 1895.

FROM

F. L. PETRE, ESQ., C.S.,

OFFICIATING SECRETARY TO THE BOARD OF REVENUE, NORTH-WESTERN PROVINCES AND OUDH,

TO

THE SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT,
NORTH-WESTERN PROVINCES AND OUDH,
REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Allahabad, the 5th March 1895.

SIR,

Present:
THE HON'BLE G. ADAMS
AND
W. E. NEALE, ESQ.

I AM directed to submit, with the usual enclosures, the Board's report on the Revenue Administration of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh for the year ending on the 30th September 1894.

2. The office of Senior Member was held by Mr. Cadell from the beginning of the year till the 28th December 1893, during Mr. Reid's absence on leave. Mr. Moule officiated as Junior Member during this period. Mr. Reid retired from the service on the 27th March 1894, and was succeeded, as Senior Member, by Mr. Cadell, Mr. Adams being appointed Junior Member. The latter officiated as Senior Member from the 8th August 1894 till the end of the year, during Mr. Cadell's absence on privilege leave, and Mr. Neale officiated as Junior Member for the same period.

3. The only reports which were seriously late were those of Benares and Meerut. The Commissioner of Benares (Mr. D. T. Roberts) was necessarily placed at a disadvantage owing to his recent assumption of charge. The Meerut report did not commence to come in till the beginning of January, and was not received complete till the 11th January. This report was very late in the last three years also. The Commissioner excuses the delay on the grounds that he only received the draft report from his office on the 20th December, when he was much occupied with excise reports and with the Lieutenant-Governor's tour, and that the report from Aligarh was not received finally corrected till the 8th December. The Board trust that the Commissioner will take measures to insist on punctual submission of district reports, and to ensure the prompt submission of his own in future.

PART I.

Chapter I.—AGRICULTURAL.

SEC. I.—RAINFALL AND HARVESTS. App. I.

4. The monsoon of 1893, on which depended the kharif crop of 1893-94, commenced unusually early. Indeed, in some places it is difficult to say when it really did commence; for instance, in Jhánsi and Jalaun there was rain all through May.

But, in general, it may perhaps be said that the rains began about the middle of June and were continuous and, in parts, excessive during the months of July, August and September. They were particularly heavy in Dehra Dún. Their cessation in September was followed by another heavy fall in October, causing considerable damage in some parts, to a kharif harvest already to some extent injured by excessive moisture. The winter rains were fairly up to the average, but in many districts they were untimely, and the rabi crops were seriously injured by blight and rust consequent on prolonged cloudy weather, especially in the Bundelkhand districts of the Allahabad Division. Further injury was caused by high winds in the latter months of the cold season.

5. Breaks were not of long duration, but were generally sufficient, after the monsoon had once fully set in, except in the Agra Division, where there were long breaks in July, August and September, which appear, however, to have had no serious effects; and in the Meerut district, where rain ceased from the end of July to the end of August. Great heat in the latter part of July, during a break, damaged the rice crop in Jhánsi, but in the Allahabad Division, as a whole, the breaks were timely, and the rice crop was above the average. In parts, chiefly Oudh and the two eastern divisions, heavy and continuous rain was detrimental, to a greater or less extent, to the kharif crop and in retarding rabi sowings. Floods also caused some injury.

6. The kharíf crop was generally good in the Meerut and Agra Divisions. In Rohilkhand the Commissioner characterises it as "moderate to fair." In Allahabad, whilst better than that of last year, it was, in some districts, indifferent, owing to unseasonable rain in October. In the Gorakhpur Division it is reported as fair, on the whole, though damaged by heavy rain, and in Benares injury resulted from the same cause, though the crop was better than that of last year. In both divisions of Oudh this crop was injured by heavy rain and floods, and in Lucknow it was very poor.

7. The prospects of the rabi harvest were at first exceedingly promising, but the winter rains were in many districts untimely, either excessive or deficient in amount, and interspersed with long spells of cloudy weather. High winds in February, March and April also did damage in a number of districts. The injury from excessive winter rains and cloudy weather was most serious in the Bundelkhand districts of the Allahabad Division. Considerable remissions of rent and revenue were necessitated by the injury to the wheat crop from blight and rust, due to this cause, in the southern parts of the Jhánsi and Hamírpur districts. The rabi of the Meerut, Agra and Rohilkhand Divisions was good, and in the last named the sugar crop (which was everywhere good) was remarkably fine. In Benares and Gorakhpur, as well as in Oudh, the rabi also suffered from the effects of cloudy weather in the cold season. In Kumaun the Garhwál district suffered from the winter rain, and there was some distress among the people in parts, as also in a small part of the Almora district. An indifferent kharif in Almora was, however, followed by a generally full rabi. In Naini Tal the rabi was affected by the winter rains and was poor.

For the province, as a whole, the year may be taken as a fair one, though inferior to its predecessor. The recorded rainfall in Bulandshahr (17 inches) is clearly erroneous and, though the Commissioner remarked last year on this subject, he regrets to find no improvement. The Collector will be asked to see that more care is taken with this matter. The Collector of Aligarh has made inquiries and found some of his rain-gauges inaccurate, a fact which is also proved by the low record of 23·7 inches against a five-year average of 27·8.

8. The following figures given by the Director show the average estimated outturn of the principal crops for the entire province. The averages of the previous year are also given for comparison, 16 annas representing a full crop:—

	1892-93.	1893-94.
Cotton	... 10	10
Rice	... 12	14
Sugar	... 11	13

	1892-93.	1893-94.
Jowar	... 14	11
Bajra	... 13	11
Wheat	... 13	11
Barley	... 14	12
Gram	... 13	12
Opium	... 14	12
Linseed and rapeseed	... 13	11
Tobacco...	... 15	14

Rice and maize are the only staples which show a better outturn than last year. There is a falling off in the remaining crops, except cotton, and it is most marked in the case of jowar, bajra, wheat, barley, linseed and rape.

9. The following summary of the character of the rains of 1894 and the prospects of the current year is taken from the half-yearly Agricultural Report of the Director of Land Records and Agriculture:—

"The rains of 1894 commenced by the middle of June; and were generally favourable to the sowing of the kharif crops. They were fairly continuous from the latter part of June up to the beginning of July. There was a break in the second fortnight of July, which benefitted the crops and permitted their weeding. In August and the earlier part of September the rainfall was continuous and abnormally heavy, submerging low land and drowning the plants over large areas. In the second half of September the rainfall was generally light. In October it was extraordinarily heavy in the eastern and central districts, causing disastrous inundations in many places. The rainfall from 1st June to 31st October was in very great excess in all divisions, and was more than double the normal in Fyzabad. Except in some of the submontane tracts, the rainfall of 1894 was timely in its commencement, but its main feature has been the continuance of exceptionally heavy rain throughout the province to an unusually late period with few breaks, except for short intervals in July and September. The proper weeding of the crops was rendered impossible during the greater part of the season. Almost all the crops were damaged by the heavy rain, especially by the extraordinarily heavy falls in October, which in some parts almost entirely destroyed the millets and autumn pulses. The rice crops fared better except on low-lying lands, where they were in many cases destroyed by floods. The damage done by floods in Azamgarh, Jaunpur and Lucknow has attracted particular attention, but in numerous other districts similar injury was caused. In the province, as a whole, the yield of the kharif crops has been exceptionally poor this year, and but for the large importations from the Panjáb of grain (chiefly gram), which is to be seen in the bazars in some of the most outlying tracts, there would have been very considerable distress. The losses of the agriculturists from cattle disease were also severe in some districts. The following table shows the average condition of the principal crops for the united provinces for the present and previous two years on the average of the figures furnished by district officers:—

	Condition in number of annas, 16 annas denoting a full condition.

10. Jhánsi, Jalaun and Sitapur were the plains districts in which the crops were damaged by hail to such an extent as to necessitate remission of revenue to the amount of Rs. 6,857. In the Bhábar and Tarai portions of the Naini Tal district remissions of rent on the Government estates, to a small extent, were made on account of damage by hail. Hail also fell in many other districts, but the damage done was slight and relief was not necessary. In addition to the remissions of revenue sanctioned for damage due to hail, Rs. 34,508 had to be remitted in Hamrípur and Jhánsi on account of the injury from rust to the wheat crop to which reference has already been made.

11. The floods of the rains of 1893 were not excessive considering the heavy rainfall. In Farukhabad the Ganges Khádir was flooded from the end of July 1894 to the beginning of September. In Dehra Dún floods in the torrents that intersect the Dún were very heavy. In Bijnor a panic was started in 1894 by exaggerated reports, brought over from Saháranpur and Muzaffarnagar, regarding the expected bursting of the Gohna Dam. Every effort was made by the Collector to reassure the people, but in most of the Khádir villages they went away in a body and very little kharif was sown. The actual bursting of the lake did little or no damage in the plains as the Ganges happened to be low at the time of its occurrence. There were other floods in various places along the course of the larger rivers. The Gumti especially did considerable damage both in October 1893 and September 1894 and the Ghogra rose very high in the close of the year. The most serious floods, however, will find mention in the reports of the current year rather than in those of the year of report.

Locusts appeared in Dehra Dún during the year, but they did little or no damage to the crops.

SEC. III.—HEALTH.

12. The year compares, in the matter of the public health, very unfavourably with its predecessor, except in the Himalayan tracts where it was healthy. Elsewhere it was a decidedly unhealthy one. The heavy rains of 1894 gave rise to a general increase in the mortality from fever and cholera was very severe in many districts. Small-pox alone, of the diseases which ordinarily cause the greatest mortality, does not show any marked increase. The ravages of cholera were most severe in the Gorakhpur and Lucknow Divisions. In the Gorakhpur district there were 19,760 deaths from this cause against 709 last year. There were severe outbreaks of the disease in Hardoi, Unao, Lucknow, Cawnpore, Fatehpur, Allahabad, Bánda, Jaunpur and Ballia. The mortality from cholera was also heavy in Farukhabad, Mainpuri and Etáwah and in the Trans-Gogra portion of the Fyzabad Division. One peculiarity of the outbreak in Lucknow, was the persistent way in which the disease confined itself to one only of the European regiments. In Farukhabad, on the other hand, the European troops escaped the disease entirely. Speaking generally, the year was a bad one in respect of cholera and the Commissioner of Allahabad believed that, notwithstanding the elaborate sanitary precautions adopted, the great fair at Allahabad was the centre from which the disease originated and thence spread over the country.

13. Malarial fever everywhere showed a great rise in mortality. Atmospheric causes may probably account for this. Very heavy rain, preceded and followed by great heat, produces abnormal conditions of temperature which quickly affect the people who, at this period of the year, are perhaps more poorly sheltered and fed than at other times. The Board, in this connexion, would draw the attention of Government to the arrangements made in Bengal for selling small doses of quinine through village postmasters and others. They think that the system might well be tried in these provinces, the agency used being that of post-masters, tahsildárs, thanadárs, patwáris and pound-keepers. The drug might be sold in one pice packets of five grains each with instructions, for explanation by the vendors to the purchasers, printed in vernacular on each packet.

An outbreak of Mahamarri is reported from one village in Garhwál where a whole family, notwithstanding the precautions taken, died of the disease.

SEC. IV.—CATTLE DISEASE.

14. For cattle, as well as for human beings, the year was generally unhealthy. In the majority of the districts of the Meerut and Agra Division rinderpest and foot and mouth disease were a cause of serious loss. The mortality was especially severe from various types of disease in Etáwah which suffered last year also. Cawnpore alone of the districts of the Allahabad Division did not suffer specially from cattle disease. In Jhánsi 15,000 cattle died, chiefly from pleuro-pneumonia, but, as the mortality was rather among graziers' herds than among plough cattle, its consequences were less serious than they might have been. Disease was severe in the Tarai and caused some falling off in the rent of Government villages owing to deaths of plough cattle. There was also a severe outbreak of surra among the tonga ponies on the Naini Tal and Dehra Dún roads, and there was an epidemic of cattle disease in three parganas of Almora. In Rohilkhand, foot and mouth disease, rinderpest and dysentery were unusually prevalent. In the Gorakhpur and Benares Divisions only of the North-Western Provinces does the year appear to have been normal in this respect. In the Lucknow Division the mortality was greatest in Unao and Kheri. In the Fyzabad Division, Partábgarh and Bahraich show serious mortality due, in the latter case, chiefly to a form of dysentery. Most of the cattle disease reported is of the usual type, rinderpest, foot and mouth disease, dysentery and the like; but in Allahabad an unrecognised form of disease, the chief symptoms of which were swollen jaw, discharge from the mouth and passing of blood, is reported. Owing to no veterinary assistant being available for the district, the disease was not properly diagnosed. The difficulties noted last year, in inducing the people to take proper measures to prevent the spread of cattle disease, continue to be felt by Collectors and the Salutris of the Civil Veterinary Department.

SEC. V.—PRICES. App. E.—I.

15. Prices of food grains were again generally low and even easier than last year. The year as has been shown, was, as regards both its harvests, a fair one though not so good as last year. Still, with a fairly good year following on a very good one, it is not surprising to find prices keeping down and it is not necessary to seek for a cause in the fall of foreign exports. Nevertheless, several districts report increasing imports of wheat, barley, gram and Indian corn from the Panjáb as tending to keep down prices, and the fact seems to point to the export trade from that province setting, to some extent, in a direction away from Europe. The fodder supply was sufficient.

Chapter II.—FINANCIAL.

SEC. I.—INTRODUCTORY.

16. The total receipts from the several sources of revenue treated of in this report amount to Rs. 7,52,65,540, against Rs. 7,49,20,450 in the previous year, showing an increase of Rs. 3,45,090. The details are given in the following table :—

SEC. II.—LAND REVENUE ON THE ROLL.

App. A.—I.

Collections on account of the current demand.

18. The demand, collections and balances of the land revenue on the roll for the year under report were as follow :—

GRAND TOTAL ...	5,94,90,937	5,92,75,291	2,15,646	99·3	99·6

Compared with the demand for the previous year, there was an increase of Rs. 14,345 in the North-Western Provinces and of Rs. 1,31,060 in Oudh. The total increase of Rs. 1,45,405 is composed chiefly of the enhancements of land revenue declared at the regular revision of the settlement of the Jhansi district and a portion of the Unao and Partábgarh districts. The percentage of the total demand collected was 99·6 per cent., or ·3 per cent. higher than in 1892-93. If the nominal balances, that will eventually be removed from the accounts, are eliminated, the percentage of the collections rises to 99·84, against 99·51 in the previous year. The percentages, thus calculated in the different divisions, are given in the following table :—

	1892-93.	1893-94.
Meerut	99·91	99·99
Agra	98·39	99·85
Rohilkhand	99·77	99·92
Allahabad	98.96	99·5
Benares	99·92	99·57
Gorakhpur	99·4	99·99
Kumaun	99·95	99·63
Total, N.-W. P. ...	99·35	99·8
Lucknow	100	99·98
Fyzabad	100	99·99
Total, Oudh ...	100	99·98
GRAND TOTAL ...	99·51	99·84

The total balance is thus classified :—

	Rs.
(1) Recoverable	51,085
(2) Doubtful	388
(3) Irrecoverable	41,365
(4) Nominal	1,22,808
Total ...	2,15,646

The doubtful balance was held under suspension pending orders as to its remission; it has since been adjusted. The entire irrecoverable balance represents remissions granted on account of damage done by rust to the wheat crop in parts of the Bundelkhand tracts in the Allahabad division, and to injury caused by hail. The wheat crop in portions of the three districts of Hamírpur, Jhánsi and Jalaun was considerably damaged by rust but, as wheat in Bundelkhand is frequently grown with gram, and as in some parts of the country the gram and alsi crops were good, and in a great measure made up for the injury done to the wheat, the proposals for relief were considered in detail, in order to ascertain whether the total outturn of the rabi was insufficient to meet the rent and revenue demand. Relief was granted only in cases where the loss was serious. The total loss of land revenue from this cause was Rs. 34,508. No remissions were considered necessary in Jalaun. Remissions on account of damage by hail in Jhánsi, Jalaun and Sitapur account for the remaining Rs. 6,857.

The nominal balance is made up of reductions and remissions sanctioned by competent authority. The amount includes the following reductions of revenue recently granted in deteriorated villages :—

	Rs.
(1) Cawnpore	1,821
(2) Hamírpur	9,807
(3) Jalaun	5,506
Total ...	17,134

These amounts do not represent the actual reductions, which are as follow :—

	Rs.
(1) Cawnpore	7,277
(2) Hamírpur	12,936
(3) Jalaun	5,558
Total ...	25,771

The relief granted in Cawnpore was the result of inquiries made by the Collector into the condition of a large number of estates in which the statistics of the pargana book showed that the cultivated area had decreased. Out of these, twenty villages were selected as requiring immediate relief. The deterioration of the villages was traced to a succession of unfavourable seasons and to the spread of kans and other grass. In Hamírpur a large number of villages, which are owned by the poorer proprietors, have deteriorated since the last regular settlement from causes beyond the control of the proprietors; and, as the term of settlement of the district had been extended by ten years, it was decided to grant relief at once in those villages the assessment of which pressed heavily. A number of villages have been inspected; the assessments of 109 mahals have been proposed for reduction with effect from the year under report, and a few more villages will probably be added to the list. Since settlement, Jalaun has entered on a period of agricultural depression and in many villages deterioration is observable. The condition of such villages has formed the subject of careful inquiries and is still receiving special attention. The assessments of 105 mahals were reduced by Rs. 26,192 in the previous year; 46 mahals received relief in 1893-94 to the extent of Rs. 5,558, and in a few more mahals the revenue demand will probably be lowered. Of the remainder, Rs. 20,055 are due to territorial transfers under the deep stream rules, Rs. 63,407 to loss by diluvion, and Rs. 12,406 are on account of life muafis.

The recoverable balance was Rs. 51,085. Of this, Rs. 28,203 were recovered, either within the year and brought to account in 1894-95, or shortly after the close of the year under report, leaving, for future adjustment, Rs. 22,882, details of which are given below. The amount includes Rs. 11,718 which was held under suspension, or uncollected in villages that suffered from floods. If this sum is deducted, the real balance will be reduced to Rs. 11,164 :—

	Rs.
(1) Held under suspension	3,785
(2) Due from villages which suffered from floods	7,933
(3) Due from defaulters residing in other districts	1,404
(4) Due from attached estates	8,964
(5) Under recovery	796
Total ...	22,882

19. The district details given in appendix A.—I show that the whole of the realizable demand was collected in all the districts in Oudh, except Sitapur, Kheri and Partabgarh, and in sixteen districts in the North-Western Provinces, viz., Saharanpur, Muzaffarnagar, Meerut, Aligarh, Muttra, Moradabad, Fatehpur, Allahabad, Benares, Mirzapur, Ballia, Gorakhpur, Basti, Azamgarh, Naini Tal, and Garhwál. Partabgarh and Jaunpur might fairly be added to the list. In the former district, by a mistake, the full revised revenue was not demanded in one case; the amount was paid by the proprietor concerned as soon as the mistake was explained to him. The balance shown in Jaunpur was paid on the 30th September but, that day being a Sunday, the money could not be credited in the accounts till the following day. In all the districts in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, in which the land revenue demand was largely enhanced at the recent revisions of Settlement, the entire realizable demand was collected, except in Jhánsi and Bulandshahr, where the balance is very trifling and has doubtless been collected since. In Unao and Partábgarh, where revisional operations are in progress, the enhanced assessments were collected without difficulty. The new demand is thus clearly neither excessive nor oppressive.

20. The divisional and district balances may be explained as follows. None of them are serious in amount. In many cases they have been collected already, and for the recovery of the rest proper steps have been taken.

The balance in the Meerut and Kumaun Divisions amounts to Rs. 2,636, of which Rs. 332 have since been recovered; Rs. 1,816 were held under suspension in Almora on account of the scarcity that prevailed in parts of the district, and injury done to crops by hail. Rohilkhand returns a realizable balance of Rs. 5,782. Over 40 per cent. of this was got in soon after the close of the year, and Rs. 75 will be removed from the accounts as the estate from which the amount was due has been taken under direct management under section 159 of the Revenue Act. The bulk of the remainder of the arrears could not be collected on acco unt of damage caused by floods.

21. The collections in the Allahabad Division were very satisfactory, all circumstances considered. The wheat crop in a considerable area of Bundelkhand was more or less seriously damaged by blight, and Jhánsi and Jalaun also suffered from hail; yet, in the whole division, the recoverable balance, including Rs. 1,969 held under suspension, was Rs. 8,213 only, and Rs. 748 of this sum was recovered soon after the close of the year; Rs. 7,465 thus remained for future adjustment. Rupees 1,969 are due from Raja Daulat Singh of Sikri in Jalaun. The realization of the amount was postponed pending orders on his petition that his estate be taken under the management of the Court of Wards. Attached estates are responsible for Rs. 4,608; State properties in Banda and Jalaun, and an estate under the Court of Wards in Banda, owe Rs. 615, which could not be adjusted for want of funds.

22. The Benares Division shows Rs. 20,255 outstanding, but Rs. 19,958 of this, which were due from the Raja of Jaunpur, were recovered on the last day of the year, which was Sunday, and could therefore only be credited in the accounts for the current year. Gházipur was practically the only district in the division which had a recoverable balance; and here it was trifling, viz., Rs. 297. Shortly after the close of the year Rs. 169 were got in and the rest will probably have to be recovered by transfer of the defaulter's share. The collections in the Gorakhpur Division are extremely satisfactory and creditable to the district administration. In Basti and Gorakhpur, where the land revenue demand was recently largely enhanced at the regular revision of Settlement, not only was the whole of the recoverable demand collected without diffieulty, but, in the latter district, Rs. 7,349 were also received in advance on account of the demand for 1894-95. For the first time for several years Azamgarh has returned a clear balance sheet.

23. The revenue collections in the Agra division show a considerable improvement compared with the previous year. The total real balance is Rs 12,176, against Rs. 30,370 in 1892-93. Over 67·4 per cent., or Rs. 8,211 of this, is outstanding in Farukhabad alone. The greater portion of the balance in this district was due from 136 villages in tahsíl Aligarh, where the revenue collections are usually difficult on account of the minute subdivision of property. The non-collection this year was, however, due to the villages having been entirely flooded by the heavy rains of the latter part of the season. Nevertheless, but for the want of energy of the tahsildar, the amount would have been recovered before this calamity occurred. Two other villages in Farukhabad are responsible for Rs. 1,128; the accounts have, probably, since been adjusted from the sale-proceeds of the properties. Muttra was clear. In Agra, Rs. 893 were outstanding. Of this, Rs. 121 have since been recovered, and Rs 772 are due from attached estates. The Chaudhri of Bishangarh, who has given considerable trouble in collections of the Government dues for some years, is responsible for nearly the whole of the balance of Rs. 2,597 in Mainpuri; the defaulting villages were proclaimed for sale, but, as usual, the Chaudhri paid the arrears on the date fixed for the sale. For the rest, which is due from an habitually defaulting village, the transfer of the defaulter's share will be necessary. Etáwah shows a trifling amount, viz., Rs. 283, of which Rs. 100 have been realized, and the remainder will be adjusted by sale of the property.

Etah shows only Rs. 192, against Rs. 1,840 in the previous year. The amount would have been paid within the year if the sale of the defaulting patti Piran Koer, had not been stayed. This estate formed the subject of much correspondence. Government approved the sale of the property, but subsequent inquiries showed that the defaulters were not the actual owners, but only mortgagees in possession. The Board, therefore, thought it fairer to the mortgagors to annul the Settlement. The property will either be farmed to the proprietors (mortgagors) or taken under direct management. The district was thus practically clear, both in the case of land revenue and of canal dues. An examination of the previous reports will show that in one year (1882-83) alone during the last twenty, has the district returned a clean balance sheet under both heads. Considering the period of difficulty the district has recently passed through, 1893-94 is decidedly the best year, as regards collections, on record during the past two decades. This satisfactory result has been obtained, in a great measure, by Mr. Galbraith's commendable management of this important branch of the district administration.

From a revenue point of view, the division is now in a decidedly satisfactory condition. It is practically up to date with the land revenue collections, which result, no doubt, is mainly due to the measures taken in the previous year to enforec punctual payment of the Government dues; and cultivation is extending rapidly. In Etah alone nearly 40,000 acres of new cultivation has been recorded since the revision of the assessment of the deteriorated villages. Valuable crops of rice and sugarcane in parts of the district have taken the place of the marshes of the last ten or twenty years and the income from this source alone will add considerably to the assets of the landholders concerned. The relief from over-assessment given by the late revisional operations has, no doubt, tended to this result, but Mr. Neale is of opinion that the real agent in extending cultivation has been the drainage recently carried out by the Irrigation Department. In the districts of Agra and Muttra the villages protected from wild cattle on the Bhurtpur frontier by the wire fence are steadily increasing in prosperity. Cultivation has been largely extended, and there has been a corresponding rise in the assets of the tenantry and landholders. The assessments of many of these villages will be revised during the current year, and in some of them the reduced revenue demand will be again enhanced.

In Oudh Rs. 2,023 were outstanding, composed of the following items: (1) Rs. 1,000, difference between the revised revenue of a taluka in Partábgarh actually demanded and that payable; (2) Rs. 688 due from a Court of Wards' estate owing to the assessment of some alluvial land in Sitapur being under dispute; (3) Rs. 281 outstanding in Sitapur in certain pattidari estates where the collections are made with difficulty; and (4) Rs. 54 due from an attached estate in Kheri. Rupees 1,934 have since been collected, and the rest, which is composed of petty sums payable by six pattidari estates and the attached estate, has probably been collected by this time.

App. A.—II. Outstanding balances of previous years.

24. A number of villages of the Chaudhri of Bishangarh in Farukhabad, which had been mortgaged by him, fell into arrear and were sold in the previous year. The arrears were satisfied and the balance of the sale-proceeds was, with the consent of the Chaudhri, applied to defraying the land revenue of some other villages

The mortgagees raised objections to this and claimed this surplus balance which was thereupon, as provided in section 185 of the Revenue Act, refunded to the Chaudhri. Consequently, a portion of the revenue for 1892-93 that had formerly been held as adjusted has been again brought on the accounts and treated as a balance at the commencement of 1893-94. This, and other corrections in the district accounts of Etah and Gházipur, account for the difference between the arrears given in the returns for 1892-93 and those shown in the appendix for the year under report. The total arrears aggregated Rs. 4,83,281. Of this, Rs. 3,90,667 were removed from the accounts during the year under report, and the sum of Rs. 1,587, classed as nominal in the appendix, will be remitted in 1894-95. The real balance was thus Rs. 91,027, of which Rs. 70,744 were recovered within the year, and Rs. 17 soon after its close, leaving Rs. 20,266 still outstanding. Nearly 71 per cent. of this consists of the arrears due from the Chaudhri of Bishangarh, which, for the reasons explained already, were brought on the accounts. The sale of the defaulting villages was, under the Commissioner's orders, postponed to the 11th December 1894, with a view to allow time to the Chaudhri, who professes to have made better arrangements for the management of his property. Mr. Neale, however, fears that it is too late for any such arrangements to do much good. These arrears will probably be collected shortly. Rupees 879 are held under suspension, and will be recovered in due course. Rupees 5,029 are payable by attached estates and State properties. Over 69·3 per cent. of this is outstanding in Etah and Badaun. In the former district, Rs. 1,126, out of Rs. 1,278, are due from patti Piran Koer, reference to which has been made in paragraph 23. The amount will be duly adjusted when the arrangements for managing the property are complete. The amount in Budaun is due from three villages that are apparently over-assessed. Attachment will be continued till they are reached by the regular settlement which is in progress in the district, and endeavours will be made meanwhile to improve their condition.

Advance collections of land revenue on the roll.

25. Including the opening balance of Rs. 80,313, the total amount for adjustment was Rs. 27,51,720. Of this, Rs. 26,74,369 were credited and Rs. 1,103 refunded, leaving Rs. 76,248 for future adjustment.

App. A.—III.
Demand, collections and balances of land revenue not on the roll.

26. Particulars of the demand under this head of account, which fluctuates from year to year, are given in Appendix E.—IV. Including the recoverable arrears of the previous year, the demand was Rs. 1,48,353. Of this, Rs. 38,493 are on account of the enhanced land revenue assessed at the regular settlement of parts of the Garhwál and Unao districts, which was not brought on the revenue roll for 1893-94. The collections within the year, or shortly after its close, amounted to Rs. 1,40,187, and Rs. 784, being nominal, will be removed from the accounts. The real balance for future adjustment was thus Rs. 7,382, nearly all of which is due from mahals the assessments of which were sanctioned too late for collection in the year.

SEC. III.—ALTERATIONS IN THE DEMAND FOR LAND REVENUE ON THE ROLL.
App. A.—IV.

27. The demand for land revenue on the roll for the North-Western Provinces increased from Rs. 4,51,30,086 at the commencement of the year under report to Rs. 4,54,27,625 at its close; and that for Oudh rose from Rs. 1,43,60,851 to Rs. 1,44,20,707. The total increase was Rs. 3,57,394, which is composed chiefly of the increase due on progressive jamas in Bulandshahr, Gorakhpur and Basti, and the enhanced revenue of a portion of Garhwál and Unao, assessed at the regular revision of settlement.

SEC. IV.—TWELVE PER CENT. LOCAL RATES, N.-W. P.
Apps. A.—V. and A.—VI.
Local rates, current demand and balances.

28. The demand for local rates in the temporarily settled districts of the North-Western Provinces decreased from Rs. 50,16,727 in 1892-93 to Rs. 50,14,573 in the year under report, the chief cause being the recent reductions in the land revenue of deteriorated villages in Banda and Jalaun. The collections within the year amounted to Rs. 50,09,531, in addition to which Rs. 415 were realized shortly after the close of the year, leaving Rs. 4,627 outstanding, of which Rs. 1,160 only are recoverable, the remainder being either doubtful or irrecoverable. Details of the balances are given in Appendix E.—VII.

App. A.—VII.
Outstandings of previous years.

29. Statement II at the beginning of this chapter gives the demand, collections and balances of the arrears of local rates of the previous years. The real balance was Rs. 40, which was due from attached estates and has probably been collected already.

30. The entire recoverable demand, excepting Rs. 3, for settlement cesses and local rates on the roll in Oudh, was collected. There were no arrears of previous years for realization. The demand not on the roll was Rs. 3,838, of which Rs. 3,386 were collected and Rs. 69 are nominal, leaving Rs. 383 for future adjustment. The whole of this amount was due from alluvial mahâls in Bara Banki, the assessments of which were sanctioned late.

Outstandings of previous years.

31. The revised acreage rate and other cesses in the upland portion of the Mirzápur district were, as was explained in paragraph 31 of the report for 1891-92, erroneously levied and collected a year before the expiry of the term of the previous assessment. The excess collections were adjusted in the accounts for the year under report. The increase in the demand and recoveries in Ballia is nominal, as it is due to a territorial transfer of part of Ghâzipur to Ballia. The former district shows the amount due to this cause as a nominal balance instead of as a reduction in demand. Owing chiefly to these causes, the total demand was Rs. 2,074 below that for 1892-93. The collections were Rs. 5,86,847, leaving Rs. 7,827 outstanding, of which Rs. 4,233 have been collected since, and the rest is nominal, being composed principally of the demand of the villages in Ghâzipur transferred to Ballia. The whole of the real balance of the previous year was realized.

SEC. VI.—ACREAGE RATES AND OTHER CESSES, N.-W. P.
Apps. A.—VIII. AND A.—IX.

32. During the year 4,330 acres of land were appropriated, of which 3,797 were acquired permanently and 533 temporarily. The total compensation paid under both heads was Rs. 3,33,756, in addition to which revenue was reduced by Rs. 3,082 annually. The average rate of compensation per acre was Rs. 71-4-8 for the area acquired permanently, as compared with Rs. 71-10-7 in the preceding year. The average rate per acre for the area acquired temporarily has risen from Rs. 23-12-2 to Rs. 118-6-4; this high rate being due to Rs. 6,505 paid for 28½ acres of land taken up for a quarry by the Bareilly-Rampur-Moradabad Railway in Saháranpur, and 252¾ and 64¾ acres appropriated in the Bareilly and Moradabad districts at a cost of Rs. 22,137 and 31,177 respectively. Much of this was valuable suburban land adjoining the cities and the amounts paid included compensation for houses, trees, and standing crops.

SEC. VII.—ACQUISITION OF LAND.
App. A.—XIII.

In the Bareilly and Moradabad districts the acquisitions for railway purposes were dealt with by a special officer. A special officer has also been deputed in connection with the demarcation of land in the possession of the Cawnpore-Achnera Railway under Notification No. $\frac{2669}{II-143C.}$, dated 11th August 1894.

In 72 cases, in which land was acquired, compensation had not been paid up to the close of the year. In the previous year, there were 190 such cases. The oldest pending cases are in the following districts :—

Saháranpur	18th March 1890.
Benares	7th September 1892.
Gorakhpur	17th October 1892.
Lucknow	19th August 1892.
Gonda	14th June 1891.

The Board have examined the returns regarding the long pending cases. In most of them the delay seems to have been unavoidable.

Of the 17 districts of the North-Western Provinces that were reported to be backward in the proper maintenance of the appropriation registers, Nos. XIV and XV, all but Bulandshahr, Bareilly, Hamírpur and Benares, have now completed them. The attention of the Collectors of the above districts will be again drawn to the necessity of completing them as soon as possible. Attention is also being paid to the preparation of these registers in Oudh under the instructions issued by the Board in November 1893, and in Sultánpur they have been completed.

A memorandum is given at the foot of the appendix showing the cases in which land was acquired by Government without resorting to the provisions of Act I of 1894: 33 acres 1 rood and 37 poles were thus acquired during the year.

SEC. VIII.—RESUMPTION OF REVENUE-FREE HOLDINGS.
App. A.—XIV. C.

33. Sixty-nine revenue-free tenures, with a cultivated area of 6,788 acres lapsed and were assessed during the year to a revenue of Rs. 12,267; 37 cases out of the 69 belong to Oudh. Special attention was given to the personal verification of muafidars in the Lucknow Division and in Hardoi one very marked case of fraud was discovered. The matter is one which requires attention in Oudh as shown by this case. Thirty-eight cases remained unsettled at the close of the year. Two thousand five hundred and eighteen acres of grove land were assessed to a revenue of Rs. 5,947-6-0. The number of cases settled and reported was 1,059; 460 cases remain unsettled. The largest numbers of resumptions were in Saháranpur, Aligarh and Moradabad. The Collector of Aligarh notices that in one case the fact of a very large grove having been brought under cultivation had been successfully concealed, until the zamindars of the village fell out and the matter was brought to the notice of the Assistant Collector in charge of the pargana. Eventually the Collector assessed the land to a revenue of Rs. 240, being 55 per cent. of the assets, and dismissed the patwari.

Of the 460 cases of grove land that remained unsettled at the end of the year, 115 belong to the Basti district. There has been great delay, as well as carelessness, in regard to these cases in this district. No less than 74 cases had to be returned to the Collector by the Commissioner or the Board, the plots not having been inspected before the submission of the assessment proposals as required by the rules.

SEC. IX.—MISCELLANEOUS LAND REVENUE.
App. A.—XV.

34. Inclusive of the recoverable arrears of 1892-93 (Rs. 54) the total demand for the united provinces was Rs. 74,771. Of this sum all but Rs. 307 belong to the North-Western Provinces, and the demand was all collected except Rs. 141, on account of stone quarry receipts and water-mill rents in the Almora district. This is being recovered, except Rs. 2 remitted. The receipts from the Mirzapur stone quarries amounted to Rs. 56,834, as compared with Rs. 57,751 in the previous year. The difference is inconsiderable and calls for no remark. On a full consideration of the question of revising the rates of royalty, the Board have decided that it would not be expedient at present to lower the rates charged at the stone quarries, as it does not appear likely that the loss to revenue would be recouped by increased trade.

SEC. X.—CANAL OCCUPIERS' AND OWNERS' RATES.
App. A.—XVI.
Occupiers' rate, current demand.

35. The provincial demand for occupiers' rate was Rs. 50,95,938, against Rs. 46,73,812 in the previous year. The decline of last year was thus nearly recovered. The year, with its full monsoon and generally ample winter rains, was not one in which the demand for irrigation was likely to be very heavy and, but for the coming into operation of the revised rates in several districts and the large increase in demand in Agra, Cawnpore and, still more, Muttra, the demand would have been at least as low as last year. In Saháranpur and Muzaffarnagar the revised rates were in force last year for only one crop, in the remaining districts concerned they only came into force at all in the current year. The effect of this is seen (appendix E.—VIII.) in the increases in Saháranpur, Muzaffarnagar, Meerut, Bulandshahr, Aligarh and Mainpuri. The cause of increase in Muttra and Agra is not so clear. In the former, the Executive Engineer says that the year 1892-93 was a peculiarly bad one for the Agra canal, whilst 1893-94 was a very good one, and that fluctuations from year to year are almost entirely due to conditions of weather and the supply of water in the Jumna. Looking to the general character of the seasons, it is difficult to believe that they can account to any great extent for the large increase of irrigation in 1893-94. The inference seems to be that, in ordinary years, when the water supply in the Jumna is not full, the Agra canal is unable to meet the demand on it for water. Similarly in Agra the increase is, somewhat summarily, attributed to an increase of the area under tobacco and spices, but it seems more probable that it was due to the same causes as operated in Muttra. In Cawnpore the increase is attributed to extension of indigo and rice cultivation.

Excluding remissions, the real demand was Rs. 50,84,341, of which Rs. 50,73,216 were collected during the year and Rs. 4,072 shortly after its close. Rupees 7,053 remained for future adjustment, out of which Mainpuri accounts for over four-fifths. This comparatively large balance is due from the Bhongaon tahsíl where various causes combined to delay collections. There was a severe outbreak of cholera, the indigo crop was poor, and it seems probable that landowners, having had to meet heavy demands for arrear as well as current land revenue in the last two years, utilized their collections of water rate to meet the more pressing demands for land revenue. Particulars of the balances are given in appendix E.—IX. The collection and measurement fees amounted to Rs. 1,33,807.

36. At the close of 1892-93 the arrears amounted to Rs. 64,454 and Rs. 5 were subsequently added to the figures for Mainpuri, under instructions from the Irrigation Department. The total demand was thus Rs. 64,459, of which Rs. 45,018 were recovered and Rs. 18,629 remitted, leaving Rs. 812 outstanding in tahsíl Bhongaon in Mainpuri. This balance was collected from the tenants and applied to other purposes by lambardárs whose immoveable property has since been proposed for sale.

App. A.—XVII. Occupiers' rate, arrears of previous years.

37. The fluctuations in the demand under this head of account usually follow the alteration in the demand for occupiers' rate. During the year under report, however, although the provincial demand for occupiers' rate was Rs. 4,22,126 above the figures for 1892-93, the demand for owners' rate shows a decrease of Rs. 27,815. To account for this it should be remembered that so much of the increase in occupiers' rate as was due to enhancement of rates, did not involve any corresponding increase in the demand for owners' rate which continued to be assessed on the occupiers' rate calculated on the former low scale. In such cases decrease in the area irrigated accounted for decrease in owners' rate accompanied by increase in occupiers' rate, the latter being due to higher rates on a smaller area. In districts, such as Muttra and Agra, where no higher rates were levied, the owners' rate increased with the area of irrigation. Where an actual decrease of owners' rate occurred it was due to the abolition, on revision of settlement, of the owners' rate in the distressed tracts of the Agra Division and the correction of the over-assessments in Saháranpur alluded to in paragraph 37 of the report for 1891-92. In Muzaffarnagar decrease of irrigation in the muafi area and mistakes in the Canal department's assessments are accountable for a loss. Elsewhere the difference was due mainly to contraction of the irrigated area consequent on the character of the seasons.

App. A.—XVIII. Owners' rate, current demand.

The total demand was Rs. 2,59,494. Of this Rs. 2,192 were remitted, Rs. 2,56,060 collected within the year, and Rs. 92 shortly after its close. This left Rs. 1,150 for future adjustment, of which Rs. 458 have already been remitted and the remainder has doubtless been adjusted since.

38. The recoverable balance of previous years was Rs. 6,505, of which Rs. 6,342 were realized, leaving Rs. 163 still outstanding. Of this, Rs. 54 have been remitted.

App A.—XIX. Owners' rate, arrears of previous years.

39. At the commencement of the year there were 385 State properties in the provinces with a land revenue demand of Rs. 1,33,499. During the year 18 estates, with a jama of Rs. 1,408, were acquired and 3, carrying a jama of Rs. 1,110, were removed from the accounts, leaving 400 estates paying a revenue of Rs. 1,33,797 in the possession of Government at the close of 1893-94. These figures do not include extra-municipal nazul lands capable of assessment to land revenue, as it has been decided by Government that the accounts of such properties are not to be submitted to the Board.

SEC. XI.—STATE PROPERTIES AND WASTE LANDS. Apps. A.—XX. & E.—X.

App. E.—X.

The total current rental amounted to Rs. 7,74,498 against Rs. 7,90,980 in the previous year. The falling off occurred chiefly in the Tarai estates in the Naini Tal district, owing to the unfavourable character of both the spring and autumn harvests and the ravages of disease among plough cattle. The total demand, including arrears, was Rs. 7,78,455, of which Rs. 7,68,992 were collected. Of the balance (Rs. 9,463), Rs. 4,088 are in fact nominal or irrecoverable, as will be explained presently, though not so accounted for in the appendix. After payment of land revenue and rates the income to Government was Rs. 5,88,734, out of which Rs. 3,49,586 were spent on charges of establishment, contingencies and improvements, leaving a net profit of Rs. 2,39,148. The Banda district is responsible for the largest arrears (Rs. 3,972). The collections during the year were Rs. 30,764 against a total demand of Rs. 34,736. The outstandings consist chiefly of the nominal rents of areas covered with kans or lying fallow. These nominal rents (Rs. 2,700) together with the amounts (Rs. 130) actually irrecoverable, have been remitted. Of the remaining balance, Rs. 646 are recoverable and Rs. 496 doubtful. In past revenue administration reports, the Board have had occasion to comment unfavourably on the management of the Government estates in Banda. They are glad to be able to record a marked improvement during the past year and, with a favourable rabi harvest, the results should be still better at the close of the current year. The kharif of the present year has been greatly damaged, but fortunately it is the less important crop in these villages. The Collector, Mr. Ferard, has devoted much time and attention to the affairs of these properties, adjusted their rent-rates in a satisfactory manner, and otherwise given practical effect, as far as possible, during the year, to carefully considered proposals for improving the condition of the tenantry and encouraging the extension of cultivation. The tahsíldars have now been made to understand what is expected of them as managers, but constant attention and supervision on the part of the Collector will continue to be required. As already reported to Government, the proposal to appoint a special manager for the Government and Court of Wards estates in Banda has been dropped for the present. The management of the Holágarh and Khargapur estates in the Allahabad district continues to be satisfactory. In the former the demand was realised in full, while in the latter a balance of Rs. 796, shown in column 9 of the appendix, is mainly due from impoverished tenants, and a part of it has been written off the accounts. More than half the work connected with the Ramgarh jhíl drainage scheme was completed during the year. But for this, the damage from the heavy rainfall to property and crops would have been very serious. The work will be completed in the current year. The Collector's endeavours to induce cultivators to take up usar lands, even free of rent, having proved unsuccessful, the Board have, on the Commissioner's recommendation, approved of a proposal to cultivate direct a small piece of usar. The experiment will be tried in the current year and the result reported next year.

Outstanding balances were also comparatively large in Jhánsi (Rs. 994), Garhwál (Rs. 1,323), Lucknow (Rs. 1,046), and Gonda (Rs. 834). In Jhánsi all, except Rs. 93, is recoverable: the balance in Garhwál has been collected since the close of the year with the exception of Rs. 73: most of the arrears in Lucknow are due to the destruction of the kharif crop in villages bordering on the Gumti: in Gonda the balance was on account of arrears due from Barwars; of this Rs. 705 have been since remitted as irrecoverable.

The expenditure was as follows:—

	Rs.
Establishment	79,681
Contingencies	70,313
Improvement	1,99,592
Total ...	3,49,586

Most of this is accounted for by the Tarai and Kumaun-Bhábar estates in the Naini Tal district. Of the sum of Rs. 8,422 shown under contingencies against the Gonda district, Rs. 8,376 represent rents paid to landlords on account of lands leased by Government for the purpose of providing Barwars with cultivation. The expenditure on improvements shows an increase of Rs. 31,056 as compared with the previous year. This is due entirely to larger sums spent in the Naini Tal estates. The outlay on these and the Garhwál-Bhabar and Dudhi estates has been fully explained in the reports of these properties separately submitted to Government. In Banda the question of improvements is receiving attention by the Collector who has made a special note of useful works and issued the necessary directions. In Allahabad a larger amount was spent on the construction of wells and the Ramgarh jhil drainage project already referred to. Measures are reported to have been taken to improve the sanitary condition of the Government villages in the Allahabad district, but the management are obliged to proceed in this matter with some degree of caution.

40. The demand for the price of waste lands sold during the year was Rs. 50,000. This sum represents the value of timber on 5,799 acres of waste land in the Kheri district granted to Mr. L. D. Hearsey, talúqdár of Mamri. The amount will be realized in ten equal yearly instalments of Rs. 5,000. The first instalment was paid during the year of report. App. A.—XX.

41. Figures showing the demand, collections and balances of patwari rate are incorporated in the statements at the commencement of this chapter. Of the recoverable balance of the current demand (Rs. 1,513), Rs. 958 have been collected since the close of the year, Rs. 270 are due to assessments of land revenue having been sanctioned late in the year, and the remainder, Rs. 285, is under recovery. The outstanding arrears of previous years amounted to Rs 76, of which Rs. 17 are doubtful and Rs. 59 irrecoverable. Of this doubtful item, Rs. 16 are suspended pending orders on a petition as to the assessment of a mahal in the Gorakhpur district. SEC. XII.—PATWARI RATE. DIRECTOR'S Apps. VI—VIII.

There was an increase of 12·2 per cent. in the number, and of 10·1 per cent. in the value of the money-orders issued. The largest increase was in the Gorakhpur Division, where there was a decrease in 1892-93.

The system continues to grow in popularity. It still works without friction, except that one or two cases of serious embezzlement by sub-postmasters have occurred in Meerut. To these cases the Collector attributed, to some extent, the decline in the remittances of both land revenue and miscellaneous revenue in that district.

Miscellaneous revenue remittances.

44. Remittances of miscellaneous revenue by means of money-orders are likewise gradually increasing. The statistics for the year under report, and those for 1892-93, are given in the following statement :—

Chapter III.—RENT LAW.

SEC. I—SUITS AND APPLICATIONS.
Apps. B.—I, II, IIA, IIB, III, IIIA, B, C, and D.

45. The number of suits in the North-Western Provinces has decreased this year by 375 or ·39 per cent., whilst applications have increased by 8,321 or 4·94 per cent. In Oudh the number of suits increased by 410 or 1·17 per cent. The figures for districts and divisions for 1892-93 and 1893-94 are compared below :—

47. About nine-tenths of the suits instituted were, as in previous years, for arrears of rent and, practically, this class alone shows an increase. As compared with the previous year, the variations in the several divisions in the number of arrear suits are as follows :—

Division.	Increase.	Decrease.
Meerut	187	...
Agra	78	...
Rohilkhand	256	...
Allahabad	...	400
Benares	814	...
Gorakhpur	...	97
Total	838	...

The most noticeable features in the above statistics are the increase in the Benares and the decrease in the Allahabad Division. The increase in Benares was important only in Gházipur. An attempt by the Collector to partially explain this increase as due to the disturbed state of the district in the previous year, cannot be treated seriously for it is contradicted by the figures for Ballia, where there was an increase in 1892-93 followed by a further small rise this year. An increase of 164 in Jaunpur is precisely counterbalanced by a decrease in Mirzapur. In Allahabad the Cawnpore district shows a decrease closely corresponding to the increase of last year, whilst Fatehpur has an increase greater than the decrease of last year. Banda has remained almost stationary, whilst Hamírpur and Jhánsi show a falling off and Jalaun a rise. Institutions in the Allahabad district fell by 281. The only district in the Meerut Division which shows an important variation is Muzaffarnagar, where suits for arrears have risen from 2,590 to 3,133. This is attributed by the Collector chiefly to multiplication of maháls by partition, to a large number of suits instituted by one landlord, and to low prices of grain causing tenants to fall into arrears. In the Meerut district the rise of last year has been followed by a decrease this year, and in Aligarh the same has occurred. In the Agra Division a large increase of 483 in Agra was more than counterbalanced by a decline of 497 in Etawáh. In the latter there was a fall of less importance last year, whilst in Agra there was a slight rise last year followed now by a much larger one. The Commissioner remarks that nothing new has been advanced by Collectors to account for these fluctuations, but he notes that precisely the same cause—"better times"—is advanced to explain diametrically opposite results by the Collectors of Etáwáh and Etah. In the Rohilkhand Division the number of rent suits in Bareilly was practically the same as in the preceding year. They increased to some extent in Bijnor, Budaun and Moradabad, and decreased in Sháhjahánpur and slightly in Pilibhít. The only remarkable point in the explanations is that the Collector of Moradabad continues to insist on friction between landlord and tenant as a cause of increased litigation, and the Commissioner thinks "there can be no doubt that many of the zamindárs, especially in Amroha and Hassanpur, are hard and grasping." In the Gorakhpur Division, as was to be expected, Azamgarh, after the heavy decrease of last year, shows an increase of 415, but the institutions still fall short of those of 1890-91 and 1891-92. Basti and Gorakhpur show a continued falling off. The explanations offered in these two districts do not differ materially from those advanced last year. The possible connection between the decrease of suits for arrears of rent in Gorakhpur and the increase in applications for enhancement is dealt with further on under class VI of applications.

The Board do not feel in a position to add materially to what they said last year, as to the general insufficiency of explanations given by Collectors of local fluctuations in suits for arrears, or to themselves advance any generally applicable explanation. As the Commissioner of Meerut has remarked, Collectors do little good in attempting to base explanations on the figures of only two years. Many such explanations will, by reference to the figures and circumstances of several past years, frequently be shown at once to be valueless.

Suits in connection with distraint have retrograded to the numbers of 1891-92. There has also been a decrease in classes VIII, IX and XII, following on an increase last year.

The variations in the other classes of suits call for no special comment.

Disposal of suits.

48. The following table shows how the suits decided were disposed of :—

Without trial	11,782
Compromised	6,403
Decreed on confession	14,841
Ditto ex-parte	32,309
Dismissed „	5,509
Decreed after reference to arbitration	213
Dismissed „ „	69
Decreed after contest	19,826
Dismissed „	4,457
Total ...	95,409

Out of a total of 99,774 suits for disposal, 11,782 were disposed of without trial, against 12,636 in the previous year, 59,062, against 58,480 last year, were decided without contest, while 24,283 were contested, as compared with 24,406 in 1892-93. The ex parte decisions rose from 36,925 to 37,818; but, as in previous years, the Board see no reason to believe that the parties in these cases failed to receive proper notice to appear. The total number is still somewhat below that of 1891-92. Two hundred and eighty-two cases were referred to arbitration and 4,365 remained pending against 4,936 in the previous year.

49. The following table shows the percentage of contested and uncontested cases in each division. The proportion of uncontested cases was highest in the Allahabad and Meerut Divisions and lowest in Gorakhpur :—

A very large number of the cases decided in the Benares Division were uncontested, no less than 11,413 having been decided ex-parte, 2,505 without trial, 1,232 compromised, and the remainder on confession. The Board accept the Benares Commissioner's assurance that there is no reason to apprehend that the precautions necessary in deciding suits ex-parte were neglected by the Courts. The total number of cases decided was slightly below that of last year. There were fewer cases pending at the close of this than at that of last year. In the Meerut and Gorakhpur Divisions alone have the pending files increased, and it is satisfactory to note that in the Rohilkhand Division 600 more cases than last year were decided and the pending file fell proportionately.

Of the cases pending, only 84 were pending for more than three months. The divisional figures are given in the margin. Bulandshahr shows badly with 26 cases pending over three months, and the Collector will be asked to give attention to this matter.

The duration of suits is practically the same as last year. The longest duration in contested cases occurred in the districts marginally noted. Though the duration in Ballia has fallen slightly, it is still high here, as well as in Basti, Budaun, Sháhjahánpur and Azamgarh.

The orders of Government in paragraph, 11 of their review of last year's report, regarding high duration, were brought to the notice of the Collector of Ballia. He has taken the matter up earnestly, and believes that his measures will, when they have been in operation a full year, result in considerable improvement. The Collectors of the other districts named will also be requested to take special measures for reducing the duration of cases, except the Collector of Azamgarh, who has already done so. He reports that postponements were too frequent in the classes of suits involving scrutiny of accounts, and that they were made in some cases, probably, in the hope of the complicated issues being decided by compromise.

The general result is an increase of Rs. 26,912 in the North-Western Provinces and of Rs. 1,912 in Oudh. The total increase was much less marked than last year, but there are some very remarkable variations locally. The chief increases are in Bijnor (Rs. 37,670) and Basti (Rs. 7,111), whilst Bulandshahr (Rs. 21,570) and Saháranpur (Rs. 9,039) show the most important decrease. The history of these remittances in Bulandshahr is very remarkable. In 1888-89 and 1889-90 the remittances were nearly 1¾ lakhs, they then fell to one lakh, and in the last three years they have been Rs 86,000, Rs. 95,000, and Rs. 73,000, respectively. It is quite clear that with fluctuations like these it is not a sufficient explanation to say that the relations between landlord and tenant have steadily improved. There must have been other causes at work which are, at present, not clearly ascertained. In this connection the Commissioner explains that his remarks last year regarding Meerut were not meant to state the approach of settlement as the sole cause of decrease, but as one of many conflicting causes. He again states that the approach of settlement is a reason tending "to reduce friction and diminish the use of the money-orders." Precisely the opposite explanation is employed in Bijnor to account for the large increase of money-orders in that district. The coincidence between the increase in Bijnor and the commencement of settlement operations is remarkable, and certainly tends to support the Collector's theory rather than that of the Commissioner of Meerut as to the effects of approaching settlement. Bulandshahr, with its remarkable fluctuations from year to year, will probably be the best field for an endeavour to ascertain the causes which lead to them, and the Collector will be asked to make special inquiries into the matter and to localise the variations. When he has done this, he may possibly be in a better position to assign causes which may be more or less applicable to other districts also. The continued decrease in Saháranpur is attributed, somewhat summarily, to decreasing friction, whilst in Basti it is not noticed. These two Collectors will be requested to give special attention to the subject. Some stress has been laid by the Collector of Meerut on the embezzlements by village postmasters, already referred to under revenue money-orders, as a cause tending to render the system less popular; but, looking to the steady rise in remittances in past years, the Board are inclined to doubt if this cause is of more than very local importance as regards either revenue or rent money-orders.

Printed receipts for rent.

51. The progress in the general introduction of printed receipts seems to have been steady, if not very rapid. In the more backward districts, such as those of Bundelkhand where landlords are frequently illiterate and the tenants demand no receipt at all, it is very slow. In Oudh, the Board regret to observe that the Deputy Commissioner of Hardoi reports strenuous opposition on the part of landlords. The Board look to the owners of large estates in Oudh to set a good example by insisting on the use of printed receipts on their properties, an example which is already set by the Court of Wards, both in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

For the present, all that can well be said is that the general introduction of printed forms must be a work of time and dependent largely on the individual interest taken in the subject by District Officers and Commissioners. The Commissioner of Rohilkhand (Mr. Moule) has specially interested himself in the matter, both in his present and in other divisions, and his report of progress in Rohilkhand is, on the whole, satisfactory. Attention is now being given to devising a form of receipt for grain rents, which are largely prevalent in that division.

N.-W. P. Rent Act applications.

52. The number of applications under section 95 of the North-Western Provinces Rent Act, filed in each year since the Act was passed, is given below. It is the largest recorded and slightly more than double the number in 1881-82 :—

	168,433	176,754	8,321	...	+4·94

The total increase amounted to 8,321, or 4·94 per cent, following an increase of 3·28 per cent. last year. The increases occurred chiefly in classes XIX, XX and XXI, whilst there was a marked decrease under enhancement cases and applications to eject a tenant with rights. The following table shows the comparative figures by divisions :—

Division.	1892-93.	1893-94.	Increase or decrease.
Meerut	38,288	37,665	—623
Agra	27,821	29,612	+1,791

Benares	21,691	21,213	—478
Gorakhpur	16,638	19,805	+3,167
			+8,321

The decrease in Meerut has been continuous for two years. Taking the figures since 1890-91, applications in Agra, Rohilkhand and Allahabad have continuously increased. In Benares the decrease of 478 follows an increase of 866 in 1892-93, while in Gorakhpur the increase still leaves the total lower than it was in 1890-91. The only districts in which applications declined to any considerable extent were Saháranpur (826, or 15·10 per cent.), Bulandshahr (812, or 8·34 per cent.), and Moradabad (800, or 6·86 per cent.) There was also a decrease in Dehra Dún, Muzaffarnagar, Muttra, Mainpuri, Budaun, Sháhjahánpur, Bánda, Allahabad, Jhánsi, Jalaun, Benares, Jaunpur and Gházipur.

Briefly stated the character of the litigation differs from that of the preceding year, in that cases of determination of value of crops, enhancement of rent cases, and applications from a landholder to eject a tenant with rights, decreased. It resembles the preceding two years in the continued increase under classes XIX, XX and XXI. These are the most important classes of applications and formed the bulk of the litigation under section 95 of the Act. The percentages contributed by them, to the total number of applications, are noted in the margin.

53. Class III.—Last year an increase of applications under the last three classes was accompanied by an increase under this class also. This year there is a further increase under classes XIX—XXI, but a decrease under class III. The latter is almost entirely due to the Meerut Division, which accounts for 515 out of the net decrease of 541 in the Province. The Muzaffarnagar and Bulandshahr districts alone account for a decrease of 463 applications and in them only are the variations important. In Muzaffarnagar there was an abnormal increase last year, which is perhaps sufficient to account for a reversion to more moderate numbers this year. In Bulandshahr the decrease is attributed to the fact that none of the ejectment cases were decided before the commencement of the kharíf sowings. If this explanation is correct, it seems necessary for the Collector to insist on more prompt disposal of these latter cases. The Commissioner of Rohilkhand thinks that the large number of cases in this class, in his division, is perhaps due to a general misapprehension of the law. He observes: "Some of the Deputy Collectors seem to think that if a zamindár, in obedience to the provisions of section 42(a) (Act XII of 1881), allows an ejected tenant to tend and gather the growing crop after ejectment, no ejectment has really been effected, or that, if effected, it becomes void, as if section 41 applied thereto. This mistake is doubtless very prevalent among the agricultural community also and hence the anxiety of the zamindárs to secure their ejectments by proceedings under section 42(c)."

Class VI.—The decrease of 2,000 in enhancement cases is chiefly accounted for by Bulandshahr (474), Etawáh (184), Budaun (264), Moradabad (277), Sháhjahánpur (143), Cawnpore (105) and Allahabad (312). The most important increase is in Benares (148). The decrease in Bulandshahr is attributed by the Collector to the exhaustion of the crop of claims consequent on settlement. The growth of these cases in Benares and Gorakhpur is remarkable, the numbers in the last three years being :— 1891-92.	1892-93.	1893-94.

Benares	151	293	441
Gorakhpur	137	282	345

The causes assigned for the increase in Benares are (1) greater appreciation by the zamindárs of the rights conferred on them by law; (2) the success obtained in the previous year; (3) the speedy disposal of such cases encouraging fresh institutions; (4) the tenants' knowledge of their rights as recorded in the settlement records and their consequently demurring to enhancements out of Court; (5) the mistakes in the records-of-right and the attempts of zamindárs to test the accuracy of the entries in them through these proceedings. No doubt, as remarked by the Commissioner, the revision of settlement records has something to do with the increase. Prior to that revision, it is said, the village papers made no distinction between fixed rate and occupancy tenants and before a zamindár could enhance rent he had to meet the preliminary defence of his tenant that he held at fixed rates; but the Board are inclined to agree with the Commissioner that neither this explanation, nor those given by the Collector, account for the large and sudden rise in the last two years. This matter was referred to at page 27 of the Board's report for last year, and certain inquiries were proposed. Mr. Evans, the then Commissioner, however, on mature consideration, felt himself compelled to think that the inquiries would entail extra work and trouble in the district altogether out of proportion to the results to be looked for, and he did not feel justified in insisting on their being made. In Gorakhpur, while enhancement of rent cases have increased, the number of arrears of rent suits has steadily gone down during the last two years. The Commissioner states that he found, in some enhancement cases appealed to him, that the landlord was admittedly endeavouring to obtain the rent actually paid before settlement, but fraudulently understated for assessment purposes at revision of settlement. This was the cause assigned for enhancement cases more than doubling last year; and the experience of the present year seems to point to its correctness. It is curious, however, that in Basti last year there was a decline from 234 in 1891-92 to 197, and this year the number is practically stationary.

Class XVIII.—The decrease of 1,642 in this class of applications is almost entirely accounted for by the Allahabad (312) and Benares (1,198) divisions. Elsewhere the variations were generally unimportant. In the first named division the decrease was chiefly in Cawnpore (167) and Allahabad (135). In the Benares division the decrease was large in Benares (346), Jaunpur (390), Ballia (243), and Mirzapur (183); but the division still shows the largest number of these applications in the Province. The large increases of the two previous years, in this division, are thus, to a considerable extent, counterbalanced by the present fall in numbers. The Commissioner remarks that "considering that the percentage of cases in which ejectment took place was higher in all the districts, save Mirzapur, and that the divisional percentage was 39·11 against 28 in the previous year, it might safely be said that the zamindárs were more judicious and discreet in their action, and that the bad seasons secured their better success." With reference to the Commissioner's remarks last year quoted by the Board, on the subject of refusal by Courts, in the exercise of their discretion, to eject when a decree remained unsatisfied, it appears that there were only three such cases. In two in Jaunpur ejectment was refused on the ground that only a very small portion of the decree remained outstanding. In one in Gházipur it was refused on the ground of a previous compromise. The decreases in Cawnpore and Allahabad were less important than those in the Benares Division and are not clearly accounted for. In the Gorakhpur division, Gorakhpur shows a decrease of 148 and Azamgarh an increase of 104. The Collector of Aligarh endeavours to account for an increase of 147 in his district by the correction, under a recent ruling of the Board, of the erroneous notion that ejectment under section 35 barred further execution of the decree. The Board are, however, inclined to doubt if this misapprehension prevailed very widely elsewhere. The number of notices actually issued on applications under section 35 of the Act, including those pending from the preceding year, was 17,830 (Appendix B.—III). Ejectment followed in 6,951 cases against 7,236 last year, the area affected being also smaller.

The figures showing the results of the notices issued during the past two years are given below :—

This year every division shows an increase. Of the two divisions which gave a decrease last year, the rise in Meerut only partially counterbalances last year's fall; whilst that in Gorakhpur far surpasses it. Still the total in the last named division is lower than in the years 1889—91. As before, this and Benares are the lightest in the Provinces in this respect; whilst Rohilkhand, Meerut and Agra, in the order given, are the heaviest. Excepting Gorakhpur, the Agra and Rohilkhand Divisions show the largest percentage of increase; in both it is continuous, and the largest number is in Rohilkhand. The increase is large in Pilibhít, Bijnor and especially in Bareilly; whilst Moradabad gives a decrease almost equal to the increase of last year. In Bijnor the increase is attributed to the desire of landlords to forestall claims, at settlement, to occupancy rights and to re-introduce grain rents. In Budaun, though the figures this year are nearly stationary, the approach of settlement had already taken effect in a rise from 3,044 cases in 1890-91 to 4,130 in 1893-94. In Bareilly and Pilibhít many of the notices are believed to be of a retaliatory nature, brought by landholders against tenants whom a plentiful harvest had tempted to sell their sugarcane juice to outsiders at fair market rates, instead of to their zamindárs at lower prices. In Meerut, whilst the Meerut and Aligarh districts have increases of 250 and 407, there is a decrease of 300 in Saháranpur. The Collector of Aligarh has devoted some attention to these notices, and is able to report, from inquiries made, that instances where notices are issued merely with the view of harassing tenants are very rare. He only came across three such cases in the whole district, and in two of them, the zamindárs being women, the fault probably lay with the agents. The numbers in Bulandshahr rose very slightly. In the Agra Division there was an important increase in all districts, except Mainpuri where it was insignificant, and Muttra where there was a decrease of 265. In the Allahabad Division, Cawnpore alone shows an important increase of 375. It appears to be partly due to strained relations in one village and to the free filing of applications in another after its release by the Court of Wards. In Benares, whilst Gházipur has 201 less cases, attributed to greater discrimination of landlords, Ballia has 292 more. This latter increase is said to be due to the year being the twelfth from the last revision of records, and in consequence notices are being issued to prevent the accrual of occupancy rights. The increase in Azamgarh was considerable and in Gorakhpur very large. The Gorakhpur figures are the highest of the last five years. No special causes are assigned by the Collectors or the Commissioner for the general increase throughout this division.

55. The Board have little to add to their general remarks of last year on the subject of notices under section 36 of the Act. The cases of Bareilly and Pilibhít show how a special cause may lead to vindictive notices, and Bijnor, Budaun and Meerut are cases in point as to the special effects of the approach of settlement. The Collector of Aligarh anticipates evil results from a recent ruling of the High Court holding that a zamindár usufructuarily mortgaging his property becomes merely a tenant-at-will, on his sír land, of the mortgagee. This matter will have to be considered when the law is amended. A proposal made by Mr. Lambe for ensuring that tenants, against whom a notice of ejectment is out, may not be left ignorant of the fact, even if the service is not properly effected, by sending them separate intimation through the post-office, was partially tried during the year and the experiment will be continued during the current year.

56. Classes XX and XXI.—Of the 72,097 notices issued under section 36, the tenants contested 20,309, or 28 per cent., which closely approaches the percentage of 1891-92. The percentage of contested notices to the total number issued in each division is given below :—

Division.	Percentage.
	1892-93.	1893-94.

Agra	24	22
Rohilkhand	26	27
Allahabad	22	21

Twenty thousand three hundred and sixty of the applications under section 39 were tried during the year, of which 15,192, or 74·6 per cent., were disposed of after contest. The tenants were successful in 8,312 cases, being 54·7 per cent. of the number contested and decided. The percentage of success attained by tenants in each division is given below :—

The high percentage of success last year in Gorakhpur has fallen considerably, though it is still the highest in the North-Western Provinces. The results of 20,073 contested notices, in whatever way decided, relating to an area of 102,906 acres, were ascertained (Appendix B.—III). In 10,323 cases, covering an area of 53,291 acres, tenants were successful. The percentage of success and failure in each division, on the total number of these notices, is compared for the past three years in the following table :—

Division.	Percentage on total of notices in which results have been ascertained.
	Successfully.			Unsuccessfully.

Application under section 40 for assistance to eject were made in 47,930 cases, or 66·5 per cent. of the notices issued.

57. The following statistics of the area held by the different classes of tenants in 1891-92 and 1892-93 are inserted as illustrating the result of the operations of the ejectment provisions of the Rent Act :—

	1891-92.	1892-93.
Total tenant area	*21,030,643	21,189,429
Area held under some kind of right	10,263,004	10,283,657
Do. by tenants-at-will	10,767,639	10,905,772
Do. for more than 12 years	3,030,563	3,215,575

The Board have observed the considerable increase in the total tenant area. It is at present unexplained and enquiries will be made as to its cause. The protected area continues to increase and the area held under some kind of right shows a recovery of over 20,000 acres of the loss in 1891-92. The marked decrease in that year appears mainly due to the fact that during the currency of a settlement occupancy rights tend to diminish; but their disappearance is compensated by the accrual, through flux of time, of fresh occupancy rights in new lands, the holders of which are positively so recorded whenever a fresh settlement is completed. Years when no new settlement is declared would thus show a decline of recorded occupancy holders; whilst, on the contrary, in a year, such as 1890-91, when several settlements were completed, the increase in the area held under some kind of right is much larger than in the area held for more than 12 years.

58. There were altogether 192,404 applications, under all classes, for disposal, against 184,528 in 1892-93. One hundred and seventy-nine thonsand two hundred and twenty-one, or 93·15 per cent., were decided, as compared with 168,879, or 91·52 per cent. in the previous year, leaving 13,183 pending, of which 850 were awaiting disposal for more than three months when the year closed.

The details by divisions are given in the following table :—

The results were generally satisfactory. The cases disposed of increased by more than 10,000, though there was a slight decrease in the number of those contested and disposed of. The pending file was lighter by nearly 2,500 cases than last year.

* 1,821 cases were erroneously shown as pending in the return forlast year.

Rohilkhand shows particularly satisfactory work, for, with a considerably larger number for disposal, more contested cases were settled than last year and the pending file fell largely. Meerut also shows improvement in the pending file, but it is still the heaviest on the list. Of the contested cases 19,012, or 67·41 per cent., were decided in favour of the plaintiff, and 9,190 in favor of the defendant.

59. The average duration of contested and uncontested applications, for the two years 1892-93 and 1893-94, is given below :—

	M. d.	M. d.
1892-93	2 7	1 5
1893-94	2 2	1 6

The duration in contested cases improved in 1893-94, while it was a little higher in uncontested cases. The duration has increased to an appreciable extent in the following districts :—

The very long and increasing duration of contested cases in Budaun is particularly unsatisfactory, and the Collector will be requested to give special attention to the more prompt disposal of this class of business. His explanations have been considered by the Board but seem to them insufficient

There is a decrease of 3,221 in the number of relinquishments as compared with 1892-93. Notices were again numerous in Budaun (1,370), Moradabad (1,454), Cawnpore (1,988), Banda (1,257), Hamírpur (1,119), Allahabad (2,517). In all of these, however, there was a decline as compared with last year, except in Budaun and Allahabad. The Collector of Budaun attributes the increase to the approach of settlement. Mr. Meston, the Settlement Officer, says that landlords often induce their tenants to give formal relinquishments, whereupon they are nominally replaced as tenants-in-chief by relatives of the landlords at low rents. With reference to Moradabad, Mr. Hardy's remarks are worth quoting. He says :—" I again made inquiries in each tahsíl on the subject of resignations of ex-proprietary and right-of-occupancy holdings by tenants. In the case of ex-proprietary holdings, I found that the land was often voluntarily given up by the ex-proprietors, who had, when proprietors, contracted to sell the zamindári and ex-proprietary rights in sír, but who had not been able (as the law stands) to incorporate the sale of the sír in the deed, and waited till they had ceased to be proprietors to resign the sír holding. Resignations of occupancy holdings were, as a rule, the result of pressure, as was obvious from the fact that, in many cases, the same tenants, or more often some member of the same family, retained the land at an enhanced rent. The resignation was in fact a step in the process of illegal enhancement. . . . . I found in one village . . . . resignations had been given by the entire body of the occupancy-tenants of the village. As they had not actually relinquished the land, under my advice, they continued to hold, and they have since been judicially declared to retain their right-of-occupancy." The principal culprits in this respect are the landlords of Bachraon, the muafidars of Amroha, and some of the banking families who have purchased land. For the decrease in Cawnpore a commonplace explanation based on the season seems to be incorrect.

The decrease in Bánda remains unexplained and agricultural prosperity is assigned by the Collector as a cause for that in Hamírpur. The increase in Allahabad is not important, and is alleged to be mainly due to numerous notices of ejectment issued by one landlord, to which the tenants, to escape further proceedings, replied by notices of relinquishment.

Last year's increase of applications by distrainers for the sale of distrained crops has been followed, as might be expected in a year of generally less good harvests, by a considerable decrease this year in all divisions, except Meerut, where the increase was slight. Good harvests in Meerut and Agra probably account for the maintenance of high numbers in these divisions.

Oudh Rent Law Litigation. App. B.—I. Suits.

61. The district and divisional totals for all suits under the Oudh Rent Act are given in paragraph 45 above. There was an increase of 410 suits due to the Fyzabad Divison. The decrease in the Lucknow Division occurs in the Hardoi and Kheri districts. In Sitapur and Unao there was an increase, chiefly in the latter. Sultánpur and Bara Banki alone of the Fyzabad Division show a decrease, and there were large increases in Fyzabad and Bahraich; the latter being the largest in the Province. The following is a classified list of the suits instituted in the past two years. The chief variations in the figures, compared with the previous year, are an increase of 1,949 in Class II suits (arrears of rent), and decreases of 428 in Class VIII (suits to contest enhancement or ejectment) and of 851 in Class XIV (recovery of occupancy).

62. Arrears of rent suits, the most numerous class, rose in every district except Hardoi, where they decreased. Reasons for the variations are not specified and are no easier to assign than in the North-Western Provinces. Suits to contest enhancement or ejectment declined chiefly in Kheri, Gonda and Bara Banki, and increased largely only in Fyzabad. Suits for the recovery of occupancy declined in every district in Oudh, markedly in Hardoi, Sultānpur and Bara Banki. No attempt has been made by District Officers to explain variations. In Hardoi, where there has been a marked decline in suits generally, conditions did not vary from those of last year.

63. The following comparative statement shows the numbers of suits under the Oudh Rent Act for disposal in the past two years and the manner in which they were decided :—

Fewer cases were disposed of though the number to be dealt with was somewhat less than that of last year. The number of contested cases decided in the Fyzabad Division fell by more than 800. In the Lucknow Division the heaviest pending file was in the Lucknow, Unao and Hardoi districts. Gonda, it is true, had more rent law litigation than any other district in Oudh, but the pending file was very heavy (916). The increase in the Lucknow and Gonda districts is said to be due to a large number of cases having been instituted in the last month of the year; but, looking to the fact that no less than 291 cases had been pending over three months in Gonda, the excuse is not sufficient for that district, and attention must be given to the subject by the Deputy Commissioner. In Unao the large number pending is attributed to the cholera epidemic and to the district being short-handed after the death of Mr. Penney, in the latter portion of the year. Average duration in Gonda was also particularly high, as well as in Unao. Sitapur and Fyzabad show badly under contested cases, and in the former the too frequent grant of remands in one case is noticed. Frequent changes in the district staff are again put forward as a cause of delayed work.

64. The numbers of each class of notices and applications for ejectment issued in the past two years are given in the following table :— App. B.—III A, B and C. Notices of ejectment.

Grand Total ...	16,055	98,611	14,711	116,682

While the number of ejectment cases has decreased, the area affected by the notices has increased considerably. The decrease in notices occurred in all classes except notices to tenants holding under registered leases, which increased from 32 to 177, and the area affected by them from 970 to 14,676 acres. This class accounts almost entirely for the increase in the area affected by notices. In the other classes, however, the area affected has not decreased proportionately to the decrease in numbers. Taking applications separately, there was an increase from 2,954 to 3,070 in numbers, and an increase from 27,089 to 32,272 acres, or 19·13 per cent. The total area affected by ejectment proceedings rose by 18 per cent. Actual eviction took place from 8,549 holdings with an area of 58,158 acres, of which 30,221 acres were relet to new tenants. The Board's remarks of last year as to the concealment of the new rent on which the remaining land was relet, or nominally kept by the landlords as khudkásht, are confirmed by this year's reports.

App. B.—III A. Notices of ejectment on statutory tenants.

65. Five thousand nine hundred and sixty-seven notices to statutory tenants were issued affecting an area of 25,458 acres. Ejectment actually took place from 3,926 holdings, covering 15,112 acres, leaving 10,346 acres in the possession of the old tenants. The average rise in the rent of lands relet, in the districts in which the rents were entirely taken in cash, was about 13 per cent. as compared with about 14 per cent. last year. It is still more than double the percentage allowed by law. The average enhancement in Unao was the highest, viz., 23 per cent. There was a continued decrease in the proportion of contested notices to the total number issued on statutory tenants, from 41 to 39 per cent. Out of 2,336 suits brought to contest the notices of ejectment only 832 were successful, which does not differ greatly from the proportion of last year. The increase in notices in Fyzabad is said to be due to a mistaken belief that the statutory period of seven years, in the case of certain tenants, expired in 1894, which as a fact it did not. Cases of illegal eviction are reported from most districts; this is inevitable with a strong landlord class dealing with a weak tenantry: but administrative vigilance has, it is said, done something to restrain the practice, and the tenants have been duly informed of their legal rights. Nevertheless it is not stated that any tenant came forward to sue in consequence of such information, and the number of suits for illegal ejectment declined from 155 to 124.

App. B.—III B. Notices of ejectment in respect of which no court-fee was paid.

66. In notices in respect to which no court-fee was paid, there was a slight decrease in those issued under section 48 on the heirs of statutory tenants. Under section 69 notices increased from 32 to 177, and notices under sections other than sections 48 and 69 decreased by 1,411, or 25 per cent. Last year they increased by 7 per cent. on the figures of 1891-92 and in 1890-91 by 72 per cent. Most of the notices were issued by the landlords on tenants in their sir and by tenants against their sub-tenants. The area affected by the notices of all kinds entered in this appendix was 58,952 acres. Thirty-one per cent. of the notices were contested and 44 per cent. of the suits brought were successful. The tenants were actually evicted from 33,045 acres, or 56 per cent. of the area to which the notices referred. The average rise in the rent of land relet after ejectment (exclusive of the figures for the districts in which a portion of the land was relet on grain rents) was between 8 and 9 per cent.

App. C.—III C. Applications for ejectment under section 61.

67. Applications under section 61, to eject tenants for failure to pay decreed arrears of rent, increased from 2,954 to 3,070. The increase is principally in Bahraich and Partábgarh. Ejectment followed in respect to 10,000 out of 32,272 acres to which the applications referred. Every opportunity is given to the tenant to pay up the arrears before ejectment is finally ordered. One District Officer suggests that, as this form of application is merely one method of execution for arrears of rent, these applications might be heard and determined by Assistant Collectors of the first class. The Board are not at present prepared to concur in this suggestion.

App. B.—III D. Notices of enhancement.

68. Only 46 notices of enhancement were issued, the largest numbers being in Fyzabad (16) and Gonda (13). Lucknow and Unao account for the remainder. The subject of illegal enhancement was fully treated in last year's report. Illegal enhancements are reported from most districts, details being given of the cases actually brought to light. These are but a small portion of the illegal enhancements which probably take place, and must take place, in the case of land which is actually let below its rental value, and in so far no harm follows to the agricultural community. The demoralizing effect on the landlords of concealing their action was discussed last year. The usual evasions of the law are noted by District Officers. Premia are taken on introducing a fresh tenant. Sometimes these are paid in cash and sometimes bonds with a fictitious consideration are accepted by the landlord. Lands held by an outgoing tenant are broken up and given to several tenants, the combined rents exceeding the former rent plus the legal enhancement. Worthless land is added to the original holding and an enhancement, legal in form, on the new acreage is made. Land is nominally let to the landlord's relations at the legal rate and enhanced rents taken from the sub-tenants who, in reality, are the tenants. All these matters have been mentioned in previous reports and the evil effects of the enhancement clauses have been sufficiently discussed. Proposals for the amendment of the Act are under consideration and are at present being submitted for criticism by District Officers.

APP. B.—II A. (OUDH) Miscellaneous applications and proceedings under the Oudh Rent Act.

69. The only classes of applications that require notice in this return are Class II, notices of relinquishment, and Class X, applications by distrainer for sale of distrained produce. Formal relinquishments rose from 7,411 to 8,078 and were most numerous in Unao (1,481), Hardoi (1,101), Gonda (1,083), and Bahraich (1,210). An increase of about eight per cent. in Hardoi is attributed to causes similar to those alleged last year for Rae Bareli. The Deputy Commissioner quotes one instance in which, when the tenant refused to relinquish his land, the landlord forged and kept a notice of relinquishment. The tenant was restored by the Courts and the landlord's criminal prosecution was under consideration.

Out of 4,011 distraint applications 2,461 were filed in Hardoi. For the very marked difference, in this respect, between Hardoi and other Oudh districts, the only reason suggested by the Deputy Commissioner is the peculiar tendency of the people of the different districts to adhere to the procedure they have once adopted. He shews that during the past three years Hardoi has shown the lowest and a decreasing percentage in the proportion of arrears of rent suits to total suits: a fact which he thinks indicates the preference of landlords in his district for the more summary procedure for recovery to that by regular suit.

70. Only abstracts of the appeal statements which accompany this report in manuscript have been printed.

SEC. II—APPEALS. APPS. B.—IV. B.—VII. AND B.—IX TO B.—XII.

The total number of appealable suits decided in the year under report was 23,196 against 23,403 in the preceding year. The percentage of appeals to appealable cases fell in the North-Western Provinces from 19·04 to 18·64, and in Oudh from 14·45 to 14·42. Appeals to Collectors and Deputy Commissioners fell from 4,185 to 4,091. The divisional figures are shown in the statement below :—

The largest number of appeals came up for disposal in the Agra, Rohilkhand, Benares, Gorakhpur and Fyzabad Divisions. Exclusive of 151 appeals either summarily rejected or dismissed for default, the disposals were 3,949 leaving 333 pending at the close of the year, against 342 in 1892-93. The districts in which the largest numbers of appeals were filed were Budaun (201), Ghâzipur (219), Gorakhpur (278), and Azamgarh (245). On the whole, a satisfactory amount of work was got through and the pending file was not heavy in any district. There were six cases pending over three months, against only one in the previous year, but no district accounts for more than one.

71. The percentages of appeals in which the decisions of the lower courts were undisturbed are shown in the margin. Considerable improvement is noticeable in the Lucknow Division, where the number of cases upheld in appeal rose from 53·85 to 64·69 per cent. Benares, which showed the worst results last year, has improved still more, the divisional percentage having risen from 49·42 to 60·72. The fall in the divisional percentage in Rohilkhand is due to poor work in Bijnor, Moradabad and Sháhjahánpur. In Cawnpore there has been a steady decline in the character of the work of the subordinate courts, and the Commissioner will draw the Collector's attention to the matter here, as well as in Fatehpur. In the Gorakhpur Division the least good work appears to have been done by the subordinate courts in Gorakhpur. The following table shows for each division the manner of disposal of appeals :—

The average duration of appeals in the North-Western Provinces fell from one month and two days to 29 days, and increased from 29 days to one month in Oudh. The duration of appeals was highest in the Gorakhpur Division (one month and 15 days) owing to the Azamgarh district, where the rise is attributed by the Commissioner to the special executive work which interfered with the Collector's judicial business.

72. There has been a steady increase during the last three years in the number of appealable applications decided, which has risen from 1,544 in 1891-92 and 1,743 last year to 2,326. The number of appeals filed, which fell last year, has risen again to 163. These appeals were again numerous only in Rohilkhand and Meerut. Of 174 appeals for disposal 163 were decided, leaving a pending file of only 11, the same number as last year.

The number of appealable suits decided in the North-Western Provinces rose from 4,088 to 4,457, and in Oudh from 4,845 to 5,266. It is noticeable, however, that the percentage of appeals filed fell in the former province from 26 to 25, and in Oudh from 16 to 15. Out of a total of 1,752 cases for disposal in the North-Western Provinces, 1,105 were decided, leaving 647 pending, which is a slight increase over the figures for last year. In Oudh, with 809 fresh institutions, there was a total of 1,762 appeals for disposal, of which only 641 were decided, leaving a heavy pending file of 1,121. The average time occupied in the hearing of appeals in the North-Western Provinces was 7 months and 18 days. In Oudh the duration rose to 12 months and 15 days.

With regard to the increase in the pending file, and in the duration of appeals, the Board can again only invite the attention of Government to its steady growth, especially in Oudh. The percentage of undisturbed decisions was 55·02 in the North-Western Provinces, against 57·10 last year, in Oudh 67·08 against 67·95, and for the United Provinces 59·45 against 61·54.

74. The following table gives for each division, the numbers of appeals filed in the courts of Commissioners and their percentage on the appealable cases decided. The number of cases decided by subordinate courts fell in the North-Western Provinces from 26,309 to 24,776, and in Oudh from 5,834 to 5,080, and the percentage of

The largest numbers of appeals for disposal were in the Meerut, Gorakhpur and Fyzabad Divisions. Altogether, leaving out appeals transferred to Collectors, Commissioners had 7,798 appeals for disposal. Of these so large a number as 2,207 remained pending at the close of the year, 591 of them for over three months. Every division, except Meerut, shows an improvement, which is very marked in Gorakhpur and Fyzabad. The Board regret that they are unable to accept as sufficient the explanation of the Commissioner of Meerut for the very backward state of his file, with its 433 cases pending over three months out of 926 pending altogether. The Commissioner only disposed of 156 appeals in the year and only 41 of these were contested. During the same period his five Collectors (excluding Dehra Dún) disposed, on transfer, of 129 each on the average, of which 123 were contested. This scanty outturn of work in his own court Mr. Harington explains as chiefly owing to his having, during four months of the year, given a constantly increasing amount of time and attention to the study of the anti-cow-killing movement, which was then beginning to get a footing in the Meerut Division. Something also he attributes to business connected with the Gohna flood, the development of the Meerut College, his Volunteer command, and other special matters. Most of these matters do not come within the scope of the Board's official cognizance, but they can hardly think that the chief cause alleged can be admitted, seeing that last year the Commissioners of Benares and Gorakhpur respectively disposed of 737 and 652 cases, of which 555 in Benares and 521 in Gorakhpur were contested. Since the close of the year the Commissioner of Meerut has transferred 357 cases to his Collectors, and hoped in the first half of 1895 to bring down his pending file to normal proportions. The Board will ask him to furnish a statement showing the state of his pending file on the 31st March 1895. Mr. Ferrar in Gorakhpur has reduced his pending file by 79 cases and Colonel Currie has lowered his in Fyzabad from 527 to 171. It was not found necessary by the Board to transfer cases to Deputy Commissioners as suggested last year. The Commissioner's work in Fyzabad, of the amount of which he again complains, will no doubt be considerably lessened by the appointment of a Settlement Commissioner. Only 580 appeals, against 1,178, in the preceding year, were transferred to Collectors' courts for disposal, of which 498 were in the Meerut, and 82 in the Benares, Division. One hundred and eight in Meerut and 36 in Benares remained pending, but none were over three months old.

The following table shows the number of appeals rejected under rules 5 and 13 Board's extant circular 18-II. Summary rejections rose from 303 to 409, while the number of appeals rejected after perusal of records decreased from 769 to 552. The largest decline in rejections of the latter class occurred in the Meerut Division, where the number had risen abnormally last year. The Board have had considerable correspondence on the subject of Commissioners' procedure, noticed in paragraph 17 of the Government review on their report for last year. On the whole, they think that due discretion is used, and that seeing the power appellants have of moving the Board to revision, it is unnecessary to pursue the subject further:—

In Oudh, the percentage of undisturbed decisions rose from 68·-81 to 74·43. On the whole there has been a satisfactory increase in the number of decisions upheld in the North-Western Provinces, although the provincial average has slightly decreased. This is due chiefly to the poor results in the Allahabad Division, where the percentage has fallen from 79· 54 to 61· 71, owing to disturbance of the orders of the lower courts in Cawnpore and Fatehpur. The small number of contested cases decided by the Commissioner of Meerut, tends to vitiate the figures for that division. The increase from 3·30 to 15·61 in the percentage of remands in the Allahabad Division is due to the fact that in four districts no cases were remanded for trial in 1892-93. The percentages of decisions absolutely reversed and of those modified also show an improvement on the whole.

75. The judicial work of the Board of Revenue for the North-Western Provinces for 1893-94 was as follows:—

(a) Appeals against orders on applications under section 95, Act XII of 1881—

Orders of lower courts were disturbed in one case.

The total number of cases disposed of by the Board of Revenue in the North-Western Provinces amounted to 2,515 against 2,281 in the previous year, the total number pending at the close of 1893-94 being 525. The Board examined records of lower courts in 1,078 cases and in 71 cases parties were heard. The orders of lower courts were disturbed in 304 cases, being 12·09 per cent. of the total number of cases disposed of.

The judicial work of the Board of Revenue for Oudh was as follows:—

(a) Appeals under the Oudh Rent Act—

For disposal	247
Disposed of	179

App. B.—IX (N.-W. P.).
Action taken to avert sale of land in execution of decrees of Revenue Courts.

76. Including those pending from last year there were altogether 398 applications for sale of land under decrees of Revenue Courts, of which 275 were filed during the year, against 311 in 1892-93. The distribution of these cases by divisions is shown in the margin. Three hundred and two cases were decided, of which 213 were reported to the Board for sanction to sale, and in 92 sale was averted by the intervention of the Collector or otherwise. Out of 191 cases in which sanction to sale was accorded, sale was carried out in 72, and the remaining 119 were disposed of as follows :—

(3) Cases struck off at decree-holder's request	8
(4) Cases in which sale did not take place during the year owing to sanction not having been received before the end of the year ...	29
Total ...	119

In 11 cases the Board ordered transfer of the judgment-debtor's property. In five of these the decreemoney was paid. Sanction to sale in six cases, which were found to be time-barred, was refused by the Board and two cases were under their consideration when the year closed. The pending file was reduced from 123 to 96 cases.

With reference to their remarks of last year, on the manner ; in which sale statements are submitted by Collectors and Commissioners, the Board are glad to observe that, usually, greater attention is paid to this matter ; but they still occasionally come across cases in which they are obliged to refer back for information which should have been given in the first instance by Collectors, and the absence of which should have been detected by the Commissioner. They also continue to receive cases, at times, which have been very unnecessarily bandied about from one officer to another and thus delayed, to the great inconvenience of parties.

App. B.—IX (Oudh).

In Oudh, under the orders of Government, sale was sanctioned in 202 cases and averted in 71, out of a total of 386 cases in which decrees were taken out. Sale took place in 84 cases and the remaining 118 were disposed of as follows:—

App. B.—X—XII.
Summary and regular suits in the Kumaun Division.

The following figures show the disposal of summary and regular suits under the old procedure during the first ten months of the year under report. The figures against Garhwál in Appendix B.—X are for the entire year, and include cases under the new rules which came into force on the 1st August 1894. Owing to a misapprehension the Deputy Commissioner is not at present able to give separate figures for two months under the new rules; and, in order not to delay this report, the Board will not await them. One thousand four hundred and forty-three summary and regular suits were filed in the Kumaun Division which, with 272 pending at the close of the year, made a total of 1,715 for disposal. Of these 1,486 were decided. The number of regular suits filed was 1,050 against 1,191 in the preceding year. Summary suits, however, decreased from 546 to 393. The largest number (791) of both classes of suits for disposal was in Garhwál; but, as already explained, in these are included the cases filed in August and September under the new rules. The decrease in the total number of suits pending over three months, from 106 to 33, is creditable to Almora, where the file of such suits was reduced from 68 to 3. There were no appeals to the Deputy Commissioner under the old rules. Appendix B.—XI is therefore blank, and has not been printed. The Commissioner disposed of 242 appeals out of a total of 259, leaving only 17 pending at the close of the year.

Forty-five cases in Naini Tal and 151 in Almora were filed during August and September under the new rules. Thirty-two cases in Naini Tal, 58 in Almora, and 71 in Garhwál were pending at the close of the year. Two cases in Almora were appealed to the Deputy Commissioner, both of which were undecided when the year closed. Of the eight appeals to the Commissioner, from cases decided by Deputy Commissioners under the new rules, one only was disposed of.

Next year the statistics for the Kumaun Division will be shown in the new forms sanctioned in G. O. No $\frac{841}{1-106B}$, dated 4th March 1895.

Sec. III.—Deposits of Rent.
App. B.—VIII.

The difference between the unadjusted figures of the previous year given in this return and those shown in the Appendix for 1822-93 is due entirely to corrections in the treasury accounts of Basti. Fewer deposits were received, but the total value was almost the same as in the previous year. Proper steps have been taken to adjust the items of old dates. The adjustments during 1893-94 include Rs. 578 which lapsed to Government on the 31st March 1894.

There were 4,268 more processes issued in 1893-94 than in 1892-93, and they covered a larger demand by Rs. 20,45,982. The rise is chiefly in the minor processes, the increases in which are distributed as follows :—

	N.-W. P.	Oudh.
Writs of demand	+643	+56
Arrests	+811	+104
Attachments of moveables in which sale was avoided ...	+1,215	+1,271
Ditto ditto actually occurred	—28	+33

The increase under writs of demand is not important and may be more than accounted for by two reasons and without supposing that the difficulty of realization was greater than last year. The first cause is the more frequent use of regular instead of irregular processes, which also to some extent accounts for larger numbers of other minor processes. In this connexion Mr. Cadell discovered, at one tahsíl which he inspected, that a former practice of issuing private notes by the tahsíldar was admitted, and the reason given was that the tahsíldar feared being called to account if his returns showed too many writs. The second cause is that the return of this year includes writs for arrears of takavi and mutation fees, which were excluded last year. Their inclusion was found to be necessary, if the accounts were to be properly audited, and orders to include them were accordingly issued last August. The largest number of writs issued for a single kist in any one mahal was three in the North-Western Provinces and the same in Oudh.

The increase in arrests is of more importance. The number was large in Meerut last year (554) and increased by 115 in 1893-94. Here the Collector admits that there is something wrong and promises to attend to the matter in the current year. In Azamgarh, arrests increased from 1,626 to 2,651 and the number is far larger than in any other district in the Provinces, though not much over half the numbers in Azamgarh in 1889-90 and 1890-91. The increase in numbers of arrests in Azamgarh this year is accompanied by a decrease in the demand covered by them. It is difficult to believe that so many arrests are necessary in this district, and one of the causes assigned by the Collector is that "tahsíldars are slow to enforce the principle of joint responsibility and are too apt to first expend a vast amount of energy on hunting down some impoverished and thriftless individual co-partner." The Government are aware of the many faults of administration in Azamgarh which have been due, in the past, to frequent changes of district officers, and it may be hoped that Mr. Lovett will now be able to introduce better methods, as he promises. In Hardoi an increase of 200 arrests is mainly due to the irregular action of one tahsíldar in arresting without reference to a superior officer. The longest period for which defaulters were detained was 15 days and the average was four days.

Attachments of moveable property also show a considerable increase, especially in Oudh, but the increase was practically confined to cases in which sale was not eventually found necessary. The districts which principally account for this are Agra, Azamgarh, and Gonda. In Agra the increase is attributed to less frequent use of irregular processes. As to Azamgarh the remarks under arrests equally apply to attachments. In Gonda no explanation has been offered; but it appears that the great majority of attachments were for the realization of sub-proprietors' rents under section 158 of the Oudh Revenue Act.

In none of the districts in which the settlement has recently been revised was any increase in minor processes attributable to the enhanced demand. In such of them as showed an increase it was due to general causes.

80. The experiment of assisting the permanent staff for the service of writs of demand by service, in some cases, through the post office, was continued in Oudh. It was extended late in 1892-93 to the Rohilkhand Division and during the year of report to the rest of the North Western Provinces, except Kumaun, where postal arrangements are not sufficiently advanced to render its introduction practicable. It seems likely that it will prove to be equally inapplicable to the Jaunsár-Báwar tract of Dehra Dún. The extension was ordered too late in the year for its effects to be fully judged of, and in some cases nothing had been done before the close of the year. The new envelope, which has been devised, bears the word dastak in Hindi and Urdu outside, so that even if it is refused by the defaulter, he gets notice that he is in arrears. The system is no doubt unpopular with tahsíldars and their subordinates, and it is also opposed by some higher officers, notably the Commissioner of Allahabad, who thinks it "utterly unsuited for Bundelkhand which requires personal, not bureaucratic, Government." As already remarked, the system is in its infancy in the North-Western Provinces, and next year the Board will be in a better position to judge of its probable success. It requires careful supervision by district officers who will have to put down opposition from the tahsíls and to see that due discretion is used in selecting the persons in whose cases it should be used. If this is done, there seems no reason why it should not succeed elsewhere as well as it did in Rae Bareli last year.

Process-fees.

81. Including arrears, the demand for process-fees was Rs. 45,608, of which Rs. 45,252 were collected. The expenditure was Rs. 24,927, leaving a surplus collection of Rs. 20,325. No district returned a deficit.

(b) Attachment of landed property.

82. Attachments of immoveable property rose from 203 to 338, of which 11, against 6 in 1892-93, were in Oudh. The number of mahals is large in comparison to the number of individual landholders against whom the process was issued. The Rajá of Bhareh in Etawáh, alone, accounts for 47 mahals, the Rajá of Jaunpur for 21 and another estate in Jaunpur for 38. A defaulting estate in Hamírpur represents 38 attachments. Thus four defaulters alone account for two-fifths of the attachments. The 72 properties in Almora were attached for Rs. 1,378 and released almost immediately.

(c) Transfers of shares or pattis.

83. Transfers were practically confined to Agra where 27 petty shares in one mahal were transferred. The total transfers in the provinces were 29 against 51 last year.

(d) Annulment of settlement.

84. The settlement of 50 mahals, against 39 last year, was annulled; 39 of these villages belonged to the Rajá of Bhareh and have been farmed for 4 years to the Mahárája of Benares, who is a creditor of the Rajá. The settlement of 6 mahals was annulled in the Lalitpur subdivision of Jhansi. Their condition was apparently bad, and, with a view to obtaining reliable figures for the approaching revision of settlement, they were taken under direct management. The case of farm in Unao was specially reported to Government.

(e) Sales.

85. Only one case of sale occurred, as compared with 62 last year when special reasons existed for stringent measures in parts of the Agra Division. The good effects of last year's severity are made manifest by the decrease of sales accompanied by better collections.

App. E.—XI.
Estates managed direct after annulment of settlement.

86. There were 40 estates under direct management against 34 in 1892-93. Including arrears the total rental demand was Rs. 33,420, of which Rs. 27,820 were collected and Rs. 5,600 remained outstanding. Two-thirds of this balance were due in Azamgarh and Gonda. In the former district the arrears [Rs. 2,693] are due from an estate which is now farmed. The lessee, who undertook the collection, failed to recover any portion of the arrears in 1893-94. The adjustment of the accounts is under consideration. A portion of the amount is time-barred, and may have to be remitted eventually. The arrears [Rs. 1,039] in Gonda were due from a single mahal, which is liable to damage from floods in the Ghagra, and where special difficulty is experienced in realising rents from the ex-proprietors. The total expenditure was Rs. 1,203. The percentage of the cost of establishment to the rental demand was 2·9 as against 3·5 in the previous year.

App. E.—XII.
Estates attached by order of Civil or Rent Courts.

87. Including an estate in the Unao district, which was erroneously reported by the Deputy Commissioner last year to have been taken under the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards, and three estates in the Farukhabad district, the accounts of which for 1892-93 were not furnished by the Collector, the total number of estates, at the beginning of the year, of which district officers actually held charge, as managers or receivers, was 26, and 18 more were taken charge of during the year under report, making a total of 44. Of these, seven have been released, leaving 37 estates under management at the close of the year. The rental demand, including outstanding arrears, was Rs. 2,11,421; and, including advance collections, Rs. 1,72,923 were realized. The total assets for the year, including the opening cash balance and miscellaneous receipts, were Rs. 2,59,990, of which Rs. 1,47,740 were disbursed for charges, including revenue and proprietors' allowances, and Rs. 86,451 were paid into Court towards the liquidation of debts. More should have been paid under this head, as appears from the existence of unnecessarily large cash balances in Gházipur, Moradabad and Fyzabad. The debts still undischarged amounted to Rs. 5,66,304. The Rámpur Kalan estate in Sitapur accounts for Rs. 1,03,489 out of this total. At the rate at which payment has so far been made, it would take about fifteen years to free the estate; but, as the revision of settlement is impending and further decrees remain to be satisfied, the decree-holders have been advised by the District Judge to apply for sale of a portion of the property. They, however, had not done so when the year closed. The management of the Sihipur estate in Fyzabad continues to be satisfactory, but the circumstances of Bansgaon remain unaltered. This estate appears to have been placed under the care of the Deputy Commissioner, as receiver, more with a view to affording it protection from waste, pending the proceedings before the Civil Court to bring it to sale, than in the hope of liquidating the debt. The claim to the Sihipur estate, by the Khapradih Court of Wards' estate, is now the subject of litigation, the institution of a civil suit for recovery of possession having been sanctioned by the Court of Wards. The Fatehpur estate in the Bara Banki district is hopelessly encumbered and the sale of the entire property has been sanctioned in execution of decrees. The debt exceeds two lakhs of rupees and the profits are not sufficient to meet even the charge for interest. Great difficulties have arisen regarding the proposal to clear the estate of Har Shankar Prasad in Gházipur by purchasing it for the estate of his brother under the Court of Wards. In order to avoid risk to the latter estate, the whole proceedings in execution have to be carefully examined and the matter is still under the consideration of the Standing Counsel to Government. The debt of Rs. 1,90,459, due by Har Shankar Prasad's estate at the beginning of the year, including Rs. 9,448 on account of interest, was reduced to Rs. 1,78,165. The accounts of the Kharauni estate in Ballia are, as last year, incorporated in the appendix.

The total number of proprietary mutations under orders of Court fell slightly in the united provinces. Private sales of property decreased by 2,065 and mortgages by 1,639, whilst there was an increase of 143 under redemption of mortgages and of 560 under other cases. On the whole then, the year was characterised by fewer transfers of a voluntary character and this, in so far as the figures are reliable, may be accepted as a satisfactory sign. The variations, from district to district, between this year and last are not generally of sufficient importance to call for special notice. The increase in the number of mutations recorded in Muttra, from 4,229 to 5,706, which occurred chiefly in succession and "other cases" of transfer, is attributed by the Collector to the patwaris being induced to report many old cases which they feared to bring forward lest they should be punished for not reporting them earlier. The returns of prices fetched by private sales cannot be considered of great value. They are rendered unreliable by various causes, such as fictitious over statements of price made with a view to defeat pre-emption. And even if the actual prices paid were known, no valuable inference as to the real selling value of land could be generally drawn without a full investigation of the encumbrances existing on each property at the time of sale. As instances of the worthlessness of such statistics it may be mentioned that 19 estates in Basti are reported to have fetched 90 times the annual revenue, whilst four revenue-free estates in Etawáh realised 89 years' purchase of the assumed revenue. It is impossible to accept such figures without explanation, though in one case in Etah a very high price is fairly explained by the fact that what fetched money was not the land but the timber growing on it. The very considerable fall in transfers by succession is noticeable as the year was not as healthy as its predecessor. The Commissioner of the Benares Division, which accounts for nearly 2,500 of the decrease, attributes a decrease in Benares and Ghazipur mainly to relaxation of supervision over the registration of this class of transfers. A very large decrease of 2,709 in Basti may perhaps be due to similar causes.

The figures of this district generally seem very unreliable and the Collector will be requested to endeavour to make them more accurate in future. In Gorakhpur, the Collector promises a special report regarding 18,000 cases, other than of succession, in the Bansgaon tahsíl, which the patwarís have omitted to report and which will be dealt with in the current year. The patwarís are said to have been unaware that it was their duty to report any but succession cases. The statement is an extraordinary one and, if correct, the kanúngós equally must have been ignorant of their duty and no proper supervision over them can have been exercised.

The Board's scheme, mentioned in paragraph 87 of last year's report, for revising the scale of fees and penalties for mutations, is still far from ready. So far their proposals have been met by insuperable financial difficulties. Mr. Cadell, during his cold-weather tour in Azamgarh, found cases where the fees and penalties represented several years' revenue on the small shares transferred, and it will now probably be necessary to revert to the original idea of abolishing fees on the very small transfers. So far it has been found impossible to allow free transfers of properties with a revenue not exceeding Rs. 10. The loss would be so great that it could not be made up by raising the fees in the case of larger properties. Probably the limit will have to be fixed somewhere below a revenue of Rs. 5.

There were seven cases of sale, including one of the previous year, but sale actually took place in only three cases, while in 3 the money was paid before sale, and one case remained pending at the close of the year. The accounts of 426 loans granted under the Act still remain open The Board commented in their last report on the working of the Act and they have no fresh remarks to offer on it. In one or two cases small estates, which had been bought in by Government under the Act, have been returned to the families of the former proprietors on perpetual non-transferable leases which will prevent their raising money on the security of the land.

92. The total number of applications for partition in the North-Western Provinces was 3,913 and in Oudh 629, which shows a slight falling off in the total of both perfect and inperfect partitions. The following table shows the distribution of the cases by divisions and the progress made in disposing of them :— SEC. III—PARTITIONS. App. C.—IV. (N.-W. P. and Oudh).

In the Meerut Division, the reduction of the pending file from 451 to 393 is mainly due to the good work done in the Saháranpur district. In Muzaffarnagar the pending file rose, but this was largely due to the considerable number (111) of fresh institutions during the year. The oldest case in the division dates from February 1889, but it is reported as practically complete. In the Gorakhpur Division, the rise in the pending file of perfect partitions from 378 to 417 cases is also due in great measure to the large number of applications (427) filed during the year. A good outturn of work is however shown, no less than 284 partitions having been actually carried out. Rohilkhand was the third heaviest division in regard to the number of cases for disposal and, notwithstanding the large number of institutions (404, in the year, the Collectors have succeeded in greatly reducing the pending file. In the Benares Division the pending file has decreased and is heavy (64) in Jaunpur alone, where, however, a fair amount of work was done. In Allahabad also there is a decrease and no district except Cawnpore has a heavy pending file. In Oudh the cases undisposed of are somewhat numerous in Hardoi only.

The increase in the number of mahals, due to perfect partition, is large and the difficulties of administration arising in consequence of this multiplication of minute properties are dwelt on by more than one officer. It is understood that the question has engaged the attention of the Committee for the revision of the Revenue Acts and it is hoped that their proposals may, if accepted, do something towards checking this growing evil. The experiment of employing amíns on fixed salaries has, on the whole, proved so satisfactory that Government have recently sanctioned its extension to all districts in the North-Western Provinces, except those in which settlement is in progress, or approaching, and a few districts peculiarly circumstanced.

The total for the North-Western Provinces differs but slightly from the total of the previous year, and the amounts in each division are also nearly the same, except in Agra and Meerut. The falling off in Oudh amounts to Rs. 18,672. Of this decrease Hardoi alone accounts for Rs. 10,450, or more than half. The Deputy Commissioner explains that this form of advance has decreased in popularity since his strict insistence on the money being spent exclusively on the proper objects, an admission which leads to the inference that advances were not made with sufficient care and precaution in the past. The fact, however, of the district being under settlement may largely account for small demands, and the same may be said of the greater part of Oudh. The Deputy Commissioner of Sitapur reports that the obstruction of zamindárs is a serious drawback to the spread of these advances among the tenantry in his district. Landowners are reported to give their tenants no encouragement whatever in applying for loans; still less will they give security for them, and in several instances they have even refused permission to build wells. The absence of loans in Kheri is explained to be due to there having been no applications during the year, while in Fyzabad only two applications for advances, amounting to Rs. 160, were sanctioned. The progress of settlement operations in Partábgarh and the fact that the greater part of the district is plentifully supplied with wells, account for the falling off in the amount advanced there. Gonda and Bahraich are, as usual, conspicuous with no advances. The causes have been alluded to in past years. No loans for improvements were again given in any of the districts of the Kumaun Division. The reasons have already been discussed in former reports.

The amount advanced in the Meerut Division has largely increased. This is almost wholly due to the Aligarh district where no less than Rs. 9,300, or five-sixths of the total sum for the division, were disbursed. Of this Rs. 4,700 were on account of drainage works, which are much needed in this district. Very small advances continue to be shown in the rest of the division and, no doubt, the Commissioner is right in saying that the good results in Aligarh are due more to the Collector's (Mr. J. H. Harrison) personal energy and influence in his district, than to physical differences between Aligarh and the rest of the division. District Officers might, with advantage, note drainage works as a good field for loans. They are wanted in many places and these loans have the advantage that, being generally expended by Government Agency on behalf of the borrowers, there is no doubt of their being applied to the object intended.

Advances in the eastern divisions of Benares and Gorakhpur still remain at a low level. Jaunpur was again the only district in the two divisions in which loans were taken to any extent.

In the whole of the Rohilkhand Division only three loans, amounting altogether to Rs. 800, were granted in Budaun and Bareilly.

With the exception of Agra, all the districts of the Agra Division show a falling off. The Collectors of Muttra and Mainpuri say that, but for the curtailment of their annual grants, more money could have been usefully advanced. This can hardly be considered an adequate excuse, unless applications for additional grants were made and refused. The reason given by the Collector for the extremely small sum of Rs. 70, advanced in the Etawáh district is that, in some cases, the loans applied for were intended for purposes other than those the Act provides, and in others the required security was not forthcoming.

In the Allahabad Division, the district of Allahabad shows even worse results than in the previous year, the sum lent having dwindled to Rs. 100. From what he has seen of the district the Commissioner is satisfied that much more might be done in the way of drainage and the construction of bunds and tanks and he has informed the Collector that he will expect to see greater energy manifested in this direction during the current year. The Collector of Banda has actively interested himself in the matter of these advances, but a loan advanced by him for making a new village site is not within the scope of the Act, however desirable it may have been. The districts of Hamírpur and Jhánsi show good results. In the former, out of the total sum advanced, Rs. 1,315 were for the eradication of kans regarding the state of which the Collector has given a detailed account.

App. C.—VII.

94. Including Rs. 3,76,635, the arrears of 1892-93, the demand on account of principal advanced was Rs. 4,44,061, of which Rs. 99,694 fell due during the year and Rs. 94,979 were collected. The balance, all of which is recoverable, was chiefly due in Mainpuri, Cawnpore, Hamírpur, Jaunpur and Bara Banki In Jaunpur, where it was heaviest (Rs. 1,174), steps have been taken for its recovery, but with the excessive rain and disastrous floods in that district during September and October 1894, there may be delay in some cases. It is also expedient that some leniency should be shown in the collection of the overdue balance (Rs. 614) in those villages of the Bara Banki district which have suffered from floods and failure of crops; but in other cases the Deputy Commissioner has issued orders for the speedy recovery of the arrears. In the Cawnpore district the outstandings (Rs. 456) have been realized since the close of the year, while in Mainpuri and Hamírpur they are under recovery.

The demand for interest was Rs. 31,822, of which Rs. 21,830 were realized.

ADVANCES UNDER THE AGRICULTURISTS' LOANS ACT.
App. C.—VIII.

95. The following statement shows the sums advanced under the Agriculturists' Loans Act during the two years 1892-93 and 1893-94:—

Total, Oudh ...	81,110	69,517
GRAND TOTAL. ...	3,49,732	1,97,983

The very large decrease in the year of report is mainly owing to the inclusion in the accounts for 1892-93, as explained last year, of the exceptional loans advanced in the Garhwál district on account of the scarcity of 1891-92. Eliminating this sum, the falling off really amounts to Rs. 32,541. It is most marked in the Agra Division, where Rs. 21,252 less were advanced than in the previous year. This is due to the general improvement in the tracts that have suffered from agricultural depression. As a consequence, advances were not so largely required or sought after. In Farukhabad the continuance of floods into September delayed many applications which were subsequently made and complied with after the close of the year. In Mainpuri again the advances declined from Rs. 10,445 to Rs. 6,759. Advances were largest in the Allahabad Division. Mortality amongst cattle and, still more, the injury to the wheat crop by rust amply account for the large increase over last year's figures; but it is curious that Hamírpur should show a decrease, though the Commissioner gives his assurance that the Collector acted liberally and judiciously in making advances. Special activity was shown by Mr. Ferard, Collector of Bánda. Advances of only Rs. 200 in Allahabad were small out of all proportion to the size and importance of the district and the Commissioner has called upon the Collector for explanation of the apparent slackness in this branch of the administration. Loans continue to be largely taken in the Oudh Divisions, the Bara Banki district accounting for the largest advances (Rs. 18,720). In Hardoi there is a falling off of Rs. 11,171, and the reason assigned for this is the reduced allotment; but the Commissioner attributes more weight to the liberal advances of 1892-93 having met in a great measure the requirements of agriculturists in the way of plough-bullocks, &c. The Board are inclined to suspect that more strict insistence on the application of loans to their proper object may have had a good deal to do with a decline in the demand.

Very few advances were made in the Meerut, Benares and Gorakhpur Divisions. In the Meerut Division the prosperous condition of the tenantry generally is assigned as the reason of the smallness of the demand. The unpopularity of takávi in the Benares Division is again alleged as the cause of the small amounts advanced. "It is only in times of widespread and extraordinary distress," writes Mr. Roberts, who has a very long acquaintance with the division, "when ordinary arrangements break down, that there is ever any need in this division for takávi advances." Good harvests, and the fact that there was no serious damage by floods, are the reasons assigned for the absence of loans in Gorakhpur; but this division has long gone hand in hand with Benares. Fairly large sums were advanced in the districts of the Rohilkhand Division, except Pilibhít, the return for which is again blank.

As Government are aware, the advances under the Act, due to the damage to the first rabi sowings from late rains in 1894, have been very large since the close of the year.

The annual cattle fair in Hardoi was again held, and 368 head of cattle, which were branded on purchase, were disposed of to recipients of loans. Fraud was brought to light in one instance and the application for a loan refused. By way of trial, inducements were offered at the Sandila fair for purchasing cattle with takávi loans, and Rs. 4,258 were thus disbursed to the zamíndárs of the tahsíl, who purchased 130 bullocks. Reference is made to Seth Raghubar Dayal's agricultural bank in Sitapur, which the Commissioner describes as a genuine and praiseworthy undertaking. It makes advances only on the Seth's own estates, and he has now been able to reduce the rate of interest to 9 per cent., which, seeing that he has not the power of summary recovery enjoyed by Government, seems not unreasonably high. The results of the inquiries made by the Director of Land Records and Agriculture as regards the parts of the provinces which are most liable to agricultural failure, and especially those which have suffered during recent years, are incorporated in paragraphs 11 and 12 of his report for 1893-94, which is submitted direct to Government. Mr. Miller, however, experiences some difficulty in giving full effect to the orders of the Government of India, under which he is presumably required to supply this information annually, and a representation from him on the subject is under the consideration of the Board.

96. Previous year's outstandings amounted to Rs. 4,75,880, and, added to the advances of the year, raised the demand to Rs. 6,73,863, of which Rs. 3,49,364 fell due. Out of this sum Rs. 3,13,472 (89·7 per cent.) were collected. Of the balance of Rs. 35,892, the largest sums are due in Gorakhpur (Rs. 9,201) and Garhwál (Rs. 13,761). In Gorakhpur, the Collector proposes to take up all outstanding cases and examine them himself. He fears that a large amount will prove irrecoverable, as it seems doubtful if adequate security was always taken for advances formerly given. Of the arrears in Garhwál, Rs. 808 have been realized since the close of the year and the remainder is being gradually liquidated. It is due from the people of the northern parganas, where there was again a scarcity during the year, and pressure for payment was consequently deemed inadvisable.

The total demand for interest, including Rs. 10,052 on account of previous years, was Rs. 29,887, and Rs. 22,085 were collected, leaving an outstanding balance of Rs. 7,802.

97. It will be seen from this appendix that there has been an increase under each of the following heads as compared with the previous year—number of mahals, gross land revenue, issues and receipts in the Revenue Department, and the number of cases for disposal. The number of cases disposed of, however, fall short of the previous year's figures by 1,408. The receipts and issues in the Board's office amounted to 22,258 and 22,633 respectively.

SEC. VI.—ARRANGEMENT, INSPECTION AND WEEDING OF REVENUE RECORDS. APP. C—X.

98. One million two hundred and ninety-three thousands six hundred and fifty-eight (1,293,658) files should have been sent into the record-room and 1,213,884 were actually deposited, leaving a balance of 79,774 at the close of the year, compared with a balance of 59,324 at the close of the previous year. This result cannot be considered satisfactory, for while the total number of files to be sent into the record-room was nearly the same in both years, the number actually deposited in 1893-94 was 20,485 less than the number deposited in 1892-93. The majority of districts show a falling off in this branch of work. Muttra, which showed a clear file at the end of 1892-93, exhibits a balance of 8,055. This is said to consist chiefly of mutation cases which are not consigned to the record-room until the fees and penalties due have been realized: (as regards the increase in mutations, see paragraph 88 of this report). The rise in arrears in Bulandshahr, Bijnor, Budaun, Moradabad, Unao and Partábgarh is also noticeable. The large outstandings in Partábgarh and also in Bijnor consist mainly of the records of the Settlement Department which are in the settlement record-room and should not be taken into account. Unao was named last year for its large balance, but instead of showing any improvement, there was, during the year under report, a still further increase in the number of files remaining to be deposited. The explanation given for Bijnor and Partábgarh may account partly for the large number of undeposited files in Unao also. Record work seems to be backward in this district and requires the special attention of the Deputy Commissioner. The improvement in Sháhjahánpur and Sultánpur is commendable. The former shows a clear file compared with a balance of 2,043 at the end of 1892-93, and the latter a decrease of 3,193 in the balance.

The work of registering and arranging the files was done almost as promptly as in the previous year. The number remaining to be inspected and arranged at the close of the year under report was 9,631 as against 8,133 at the end of the previous year. Many districts show clear files in this branch of the work, and the only districts with large balances are Allahabad, Almora and Unao.

99. There was some improvement in the work of inspecting and weeding records, 4,000 more bastas having been disposed of than in the preceding year. It is satisfactory to note that the heavy arrears shown against Budaun at the close of 1892-93 have been cleared off and those in Moradabad and Hardoi reduced. The work of weeding appears to be backward in Agra, Allahabad, Benares, Gházipur and Bara Banki. In Etah, Cawnpore and Hardoi, as remarked in the last year's report, the unweeded bundles consist of patwáris' papers which do not admit of weeding for some years to come. The work of weeding and arranging records is one in which much can be done under the close supervision of the officer in charge of the record-room and the District Officer, and the matter is specially commended to the notice of those District Officers in whose districts the arrears are heavy.

In some districts the falling off in arranging and weeding records is attributed to the staff having been reduced under Mr. Alexander's scheme. In some cases, owing to insufficient allotments, it has been necessary to restrict unduly the weeding and arranging staff in order to provide for the disposal of copying-work. The Board have been forced to the conclusion that the special record-room establishment was cut down too far under the scheme, and they have recently submitted proposals for increasing the expenditure again, which they trust will result in improved figures next year under arranging and weeding.

SEC. VII.—APPEALS UNDER ACT XIX OF 1873 (N.-W. P. REVENUE ACT) AND ACT XVII OF 1876 (OUDH REVENUE ACT). APP. C.—XI.

100. The number of appeals filed during the year was 5,504, which, with 946 pending at the close of the previous year, made a total of 6,450 for disposal, against 7,253 in 1892-93. The largest number of appeals filed in Collectors' Courts was 637 in the Meerut Division, which is closely followed by Agra, Rohilkhand and Gorakhpur, with figures between 550 and 600 each. The pending file rose slightly in Meerut, Rohilkhand, Benares and Gorakhpur. The outturn of work in the Allahabad Division was very satisfactory. Out of a total of 465 appeals for disposal 444 were heard, leaving only 21 pending at the close of the year. The largest number of appeals to the Commissioner was also in Meerut, amounting to 481, of which no less than 243 remained undisposed of at the end of the year. The remarks already made on the Commissioner's pending file of rent law appeals apply equally to these. In all other divisions the Commissioner's pending file was moderate. The oldest case pending was one of 15th August 1893, in Jaunpur.

SEC. VIII.—ACTION TAKEN BY DEPUTY COMMISSIONERS UNDER SEC. 158, ACT XVII OF 1876.
Apps. C—XII AND C—XIII (OUDH).

101. Applications to recover the rent of subproprietary mahâls in Oudh rose from 427 to 661, and the amount of arrears claimed from Rs. 82,383 to Rs. 1,29,967. The largest numbers of new applications were filed in Fyzabad, Gonda and Sultánpur. The increase appears to be generally due to a poor crop necessitating more frequent resort to this process. The majority of the applications in Fyzabad were filed by the two taluqdárs of Ajudhya and Birhar as last year. A single estate in Gonda, changing hands from a careless to an energetic proprietor, caused an increase in the applications in this district. The Sultánpur cases are about equally divided between three taluqdárs.

The question of the reduction of the rate levied from collections and credited to the defaulting subproprietors' fund has been disposed of in separate correspondence with Government.

SEC. IX.—APPLICATIONS FOR THE GUARDIANSHIP OF MINORS.

102. No expenditure was incurred during the year by District Officers in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh in respect of applications under section 8, Act VIII of 1890, for the guardianship of minors succeeding to landed estates.

SEC. X.—MISCELLANEOUS. TOURS BY MEMBERS OF THE BOARD.

103. The Members visited the following districts during the year:—

Mr. J. R. Reid,—Partábgarh, Rae Bareli, Sultánpur, Lucknow and Fyzabad.

Mr. A. Cadell,—Bareilly, Allahabad, Bánda, Hamírpur, Jalaun, Jhánsi, Etáwah, Mainpuri, Etah, Agra, Fyzabad, Bijnor and Lucknow.

Mr. H. F. D'O. Moule,—Bareilly, Unao, Cawnpore, Lucknow, Hardoi, Rae Bareli, Fatehpur, Bara Banki, Moradabad and Bánda.

Mr. G. Adams,—Lucknow, Cawnpore, Partábgarh, Benares, Jaunpur, Ballia, Sháhjahánpur, Bara Banki, Fyzabad and Gonda.

Record Fund rules.

104. It is generally reported that the Record Fund rules have worked satisfactorily during the year under report.

Revision of district establishments.

105. Mr. Alexander's scheme for the revision of district establishments, as proposed by the Board and subsequently modified under Government Orders, was brought into operation on the 1st April 1894. One tahsíl in Fatehpur still remains to be reduced, as soon as tahsíli accommodation can be provided at the new headquarters of the two tahsíls which are to be amalgamated, and the relief proposed for the districts of Gorakhpur and Azamgarh is still under discussion. The scheme appears to be working smoothly, except as regards special record-room establishment and process-servers, and, so far, it has been worked without extra expense to provincial funds. This is of course due to transfers of charges to the Patwári Fund and to the reduction of six tahsíls. The Board have had to propose a larger expenditure on record-rooms, and the process-serving establishment will probably require further revision, though, it is hoped, at no increase of cost. In Oudh some difficulties in the case of kurk amíns have been felt, especially by those officers who, not having been employed in the North-Western Provinces, were unacquainted with the proper functions of these officials.

Territorial changes.

106. The territorial or administrative changes that took place during the year were the transfer of four villages from Etah to Budaun under the deep-stream rules and of two villages from Budaun to Sháhjahánpur. Under G. O. No. $\frac{590}{1-87B}$, dated the 8th March 1894, and No. $\frac{1913}{1-87B}$, dated 16th July 1894, the entire pargana of Garha and four villages in pargana Muhammadabad of Gházipur were transferred to Ballia. Several changes within district boundaries also took place owing to the abolition of six tahsíls in pursuance of the scheme for the reorganization of district establishment.

Boundary pillars.

107. Boundary pillars and survey stations were duly inspected and necessary repairs carried out. The pillars between the Muttra districts and Bhartpur were inspected during the year and repairs, where needed, were to have been executed under the Collector's supervision during this winter. Half of the estimated cost, Rs. 821, has been realized from the Bharatpur Darbár (c.f. G. O. No. $\frac{1394}{28B.}$, dated 24th May 1894). The disputed boundary case at Dhund Ságar between the Gwalior State and Jalaun still remains unsettled. Monoliths have been erected along the boundary between Nepál and the districts of Pilibhít and Naini Tal, which was surveyed in the preceding year.

Hamírpur forests.

108. The protected forests in the Hamírpur district were inspected during the camping season by the Joint Magistrate in charge of the Mahoba subdivision, and the arrangements made at settlement were found to be working satisfactorily. The Collector refers to the difficulty experienced in identifying the boundaries of forests in two villages of the Mahoba tahsíl, owing to the adjoining fallow lands of the zamíndárs being also overgrown with trees, and reports that he has ordered the construction of proper masonry pillars, at the cost of zamíndárs, to replace the present stone heaps which can be easily removed. The fines alluded to last year are trifling in amount, and are really penalties for breach of agreements taken at settlement. Last year's proposal that Government should pay the forest guards appears to be now withdrawn as unnecessary.

Service and character-books.

109. Service and character-books were duly maintained. In Naini Tal the orders for their maintenance had not been very carefully observed, but the Deputy Commissioner has taken steps to put the matter on a satisfactory footing.

Touring of tahsíldárs.

110. Rules were issued during the year regarding the touring to be done by tahsíldárs every cold weather (clauses 9, 10 and 11 of paragraph 20 of Book Circular No. 16B—IX), and District Officers were directed to notice the subject in their Revenue Administration Reports. They have not done so in a few cases. In most districts the rules as to touring have been complied with, though not always in their entirety. In a few cases monthly tour diaries were not submitted, and in others tahsíldárs did not spend the minimum period of 60 days in camp. The Board will insist on the subject being noticed in future in every district, and will call for explanations where the full term of tour has not been worked up to in the current year. The grant of Rs. 10,000 made by Government in September 1893 was spent in the purchase of 71 tents, which were made over to Commissioners for distribution according to requirements. Similar grants were promised for the years 1894-95 and 1895-96, but, owing to financial pressure, further grants have for the present been withheld.

SEC. XI.—MAPS.

111. During the year of report the proof maps of the Mirzapur and Garhwál districts were received by the Board from the Survey office and forwarded to the District Officers concerned for examination and correction. The map of one tahsíli, comprising nine sections of the Almora district in the North-Western Provinces, and maps of ten tahsílis in Oudh, which were comparatively larger than those for the past year, were prepared and published during the year ending December 1894, making in all 71 for the North-Western Provinces and 37 for Oudh up to date. Maps for seven tahsílis of the North-Western Provinces and two for Oudh were completed in rough and forwarded to the District Officers for revision. The miscellaneous work of the department did not vary. The following statement shows the progress made in the preparation of tahsíli maps for the North-Western Provinces and Oudh up to the end of December 1894:—

SEC. XII.—ECONOMIC HISTORY.

112. The general character of the year has been described already in Chapter I as, on the whole, fair, though inferior to last year. Prices were generally easier, notwithstanding the damage done to the kharíf by excessive monsoon rains and to the rabi by untimely winter rains and cloudy weather. Two consecutive good seasons are enough to account for this, though in some cases large imports from the Panjáb and falling export from the North-Western Provinces and Oudh may have assisted to keep prices low. Scarcity or distress was felt definitely in parts of Garhwál and Almora. There was undoubtedly much damage caused to crops and other property by the excessive rain at the conclusion of the monsoon of 1894, but this belongs more properly to the history of the current than to that of the past year.

113. In Bulandshahr the Collector reports that ejectments on the three, in this respect, most notorious estates were moderate, and that he has generally succeeded in getting the ejected tenants provided with other land at a moderate rent. He thinks the tenants on these estates have now no legitimate grievance. He advocates the amendment of the law in such a manner as to maintain the rights of all tenants who have already acquired privileged rights but to prevent the future acquisition of such rights by mere length of occupancy. An explanation of the relinquishments of land in Cawnpore, as partly due to the demand for labour in mills, is tendered by the Collector of Cawnpore; but subsequent inquiries, made by the Board, throw much doubt on the validity of this theory. The general improvement in the condition of the Etah district is evidenced by the fact that nearly 40,000 acres of cultivation have been added to it since the revision of settlement. Mr. Neale thinks that much of this is due to drainage which is now receiving attention in Canal districts. Further improvements have been made in this respect in Aligarh. The Commissioner of Rohilkhand has specially noticed the waterlogging of the bhur tracts of parts of Budaun and Moradabad, due to a succession of wet years. He also notices the growing friction between landlord and tenant over the bone of contention created by the existing law regarding the acquisition of occupancy rights by lapse of time.

114. Mr. Roberts, Commissioner of Benares, who has had long experience of those districts, thinks that his Collectors are apt to draw too gloomy a picture of the condition of the population and says that, marching again through the Ballia and Gházipur districts after some years' absence, he thinks the people as well off as in any other part of the provinces with which he is acquainted. Mr. Crooke, on the other hand, draws a comparison between the people of Saháranpur and those of Mirzapur very much in favour of the superior prosperity of the former. The Commissioner of Kumaun attributes a falling off in the tea trade of his Division to high import duties in Afghanistán; but the industry seems to have prospered in Dehra Dún. The Commissioner of Meerut and some of the Collectors devote some space to a discussion of the various projects for a railway or a tramway into Dehra Dún and of railway communication between Meerut and Nanu on the Ganges Canal. During the year the direct railway from Bareilly to Moradabad and that from Lucknow to Rae Bareli were opened. The effect of the latter in facilitating imports of grain, and thus keeping down prices, is specially noticed. The increasing prosperity of the city of Jhánsi, due to the railway, is again referred to. Allusion has already been made to the private agricultural bank in Sitapur and its reduction of interest, which was promised last year. In the Gorakhpur Division the question of the creation of a third district, north of the Ghagra, to relieve the over-worked district of Gorakhpur, is under consideration.

115. The above remarks sufficiently indicate the chief matters mentioned in the economic sections of the district and divisional reports which, as usual, will be submitted for the perusal of Government.

Chapter V.—SETTLEMENT.

Revision of settlement in temporarily-settled districts.

116. It was mentioned in paragraph 123 of last year's report that Government had decided to adopt the system of assessing on the existing village papers in the five districts of Hardoi, Sultánpur, Bara Banki, Sitapur and Fyzabad, a system which had already been sanctioned in Lucknow. Accordingly the notifications bringing these five districts under settlement were modified, on the 8th March 1894, by cancelling so much of them as directed that a settlement record should be prepared. Those villages in which map correction had been commenced prior to the issue of the amended notifications were exempted from the modification. The Board accordingly instructed the Settlement Officers concerned not to commence map correction in any fresh villages and to confine the completion of the settlement records to those villages where map correction had been already wholly or partially carried out. They were also desired to concentrate their establishment on the work in the last-mentioned villages and to reduce temporary establishments, no longer required under the altered procedure. Fresh estimates of expenditure were also obtained from them, and a revised, and largely reduced, settlement budget was submitted to, and sanctioned by, Government. The above instructions were further supplemented by a note framed by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, in consultation with Mr. Cadell, prescribing the procedure to be followed in those parts of Oudh in which a revised settlement record was not to be prepared at or before the time of settlement.

117. A further change has been introduced by the appointment of a Settlement Commissioner for Oudh, who relieves the Commissioners of Lucknow and Fyzabad of all work and correspondence connected with settlement and is charged with the immediate supervision of Oudh settlement operations and with the examination of the detailed assessments. Important alterations have also been introduced in the procedure, in future, in sanctioning and confirming settlement proposals and in the assessment of the land revenue in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh. The Government of India, instead of sanctioning all the assessment rules as at present, will merely approve the general principles to be observed. The issue of detailed rules and instructions in accordance with the principles so approved will be left to the Local Government. Each pargana or tahsíl assessment report will be submitted to Government for approval of the orders which the Board propose to pass on it. No confirmation by the Government of India will be required in the case of settlements made under the procedure above described.

118. There were during the year, 12 districts under settlement, three of them in the North-Western Provinces and nine in Oudh. The ensuing paragraphs give a brief account of the progress of work in each.

119. Garhwál.—The Survey Department have completed the cadastral survey of that portion of the district which was to be surveyed by professional agency and have made over the maps and rough records to the Settlement Department. The area surveyed during the year was 260·9 square miles. Since the close of the year the Garhwál survey party has been broken up. The only work that now remains to be done is the correction of maps and area statements, from time to time, in accordance with additions or alterations made by the Settlement Department after the verification of records and the disposal of all boundary disputes. For this work a small establishment is retained under the supervision of Mr. Freeman, whose services have been transferred to this Government and who is now in charge of survey operations in Meerut. The Settlement Department corrected and attested the records of 1,385 villages, i.e., the remaining one-third of pargana Talla Salan, the whole of parganas Dewalgarh and Ganga Salan and about one-fourth of pargana Chandpur.

The work of fairing records, except the copy for patwáris, has been finished in Chaundkot and Malla Salan. In Talla Salan the records of 25 out of 684 villages, and in Ganga Salan 138 out of 568, remain to be faired. The area inspected during the year was not quite 137 square miles, i.e. the remaining portion of pargana Chaundkot and the whole of pargana Malla Salan. The former pargana was also assessed during the year, as also the greater portion of Malla Salan. The assessment reports of parganas Barah Syun and Chaundkot were received during the year. As reported last year, the increase of revenue in Barah Syun is nearly Rs. 10,800, or 61 per cent. In Chaundkot the revised assessments have been sanctioned since the close of the year, giving an increase of nearly Rs. 4,000, or 53 per cent.

The draft rules for the survey and assessment of the parganas and pattis which have not been cadastrally surveyed were submitted to Government for sanction in August 1894, after being practically tested. The Government decided that it was not necessary to survey even the new cultivation of this portion of the district, that as the increase of revenue for the entire district is limited to 50 per cent., the assessment to be imposed on the less accessible tracts could be estimated after the assessment of the cadastrally-surveyed portion had been completed, and that it could then be fixed roughly for each patti and be distributed by the málguzárs themselves over the villages. The cost of survey and settlement during the year was Rs. 91,217. The total cost of cadastral survey is Rs. 2,53,854, or Rs. 266-14-11 per square mile, and that of settlement Rs. 1,17,934, or Rs. 124 per square mile.

Settlement work was not prosecuted as vigorously as it should have been in this district. Various causes have operated to retard the work; but, after making every allowance for the difficulties which the Settlement Officer had to contend with, the Board are of opinion that the importance of pushing on with the settlement was not sufficiently appreciated. Mr. Partridge went on three months' privilege leave on 22nd July 1894, and his place, as Deputy Commissioner and Settlement Officer, was taken by Mr. E. K. Pauw. On his return from leave Mr. Partridge was transferred to the charge of the Pilibhít district, Mr. Pauw remaining in charge of the district and settlement of Garhwál. Mr. Pauw is now pushing on with settlement work. He expects to finish the cadastrally-surveyed parganas (except Nágpur, which will be taken up with the unsurveyed tract) by April 1895, if the work is not interrupted. The assessment of the unsurveyed tract is of less consequence; but this portion will also, it is hoped, be completed in the course of the current year.

120. Unao.—The work of revising the maps and records has been completed for the entire district, including pargana Mohan Auras in which work was started during the year. The fairing of records is also finished, except in Mohan Auras and for a few villages in Bangarmau. The parganas inspected during the year were Safipur, Bhagwantnagar, Daundia Khera, Fatehpur Chaurasi and Bangarmau, comprising an area of 451 square miles. This compares favourably with the area inspected last year. The Settlement Officer explains that the papers of some parganas were not ready in time to permit of more inspection being done in the cold weather of 1892-93. The only pargana which remained to be inspected was Mohan Auras. Nine parganas were assessed during the year, viz., Asiwan Rasulabad, Safipur, Patan, Panhan, Behar, Magrayar, Ghatampur, Bhagwantnagar and Daundia Khera. A small portion of Fatehpur Chaurási was also assessed. The total area assessed was 288,513 acres, or nearly 451 square miles. Only two whole parganas, Bangarmau and Mohan Auras and the greater portion of Fatehpur Chaurási, remained to be assessed. The revised assessments of two parganas, Asiwan Rasulabad and Sáfipur (the latter after the close of the year), have been sanctioned, giving an increase of Rs. 58,802, or 31 per cent. on the old demand. The total cost to the end of the year is Rs. 2,95,086, or Rs. 178-13-5 per square mile. The expenditure is very high. The Officiating Settlement Officer says: "in this district the village records were of little use and field work had to be carried out in all parganas by the Settlement Department." This explanation cannot be accepted, as it would apply equally to Partábgarh, where the cost is Rs. 34 lower, and to Rae Bareli, where it is Rs. 74 only.

121. Partábgarh.—The work of fairing the records was completed in parganas Partábgarh, Dhingwas and Mánikpur and, practically, in parganas Behar, Rámpur and Ateha. Only a few khewats and khewat registers remained to be faired in the last three parganas. The Settlement Officer completed the inspection of the remaining parganas of the district, viz., Behar, Manikpur, Rámpur and Ateha, comprising an area of nearly 526 square miles. The assessment of these parganas, as well as of pargana Dhingwas, which was inspected last year, was also completed during the year. The area assessed was 622 square miles. The inspection and assessment of the entire district has thus been finished. The Settlement Officer submitted the assessment reports of parganas Partábgarh and Dhingwas during the year. In pargana Patti the revised revenue originally sanctioned and declared amounted to Rs. 4,58,580. This was subsequently revised and a reduction of Rs. 12,619 made. The revised jama, as it finally stood, was Rs. 4,45,961, showing an increase over the old jama of 45·50 per cent. In pargana Partábgarh the Settlement Officer's proposed jama was Rs. 3,93,300, or an increase of 48·46 per cent. on the old jama. The Settlement Commissioner for Oudh considered the assessment to be somewhat high and directed its revision, with the result that the revised demand has been reduced to Rs. 3,57,370, giving an increase of 34·89 per cent. over the old revenue. The revised assessments have not been sanctioned yet. The expenditure incurred during the year was Rs. 57,610, bringing the total cost up to Rs. 2,07,862, or Rs. 144 per square mile.

122. Rae Bareli.—The correction of maps and khasras has been completed for the entire district. Besides Rae Bareli, in which verification was practically finished last year, the records of two entire parganas, Dálmau and Parshádipur, nearly two-thirds of pargana Rokha and about half of pargana Salon, were attested during the year. The fairing of records has been finished for four complete parganas, viz., Inhauna, Mohanganj, Sareni and Khiron. In Rae Bareli also it is approaching completion. The Settlement Officer's inspection of villages, for assessment purposes, was completed for parganas Khiron and Rae Bareli (excepting 31 villages), and the remaining portion of pargana Sareni. The area inspected was over 516 square miles, as compared with 239 square miles done last year. No assessment work was done during the year, but the assessment statements for parganas Inhauna, Mohanganj, Sareni and Khiron and for nearly half of pargana Dálmau, were prepared. The cost during the year was Rs. 68,116, and from commencement of operations Rs. 1,29,869, or Rs. 74 per square mile.

123. Budaun.—During the year the correction of maps and records has been completed in tahsíls Gunnaur, Saheswan and Bisauli. Attestation has also been finished for the whole of the Gunnaur tahsíl, the whole of pargana Islamnagar and for portions of parganas Bisauli, Satasi, Saheswan and Kot. The work of fairing records has been completed for nearly half the Gunnaur tahsíl.

The whole of the Gunnaur tahsíl was inspected during the year, but the Settlement Officer was not able to assess more than 320 out of 465 mahals of one pargana, Asadpur, covering an area of 135 square miles. Mr. Meston explains that the work of assessment was hampered by his having to act as Collector of Budaun for three months in the rains. The expenditure during the year was Rs. 69,460, and that in 1892-93 was Rs. 19,311, giving a total of Rs. 88,771, or Rs. 78-7-10 per square mile.

124. Bara Banki.—Under Notification No. $\frac{1068}{I-30B}$, dated 30th April 1894, the revision of records is restricted to the following nine parganas, viz., Nawábganj, Partábganj, Satrikh, Siddhaur, Fatehpur, Ramnagar, Muhammadpur, Bado Sarái and Daryabad. The records of all nine parganas have been corrected and attested with the exception of four villages in pargana Muhammadpur, the jamabandis of which were verified after the close of the year. The work of fairing records in parganas Nawábganj, Partábganj and Satrikh, which were taken in hand first, is practically finished, while in pargana Siddhaur it is well advanced. The Settlement Officer inspected the parganas of Nawábganj, Partábganj, Satrikh, Siddhaur and Fatehpur, an area of 476 square miles. The first four parganas, with an area of 322 square miles, were also assessed, but were not reported during the year. The expenditure during the year amounted to Rs. 63,211 and from commencement of operations to Rs. 84,464, giving a cost of Rs. 73-4-1 per square mile.

125. Hardoi.—In the Sándíla tahsíl, the only one in which, under Notification No. $\frac{1062}{I-814}$ dated 30th April 1894, the records are being revised, all that now remains to be done is the fairing of some of the records. The remaining tahsíls are being dealt with under the new settlement procedure. The Board found it necessary to issue instructions regarding the system of soil classification to be adopted in the Sándila tahsíl and in the tahsils of the district for which revised maps and records will not be prepared by the Settlement Department. A proposal was made during the year by the Settlement Commissioner for the appointment of an Assistant Settlement Officer during the cold weather of 1894-95 and 1895-96 in order that the assessment of the district might be completed within two years instead of in three. It was supported by the Board and sanctioned by Government. The appointment of the Settlement Officer as Deputy Commissioner for three months during the year has to some extent retarded the progress of settlement work. The four parganas of the Sándíla tahsíl, with an area of 557 square miles, were inspected and assessed. The Hardoi tahsíl and half of the Bilgrám tahsil will be inspected and assessed during 1894-95, leaving the remaining portion of the district to be dealt with in 1895-96. The cost of settlement work during the year was Rs. 61,866, and the total net charges amounted to Rs. 98,809, or Rs. 83-9-6 per square mile.

126. Sultánpur.—In this district the Settlement Officer pointed out, with reference to the orders of Government of March 1894 stopping the further correction of maps and records, that there were only 208 villages, out of a total of 2,526, in which map correction had not been commenced and to which the orders of Government applied. The Board considered it very desirable that the records of these villages should also be revised if this could be done by the patwáris without extra expense. Inquiry was accordingly made from the Settlement Officer and, on his undertaking to carry out the work on the above conditions, Government was addressed and sanction obtained to the revision of the records of the remaining 208 villages without the employment of any special agency.

Besides the three parganas finished last year, all the maps and khasras of parganas Isauli trans-Gumti, Isauli cis-Gumti, Chanda, Asal and Amethi were corrected during the year. In the remaining parganas also this work was nearly completed, only 11 villages in Miranpur and 53 in Baraunsa remaining to be finished. The records of 4 out of the 5 parganas above mentioned were attested. In Amethi the records of only 81 maháls out of 368 remained to be verified. The Settlement Officer inspected the parganas of Jagdispur, Gaura Jamun and Aldemau, an area of 557 square miles.

He also finished the assessment of the first two parganas and has, since the close of the year, submitted assessment reports for them. The expenditure during the year was Rs. 75,787. Including that of 1892-93 the total cost comes to Rs. 1,04,254, which falls at the rate of Rs. 60-14-4 per square mile.

127. Sitapur.—The district was brought under settlement by Notification No. $\frac{3191}{I-158B}$, dated 10th November 1893, and Mr. S.H. Butler was appointed Assistant Settlement Officer. On receipt of Government orders, early in March 1894, stopping the revision of records, map correction had been completed, or nearly so, in 324 villages, but very little progress had been made in the revision of the records of these villages. It was therefore decided to stop the preparation of all new records and to make over the corrected maps to the patwáris who were to compile from them their annual papers in ordinary course. A revised Notification No. $\frac{1065}{I-158B}$, dated 30th April 1894, stopping the revision of records for the entire district, was also issued. Since then settlement operations have been confined to the preparation of the necessary statistics for the revision of the assessment. The statements for one tahsíl (Sidhauli) have been compiled. The total cost of operations during the year has been Rs. 22,204-10-11, or Rs. 82-13-8 per square mile. This rate is calculated on the area for which the maps were corrected and is high because the salaries of Gazetted Officers and the cost of general establishment are distributed over a very small area.

128 Bijnor.—The district was brought under settlement by Notification No. $\frac{3179}{I-151B}$, dated the 9th November 1893. Pandit Rama Shankar Misra was appointed Assistant Settlement officer and, soon after, the work of map and khasra correction was started. According to the programme prepared by the Board, the Settlement Department had to complete the correction of the maps and records of five parganas, Daranagar, Bijnor, Mandawar, Akbarabad and Kiratpur. This work was finished by the end of February 1894 in the first three parganas and by the 1st May 1894 in the remaining two parganas. The attestation of the records was then taken in hand and was completed by the close of the year. The fairing of records has also made satisfactory progress. The expenditure incurred during the year was Rs. 34,153, or Rs. 74-14-4 per square mile.

It has been decided to survey by professional agency the forest villages in the northern parganas of the district. The total area of these villages is about 400 square miles. The work is being carried on under the general control of Mr. Freeman, Deputy Collector in charge of survey operations in Meerut. That officer expected to do it at the rate of Rs. 20 per square mile.

129. Fyzabad.—The district was brought under settlement by Notification No. $\frac{2750}{I-134B}$, dated 26th September 1893, and Mr. H. F. House was appointed Settlement Officer. The records of four parganas, Tanda, Surharpur, Birhar and Majhaura are being revised, as the correction of the maps of all four parganas had been started before the orders of Government, stopping further revision of records, were received. All the records for these parganas have been corrected and attested and a few fair copies have also been finished.

The Settlement Officer took up four parganas during the year, instead of three as laid down in the Board's programme, and this will, he says, probably enable him to finish the settlement of the district a year sooner than it would otherwise have been completed. The expenditure during the year amounted to Rs. 41,265, giving a rate of Rs. 67 per square mile.

130. Lucknow.—In this district, which was brought under settlement by Notification No. $\frac{3186}{I-155B}$, dated 9th November 1893, the assessments are being revised on the basis of the existing maps and records. The revision of the records will be carried out hereafter by the Land Records Department. The Deputy Commissioner is in charge of settlement operations. Mr. E. A. Molony was attached to the Settlement for the cold weather as Assistant Settlement Officer. The inspection and assessment of pargana

Lucknow, containing 286 mahals with an area of 153 square miles, was completed during the year and the assessment report was submitted shortly after its close. It is expected that the assessment of the remaining six parganas, comprising an area of 814 square miles, will, with the help of the Assistant Settlement Officer, be completed during the year 1894-95. The expenditure incurred was Rs. 21,813, or Rs. 22-8-11 per square mile. The low rate is partly due to no Settlement Deputy Collector having been appointed.

131. The codes of settlement rules for the North-Western Provinces and Oudh have been sanctioned and issued as Book Circulars.

132. The re-settlement of the Lalitpur subdivision of the Jhánsi district was sanctioned at the beginning of the year. Proposals for the survey of, and preparation of, the record of rights for the Gursarai and Kakarbai ubari estates in the Jhansi district have also been sanctioned and this work will be carried out along with the revision of records in Lalitpur. Sanction has further been accorded to the revision of the settlement of the districts of Meerut and Bahraich. These districts, with Lalitpur, are the first in which the scheme of revising the record of rights by the Land Records Department in anticipation of settlement has been introduced from the commencement. It has been decided to undertake the cadastral survey of Lalitpur, and the traverse and cadastral surveys of Meerut and Bahraich, on the general lines of the system described in a valuable note on village maps drawn up by Mr. H. Z. Darrah, with some modifications introduced from the practice obtaining in the Central Provinces, where a similar system is in force. Since the close of the year a party under Mr. J. S. Pemberton has started the traverse surveys of Meerut and Bahraich. For the cadastral survey and record operations the services of Messrs. Freeman, Bedford and Skilling have been obtained from the survey of India. The entire work of survey and revision of records in Meerut, Bahraich and Lalitpur is under the immediate supervision of Mr. G. B. Scott, Deputy Superintendent of Survey, who has been appointed to the newly created post of Superintendent of Land Records Surveys.

133. An abstract of the work done during the year is appended, as also a statement showing the cost of settlement operations per square mile.

PART II.

PATWÁRIS AND KANÚNGOS.

134. A full account of the working of the Department is given in the report of the Director of Land Records and Agriculture which is appended, and the remarks which follow will be confined to those matters which appear to call for special notice.

Establishment.

135. The alterations in the establishment since last year which call for remark are the increase in the number of assistant record-keepers and of assistant registrar kanúngos. Both these additions were made under Mr. Alexander's scheme for the revision of district establishments. The increase, from 231 to 396, under assistant registrar kanúngos will give material relief to a class which was overworked before. There is a reduction of 6 among registrar kanúngos, also due to Mr. Alexander's scheme which abolished that number of tahsíls. Assistant record keepers for patwarís' papers were tentatively fixed at 44, but the number is now again being reduced to 38 for the present.

The question of the promotion of kanúngos has now been set at rest by the new rules for appointments of naib tahsíldars. As noted by Mr. Miller, a good deal was done during the year towards advancing kanúngos.

Revision of patwaris' circles.

136. The Director summarises the proceedings of the last 12 years in the revision of patwarís' circles in the North-Western Provinces and, looking to the table given by him, it may be said that, in the 29 districts shown on it, a fair average pay has been secured, due regard being had to the varying cost of living and position of the patwári in the village community. The average seems, perhaps, a little low for districts so far west as Agra and Etah, and a little high in Hamírpur. On the whole, but a petty economy in cost has been effected, though it is believed that much good has in other ways been done by the revision. Five districts outside of the Kumaun Division are not shown on the table. In Ballia the revised scale was to be introduced on the 1st December 1894, and in Gházipur it has already been so. In Bijnor the scale sanctioned in 1889 will be introduced as the settlement progresses, but it may be necessary to modify it to some extent. In Budaun the scale will be revised by the Settlement Officer. The re-arrangement in Sháhjahánpur will have to be reconsidered, and in Agra it is not certain that it will be possible to bring the new scale into final effect so soon as the 1st October 1895. The recently sanctioned scheme in the Lalitpur subdivision of Jhánsi is already working satisfactorily.

In Oudh the general revision, as mentioned last year, is only now commencing and the Board have not, as yet, received proposals for any district.

Education of patwáris and kanúngos.

137. The number of patwarís and assistants (exclusive of those in Almora and Garhwál) who have passed through the school course shows some improvement, the percentage having risen from 74 to 77, while the percentage of men who have still to pass has fallen from 7 to 6. The largest number of untrained patwáris is still to be found in Allahabad (395), Azamgarh (243), and Basti (227). In Allahabad the schoolmaster seems to be unsatisfactory and he must be changed, if necessary. Instructions were issued to the Director during the year with a view to effecting a decrease in the large number of patwáris annually exempted from examination, and the result of his inquiries is incorporated in his report. Some attention appears to have been paid to the subject, as the number exempted has fallen from 5,553 to 4,991. Fresh exemptions should be very exceptional, the total number should decrease year by year, and eventually disappear.

The proportion of passed pupils in some districts is unduly low, being in several cases below 40 per cent., while the results shown by the patwari schools in Bahraich, Bijnor and Naini Tal are decidedly bad. It is hoped that these schools will receive more careful supervision in future.

The kanúngo school at Cawnpore has again proved its usefulness. The Director thinks this school has done its special work and that its continuance will probably be no longer necessary. A further report on this subject will be awaited. The attention of District Officers generally is invited to the Director's remarks, in his paragraph 5, as to the inferior class of some of the candidates for kanúngoships. The poor results among the candidates for the amins' examination may possibly be, to some extent, due to the examination being somewhat too difficult, and the Director should take care not to pitch the standard too high for these men.

Residence of patwáris.

138. The percentage of patwáris resident in their circles to the total number was 88 in the North-Western Provinces and 85 in Oudh. This shows improvement, but the matter still demands the continued and close attention of district officers. The increase in Gorakhpur of resident patwáris, from 443 to 669, is particularly noticeable, if the figures are correct. In Azamgarh, however, where 565 patwáris are non-resident (only 3 being formally exempted), the results are the worst in the provinces. A note by Mr. Rose on the administration of the district seems to show that the patwáris have, in recent years, been allowed to get very much out of hand. The Board trust that now that Mr. Lovett is to have charge of the district for some time, this unsatisfactory state of affairs will be rectified. The enforcement of the rule as to residence also requires the attention of the Collector of Basti. In Bijnor all patwáris employed in settlement have been classed as non-resident. This appears to be wrong if the men live in their circles when not so employed. The largest number of patwáris returned as non-resident in Oudh is in the Bahraich (259) and Kheri (261) districts. With a general revision of patwáris' circles approaching in Oudh, the question of residence becomes, for the moment, of less importance pending the completion of the revision.

Filing and testing of patwáris' papers.

139. There has been a still further improvement in the punctuality of filing of the village papers. But for the interference of settlement operations in some districts, the results would have been still better. In Muzaffarnagar, which was the subject of unfavourable comment in the two preceding years, all papers, except 120 jamabandis, were filed in time, and in Gorakhpur only two were more than a month late. The percentage of fields tested by kanúngos shows a slight falling off, viz., from 8·59 in the previous year to 8·40 in the year of report. The prescribed minimum of 7 per cent was not reached in Lucknow and Budaun, owing to settlement operations having interfered with the regular duties of the kanúngos in these districts. From the statement it appears that the Director has erroneously excluded Budaun and included Bijnor and Sitapur in dealing with this matter. The excuse put forward by the Collector of Basti, that attendance on subdivisional officers' camps interfered with testing by kanúngos, cannot be admitted. The Director rightly remarks that officers should see that such attendance as may be really necessary is not made an excuse for shirking work. The Board would add that officers should also be careful not to keep kanúngos hanging about their camp when it is not absolutely necessary. On the other hand, the number of fields tested by superior officers shows a large increase, which is attributed to the recent orders insisting on tahsíldárs being for a considerable period on tour in their tahsíls. Previously to this year the testing done by sadr kanúngos and naib tahsildárs was reckoned as testing by superior officers, and it appears to have still been so in some districts this year and not in others. The Board, however, have ruled that no officer below the rank of tahsíldar can be reckoned as a "superior officer" and the testings shown in future should be confined to the class so limited. The least work in this respect was done in Meerut, Sháhjahánpur and Azamgarh. The Jalaun figures are probably wrong and the explanation called for by the Director will be awaited. The instructions regarding systematic inspection of all patwáris' circles at least once in three years are now said generally to be complied with.

High percentages of incorrect entries in field books or rent-rolls call for attention in Aligarh and Saháranpur and, to a less extent, in Sháhjahánpur, Jhansi and Lucknow.

The most important discoveries of concealment of rent were made in Aligarh and Hardoi. In the former the concealments were found to be made with the object of defrauding co-sharers or lessors, rather than Government. In Hardoi eight cases occurred, the average concealment being 6½ per cent. of the true rent. In the most important case it reached nearly 70 per cent. In Fyzabad three cases are under inquiry. In Bareilly, where a special inquiry was made regarding grain rents, three successful prosecutions were instituted. The inquiries in this and the Pilibhít district are being continued.

Map correction in Oudh.

140. The subject of map correction in Oudh has not been noticed in the Director's report. The work was completed during the year in Lucknow. The operations have resulted in an increase, of 314,540 fields, due to sub division, and of 30,895 acres in the cultivated area shown. In Gonda 302 patwáris, out of a staff of 851, were under instruction. Map correction is particularly difficult in this district. The Deputy Commissioner hopes to make more progress on the return of the men deputed for instruction to the survey party in Lalitpur. In the other districts progress was fair.

Tahsíl registers.

141. The progress in the matter of the use of the pargana book is summarised in the Director's paragraph 12 and, to his summary, the Board are now able to add that the Commissioners of Meerut and Benares report that a general improvement has taken place. The Commissioner of Gorakhpur notes that no entries had been made in Azamgarh, notwithstanding the orders issued by Mr. Rose last year. Mr. Lovett, the present Collector, is attending to the matter. In Basti and Gorakhpur, though some progress was made, more remains to be done. The suggestion of the Commissioner of Allahabad that the pargana books should not be taken into camp cannot be accepted as desirable. On the other hand, the Commissioner of Meerut, on the suggestion of Mr. Allen, advocates a preliminary scrutiny of the books before officers proceed on tour. This seems desirable, as it would enable the officer to direct the course of his tour accordingly. The suggestion will be considered separately by the Board.

The Board think it may be said that a fair start towards the proper use of the pargana book has at last been made; but much still remains to be done and the matter must, without fail, continue to engage the attention of district officers and Commissioners, and to be reported on yearly.

The revised pargana books and mauza registers for the Muzaffarnagar district have been completed and the special officer started work in Bulandsháhr in August last. In the districts of Oudh, now under settlement, the work of preparing pargana books and mauza registers, in the revised forms sanctioned by Government, will be carried out by the settlement officers. Proposals for the introduction of a modified form of pargana book in the Kumaun Division have been received from the Commissioner and are under the consideration of the Board.

Amendments to rules.

142. Rules for the keeping up by registrar kanúngos of a register of reports made by patwáris regarding physical and other calamities were tentatively approved by the Board during the year. They were issued in the form of a circular letter and it is proposed to incorporate them with the kanúngo rules, if found to work satisfactorily.

Miscellaneous.

143. With reference to the Director's remarks (paragraph 19) on the finances of the patwári fund, it will be remembered that a very large balance has accumulated in past years and that, even with the increased charges now thrown on the fund, it will take some years before the exhaustion of this surplus necessitates a demand for an increased contribution by the Local Government.

I have the honor to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient servant,

F. L. PETRE,

Offg. Secretary.

The following changes in the staff were made during the year under report. A patwari fund muharrir was appointed for the sadr kanúngo's office at Naini Tal to bring the establishment up to its normal strength. The revision of district establishments generally has brought with it a much needed improvement in the staff allowed for the performance of registrar kanúngos' work at tahsíls. The duties imposed on these officials were far more than they could possibly carry out, and they were frequently obliged to obtain the aid of unpaid assistants. Owing to the abolition of a tahsíl in each of the districts of Muttra, Etáwah, Bijnor, Cawnpore, Fatehpur and Hamírpur, the number of registrars is six less than in the preceding year, but one or more additional assistants have now been allowed in most tahsíls with the result that the total number of assistant registrars has increased from 187 to 300 in the North-Western Provinces and from 44 to 96 in Oudh. For the custody of patwári records at head-quarters, in districts where there is sufficient accommodation to allow of the rules as to the transmission of these records being fully carried out, 44 assistant record-keepers were appointed—a new post and a very necessary one. The number of patwáris and assistants was reduced from 29,542 to 29,398 owing to the abolition of unnecessarily small circles in various districts. In November last year the Board of Revenue drew attention to the instructions issued some years ago regarding the promotion of the kanúngo staff to higher appointments, and an unusually large number of kanúngos have in consequence obtained advancement during the past year. Seven in the North-Western Provinces and five in Oudh obtained temporary appointments as naib tahsíldars, and four in the North-Western Provinces were permanently appointed to that post. Four kanúngos have also obtained appointments as tahsíldars and two as sadr munsarims of settlements.

2. Revision of patwáris' circles and salaries.—A general revision of patwáris' circles in the North-Western Provinces was commenced in 1883 with the object, not only of correcting any inconveniences in the grouping of villages in circles, but of introducing some approach to equality in the rates of pay in different districts. In many districts, especially in the east of the provinces, the salaries of patwáris were very low, while in others they were comparatively liberal, and it was intended, by a reduction of the rates of pay in the latter, to obtain the funds required for the improvement of the poorly paid members of the staff. In districts where increases were sanctioned the new arrangements were brought into force as soon as possible, but where a reduction was proposed it could not be carried out at once without causing much hardship to existing incumbents. At first the reductions were brought into force gradually as vacancies occurred, but as great and indefinite delay resulted a period was subsequently fixed for each district for the complete introduction of the new scale. As the work proceeded it became evident that the attempt to introduce uniformity in the scales of pay, if carried out too far and too consistently, would be productive of much actual injustice. It was necessary to give some weight to the scales of pay previously in force as well as to the position occupied by the patwâri in the community, which is of a more responsible and onerous character in the western districts than in the east. In the mean time the re-imposition of the patwari cess fortunately made the improvement of the position of the poorly paid districts no longer absolutely dependent on reductions elsewhere, and it was possible to give much more liberal terms in many districts than the scale of pay originally suggested would have involved. The possibility of economising was not lost sight of, but in many districts the scales originally suggested have been much exceeded. In others it has been found necessary to extend the time within which the new scales were to be introduced so as to diminish the hardships to the present holders of the posts. The following table shows the financial results of the arrangements for each district dealt with :—

The districts in which the largest additions have been made to the pay of the establishment are those of the Gorakhpur Division, while those in which the largest savings have been effected are Agra and Aligarh. In Aligarh the average pay per patwári is still fairly high, but in Agra I think it would have been better had the reductions been more moderate.

During the year under report the most important change has been the introduction of a scheme for improving the position of the patwáris in the Lalitpur subdivision of the Jhánsi district at an additional cost of Rs. 3,072 a year. I understand, from the subdivisional officer, that the effect of this measure has already been marked and that candidates for patwáriships are now coming forward more freely than before. In Sháhjahánpur a new scale of pay, involving a very serious reduction in the average rate of pay of each patwári, was sanctioned some years ago; but as its introduction appeared to me likely to have the inevitable effect of reducing the efficiency of the patwáris, and as it was not being brought into force in a satisfactory manner, the sanction of the Board was obtained to its reconsideration. Fresh proposals have since been received which fully justify the view taken of the sanctioned scale, but I have been obliged to ask that further enquiry regarding the rates of pay proposed be made before forwarding them to the Board. In Oudh the revision of circles is being carried out gradually by the Deputy Commissioners, but when the new settlements are completed a systematic revision will be made. In some districts the present arrangements are extremely inconvenient, a patwári having in his circle villages or portions of villages many miles apart, or, on the other hand, a village having as many patwáris as it has owners. The average pay of the Oudh patwári, according to a statement prepared last year, varies from Rs. 8-0-11 in Lucknow to Rs. 5-10-4 in Gonda, and is in most districts undesirably low. This low pay is, however, combined with a comparatively easy charge, judging from the average cultivated area of each circle, and it is probable that in some of the southern districts it will be possible to increase the pay and at the same time effect some economy by gradually diminishing the number of the circles. In the three northern districts, however, in all of which the average rate of pay is below Rs. 7-0-0, the average cultivated area is, owing to extension of cultivation since settlement, larger than anywhere else in Oudh, and the increased expenditure there will more than absorb any economies that may be effected elsewhere. All experience goes to show that it is better to have intelligent well paid men with fairly large circles rather than a large number of low paid men with very light work; but in all proposals that are made, due regard must be had to antecedent conditions and too sweeping changes should not be attempted as they cannot be carried out without great delay, except at the expense of much hardship to present incumbents. I have recently received proposals for a re-arrangement of circles in Partábgarh, but they will probably require further consideration before being submitted to the Board.

3. Patwári schools.—During the year under report, the number of patwáris and their assistants in the united provinces (exclusive of Almora and Garhwál) was 29,398, of whom 22,765 or 77 per cent. had passed through the school course, as compared with 74 per cent. in the previous year. The number of patwáris and assistants exempted from examination fell from 5,553 to 4,991. Of the whole staff 1,642 or 6 per cent. had still to pass as compared with 7 per cent. in 1892-93. The schools were attended during the year by 1,050 patwáris and assistants, of whom 539 or 51 per cent. passed. The following districts show the largest number of patwáris and assistants that have still to be trained :—

Allahabad 395, Basti 227 and Azamgarh 243. In Allahabad the schoolmaster is badly reported on. The number of candidates who attended the schools was 2,801 as compared with 3,267 in 1892-93. Of these 1,370 passed, as compared with 1,574 in the preceding year. The following table shows the number of pupils that attended the schools in each division, the number passed and the financial results :—

The expenditure has exceeded the receipts by Rs. 1,785-2-8, the average cost per pupil being Rs. 4-9-6. The results of examinations show that the patwári school of Jhánsi passed 85 per cent.; of Agra and Kheri 83 per cent. each; of Jaunpur 73 per cent.; of Mainpuri 72 per cent., and of Hamírpur 71 per cent. The schools at Budaun, Cawnpore, Mirzapur, Gházipur and Basti, passed above 60, but below 70 per. cent. Those of Meerut, Aligarh, Fátehpur, Bánda, Allahabad, Sultánpur and Bara Banki, passed between 50 and 60 per cent. The schools of Saháranpur, Benares, Azamgarh, Lucknow, Unao, Rae Bareli and Fyzabad, passed above 40, but below 50 per cent. In the remaining districts the percentage of the passed pupils was below 40. In Bahraich and Bijnor it was 21 and at Naini Tal 16. At Muzaffarnagar far too many candidates were admitted to the school and the rule requiring three months' attendance was relaxed with undue frequency.

In order to allow of the thorough training of all the patwári school teachers in the latest methods of cadastral survey, the schools were closed during the year and the schoolmasters were attached to one or other of the survey parties that have recently commenced operations. I was glad to learn from the survey officers that on the whole the school teachers were fairly well qualified for their work. They were not acquainted with all the methods now practised by survey parties, but had sufficient knowledge of the subject to acquire them without difficulty, and were well grounded n the principles of surveying.

In the last two years' reports attention has been called to the increasing number of patwáris exempted from examinations, and in accordance with the Board's suggestions made last year a return was called for from all districts of the number of patwáris exempted in each of the last four years. From the replies it is evident that the increase in recent years has been due to the fact that in some districts no exemptions at all were granted till quite a recent date. Thus in Saháranpur it is stated that only in 1892 was the first list of exempted patwáris drawn up. In most districts the exemptions in recent years have been few or none, and where this has not been the case, the attention of district officers will again be called to the intention of the rules. In some districts, as in Etah and Agra, a number of exemptions, wrongly given, have been withdrawn and this year the total number shows a decrease.

4. Annual examination of kanúngos.—At the usual examination of kanúngos and candidates for kanúngoships, held in the rainy season, 201 persons appeared for examination, of whom 173 were candidates. Sixty-one passed in all subjects and 129 in part. At the special school at Cawnpore, 113 candidates were admitted during the year, of whom 74 passed in all subjects. The school was started with the special object of providing a better education in surveying than could be obtained elsewhere. Out of 105 pupils examined at the school in survey, 72 passed, while at the divisiona examinations, out of 144 examined in this subject, only 25 were able to pass. Owing to the opening of the school, it has been possible to raise considerably the standard of proficiency in surveying required of candidates, and now that several survey partie are at work in the provinces under professional officers, it will be possible to insist on candidates undergoing a still more practical and thorough training. The school has now, I think, done its special work, and its continuance will probably be no longer necessary; but I have postponed the consideration of any changes that may be required the system of educating candidates for kanúngoships till the advice of Mr. Scott, the officer under whose superintendence all the survey operations will be carried on, can be obtained. As I was on leave during the year, I am unable to say whether there was any improvement in the class of men sent up from districts as candidates. In the kanúngo class at Cawnpore, examined after the close of the year under report, there were several students of good intellectual abilities, who promised to turn out capable officials. There was also a very large residuum of candidates of the ordinary ummedwár class, the sons of copyists or of muharrirs of sorts, who scarcely appeared to be of the stamp required for the active and responsible duties of kanúngos. I can judge these men only by their appearance, and it is impossible for me to say in any particular case that the District Officers have not sent up the best candidates available, but I believe that in most places the district schools now turn out many well-educated students of a class superior to the inferior amla, who find a difficulty in getting employment owing to their want of local influence. The headmasters of these schools would probably be able to give valuable assistance in the selection of suitable candidates, if they were consulted, and the introduction of promising pupils from the schools might do much to break up the cliques amongst officials, of which complaint is so frequently made. Thirty-seven candidates for aminships were examined, of whom 3 passed in all subjects, 17 passed in part, and 17 failed entirely.

5. Residence of patwáris.—The number of patwáris who, without being formally exempted, are non-resident, has decreased from 4,463 in 1891-92 to 4,421 in 1892-93, and to 3,813 in the year under report. The proportion of resident patwáris to the whole is 88 per cent. in the North-Western Provinces and 85 per cent. in Oudh. The lowest percentage is in the Gorakhpur Division, but considerable improvement has been effected there during the last year, the percentage rising from 56 to 73. In Saháranpur, Allahabad, Jhansi and Gorakhpur there has been a marked improvement since last year, while in Muzaffarnagar, Bijnor, Moradabad, Banda, Gházipur, Ballia, Lucknow and Unao, there has been a decided falling off. In Bijnor, the Collector has treated all patwáris employed in the settlement as non-resident; in Moradabad, Bánda, Lucknow and Ballia, the falling off is due to changes in circle arrangements or to the making up a number of new appointments, and in Gházipur to a revision of the lists and more accurate classification. In Gorakhpur great progress has been made during the year, the number of resident patwáris having increased from 443 to 669, and the Collector is taking steps to still further diminish the number of non-residents. In the Meerut and Agra Divisions the number of patwáris who are non-residents, without authority, is now comparatively small. In the Rohilkhand Division, Moradabad with 111 non-residents, and in the Allahabad Division, Bánda with 115, show the least satisfactory results. In the Benares Division the largest number of non-residents is 111 in Gházipur, while all the districts of the Gorakhpur Division have a very large number—

Gorakhpur	...	...	...	...	...	324
Basti	...	...	...	...	...	404
Azamgarh	...	...	...	...	...	565

In Oudh the districts of Rae Bareli (174), Sitapur (100), Kheri (261) and Bahraich (259), have a large number of non-residents. In Azamgarh the results are the worst in the provinces, but there has been a slight improvement since last year. The Collector states that he has issued strict orders to secure residence in future, but very careful supervision will be required to ensure that the orders are carried out into effect. In connection with this question the formal exemption of patwáris from residence requires attention as the practice varies in different districts and the lists require revision from time to time. In the Meerut, Agra and Allahabad Divisions comparatively few men have permission to be non-resident, except in Aligarh (134), Fatehpur (122) and Allahabad (370). The list in the last named district certainly requires checking. In Rohilkhand the list is large in all districts except Bijnor and Pilibhít, the largest number being 218 in Moradabad. In the Benares Division, the list is everywhere large, except in Ballia. In Gorakhpur, 418 patwáris have permission to reside outside their circles, and in Basti, 404; but in these districts there are probably special reasons to account for the large number and, at present, the action of the Collectors should be directed chiefly to enforcing the residence of patwáris who have not been formally exempted. It should be noted that in Azamgarh only 3 patwáris have formal permission to reside outside their circles. In Oudh permissions have been very freely given in most districts, and the lists should be checked as soon as settlement operations are over.

6. Filing of patwáris' papers.—Appendix I shows in district detail the dates on which the patwáris filed the more important papers. The districts of Rae Bareli and Sultánpur and certain parganas of districts Bijnor, Budaun, Luckuow, Unao, Sitapur, Hardoi, Fyzabad, Partábgarh and Bara Banki, which are under settlement, have been excluded from the statement, as the patwáris were employed on settlement work. (d) Ditto 37 ditto ditto the year under report.

Of the total number of 93,899 comparative area statements, 78,159, or 83·30 per cent., were filed in good time, as compared with 81·74 per cent. in the preceding year; 14,583, or 15·53 per cent., were lodged within one month after the prescribed date; and 965 or 1·03 per cent., were filed after one month, leaving 192 of district Bara Banki, which were not filed till the close of the year under report, owing to the patwáris being engaged on settlement work. Of the 965 statements, which were filed after one month, Sitapur accounts for 548, Partábgarh 237, Bara Banki 147, and the other districts 33. In Muzaffarnagar, Farukhabad, Fatehpur, Jalaun, Benares and Jaunpur all the papers were filed in time.

Of 93,899 kharif crop statements, 78,469, or 83·61 per cent., were filed in time, as compared with 80·21 per cent. in the previous year; 13,523, or 14·40 per cent., were filed within one month after the fixed date, and 1,866, or 1·99 per cent., after one month, as compared with 17·15 and 2·63 per cent., respectively, in 1892-93. The balance of 41 statements remained to be filed in district Bara Banki owing to the interference caused by the settlement operations. Of the 1,866 statements filed after one month 548 belonged to Sitapur, 822 to Partábgarh, 356 to Bara Banki and 140 to other districts. The kharif crop statements were filed on or before the prescribed date in the districts of Muzaffarnagar, Farukhabad, Jalaun, Benares, Mirzapur and Ballia.

Of 93,899 rabi crop statements, 83,074, or 88·52 per cent., were filed in time, as compared with 86·63 per cent. in the preceding year; 9,162, or 9·76 per cent., were filed within one month after date as compared with 12·80 per cent. in 1892-93. The districts in which rabi statements were filed very punctually were Muzaffarnagar, Farukhabad, Fatehpur, Hamírpur, Jalaun, Benares, Mirzapur, Jaunpur and Ballia.

Of the jamabandis of 93,899 villages, 80,097, or 85·34 per cent., were filed in good time, as compared with 78·29 per cent. in the previous year; 12,096, or 12·88 per cent., were filed within one month after date, as compared with 19·14 per cent. in 1892-93.

On the whole the papers were filed with a degree of punctuality which is creditable to the staff, and the results would be even better than they were had it not been for delay caused by settlement operations in a few districts in Oudh.

7. Results of testing papers.—Appendix II shows in district detail the testing done during the year under report. The districts of Rae Bareli and Sultánpur, and certain parganas of districts Bijnor, Budaun, Lucknow, Unao, Sitapur, Hardoi, Fyzabad, Partábgarh and Bara Banki, which are under settlement, have been excluded from the statement. The returns refer to 95,830 villages containing 73,996,799 fields as compared with 100,142 villages containing 76,265,982 fields in the previous year. The following table compares the results for each division during the past three years :—

Of a total number of 73,996,799 fields, 6,214,984, or 8·40 per cent., were tested by kanúngos as compared with 8·59 per cent. in the previous year. The returns of Bareilly, Allahabad and Naini Tal show the highest percentages. The kanúngos of the districts of Saháranpur, Bulandshahr, Mainpuri, Moradabad, Jalaun, Benares, Mirzapur, Jaunpur and Gonda tested between 9 and 10 per cent. of the field entries, while in Lucknow, Sitapur and Bijnor less than 7 per cent. were tested owing to interference with ordinary work caused by settlement operations.

The number of fields tested by superior officers was 1,057,199 as compared with 970,961 in the previous year. The return has now been altered so as to show the number of fields tested by kanúngos and re-tested by superior officers separately from those tested for the first time by superior officers. The increase in the total number of fields tested is probably due to the orders under which tahsíldárs have been directed to spend a definite time in camp, but in many districts there has been a decrease in the recorded amount of work done owing to the exclusion from the return of the testings of sadr kanúngos and naib tahsíldars. It was ruled by the Board that these officials were not members of the superior staff by whom the systematic inspection of each circle once in three years was to be performed, and on this account, their work has in some districts been left out of the columns showing "testing by superior officers." In others it has been shown and instructions will be issued that it should be included in future as the ruling had no reference to this special return. Owing to this want of uniformity in the filling up of the return, a comparison of the results in different districts loses much of its value. The Jalaun district shows no less than 37·19 per cent. of fields tested by kanúngos as re-tested by superior officers, and nearly as many more fields are said to have been tested by superior officers without having been previously tested by kanúngos. The figures are probably wrong, as no explanation has been given in the report of the remarkably large outturn of work that they represent, and an explanation has been called for. Other districts in which an unusually large amount of work said to have been done by superior officers are Muzaffarnagar and Farukhabad, where 22 and 25 per cent., respectively, of fields tested by kanúngos were re-tested by superior officers, who also checked an equally large number of fields not previously examined by kanúngos. The difficulty of basing any judgment as to the efficiency of the district staff on statistics alone is however illustrated by the report of the Muzaffarnagar district. The returns show an almost incredibly large outturn of work, but the Collector states that the work of superior officers was very meagre indeed. The smallest amount of testing done by superior officers was in Meerut, Sháhjahánpur and Azamgarh, in none of which districts did the proportion of fields re-tested reach 2 per cent. The Collectors of Meerut and Sháhjahánpur have offered no explanation. The Collector of Azamgarh thinks that his subordinates did as much work as their multifarious duties allowed. A falling off in the number of fields tested in Basti is ascribed by the Collector to the fact that during the cold weather the kanúngos were necessarily, for long periods, in attendance on subdivisional officers. That kanúngos should occasionally be with these officers in camp is necessary and desirable, but there is no reason why such attendance should interfere with their legitimate work, and the officers in whose camp they are should see that they do not make their attendance an excuse to shirk work.

8. In the following districts the proportion of incorrect entries discovered was over 10 per cent. :—

	Percentage of correct entries.
	Found by superior officers
	In field books.	In rent-rolls.
Saháranpur	...	73·06
Aligarh	84·78	...
Shahjahanpur	...	89·47
Jhánsi	87·51	...
Lucknow	87·78	...

The low percentage of correct entries in the field books of Lucknow was also noticed in the preceding year's report. The Collector of Aligarh explains that the high percentage of incorrect entries was due to the attention of the inspecting officers being more closely devoted to such patwáris as are suspected of indifferent work, and also to some tahsíldárs recording as an error the omission to enter crops consisting of not more than one or two plants in a field. The reports in the other districts do not allude to the subject.

9. Concealment of rents.—In many of the reports the District Officers have noticed that no cases of concealment of rent were brought to light in the testing of the rent-rolls. In the Dún it was found that much higher rents were being paid in one village than were recorded, but the village was a revenue-free one. In Aligarh enquiries brought to light some very pronounced cases of incorrect rent-rolls. The frauds were however perpetrated not so much with a view to obtain a low assessment at next revision of settlement as to cheat the co-sharers. In one case a thekedár of a village was found to have understated the rental of the village in the hope of obtaining a renewal of his contract on favourable terms, but the evidence was not sufficiently convincing to justify the Collector in applying for permission to prosecute him criminally. In most of the other cases the parties admitted the incorrectness of the rent-roll and in every case a note was made in the pargana book for the information of the settlement officer. The Collector has caused it to be generally known that landlords found guilty of deliberate fraud will have no claim to a revision of assessment at half assets. In Etah some suspicious cases were reported, but fraudulent concealment could not be proved. The Commissioner of Rohilkhand remarks that "a special testing of grain-rented villages was carried out in Bareilly and Pilibhít. In Bareilly three prosecutions resulted in the conviction of karindás and patwáris guilty of fraud, and something is being done to remedy matters by the introduction of honest weights and special form of printed receipts." In Hardoi local enquiries led to the discovery of concealed rents in 8 villages. The total difference between the recorded and true rents amounting to as much as Rs. 4,827-9-2, or 6½ per cent. In one village "Gundwa" of the Sandila tahsíl the difference was nearly 70 per cent., the recorded and true rents being Rs. 2,946 and Rs. 4,967, respectively. The Deputy Commissioner of Fyzabad says that the rent recorded in the jamabandis of 3 villages was reported to be false and an enquiry is being made about it.

10. The settlement operations in progress in the districts of Bijnor and Budaun and in most of the districts of Oudh interfered with the tours of the sadr kanúngos. The largest amount of testing done by sadr kanúngos was in Muzaffarnagar (24,891 fields), Gonda (19,844), Allahabad (14,498), Farukhabád (14,040), Jaunpur (13,564), Fatehpur (11,397), and Agra (10,159). In the following districts the testing ranges from 5,000 to 10,000 entries :—

Bareilly	9,351
Hardoi	9,119
Bijnor	9,111
Cawnpore	8,381
Saháranpur	7,931
Gorakhpur	7,928
Moradabad	6,972
Meerut	6,963
Fyzabad	6,873
Dehra Dún	6,774
Gházipur	6,340
Bara Banki	6,261
Aligarh	5,598
Lucknow	5,583
Azamgarh	5,521
Basti	5,458

In the other districts the sadr kanúngos tested less than 5,000 entries.

11. The reports of most districts refer to the arrangements made for carrying out the systematic inspection of patwáris' circles once in three years, and the instructions issued on this subject appear to be generally complied with. It appears from several of the reports that tahsíldárs have not yet taken their proper share in this work, but the rules issued regarding the camping of these officers will certainly have the effect of securing a much closer supervision of patwáris' work by them in the future.

12. Tahsil registers.—The extracts from district reports forwarded to this office do not in all cases refer to the use made of the pargana books, but there can be no doubt that increased attention has been given to them. Notes are much more frequently to be found in them than before, and they are much more frequently consulted by officers on tour. The Commissioner of Rohilkhand states that efforts are being made to utilise the books, and that notes are not so rare as they were, though the books are still very far from being what they were meant to be. Mr. Moule suggests that an abstract of settlement officer's remarks should be made on the first spare sheet for each mahal, a suggestion which has already been carried out in the revised form. He also thinks that the books, when not being used by officers in camp, should be kept at headquarters and not at tahsíls. The Commissioner of Allahabad states that the keeping up of these books is now receiving proper attention. He does not approve of the books being taken about in camp. I think that the books must be taken by officers into camp if they are to be annotated at all, and this is the usual practice in all districts. There is no doubt some inconvenience caused by the number of books which an officer travelling from pargana to pargana has to take with him, but unless notes are made at once, after an examination on the spot of any circumstances that require investigation, they are not likely to be made at all. The Commissioner of Lucknow states that the pargana books are duly kept up. In Sitapur, Hardoi, Bahraich and Kheri they were carefully examined by the subdivisional officers. In the Fyzabad Division, also, the pargana books are duly examined. In most of the Oudh districts settlements are now proceeding and, when these are over, pargana books in the revised form will be prepared. The Gorakhpur Commissioner's report does not allude to the subject, and the reports from Meerut and Benares have not at the date of writing reached me. The new pargana books and mauza registers for the Muzaffarnagar district were completed in August, and the work was then taken in hand in Bulandshahr where it will, it is believed, be finished in January. The special establishment will then move to Saháranpur. In districts now under settlement the work will be carried out under the orders of the settlement officer, arrangements for the supply of the forms required having been made by this office. A special report has been called for as to the use of the books and registers in Muzaffarnagar this cold weather, in order that if any suggestions for their further improvement occur to the officers using them, they may be brought to notice at once for a decision as to their adoption.

13. Maintenance of survey and boundary marks.—The preparation of lists of these marks, in accordance with the orders of the Government of India, has been completed in all districts except a few of those under settlement. In Sháhjahánpur it is not clear whether the lists have been correctly prepared or not, and further information has been called for. The instructions issued for the inspection of the marks in the cold weather have been carefully observed in almost all districts, and steps have been taken for re-erection or repairs where necessary. In a few districts the inspections were not carried out last cold weather but will be undertaken now. The expense of the necessary repairs falls on the landlords, in the case of boundary marks. In Bánda and Mirzapur survey marks other than boundary marks have been found to require repairs and funds have been allotted for the purpose.

14. Inspection of districts.—The districts of Dehra Dún, Saháranpur, Bulandshahr, Bareilly, Sháhjahánpur, Moradabád, Pilibhít, Allahabad, Hamírpur, Benares, Gházipur, Ballia, Mirzapur, Basti, Gonda and Kheri were inspected during the year by kanúngo inspectors of the Department, and the inspection reports on the work of the patwáris and kanúngos were forwarded to the district officers for information and necessary action.

15. Preparation of districts for settlement.—Mr. Darrah examined the districts of Bahraich, Meerut and Bánda in which the term of existing settlement was coming to an end, and submitted the usual reports on the condition of village maps and records and the probable financial results of new settlement. The inspection occupied the greater part of the Director's time in the cold weather, and a considerable part of the departmental inspector's time was also taken up with the collecting of statistics and obtaining information required for the reports, as well as in assisting the settlement Deputy Collectors who were first appointed to start settlement operations in the districts of Bijnor, Fyzabad and Sitapur.

16. The arrangements referred to in paragraph 22 of the Government Review of the Revenue Administration Report for 1892-93 for separating the work of preparing the record from that of assessment assumed a definite shape during the year under report, though not actually brought into force till after its close. It was decided to obtain the services of professional survey officers with a view not only to the survey of districts coming under settlement, but to provide for the thorough training in survey of the patwári and kanúngo establishment. The Government of India were also asked to place at the disposal of this Government the services of Mr. G. B. Scott of the Survey of India as an Assistant Director of Land Records. Some delay occurred before the Government of India could make all the necessary arrangements, and it was not till after the close of the year under report that survey officers arrived to start operations in Meerut, Bahraich and Lalitpur. The training of the patwáris in these districts was at once begun, and a large number of patwári school teachers and kanúngos were drafted in from other districts to be taught and to assist in the operations. The arrangements for the preparation of maps have thus been fairly set agoing, though at the expense of considerable disorganisation of the ordinary work of the kanúngo staff. The principles on which the work of correcting the record should proceed have not yet been finally settled in all details.

17. Amendment to rules.—Among the amendments to rules sanctioned during the year may be mentioned the one under which special concessions are to be granted to approved candidates for kanúngoships who have passed through the agricultural school. They are to have a preferential claim to appointments, and if appointed will draw the full pay of Rs. 30 at once instead of Rs. 25 only, and will obtain the special allowance of Rs. 5 for knowledge of English without further examination. Revised rules for the patwáris and kanúngos of the hill tracts of district Dehra Dún were also sanctioned subject to a report after two years on their actual working with a view to the passing of final orders as to their introduction. Rules for the keeping up by registrar kanúngos of a register of reports made by patwáris about physical and other calamities received the sanction of the Board of Revenue. They were issued in the form of a circular. Rules for the registration of mares and their produce, which had already been issued in the previous year in all horse-breeding districts, were revised in accordance with the wishes of the Government of India and on the lines of the rules in force in the Panjáb.

18. Supply of patwári and kanúngo forms.—The total expenditure on patwári and kanúngo forms during the year amounted to Rs. 71,196, as compared with Rs. 73,154 in 1892-93. The budget allotment of the year was Rs. 80,000, and there was therefore a saving of Rs. 8,804.

19. The position of the Patwári Fund, which has hitherto far more than sufficed for the charges made against it, has been affected by the changes made during the year—firstly, by the introduction of Mr. Alexander's scheme, and secondly by the arrangements for the separation of the work of correcting the records from that of assessment. The pay of registrar kanúngos and of a large number of assistant registrars has been debited to the Patwári Fund, as well as of a number of assistant record-keepers, and the additional charges on this account may be estimated at Rs. 1,57,000 a year. It is impossible at present to say what the charges on account of work hitherto done by the Settlement Department will be, but they will doubtless be considerable. The actual receipts of the Patwári Fund for 1893-94 (including the minimum Government contribution) amounted to Rs. 33,96,148 and the expenditure then chargeable to the Fund (excluding the pay of registrar kanúngos) was Rs. 31,57,408. The budget for 1895-96 estimates for receipts of Rs. 33,93,300 and an expenditure of Rs. 34,41,000, exclusive of survey charges, for which a supplementary budget will require to be submitted.

Crop and cultivation returns.—The crop and cultivation returns have this year been received from all districts except Rae Bareli, and portions of the districts of Bijnor, Budaun, Lucknow, Unao, Sitapur, Hardoi, Fyzabad, Sultánpur, Partábgarh and Bara Banki, where settlement work prevented the patwáris from filing their returns. Figures for those portions have been taken from previous years' returns to complete the provincial statement. The total crop area of the province for 1893-94 thus arrived at amounts to 42,677,770 acres as compared with 41,232,845 acres returned for the preceding year showing an increase of 1,444,925 acres. The increase occurred principally in the rabi area, which had in the previous year been unusually small as the following figures will show :—

	1892-93.	1893-94.		Difference.
	Acres.	Acres.		Acres
Kharif ...	21,408,428	21,658,808	+	250,380
Rabi ...	19,552,157	20,754,660	+	1,202,503
Zaid ...	272,260	264,302	—	7,958
Total ...	41,232,845	42,677,770	+	1,444,925

During recent years there has been a steady increase in the cultivated area of the provinces, which has been maintained in the year under review. In the latter half of the decade 1880-90 there was a serious falling off in cultivation in some parts of the province, especially in the Agra Division and in Bundelkhand. Reports of land being thrown out of cultivation, owing to water logging or the spread of kans were numerous, and in a number of districts remissions of revenue were granted in consequence. It is gratifying to find that cultivation is once more spreading in the affected tracts. In the provinces, as a whole, the increase in the cultivated area has been continuous since 1889-90 as the following figures show :—

Year	Cultivated area.
	Acres.
1889-90 ...	33,625,270
1890-91 ...	33,769,759
1891-92 ...	33,861,084
1892-93 ...	33,946,871
1893-94 ...	34,150,923

The total increase in cultivation in 1893-94 over the average of the four preceding years is 350,177 acres, of which the Agra Division contributes nearly one-half or 147,079 acres. In Gorakhpur the increase is 82,176 acres, and in Allahabad 61,758. On the other hand, in the hills and in both the divisions of Oudh, the cultivation during the past year has been somewhat below the average of the preceding four. I had recently an opportunity of examining the pargana books in one of the districts where the deterioration was worst—Etah—and was surprised to find how rapidly many of the villages were recovering. The following statement compares the area of the principal autumn and spring crops in the year under report with their area in the previous year :—

Opium	243,301	251,541	+8,240
Other crops	1,850,416	1,658,405	−192,011

The area under rice, small millets, sugarcane, cotton, indigo and til shows an increase, while a decrease occurred in the acreage under maize, juar, bajra and mandua. The increase in the area under rice, til, cotton and small millets was due to the early commencement of the rains. The increase in the area under cotton was at the expense of juár. The area of sugarcane, which showed a decrease in 1892 as compared with 1891, increased again in the present year. Owing to successive good harvests a great impetus has of late years been given to the cultivation of cane. A favourable season and a rise in the price of indigo at Calcutta encouraged its cultivation, and led to much more land being placed under this somewhat speculative crop than before. The decrease in the area under maize and the larger millets was apparently due to the heavy rains which fell at the time of sowing these crops. Among the rabi crops the increase occurred principally under wheat and barley, pure and mixed, and linseed, and may be attributed to the favourable conditions existing in October for the cold-weather sowings. The area of these crops had also undergone a diminution in the previous rabi. The area under gram decreased by 272,131 acres. The favourable character of the rainfall is further indicated by the returns of irrigation. The total irrigated area was 8,809,061 as compared with an average of 9,508,606 acres in the previous four years. In no recent year has the irrigated area been so low, and it is noticeable that the decrease has occurred chiefly where irrigation takes place largely from canals or comparatively deep wells. Where tanks are much used there has been little or no decrease. In the Gorakhpur and Benares Divisions the irrigated area was above the average, and in Oudh the falling off was not very remarkable. The decrease occurred chiefly in the Meerut, Agra and Rohilkhand Divisions, and to a less extent in Allahabad. As compared with 1892-93 there was a decrease in the irrigated area of 384,293 acres. Irrigation from tanks increased largely, but that from canals and still more that from wells, fell off as the following figures indicate :—

	1892-93. Acres.	1893-94. Acres.	Difference. Acres.
Total irrigated area	9,193,354	8,809,061	−384,293
Irrigated from wells	4,844,772	4,347,936	−496,836
„ „ canals	1,473,898	1,305,377	−168,521
„ „ tanks and other sources	2,874,684	3,155,748	+281,064

Number of wells.—The total number of wells returned for 1892-93 was 285,387; of these 2,217 wells are reported to have fallen in, while 3,915 new wells were constructed during the year under report: thus there has been a net increase of 1,698 wells in the present year. Estimating the area irrigable from these at the rates adopted in past years, the present increase in the number of wells provides protection for 14,439 acres.

Classification of holdings.—The returns showing the area of holdings and the demand and collections of rent have been received from all districts, with the exception of certain portions of Bijnor, Budaun, Unao, Rae Bareli, Hardoi, Sultánpur, Partábgarh and Bara Banki, where patwáris being engaged in settlement work could not file them. It has been explained in the reports of previous years that the information given in these statements is a year later than that of the crop and cultivation returns. Thus the figures of the former are for 1892-93, whereas those of the latter are for the year 1893-94. The classification of holdings in the case of Oudh is somewhat different from that prevailing in the North-Western Provinces, hence figures for the two Provinces are given in separate statements. The following table compares the areas under each class of holding in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh in the year 1892-93 with those of 1891-92 :—

	North-Western Provinces.			Oudh.

The differences in the provincial totals call for no special remark. The Jhánsi district shows a remarkable increase of 68,007 acres in the area held in occupancy rights, and a decrease of 37,821 in the area held by tenants-at-will. The difference has not been fully explained, but appears to be due to the re-classification of holdings in the recent settlement. In the North-Western Provinces the total area of holdings is 27,228,114 acres. Of these 6,038,685, or over 22 per cent., are held as sír or khudkásht by the proprietors themselves; 1,362,735 acres, or 5 per cent., are held by tenants at privileged rent or free of all rent; 8,920,922 acres, or 33 per cent., are held in occupancy rights; 1,813,414 acres, or 6 per cent., are held by privileged or occupancy tenants in addition to their occupancy land; and 9,092,358 acres, or nearly 34 per cent., are held by tenants-at-will without declared rights. Of the area held by tenants-at-will again 2,326,575 acres have been held for over 12 years, and in a considerable part of this area occupancy rights have presumably accrued, though they may not have been authoritatively declared. The cultivators, then, who are dependent on the landlords' discretion for protection against excessive enhancement of rent or capricious eviction hold in all probability considerably less than one-third of the total area of holdings. The area under occupancy right does not vary very greatly from year to year except in districts where new records of rights have been prepared and the status of all tenants has been formally declared. Elsewhere there may be an increase from year to year owing to the declaration of rights either in suits brought by the tenant for determination of status or in the course of ejectment proceedings, or a decrease from relinquishments or evictions for non-payment of rent. In the last four years the occupancy area has increased from 8,660,373 acres to 8,920,922. In the Meerut and Gorakhpur Divisions, where several districts have been under settlement, there has been a marked increase, while elsewhere there has been a slight, but steady, decline, which is most pronounced in the Agra Division, where the occupancy area has decreased by 103,509 acres, or by about 6 per cent. In this division relinquishments by cultivators owing to hard times have probably been more numerous than elsewhere.

Rental demand and collections.—The total demand and collections on tenants' land in 1892-93 were as follows :—

	Rs.
Total demand for 1892-93	12,27,88,368
Collections made in 1892-93—
(a) for 1892-93	10,10,79,277
(b) for previous years	1,34,29,928
Total Collections ...	11,45,09,205

The total collections in the North-Western Provinces for 1892-93 amounted to 92 per cent. as compared with 90 per cent. in the year before, while in Oudh they amounted to 97 against 95 in the previous year. The percentage of collections for the united provinces rose from 91 to 93 per cent. It was highest in Dehra Dún, Basti, Naini Tal, Lucknow, Unao, Rae Bareli, Sitapur, Sultánpur and Bara Banki, while it was lowest in the districts of Agra, Farukhabad, Sháhjahánpur, Jalaun, Benares, Mirzapur, Jaunpur, Gházipur and Ballia. The following figures show the percentage of total collections on total demand in each division of the united provinces. The slight improvement in Benares may be attributed to the measures taken in recent years to obtain more accurate returns of collection from landholders :—

REPORT

ON THE

REVENUE ADMINISTRATION,

North-Western Provinces and Oudh,

FOR THE REVENUE YEAR 1894-95.

No. $\frac{775}{\text{XII}-163}$ OF 1896.

FROM

THE HON'BLE JOHN HOOPER, I.C.S.,

SECRETARY TO THE BOARD OF REVENUE,

NORTH-WESTERN PROVINCES AND OUDH,

To

THE SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT,

NORTH-WESTERN PROVINCES AND OUDH,

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Allahabad, the 5th March 1896.

SIR,

Present:
THE HON'BLE G. ADAMS AND W. E. NEALE, ESQ.

I AM directed to submit, with the usual enclosures, the Board's Report on the Revenue Administration of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, for the year ending on the 30th September 1895.

2. The Junior Member, Mr. Adams, officiated as Senior Member from the beginning of the year to the 6th November 1894, during Mr. Cadell's absence on privilege leave. On his return from leave, Mr. Cadell held the office of Senior Member till the 9th January 1895, when he was appointed to officiate as Lieutenant-Governor, and Mr. Adams again took charge. Mr. Adams proceeded on privilege leave on 15th July 1895, and Mr. Neale then acted as Senior Member till the end of the year. During the period Mr. Adams officiated as Senior Member, Mr. Neale held charge of the office of Junior Member, being succeeded by Mr. Moule when Mr. Adams went on leave.

3. The divisional reports were received punctually, except those for Lucknow and Benares, which reached the Board on the 3rd and the 6th January respectively. The delay in the submission of the Benares report—a delay which occurred last year also—is attributed by the Commissioner to the very late receipt of the Benares district report, which was not sent in a complete form to his office till the 24th December. The Board hope that the steps now being taken by the Collector will result in greater punctuality in the submission of reports from this district. As a result of the measures taken by the Commissioner to ensure the prompt preparation of district reports, the Meerut report was received in good time.

PART I.

Chapter I.—AGRICULTURAL.

SEC. I.—RAINFALL AND HARVESTS. App. I.

4. The year was an abnormally wet one. The autumn rains of 1894 were heavy and prolonged, and they were followed by frequent and copious falls in the cold weather. The monsoon set in about the middle of June, and in the greater part of the province rain was fairly continuous until the beginning of September, though in July the fall was unevenly distributed, being excessive in the Kumaun, Benares and Fyzabad divisions, and rather below the average elsewhere. An interval of drier weather in September was succeeded by a downpour, which lasted with little intermission until the beginning of November, and was especially heavy in the eastern and central districts. The winter months were wet and cloudy. In December the rainfall was generally in excess; scattered showers fell in January and the first week in February, and there were storms in March. Over the entire province the rainfall of the year averaged 65·4 inches, which is 20 inches above the average of the past five years (45·4 inches); and in many districts the registered fall either exceeded or closely approached the highest figure recorded. The inaccuracy of the rainfall returns in Bulandshahr has been noticed in previous reports. It has been ascertained that the measuring glasses were not suited to the gauges in use, and they have since been replaced by proper glasses.

5. The autumn harvest almost everywhere was seriously injured by the heavy and incessant rains; and in the greater part of the provinces it was exceptionally poor. The rice crops suffered least, and gave a fair yield where they escaped inundation; but the millets and pulses fared badly, and in many districts failed almost entirely. In a large number of districts the cold weather crops were also inferior. The fields could not be ploughed in the pelting rain; the sowings were late; in extensive tracts they failed, and had to be repeated. When the crops were ripening, clouds brought rust and blight, or high winds shrivelled the grain and reduced the produce. In Bundelkhand the linseed, which had been extensively sown, came to nothing, and much of the wheat was little better. Sugarcane did fairly well on the whole; but in Rohilkhand, where it is a very important staple, it was poor, and in the north of Oudh and some of the eastern districts it was considerably damaged.

6. The character of the harvests in the different divisions may be briefly noted. In the Meerut and Agra divisions, where the rains though heavy were not so excessive and untimely as elswhere, the outturn on the whole was not unsatisfactory. In Rohilkhand the kharif is described as generally bad, while the rabi greatly disappointed expectation. In Allahabad both harvests were bad, except in the Jhánsi district, where the autumn crops are said to have been generally good. The harvests throughout the Benares division are reported to have been distinctly bad, with the exception of rice. In the Gorakhpur division the rice was fairly good; but the minor rain crops suffered seriously in the Gorakhpur and Basti districts, and the rabi harvest was generally poor. The people however were greatly helped by a good mango season; and in Azamgarh, by employment in reaping the indigo, which was exceptionally fine. In Kumaun some of the most valuable crops were damaged, and the general outturn was below the average. In the greater part of Oudh the injury to the kharif from heavy rain and floods was most serious, and the rabi harvest was generally deficient. Large suspensions of the revenue were found necessary, especially in the Lucknow division. Relief works were started in Sitapur, Hardoi and Rae Bareli, and would have been needed in Unao also, had it not been for the employment given to the labouring classes by the extension of the narrow gauge railway.

To sum up, except in the Meerut and Agra divisions, and portions of Kumaun, the year was one of bad harvests and agricultural depression. In the Allahabad and Benares divisions and in Oudh the injury to the harvest from excessive and untimely rain was great; and in parts of the country the condition of the poorer classes was not far removed from distress, which would have been actually felt but for large importations of grain from the western districts and the Punjab.

7. The above remarks are borne out by the following figures supplied by the Director, which show the average outturn of the principal crops for the entire province. The averages of the previous year are also given for comparison, 16 annas representing a good average crop :—

	1893-94.	1894-95.
Cotton	10	9
Rice	14	13
Maize	12	10
Juar	11	7
Bajra	11	7
Wheat	11	9
Barley	12	11
Gram	12	11
Opium	12	10
Linseed and rapeseed	11	9
Tobacco	14	14

With the unimportant exception of tobacco, there is a marked falling off in all the staples, especially in maize, juar, bajra, wheat, opium, linseed and rapeseed.

8. The following summary of the character of the rains of 1895 and the prospects of the current year is taken from the half-yearly Agricultural Report of the Director of Land Records and Agriculture :—

"In the beginning of June heavy showers of rain fell unexpectedly in the Himalayan districts and those districts of Meerut and Rohilkhand which lie below the Himalayas; but these showers were in anticipation of the regular monsoon and were solely of meteorological interest. The regular autumn rains of 1895 commenced about the middle of June, and were fairly continuous until the beginning of July. The rainfall of the month of June was everywhere over average, and in places was very heavy. There was a long break in the first three weeks of July owing to which the month's rainfall was in most districts considerably under average. In August the fall of rain was moderate and fairly well distributed. The month of September was a dry one. The rainfall was general in the beginning of the month, and scattered showers continued up to the 11th; after that date the rainfall ceased entirely in the western, southern and central districts; whilst the eastern and sub-montane districts received showers, sometimes heavy, in the third week of the month. For the month as a whole the Fyzabad division had an excess over normal; the Gorakhpur division a slight defect; elsewhere the rainfall was greatly below average. The rainfall in October was greatly below normal throughout the provinces. November is usually a dry month in the provinces, and this year it was much drier than usual. In the Agra division not a single drop of rain fell during the whole of the two months October and November, and the same remark applies to a large number of districts in other divisions. The rainfall between 1st June and 31st October was slightly in excess of the average in the Meerut and Fyzabad divisions, about the normal amount in the Gorakhpur division, and slightly deficient in all other divisions. Thus the season's rainfall, though sufficient more or less in amount, was characterized in the beginning by heavy and sudden falls, and ended abruptly before the later autumn crops had received enough irrigation.

"Up till the commencement of September the rains, though lighter than in preceding years, were favourable; the weeding operations were properly carried out, and there was every hope of a bumper kharif harvest; but early in September the rains entirely ceased, and all the crops suffered more or less from deficient moisture. The earlier reaped crops were generally good, and the yield of cotton and indigo crops was much better than it has been for some years past. The outturn of other kharif crops, with the exception of rice, is reported to have been fairly good in the eastern and Oudh districts. As regards rice the produce varied considerably. In Azamgarh, Ballia, Gházipur and Benares, where transplanted rice is grown largely on the same level as the other kharif crops, the crop was an almost entire failure. In other eastern districts rice was, as a rule, good. In the rest of the province the crops were generally below the average, but not much below it, and were decidedly superior to those of the past two years.

"Cattle disease has also been reported in the half year under report to have been severe in the districts of Dehra Dún, Sháhjahánpur, Pilibhít, Bahraich, Gonda and Bara Banki, the loss to the agricultural classes in all these districts from this cause having been very great.

"The provinces have so much suffered of late years from a succession of bad harvests owing to excessive rainfall, and the grain stocks are so very low that, though the harvest has, by the standard of late years been, as a rule, fair, it has failed to have a favourable effect on the prices of food grains or on the condition of the agricultural classes; and the gloomy prospects of the present rabi have further raised the prices much above the normal, and rendered the situation critical in those parts of the province where the successive harvests have been very bad of late years.

"The following table shows the average condition of the principal crops of the united provinces for the present and past three years on the average of the figures furnished by the District Officers. It is possible that in a few districts the contrast between the estimate for 1894 and 1895 has been increased by a circular issued by this Department, pointing out that a bumper crop was to count as 20, and not as 16 annas: but as the variations from the one year to the other are, as a rule, very uniform in the different parts of the province, the figures for the provinces or for divisions are not, in all probability, materially affected by any change in the method of making the estimate. The rice crop varied largely from district to district, as already stated, and in Gházipur was estimated to be as only a 6-anna crop. As a rule, however, it was good. Maize, cotton, indigo and the small millets were good almost everywhere. On the contrary, urd, mung, moth and til suffered to an unusual extent throughout the provinces: heavy rain in August, drought in September, and the attacks of insects conducing to reduce the yield of these crops:—

SEC. II.—HAIL-STORMS AND FLOODS.

9. The districts of Bulandshahr, Etáwah, Farukhabad, Cawnpore, Jhánsi, Bánda, Hamírpur, Garhwál and Rae Bareli were visited by severe hail-storms, the worst of which fell in March 1895, and serious damage was caused to the standing crops. The most disastrous storm in severity and extent was in Hamírpur, where the loss of revenue amounted to Rs. 35,492. In the Lalitpur sub-division of Jhánsi, in addition to the remission of revenue of Rs. 1,411, relief works had to be undertaken in the vicinity of the injured villages. Hail fell in several other districts, but the injury done was not sufficient to call for special measures of relief.

10. The autumn of 1894 was characterized by extensive and disastrous floods in many districts, caused by the heavy rains. Above Allahabad most of the districts bordering on the Ganges suffered more or less from inundations, and in Saháranpur, Muzaffarnagar, Farukhabad, Budaun, Cawnpore and Fatehpur remissions and suspensions of revenue had to be granted. In the last two districts considerable damage was done to roads and Government buildings. Saháranpur, Meerut, Aligarh and Hamírpur suffered from the floods of the Jumna, which were almost the highest on record. In Allahabad the Sasur Khaderi stream overflowed its banks and caused great damage both to the standing crops and to houses and underground granaries.

The effects of the unprecedently high floods of the Gumti in September 1894 were seriously felt in Lucknow, Jaunpur, Bara Banki and Sultánpur, especially in the first two districts, where the loss of crops and houses was very great. These floods have formed the subject of separate correspondence, and the facts are known to Government. Floods of the Ghogra, Sarju and Rapti caused some loss in the districts of Fyzabad, Gonda and Bahraich; Unao suffered from the inundations of the Ganges and the Sai; and serious damage was done in Sitapur, Hardoi and Kheri. The exceptional floods of the Tons in Azamgarh, though reported separately, require special mention. Both the town and district suffered severely, and relief had to be given by remissions and suspensions of revenue as well as by the grant of direct aid.

No damage was done by locusts during the year.

SEC. III.—HEALTH.

11. The excessive rainfall of 1894 was detrimental to the public health, and it is probable that the deficient harvests had some effect in rendering the poorer classes more susceptible to the influence of malaria. In the Gorakhpur, Benares and Fyzabad divisions, in part of Kumaun, and in all the Bundelkhand districts, malarial fever was prevalent. On the other hand, there was a marked diminution in the number of deaths from this disease in the up-country divisions of Meerut, Agra and Rohilkhand; and, on the whole, the year was much less unhealthy than its predecessor. The mortality from cholera was less than in the previous year. It was greatest in the Rohilkhand and Gorakhpur divisions, where the reported deaths numbered 8,403 and 19,265 respectively; and there were outbreaks of the disease in Hamírpur, Kheri, Rae Bareli, Fyzabad, Sultánpur and Partábgarh. There were fewer deaths from small-pox. In Almora there were some fatal cases of typhus fever.

The suggestion made by the Board in paragraph 13 of their last year's report that the sale of quinine in five-grain packets might be tried, has been approved by Government, and it is to be hoped that this may help to reduce the heavy annual mortality from malarial fever.

SEC. IV.—CATTLE DISEASE.

12. Though in the provinces generally the mortality among cattle was less than in the previous year, in some districts the losses from disease were very great. In Muzaffarnagar, Sháhjahánpur and Pilibhít, large numbers of cattle died from rinderpest, foot-and-mouth disease and dysentery. From Sháhjahánpur it is reported that about Rs. 40,000 worth of hides were exported during the year to Cawnpore and Howrah from one tahsíl only, and in Pilibhít the mortality shows a fourfold increase. There were a few cases of glanders and farcy among the horses on the Saháranpur-Rajpur road, and an outbreak of surra, which however was not so disastrous as in the previous year. In the Allahabad division cattle disease was of not so virulent a type as in 1893-94, except in the districts of Fatehpur and Jhánsi. In the former district the ravages of foot-and-mouth disease were serious, but part of the large increase in the figures of mortality is due to better reporting. In Jhánsi, where disease was prevalent in the preceding year also, a kind of small-pox caused many deaths. Except in Mirzapur and Jaunpur, there was little cattle disease in the Gorakhpur and Benares divisions. There was also less in Kumaun, though in the Naini Tal district the mortality was again heavy. Nowhere was the loss greater than in the Sitapur, Hardoi and Kheri districts of the Lucknow division, the mortality being aggravated, if not caused, by the heavy floods and the want of proper food and shelter. The diseases most prevalent were rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease. Over a lakh of cattle are reported to have perished in Sitapur, and in Hardoi and Kheri also the mortality was excessive. The year was not an unusually unhealthy one for cattle in the Fyzabad division.

In some districts, with the aid of the Veterinary Assistants attached to the District Boards, steps were taken for the segregation of diseased cattle and the destruction of their carcases and skins on death; but the people are reported to be generally apathetic in this matter, though they do not, as a rule, object to the treatment of their sick animals if medicines are supplied gratis. During the year printed instructions in Urdu and Hindi for the treatment of cattle diseases were distributed by the Agricultural Department. In the districts where the losses were heaviest, liberal advances of takavi were made to enable cultivators to replace their stock, more than Rs. 32,000 being given in Sitapur alone.

SEC. V.—PRICES. App. E.-I.

13. As a natural result of deficient harvests, prices throughout the province were high as compared with those of the previous year. Fortunately, however, there was a bumper harvest in the Panjáb, and food and seed grains were imported in enormous quantities into districts where the local produce was insufficient. In the Meerut and Agra divisions grain had been stored in large quantities during the previous year, and this, on prices rising, was exported to other districts. Thus in these divisions also, though the harvests were fair, prices ruled higher than in the preceding year. The supply of the coarser grains, which form the staple diet of the bulk of the people, was scanty in most districts, and specially so in Bánda. Had not the movement of grain from the western divisions of the province and from the Panjáb counteracted the tendency of prices to rise, they would have been exceptionally high; and, in some parts of the country, would probably have reached famine level.

Chapter II.—FINANCIAL.

SEC. I.—INTRODUCTORY.

14. The total receipts from the several sources of income treated of in this report amounted to Rs. 7,29,04,641, as against Rs. 7,52,65,540 in the previous year, showing a decrease of Rs. 23,60,899. The details are given in the following table:—

SEC. II.—LAND REVENUE ON THE ROLL.

App. A.—I.

Collections on account of the current demand.

16. The demand, collections and balances of the land revenue on the roll for the year under report were as follow :—

Division.	Demands.	Collections.	Balances.	Percentage of demand collected in—1893-94.	1894-95.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Meerut	93,61,159	93,42,678	18,481	99·8	99·8
Agra	80,62,830	80,24,877	37,953	99·8	99·5
Rohilkhand	68,83,645	67,87,479	96,166	99·8	98·6
Allahabad	97,39,378	92,89,956	4,49,422	99·2	95·4
Benares	47,07,511	46,58,346	49,165	98·7	98·8
Gorakhpur	61,55,205	61,28,368	26,837	99·9	99·6
Kumaun	5,17,897	5,09,565	8,332	99·6	98·3
Total, N.-W. Provinces ...	4,54,27,625	4,47,41,269	6,86,356	99·6	98·5
Lucknow	69,33,289	67,87,354	1,45,935	99·6	97·9
Fyzabad	74,87,418	73,97,708	89,710	99·9	98·8
Total, Oudh ...	1,44,20,707	1,41,85,062	2,35,645	99·8	98·4
GRAND TOTAL ...	5,98,48,332	5,89,26,331	9,22,001	99·6	98·5

The demand exceeded that of the previous year by Rs. 2,97,539 in the North-Western Provinces and Rs. 59,856 in Oudh, giving a total increase of Rs. 3,57,395 for both provinces. This increase is chiefly due to enhancements of revenue declared at the regular revision of the settlement of a portion of the Garhwál and Unao districts, and to progressive assessments in Bulandshahr, Gorakhpur and Basti. The percentage of the collections to the total demand was 98·5, or 1·1 lower than in the previous year. If nominal balances are eliminated, the percentage rises to 98·64, against 99·84 in 1893-94. The percentages thus calculated in the different divisions are given in the following table :—

Division.	Percentage of collections to demand after deducting nominal balances.
	1893-94.	1894-95.
Meerut	99·99	99·94
Agra	99·85	99·61
Rohilkhand	99·92	98·78
Allahabad	99 5	95·77
Benares	99·57	99·51
Gorakhpur	99·99	99·65
Kumaun	99·63	98·38
Total, N.-W. Provinces ...	99·8	98·71
Lucknow	99·98	97·98
Fyzabad	99·99	98·84
Total, Oudh	99·98	98·43
GRAND TOTAL	99·84	98·64

The total balance is thus classified :—

	Rs.
(1) Recoverable	6,14,991
(2) Doubtful	6,305
(3) Irrecoverable	1,91,938
(4) Nominal	1,08,767
Total ...	9,22,001

The doubtful balance is held under suspension pending the result of further inquiry into the condition of 15 villages in Cawnpore, in which reduction of the assessment has been proposed by the local officers.

The large irrecoverable balance consists of remissions on account of the destruction of crops by rust, hail and floods. The details are as below :—

	Rs.
Remissions for rust	1,25,420
Ditto hail	57,419
Ditto floods	9,099
Total ...	1,91,938

The largest remissions were granted in the Bundelkhand districts, where, as has been noted in an earlier section of this report, the linseed and wheat crops failed in extensive tracts, and great damage was caused by a hailstorm in Hamírpur. In addition to the remissions on account of floods, revenue amounting to Rs. 91,223 was suspended, chiefly in Sitapur and Hardoi. Remissions and reductions sanctioned by competent authority make up the nominal balance of Rs. 1,08,767, of which not quite one-third represents reductions of revenue in deteriorated villages. The principal items are :—

	Rs.
(1) Cawnpore	7,172
(2) Hamírpur	14,291
(3) Jalaun	5,979
Total ...	27,442

The reductions in Cawnpore were made last year, but they were not sanctioned in time for the revenue roll to be altered. Some further relief will probably be necessary in this district. As has been stated above, the condition of a few villages is under examination; and, under recent orders of Government, the Collector has been directed to make a systematic inquiry into the state of the parganas on the Jumna, where the kans weed has made its appearance. The reductions in Jalaun are those sanctioned in the year of report. During the past three years the revenue of this district has been reduced by Rs. 37,729 in 205 mahâls; and the general operations of revision have now been closed, though it is not improbable that relief may still be required from time to time in particular villages. The revisional operations in Hamírpur, which have resulted in a total reduction of Rs. 17,694 in the revenue of 131 mahâls, have also terminated. The remainder of the nominal balance consists for the most part of remissions and reductions in the assessment of alluvial mahâls.

The recoverable balance of Rs. 6,14,991 is unusually large: not many districts show a clear balance sheet; and in four divisions (Rohilkhand, Allahabad, Lucknow and Fyzabad) the arrears are heavy. But, in the circumstances of the year, the outstanding balances will not be considered excessive. They are the result of the unfavourable seasons, and of the indulgence which it was necessary to grant in those parts of the provinces where the resources of the people were severely strained, and where the full demand could not be collected without causing difficulty and distress. District officers were directed to show consideration in collecting the revenue in all cases where it was required, and to allow time for payment to the poorer landholders. The suspensions and postponements of revenue, which were made in pursuance of this policy, account for all but a small portion of the recoverable balance. The revenue collections have been carefully watched by the Commissioners and the Board; and the Board are satisfied that discrimination was generally exercised in realising the Government demand, and that no undue severity was employed. This conclusion is supported by the decrease in the number of coercive processes, which will be referred to in a subsequent paragraph. The results are creditable to the officers concerned; and the Board would record their appreciation of the manner in which the officers immediately responsible for the revenue administration of divisions and districts have discharged their duties in an exceptionally difficult year.

Of the recoverable balance of Rs. 6,14,991, a sum of Rs. 1,74,486 was collected shortly after the close of the year. The details of the amount still outstanding are as follow:—

	Rs.
(1) Suspended or postponed on account of the unfavorable seasons ...	3,76,450
(2) Due from estates under—
(a) Court of Wards	7,354
(b) Direct management by order of Criminal Court	1,088
(c) Attachment, including those estates proposed for sale, &c. ...	48,639
(3) Due from defaulters residing in other districts	1,770
(4) Postponed for sanction to revised assessments	5,204
Total ...	4,40,505

17. The distric tand divisional balances, the details of which are given in Appendix A.—I., do not need much remark. With few exceptions, the explanation is the general one already given, the bad harvests. In the Meerut and Agra divisions the seasons were not on the whole unfavourable, and the revenue collections were good. The condition of the Agra division continues to improve and the difficulties of the revenue administration have greatly diminished. The tracts in Farukhabad, Mainpuri and Etah, which suffered from agricultural depression, are recovering. In the villages in the Agra district, which have been protected from the inroads of wild cattle by the wire fence along the border of Bhartpur, the cultivated area has largely increased; and, in one group of them which has recently been re-settled, it has been found possible to enhance the revenue by Rs. 3,446, or 23 per cent. Three of the districts—Muttra, Agra and Etah—return clear balance sheets; one of them—Agra—for the first time in fifteen years. The divisional balance at the end of the year was Rs. 17,383; of which Rs. 2,051, were collected soon afterwards; Rs. 5,245 were under suspension; and Rs. 7,178 were due from a persistent defaulter, the Chaudhri of Bishangarh, who usually waits until his villages are proclaimed for sale before paying his arrears of revenue.

18. The balance in Kumaun is also small. Excluding collections made since the close of the year, it amounted to Rs. 5,480, of which Rs. 1,538 were outstanding in Almora and the rest in Garhwál. The arrear in Almora has not been explained. In Garhwál, the revenue might have been got in if the Collector had not put off the collection of the June instalment in four parganas till late in the year, in the hope of receiving sanction to the revised assessments in time to declare and realise the enhanced demand. This postponement should not have been made as, under the settlement rules, the enhanced revenue is not payable until the instalment following the declaration of the new assessment.

19. Of the large balance of Rs. 83,892 in Rohilkhand, Rs. 79,332, or over 94 per cent, consist of postponements of revenue in two districts:—in Budaun, where the harvests were exceptionally poor; and in Sháhjahánpur, where also the crops were poor and damage was caused by floods. In the latter district the outstandings were reduced, soon after the close of the year, by Rs. 50,065.

20. The largest balance is reported from the Allahabad division, where the harvests were generally bad, especially in the Bundelkhand districts, which contributed Rs. 1,98,006 to the total arrear of Rs. 2,40,850. Since the close of the year Rs. 27,094 have been collected, and of the remainder Rs. 1,81,906 are under suspension or postponement. The rest of the balance has been duly accounted for in the divisional and district reports. Considering the character of the seasons, the collections were quite as good as could have been expected; and the Commissioner and the Board at one time anticipated that the deficit would have been larger. The only district which requires special notice is Bánda, where the recoverable balance (Rs. 1,46,017) is the largest in the provinces. The Collector (Mr. Ferard) has dealt very fully with the subject in his report. He considered it desirable to avoid formal and general measures of relief. Instead of this, he states: "I entered into the case of all their villages with each tahsíldár, directing them to make partial collections only in certain specified villages (chiefly large struggling co-parcenary communities) where the necessity for relief was at once obvious, and in other cases to avoid excessive pressure when the circumstances showed inability to pay owing to failure of crops and not mere recusancy." This policy might have been successful in preventing loss of revenue if the harvests of the present year had been good; but the recovery of any large portion of the outstanding balance now seems very doubtful.

21. The balance of Rs. 22,896 in the Benares division was reduced to Rs. 7,066 soon after the close of the year. The greater part of the arrears accrued in the Benares district, where they were chiefly due from small proprietors in co-parcenary villages, whose resources are reported to have been severely affected by a series of unfavourable seasons. The balance in Benares is the heaviest within the last twenty years; and the Collector states that, but for the fact that many villages are owned by the Maharaja of Benares, and other large proprietors not entirely dependent for their income on the outturn of the crops, the outstanding arrears would have been very much larger.

22. The Gorakhpur division shows a balance of Rs. 18,530; but of this Rs. 16,956 were collected soon after the year closed. The Gorakhpur district was clear: in Basti there was a small arrear of Rs 2,317 (since reduced to Rs. 1,151), which might have been recovered by stringent measures; but these the Collector rightly avoided. In Azamgarh, it was expected that a considerable balance would remain outstanding; but, owing partly to a bumper crop of indigo, the whole of the real demand was collected within the year or shortly after its close, except a sum of Rs. 1,423, which is held under suspension.

23. In Oudh, where the revenue is generally collected in full, both the divisions show large balances, which are almost entirely accounted for by the bad seasons, and in some districts by the further losses caused by floods and great mortality among cattle. In the Lucknow division the arrears at the end of the year amounted to Rs. 1,36,847, of which Rs. 14,247 have since been realized, leaving Rs. 1,22,600 still outstanding. Of this, Rs. 56,627 are held under formal suspension, and the collection of Rs. 59,922 has been allowed to stand over on account of the deficiency of assets caused by the bad harvests. Proper steps have been taken for the recovery of the remainder. The largest balances are in Sitapur (Rs. 41,202) and Hardoi (Rs. 69,179). The Commissioner is not satisfied that the suspensions in these two districts were not on a more liberal scale than was necessary; but Sitapur and Kheri are less rich and prosperous than the southern districts in Oudh, and are more liable to suffer from seasonal calamities. The Board doubt whether a larger sum could have been collected without causing hardship to the smaller proprietors.

The recoverable balance of Rs. 84,209 in the Fyzabad division belongs to the three districts of Gonda, Sultánpur and Partábgarh. The other districts were clear, and the division seems to have suffered less than western Oudh, and to have recovered more rapidly. In a separate report, which was called for by the Board, regarding the revenue balances in Oudh, the Commissioner has intimated that the arrears have been reduced to about Rs. 7,000, and this he expected would be shortly collected.

App. A.—II. Outstanding balances of previous years.

24. At the close of 1893-94 the arrears amounted to Rs. 2,37,516. Rs. 321 were subsequently added on account of the enhanced assessment of three alluvial mahâls in Mirzapur and Ghâzipur, which by an error was not collected in the previous year. The total balance was thus Rs. 2,37,837: of which Rs. 1,65,586 were removed from the accounts during the year under report, and the sum of Rs. 2,212 classed as nominal will be written off in 1895-96. The real balance was Rs. 70,039, of which Rs. 62,290 were collected within the year, and Rs. 62 shortly after its close, leaving Rs. 7,687 for future adjustment. Particulars of the balance still outstanding are given in Appendix E—III. The greater part of it is due from estates under attachment, or in which farm or sale has been proposed. Bad seasons have interfered with the collections in the attached estates; but it is expected that the other items will shortly be adjusted.

Advance collections of land revenue on the roll.

25. The advance collections fell off considerably, the decline as compared with the previous year being nearly 21 lakhs. Including the opening balance of Rs. 76,248, the total amount for adjustment was Rs. 6,52,874; of which Rs. 5,50,858 were credited and Rs. 3,277 refunded, leaving Rs. 98,739 for credit during the current year.

App. A.—III. Demand, collections and balances of land revenue not on the roll.

26. Particulars of this fluctuating head of account are given in Appendix E.—IV. Including the recoverable balance of the previous year, the demand was Rs. 88,951. Of this Rs. 26,243 are on account of the enhanced land revenue assessed at the regular settlement of parts of the Garhwâl and Unao districts, which has been brought on the revenue roll from the commencement of 1895-96. The collections within, or shortly after the close of, the year were Rs. 80,123, and a nominal balance of Rs. 326 will be remitted. The real balance is Rs. 8,502, a large portion of which is due from alluvial mahâls, the assessments of which were sanctioned too late for collection within the year.

SEC. III.—ALTERATIONS IN THE DEMAND FOR LAND REVENUE ON THE ROLL.
App. A.—IV.

27. The demand for land revenue on the roll for the North-Western Provinces increased from Rs. 4,54,27,625 at the beginning of the year to Rs. 4,54,35,897 at its close; and that for Oudh from Rs. 1,44,20,707 to Rs. 1,48,72,027, the total increase being Rs. 4,59,592. It is composed almost entirely of the enhancements declared at the regular revision of the settlement of parts of the Garhwâl, Unao, Rae Bareli, Sultánpur, Partábgarh and Bara Banki districts, and of the rise in the demand due to progressive assesmsents in Saháranpur.

SEC. IV.—TWELVE PER CENT. LOCAL RATES, N.-W. P.
Apps. A.—V. and A.—VI.

28. The current demand for local rates in the temporarily settled districts rose from Rs. 50,14,573 in 1893-94 to Rs. 50,47,378 in the year under report. The increase is chiefly due to enhancements of land revenue from progressive assessments in Bulandshahr, Gorakhpur and Basti, and from the revision of settlement in Garh-

wâl. The collections within the year amounted to Rs. 50,23,062 and Rs. 5,889 were realised soon atfer its close, leaving Rs. 18,427 still outstanding, of which Rs. 8,455 are either doubtful or irrecoverable. Details of the balances are given in Appendix E.—VII.

Local rates, current demand and balances.

29. The demand, collections and balances of arrears of local rates are given in statement II at the beginning of this chapter. There is a difference between the demand shown in that statement, and the balance entered in the return for 1893-94, owing to a subsequent addition of Rs. 10 in the accounts of Sháhjahánpur and Etah. The real balance at the end of the year was Rs. 178, of which Rs. 46 have been since collected.

App. A.—VII. Outstandings of previous years.

30. During the year the law relating to the levy of rates and cesses on land in Oudh was amended by (Provincial) Act V of 1894, which provides for the imposition of a consolidated rate in place of the cesses collected under settlement engagements, and the rate levied under Act IV of 1878. Under special instructions from the Board, the consolidated rate has already been imposed in some estates; and, when rules under section 17, clause (b) of the new Act are issued, the necessary change will be made in the public accounts.

SEC. V.—SETTLEMENT CESSES AND LOCAL RATES, OUDH.

Of the total realisable demand, Rs. 1,618 were outstanding at the close of the year, of which Rs. 73 have since been recovered. Particulars of the arrears are given in Appendix E.—VII. Of the demand not on the roll, Rs. 365 were in balance. The bulk of this is due from alluvial mahâls, the assessments of which were sanctioned late. The real arrear of the previous year has been collected.

App. A.—X. Current demand on the roll.
App. A.—XI. Not on the roll.
App. A.—XII. Outstandings of previous year.

31. The demand for acreage rate and other cesses in the permanently settled districts was Rs. 6,00,538, as compared with Rs. 5,94,674 in the previous year. The demand in 1893-94 was reduced in order to adjust the excess collections made during 1891-92 in the upland tract of Mirzapur, to which reference has been made in previous reports; and the amount entered in the present return is that which will in future be realised. The collections during the year, or shortly after its close, amounted to Rs. 5,99,417, leaving Rs. 1,121 still outstanding, of which Rs. 289 only are recoverable. The whole of the real balance of previous years was collected.

SEC. VI.—ACREAGE RATE AND OTHER CESSES.
Apps. A.—VIII. and A.—IX.

32. During the year 1,975 acres of land were appropriated of which 1,707 acres were acquired permanently and 268 temporarily. Rs. 1,11,904 were paid as compensation, and revenue was reduced by Rs. 1,578 annually. The amount paid in compensation represents an average rate per acre of Rs. 64-3-5 for permanent, and Rs. 8-8-7 for temporary acquisitions, as compared with rates in the previous year of Rs. 71-4-8 and Rs. 118-6-4 respectively. The cost of land acquired temporarily shows a large decrease, but in 1893-94 the rate was unusually high for the reasons explained in paragraph 32 of that year's report.

SEC. VII.—ACQUISITION OF LAND.
App. A.—XIII.

A special officer was deputed for the acquisition of land for railway purposes in the Gonda district, and the officer appointed in the previous year to demarcate land in the possession of the Cawnpore-Achnera Railway continued on duty for eight months in the year under report.

The number of cases (199) in which land was acquired but compensation had not been paid up to the close of the year shows a considerable increase. In the previous year there were 72 such cases. The oldest pending cases are in the following districts:—

Dehra Dún	... 5th July 1893.
Benares	... 13th March 1893.
Ballia	... 19th September 1893.
Gorakhpur	... 14th October 1893.
Gonda	... 4th July 1891.

The Ballia case has since been disposed of and sufficient explanations of the delay in the remaining cases have been furnished.

The appropriation registers Nos. XIV and XV yet remain to be completed in two districts of the North-Western Provinces—Bareilly and Benares. In the former district the work is well in hand; but in the latter it is still in its preliminary stage. In Oudh, where the preparation of these registers was only taken up in the beginning of the previous year, they have been completed in eight districts, but are still unfinished in Lucknow, Rae Bareli, Kheri and Bara Banki. The attention of the district officers concerned has been drawn to the necessity of completing them at an early date.

A memorandum is given at the foot of the appendix showing the cases in which land was acquired by Government without resorting to the provisions of Act I of 1894: 129 acres were thus acquired.

During the year the revision of the Board's Circulars in Department VIII, which the passing of the new Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) rendered necessary, was taken in hand.

SEC. VIII.—RESUMPTION OF REVENUE-FREE HOLDINGS.
App. A.—XIV.

33. One hundred and twelve lapsed revenue-free tenures, with an area of 9,933 acres, were assessed during the year to a revenue of Rs. 5,382. Thirty-five cases remained to be reported when the year closed. The reports show that the annual inquiry into the cases of life and conditional holdings, which is required by the rules in Oudh, was duly carried out. In one district in the North-Western Provinces, an instance of fraud was discovered. The muáfidar resided in another province, and was certified as alive by the patwári long after he was dead. With the sanction of Government, the rules for the verification of revenue-free holdings have been amended in order to prevent the recurrence of similar cases.

Rs. 5,530 were assessed on 2,193 acres of grove land brought under cultivation. The number of cases pending at the end of the year was 335, most of which were instituted late in the autumn. As in the last report (paragraph 33) the neglect shown in Basti in dealing with this class of cases was remarked upon, it should be stated that the rules are now properly observed in this district, and that the plots assessed during the year were all duly inspected.

SEC. IX.—MISCELLANEOUS LAND REVENUE.
App. A.—XV.

34. The income under this head is chiefly derived from the stone quarries in Mirzapur, and the rents of the water-mills in the Kumaun division: elsewhere the receipts are insignificant. Including the recoverable balance of Rs. 139 outstanding at the beginning of the year, the total demand was Rs. 77,549. All was collected, except Rs. 38 on account of water-mill rents in the Almora district, which is in train of liquidation. The receipts from the Mirzapur stone quarries amounted to Rs. 57,948, as compared with Rs. 56,834, in the preceding year, the small increase being due to a slightly larger export to Bengal of stone for building and domestic purposes. The Board have, on the suggestion of Government, considered the expediency of reducing the rate of royalty all round on stone which is refuse. The conclusion they have come to, in consultation with the local officers, is that the existing rate is as low as it need be, and that as the price of such stone to the consumer depends chiefly on the cost of haulage nothing is to be gained by making any further reduction in the royalty levied.

SEC. X.—CANAL OCCUPIERS' AND OWNERS' RATES.
App.—A.–XVI.
Occupiers' rate, current demand.

35. There was a decrease of over 18 lakhs in occupiers' rate, the demand being Rs. 32,49,360, compared with Rs. 50,95,938 in the previous year. Before the rains began, there was an unusually large demand for canal water; but, after they fell, there was little need for irrigation except for rice. In the cold weather, the ample rainfall almost did away with the necessity for artificial irrigation; and the assessments of occupiers' rate for the rabí season are stated by the Irrigation Department to have been the lowest recorded since 1863. The decrease in the canal revenue was almost general; the only districts which show an increase—and that a small one—being Naini Tal, and the submontane districts of Bijnor and Pilibhít; where, at the commencement of the monsoon, the rains were somewhat deficient. The recoverable demand was

Rs. 3 2,38,247, of which Rs. 32,35,889 were collected within the year, and Rs. 183, shortly after its close, leaving Rs. 2,175 for future adjustment. Two-thirds of this were held in revenue deposit, and the money has probably since been credited. The rest is composed of small items, particulars of which are given in Appendix E.—IX. Rs. 77,821 were disbursed to lambardárs and patwáris on account of fees for collection and measurement.

36. At the close of 1893-94 the arrears amounted to Rs. 11,937, and Rs. 55 were subsequently brought on the accounts of Etah. The total demand was thus Rs. 11,992, of which Rs. 10,733 were collected, and Rs. 232 remitted, leaving Rs. 1,027 still outstanding. Suitable steps have been taken for the realisation of this balance.

App. A.—XVII. Occupiers' rate, arrears of previous years.

37. The demand for owners' rate was affected by the same causes which reduced the occupiers' rate, and fell from Rs. 2,59,494 in 1893-94 to Rs. 1,52,726 in the year under report. Of the real demand, Rs. 1,52,180 were collected within the year, and Rs. 34, soon after its close. There remained a trifling balance of Rs. 48, details of which are given in Appendix E.—IX.

App. A.—XVIII. Owners' rate, current demand.

38. The difference between the amount entered in this return and that shown in the appendices of 1893-94 has been caused by the addition during the year of Re. 1 in Etáh. The demand was Rs. 1,406, the whole of which has been either collected or remitted.

App.—A.-XIX. Owners' rate, arrears of previous years.

SEC. XI.—STATE PROPERTIES AND WASTE LANDS.

39. At the beginning of the year there were 400 State properties in the provinces with a land revenue demand of Rs. 1,33,797. During the year the changes were insignificant, 13 estates with a revenue of Rs. 807 having been acquired, while 21, with a revenue of Rs. 90 were removed from the accounts. There were thus 392 estates paying a revenue of Rs. 1,34,514 in the possession of Government at the close of the year. The total current rental amounted to Rs. 7,53,002 against Rs. 7,74,498 in the preceding year. The estates in the Naini Tal district are again mainly responsible for the falling off; which is due to successive bad seasons and to heavy mortality among cattle; and in the case of the Tarái estate, where there was a decline in the rent-roll to the extent of Rs. 22,260, to relaxed efforts on the part of the subordinate staff and the village headmen in promoting cultivation. The report of this estate submitted separately to Government will deal fully with this matter. Including outstandings, the total demand was Rs. 7,58,048, of which Rs. 7,10,215, or 94 per cent., were realised. Of the balance (Rs. 47,833) Rs. 2,644 are doubtful or irrecoverable, though not so shown in the appendix. After payment of land revenue and rates, the income was Rs. 5,34,143, of which Rs. 3,24,869 were spent on charges of establishment, contingencies and improvements, leaving a net profit for Government of Rs. 2,09,274. The Bánda district again accounts for the heaviest arrears (Rs. 17,676), the collections during the year being Rs. 18,641 only, or little more than half the total demand of Rs. 36,317. The arrears are being carefully classified and tested on the spot by an experienced Deputy Collector, and a further report regarding them is awaited. It is feared that a considerable proportion of them will have to be written off as irrecoverable, as, owing to a succession of bad harvests and the existing agricultural distress in Banda, the chances of recovery are but small. The remarks in paragraph 7 of the Government Resolution reviewing the report for 1893-94 have received attention. In Bundelkhand, where the demand for rent varies according to the area cultivated, the real demand cannot be adjusted until it has been ascertained towards the close of the year what the area actually under cultivation has been. A large portion of the irrecoverable balances, therefore, consists of the purely nominal rent of fallow land, which appears on both sides of the account, and is struck off at the close of each year. So far, therefore, a fluctuating demand is unavoidable; but, for the rest, the principles laid down by Government that the demand should be made just, and that punctual payment should then be insisted on are accepted and followed so far as is practicable. In order to prevent tenants from keeping in their hands more land than they can cultivate, it is proposed to inquire from each tenant, every year, what portion of his holding he intends to retain; and to charge a small rent of 4 annas a bigha on any fields in this portion which are left uncultivated, subject to remission in poor years. The fields relinquished will be struck out of the holding, and let to other tenants. The Collector (Mr. Ferard) has continued to interest himself in the administration of the Bánda State properties, which, on the whole, has not been unsatisfactory. The management of the two large estates, Holagarh and Khargapur, in the Allahabad district was as successful as could be expected. In Holagarh nearly 97 per cent. of the demand was realised, without special pressure on the tenants. In Khargapur, the effects of successive unfavourable seasons have been severely felt, the overflowing of the Ramgarh jhil in previous years having seriously depressed the condition of the tenantry in the bordering villages. In these circumstances the low percentage of the collections to the demand (86) is not surprising. The Ramgarh jhil drainage works are now complete, and a considerable area of land in the vicinity, that was relinquished in previous years, has been taken up on an enhanced rental. The experiments in the reclamation of usar lands have so far met with little success, but they will be continued on somewhat different lines.

Apps. A.—XX and E.—X.

App. E.—X.

The outstanding balances were also large in Jhánsi (Rs. 1,830), Garhwál (Rs. 12,998), Lucknow (Rs. 3,019) and Hardoi (Rs. 1,668). Those in Jhánsi, Lucknow and Hardoi are the result of the bad harvests. The large balance in Garhwál, as explained in the separate report of the Garhwál-Bhábar estate, represents the total rental and cess demands, of which nothing was collected during the year in consequence of the revision of rents not having been completed in time. The amount will be realised along with the current demand.

The expenditure was as follows:—

	Rs.
Establishment	79,046
Contingencies	73,070
Improvements	1,72,753
Total ...	3,24,869

By far the greater portion of this was, as usual, spent on the large estates in the Naini Tal district. Almost all of the Rs. 8,572 shown under contingencies in the Gonda district, represents rents paid to landlords for lands leased by Government for Barwar settlements. The expenditure on improvements shows a decrease of Rs. 26,839 as compared with the preceding year, mainly in the Naini Tal estates where financial exigencies led to the curtailment of the budget estimates. Full explanations of the outlay on these properties and on the Dudhi estate in Mirzapur are given in the separate reports submitted to Government. In Bánda Rs. 1,401 were spent on works which had been specially selected by the Collector after local inspection. Improvements were also carried out somewhat extensively in the Allahabad estates, where Rs. 5,957 were disbursed during the year. The sanitary condition of the Government villages in the district continued to receive attention. Little was done in the way of improvements in the Oudh state properties.

App. A.—XX.

40. The total demand, including the amount outstanding at the commencement of the year, for the price of confiscated, escheated and waste lands was Rs. 52,953; but this includes a sum which is payable in instalments. The demand actually realisable within the year was Rs. 12,953, of which Rs. 12,771 were collected, and the small balance (Rs. 182) is in course of recovery.

SEC. XII.—PATWARI RATE. DIRECTOR'S Apps. VI.—VIII.

41. Particulars of the demand and collections of patwári rate have been given in the statements at the beginning of this chapter. Of the recoverable balance of the current demand (Rs. 6,222), Rs. 1,963 have been realised since the close of the year;

Rs. 2,999 represent suspensions and postponements in villages, the crops of which were damaged by special causes, Rs. 877 are due from estates under the management of Government, chiefly those attached for arrears of land revenue, and the remainder, Rs. 383, is being collected.

Of the small outstanding balance of previous years, amounting to Rs. 31, Rs. 15 have been since collected, Rs. 2 have been written off the accounts, and the rest is under recovery.

42. This return calls for no remarks. The oldest deposit was made in December 1893.

There was a small increase both in the number and value of the money-orders issued, which is somewhat remarkable in the circumstances of the year. The bad seasons are made to account for the variations in the district figures, both where the remittances increased, and where they declined; but all that can be said is that the money-order system appears to maintain its popularity even in a year when the landowners in general found greater difficulty than usual in paying their revenue. No cases of embezzlement, or of friction arising from the employment of revenue money-orders, have been reported.

Miscellaneous revenue remittances.

44. Remittances of miscellaneous revenue by means of money-orders show a further increase. The details are given in the following table :—

Chapter III.—RENT LAW.

SEC. I.—SUITS AND APPLICATIONS. Apps. B.—I, II, IIA, IIB, III, IIIA, B, C, and D.

45. Taken broadly, the features of the litigation of the year in the North-Western Provinces may be summarised thus: a very marked increase in suits for arrears of rent; accompanied by an equally pronounced falling off in applications connected with the ejectment of tenants-at-will, and a considerable increase in those for the ejectment of tenants with rights of occupancy. In a year of indifferent harvests results such as these might have been expected. In bad times, when rents are unpaid, landholders are inclined to resort more freely to the revenue courts, as much for the registration of their demands against their tenants as with a view to immediate collection; while the arrears which accrue against cultivators with rights afford a favourable opportunity for ejecting them. On the other hand, in such years it is not to the landlord's interest to eject mere tenants-at-will.

The number of suits this year has increased in the North-Western Provinces by 15,013 or 15·83 per cent., whilst applications have decreased by 31,660, or 17·91 per cent. In Oudh the number of suits decreased by 1,522, or 4·30 per cent. The figures for 1893-94 and 1894-95 by districts are given below :—

Suits, North-Western Provinces.

46. The following table shows the number of suits instituted in the North-Western Provinces since the Rent Act was passed. The number instituted this year is by far the highest on record :—

47. The increase is distributed over the main classes of suits, but of course is most noticeable in those for arrears of rent, which form the bulk of suits under the Act. As compared with the previous year, the variations in the several divisions in the number of arrear suits are as follows :—

Division.	Increase.	Decrease.
Meerut	1,389	...
Agra	1,937	...
Rohilkhand	3,632	...
Allahabad	4,987	...
Benares	2,244	...
Gorakhpur	...	200
Total ...	13,989	...

The increase in arrear suits was shared by every district but four. As noted above, the character of the seasons is the explanation which may be most confidently put forward for the rise ; but in the Meerut division, where the harvests were on the whole fair, this general explanation is not applicable. The Commissioner considers that the progressive increase in suits for arrears, which the figures of recent years for this division evince, is an indication either of a gradually increasing pressure on the proprietary bodies by multiplication of mahâls and coparceners, which makes it more difficult for them to be indulgent to their tenants, or of a preference for legal methods in dealing with defaulters. In so far as this explanation implies in the relations between landlords and tenants a progressive substitution of contract for custom, the Board agree with it as one of general application. The falling off in suits for arrears in Muzaffarnagar follows an exceptional increase in the preceding year. The trifling decrease in Dehra Dún requires no explanation. Most of the Collectors in the districts of the Agra division refrain from the expression of any opinion upon the causes which have led to the increased litigation. A suggestion is, however, made in Mainpuri that the stringent measures adopted for the collection of the revenue demand induced the landlords to be more energetic in the realisation of rents. The Board agree with the Commissioner of Agra that there is no reason to suppose that the processes for realising revenue are more stringent in their results than the irregular methods for which they have been substituted ; or that the prompt collection of the revenue has caused an increase in the suits for rent. The inference the Commissioner draws from the figures of rent litigation is that the courts are found to be a convenient agency for the collection of rent even when there is no real question in dispute between the parties, a conclusion somewhat similar to that arrived at by the Commissioner of Meerut. The rise in the Rohilkhand division is one of over 23 per cent. and is attributed by the local officers chiefly to the poverty of the harvests; and in part also to the continuation, in some districts, and to the approach in others, of settlement operations. In the Allahabad division the number of suits for arrears rose to the very noticeable extent of 33 per cent., a variation shared in by every district of the division. As elsewhere, the unfavourable character of the seasons is assigned as the cause, though the weakening of the lambardári system is also referred to in the Allahabad district. But this is not peculiar to Allahabad. In the Benares division the main cause for the increase was the same as elsewhere. In Ghâzipur, the only district which shows fewer suits, there had been a very large increase in the preceding year. Among other causes for the constantly increasing litigation between landlord and tenant, the Commissioner refers to the increasing number of non-resident landlords, and the fading power and prestige of the old hereditary proprietors, as well as to the change in the character and duties of the village patwâri. In the Gorakhpur division as a whole suits have been steadily diminishing for the past three years: but in the year under report the decrease is confined to Azamgarh. For this decrease the local officers put forward no satisfactory explanation, and the Board are unable to assign any.

As might have been expected, suits in connection with distraint and by lambardârs and others for arrears of revenue, as well as by co-sharers for profits, were also more numerous.

48. The following table shows how the suits decided were disposed of:— Disposal of suits.

Without trial	11,306
Compromised	6,559
Decreed on confession	18,714
Ditto ex parte	41,754
Dismissed do.	5,690
Decreed after reference to arbitration	175
Dismissed ditto ditto	38
Decreed after contest	20,027
Dismissed ditto	4,322
Total ...	108,585

Out of a total of 114,171 suits for disposal, 11,306 were disposed of without trial against 11,782 in the previous year; 72,717 against 59,062 last year were decided without contest; while 24,349 were contested as compared with 24,283 in 1893-94. The ex parte decisions rose from 37,818 to 47,444, and formed 44 per cent. of the total number of decisions as against 40 per cent. in the preceding year. The probable explanation of this variation is that the landlords came into court in more cases where there was no real dispute as to the rent payable. Two hundred and thirteen cases were referred to arbitration. 5,586 remained pending against 4,320 in the previous year, a result which the increased number of cases before the courts is sufficient to account for.

49. The following table shows the percentage of contested and uncontested cases in each division. The proportion of uncontested cases continues to be highest in the Allahabad and Meerut divisions, and lowest in the Gorakhpur division :—

* 894 cases were erroneously shown as pending in the return for last year.

In each division fewer cases proportionately were contested, a result which may be attributed to the reason given above for the higher percentage of ex parte decisions. The total number of cases decided rose from 95,409 to 108,585, and though more cases were decided the year closed with a heavier pending file than when it began. This was the case in every division except Gorakhpur, where the pending file fell from 974 to 616.

Of the cases pending, 184 had been on the file for more than three months. The divisional figures are given in the margin. The Meerut and Gorakhpur districts show worst with 45 and 27 cases pending over three months, and the attention of the Collectors will be invited to this matter.

Several officers suggest a doubt as to the accuracy and uniformity of method with which these statistics are compiled: and the matter is one which deserves the careful attention of Collectors, to whom as a rough index of the working of their subordinate courts the statistics are useful.

In only two districts did the average duration in contested cases exceed two months, viz.—

	M. d.
Benares	2 3
Azamgarh	2 5

The figures in the preceding year were, Benares, 1 month and 18 days and Azamgarh, 2 months. The average duration in Azamgarh would have been better had it not been for additional work thrown on the staff by the inspection of flooded villages and a heavy criminal file. The delay in the disposal of cases in Benares has not been satisfactorily explained. Considerable improvement in Ballia has resulted from the measures taken by the Collector.

The fact that this method of remitting rent has been less resorted to than in previous years may be ascribed to the difficulty many tenants experienced in paying their rent, and not to any loss in popularity of the system. The local variations are pronounced in certain instances, and may be briefly noticed. In Bulandshahr, where a special enquiry was directed, statistics for each village were not available in the post-office and so far it has not been found possible to localise the variations. The post-office has, however, arranged to supply such statistics to the Collector in the future. The large decrease in Saháranpur for the past two years is attributed by the Collector to easier relations between tenants and their landlords; to the more general use of printed receipts; and to the change of cash into grain rents in several villages owing to failure of harvests. No explanation has been offered for the decrease in Muzaffarnagar, but the Commissioner points out that the amount of rent remitted by money-order bears an extremely small percentage to the total rental demand, and that fluctuations, which look large in themselves, are comparatively insignificant when measured by their proportion to the total demand. In Bijnor the decrease is explained by the termination of record operations in the settlement courts, which, while in progress, led to remittances by money-order in cases of disputed rent. The falling off in Allahabad is attributed to the inability of many tenants to pay their rents, and the same general reason is assigned for the decrease in Azamgarh and Partábgarh, and to a certain extent in Basti. The amount of rent sent by money-order in Benares was double that of the preceding year, while in Bahraich, where hitherto little use had been made of the post-office for this purpose, the remittances in the year under report were greater than in any other district in Oudh save Gonda. Fluctuations like these are remarkable and deserve more notice than they have received.

Printed receipts for rent.

51. The use of printed receipts continues to gain ground, especially in the Rohilkhand division, where the local officers have taken a special interest in the matter, and where a form of receipt for grain rents has been introduced. The division which appears to be most backward in this respect is Allahabad, where, owing to the peculiar conditions which obtain in Bundelkhand, less advantage is derived from the use of such receipts. Landlords appear to have obtained their supplies to a larger extent from private presses in the year under report than heretofore. The Collector of Fatehpur notices the facilities which written receipts afford for the kind of mortgage known as jamog, as a landholder hands over post-dated receipts ready signed to a money-lender to whom the tenants pay their rents in due course. More than one officer suggests that in order to encourage the use of receipts with printed headings in proper form, rent courts should be directed to refuse costs to all proprietors paying over a certain amount as revenue, if it appears in an arrear suit that printed receipts are not used by them. The Board consider that such a refusal would scarcely be justified in the cases specified.

N.-W. P. Rent Act applications.

52. The number of applications under section 95 of the North-Western Provinces Rent Act filed in each year since the Act was passed is given below. The steady increase of the preceding three years has not been maintained, and the figures have fallen to those of 1890-91 :—

Total, North-Western Provinces ...	176,754	145,094	...	31,660	—17·91

The total decrease amounted to 31,660, or 17·91 per cent. It follows an increase in the two preceding years of 3·28 and 4·94 per cent. respectively. The most remarkable feature of the year is the large falling off in applications connected with the ejectment of tenants-at-will (Classes XIX, XX and XXI), which contribute 73 per cent. of the litigation under this head. Applications to eject tenants with rights have, however, been more freely made than in 1893-94, as bad seasons encouraged landholders to resort to them. Enhancement of rent cases continue to decrease. The following table shows the comparative figures by divisions for the past five years :—

Division.	1890-91.	1891-92.	1892-93.	1893-94.	1894-95.	Decrease in 1894-95, on the figures of 1893-94.

The decrease is general in every division and in every district, except in four where the increase was trifling. In the Meerut and Agra divisions, where the crops were better than elsewhere, it is less marked.

Applications under Classes III, VI, XVIII, XIX, XX and XXI formed, as usual, the bulk of the litigation under section 95 of the Act, and the percentages contributed by them to the total number of applications are noted in the margin.

53. Class III.—The number of cases of determination of the value of crops varies, as a general rule, with the number of cases connected with ejectment, except where special causes operate. In the year under report cases of both classes were less numerous. In Agra and Etah districts where the decrease in applications under the ejectment sections was not marked, cases in Class III exhibit an increase, for which no reason is assigned. Half of the total decrease of applications under section 42 is in the Moradabad district, where, however, there was a very noticeable diminution in the employment of the ejectment provisions of the Act.

Class VI.—Enhancement cases numbered only half of what they did two years back. Muzaffarnagar (295), Fatehpur (123), Allahabad (388), Benares (283) and Jaunpur (271) are the districts mainly accountable for the decrease of 1,731 as compared with the preceding year. The falling off in Muzaffarnagar is attributed to the closing of settlement operations, and that in Fatehpur, Allahabad and Jaunpur to bad harvests, which made the landlords hold their hands, a reason which probably operated in other districts as well. Institutions of enhancement cases in Allahabad show a remarkable decline in the past two years, the numbers being—

The decrease in Benares and Jaunpur was preceded last year by an increase. The true explanation of the large rise in this class of case in Benares in the preceding two years—a matter discussed in the Board's report for last year—has now been ascertained by the Commissioner to be the wholesale action of a few landholders, which has now spent itself. It is noticeable that over a sixth of the total number of applications for enhancement were filed in the Bulandshahr district.

Class XIII.—It is worth recording that with the development of the system of remitting rent by money-order—a development which was only temporarily checked in the year under report—deposits of rent are becoming fewer and fewer. The figures of the year are less than half of those of four years back.

Class XVIII.—With a few insignificant exceptions, the increase in this class of applications was general in every district, while it was greatest in those of the Rohilkhand and Benares divisions, and in Saháranpur, Cawnpore and Gorakhpur. As remarked above, bad harvests, which naturally dispose landholders to take advantage of the depressed condition of the tenantry to eject tenants with rights, are, generally speaking, responsible for the increased activity in this direction. This explanation is accepted for Rohilkhand by the Commissioner. In the Benares division the reasons assigned for the increase differ; in Jaunpur and Ghazipur it is attributed to indifferent seasons; in Ballia to the special action of the Dumraon management; while in Mirzapur, where the increase was largest of all, no explanation is attempted. The number of notices actually issued under section 35 of the Act, including those pending from the preceding year, was 23,156. Ejectment took place in 8,995 cases against 6,951 last year, and the large area of 55,559 acres was affected against 40,502 acres in the preceding year. The figures showing the results of the notices issued during the past two years are given below :—

54. Class XIX.—The total number of notices of ejectment issued on tenants-at-will was 53,943 against 72,097 in the previous year, and the large decrease of over 25 per cent. is distributed over every division and over every district except Mainpuri. The statistics by divisions and the area affected are given in the following statement :—

These figures afford a strong indication of the correctness of the explanation which has been advanced before, and which many officers again advance in their present reports, that notices of ejectment against tenants-at-will are less numerous when the seasons are unprosperous, differing in this respect from notices of ejectment against tenants with rights. Briefly put, in poor years the difficulty landholders find is not in ousting tenants, but in retaining them. The fact that in the Meerut and Agra divisions, where the harvests were comparatively favourable, the falling off in the issue of notices of this kind was proportionately less than elsewhere, presents a further confirmation of this view. In Hamírpur, Allahabad, Mirzapur and Gorakhpur the number of applications of this class was less than half of that in 1893-94, and in Budaun, Moradabad, Fatehpur, Bánda, Benares, Gházipur, Ballia and Azamgarh also the decrease was proportionately very great. In the Bundelkhand districts the effects of the unfavourable seasons in discouraging evictions are accentuated by the fact that land is plentiful and cultivators few, and ejectments are only resorted to in the case of thriftless and persistently recusant tenants. In the Benares division the fact that twelve years have now elapsed from the revision of records is given as a reason in several districts for a falling off in the number of notices. The Collector of Mirzapur is silent as to the very pronounced decrease in his district, where the notices issued were less than a third of those in the preceding year.

55. Classes XX and XXI.—Of the 53,943 notices issued under section 36, the tenants contested 14,888 or 28 per cent., the same percentage as in 1893-94. The percentage of contested notices to the total number issued in each division is given below :—

Fourteen thousand nine hundred and one applications under section 39 were tried during the year, of which 10,668 or 71·6 per cent. were disposed of after contest. The tenants were successful in 5,558 of the cases disposed of after contest, being 52·1 per cent. of the number so decided. The percentage of success attained by tenants in each division is given below :—

As last year, the tenants in the Gorakhpur division were most successful. The results of the entire number of contested notices, in whatever way decided, were that the tenants were successful in 7,373 cases, covering an area of 40,903 acres out of a total area of 82,162 acres to which the notices related.

The percentage of success and failure in each division, on the total number of these notices, is given in the following table for the past three years :—

Applications under section 40 for assistance to eject were made in 37,287 cases, or in respect of rather more than two-thirds of the notices issued.

56. The Commissioner of Agra has formulated a scheme for improving the present methods of substituted service when the tenant is reported absent from his village, but the Board consider his proposals too complex and elaborate to be successfully worked. In any case the subject is not one which can be adequately dealt with in an annual report.

57. The following statistics of the area held by the different classes of tenants in 1892-93 and 1893-94 illustrate the result of the operations of the ejectment provisions of the Rent Act :—

	1892-93.	1893-94.
Total tenant area	21,189,429	21,323,278
Area held under some kind of right	10,283,657	10,243,839
„ by tenants-at-will	10,905,772	11,079,439
„ for more than 12 years	3,215,575	3,395,290

The total tenant area continues to increase. The causes operating in the year now under comment have not been definitely ascertained as yet: but the increase in 1892-93 may be attributed partly to a larger general cultivated area, and partly to a difference in the method of computation in Jhánsi. In the area held under some kind of right there is a decrease of nearly 40,000 acres, following a previous increase of 20,000. The falling off in the protected area, though large in itself, is relatively insignificant, being less than one-half per cent. of the total. Enquiries will, however, be made and the decrease localised.

58. There were altogether 158,270 applications under all classes for disposal against 192,404 in 1893-94 ; 146,905 or 92·82 per cent. were decided as compared with 179,221 or 93·15 per cent. in the previous year, leaving 11,365 pending, of which 558 were awaiting disposal for more than three months when the year closed.

The following statement shows the details by divisions :—

The pending file was lighter by nearly 2,000 cases by the end of the year, and each division, except Agra, shares in the reduction. The number of cases on the file at the close of the year in Bulandshahr (1,445) was large, and no explanation has been given by the Collector, but apparently few of the cases are of long duration. Of the very considerable number of cases pending over three months in Gorakhpur (275), 184 were in the court of one officer. His explanation, which has been furnished, is unsatisfactory, but the question of his retirement is under consideration. Of the contested cases, 13,015 or 64·48 per cent. were decided in favour of the plaintiff, and 7,170 or 35·52 per cent. in favour of the defendant.

59. The average duration of contested and uncontested applications for the two years 1893-94 and 1894-95 is given below :—

	Contested.	Uncontested.
	M. d.	M. d.
1894-95	2 7	1 9

The increase in duration has an easy explanation. Though the litigation as a whole, judged by the total number of cases, was less than in the preceding year, yet the work thrown on the courts by the additional number of suits filed was not counterbalanced by the diminished number of applications under sections 36 and 40, the disposal of which, unless they are contested under section 39, is usually of a formal nature.

The duration has increased to an appreciable degree in the following districts, only those being noted where it is above the average :—

	Contested.				Uncontested.

Of these districts, only Dehra Dún, Muzaffarnagar and Allahabad figured in last year's list also. As in previous years, the high duration of contested applications in Dehra Dún is due to enhancement cases which had to be postponed to the cold weather for local inspection. The Collectors of Benares and Gorakhpur will be asked to take measures to reduce the high duration in their districts. In Budaun, the average duration in contested cases has been reduced from 4 months 8 days to 1 month 21 days, and in Ballia from 3 months 8 days to 2 months 1 day, a result creditable to both the Collectors concerned.

Last year's decrease in the number of relinquishments has been followed by an abnormal increase of 12,604, which may safely be attributed to agricultural depression. As in other branches of rent litigation, where this explanation has been put forward, the fact that the increase is proportionately less in the Meerut and Agra divisions than elsewhere may be noted. In the Allahabad, Benares and Gorakhpur divisions notices of relinquishment doubled. There is a decrease in two districts, but in Budaun only is it of importance. There it is somewhat vaguely attributed to the progress of settlement. In Meerut the landowners are reported to be becoming cautious, and, instead of accepting a verbal notice to quit, now require their tenants to file a formal notice of relinquishment. The officiating Collector of Aligarh writes that the increase in relinquishments is undoubtedly due to illegal pressure brought to bear on occupancy tenants in view of the approaching settlement, and that in one village the whole of the occupancy holdings were given up together, the zamindars being well known as oppressive and unjust landlords. This is also reported to be the not unfrequent practice in Bijnor and Moradabad, where it was referred to last year also.

Applications for the sale of distrained crops have, like other legal processes used by landlords to collect their rents, increased, though to a less degree in the Meerut and Agra divisions than elsewhere. Such applications are most numerous in Jaunpur, and the figures of that district contrast curiously with those of its neighbours. At the instance of the Commissioner of Benares, the Collector has attempted an explanation, but the Board agree that further inquiry is desirable.

Oudh Rent Law Litigation. App. B.—I. Suits.

61. The district and divisional totals for the different descriptions of suits under the Oudh Rent Act are given in the statement in paragraph 45 above. On the whole fewer suits were instituted. The divisional results differ from those of 1893-94. In that year there was an increase of 824 suits in the Fyzabad division. In the year under report there is a decrease of 1,909, while the small falling off in the number of suits in the Lucknow division in the preceding year has been followed by an equal increase. A classified list of the suits instituted in the past two years is entered below. The principal variations are an increase of 361 in Class II (arrears of rent) and a decline of 1,271 in Class VIII (suits to contest enhancement or ejectment), and of 363 in Class XIV (recovery of occupancy). Suits in Oudh embrace several matters which are dealt with as applications in the North-Western Provinces, and a comparison therefore of the variations in the total number of suits answers no useful end. But it will be observed, when the statistics for the corresponding classes of cases are compared, that the increase in suits for arrears of rent is much smaller in Oudh, while the decrease in cases relating to notices of ejectment and recovery of occupancy is proportionately much the same in both provinces.

62. Suits for arrears of rent were more numerous in every district of the Lucknow division, except in Unao, where the decrease was trifling, and the Commissioner attributes the increase to the failure of the harvests of the last two years. In Partábgarh and Bara Banki also more arrear suits were instituted, but they were fewer in the four other districts of the Fyzabad division. The district officers of Gonda and Sultánpur assert that the poverty of their tenants induced landlords to refrain from filing suits for arrears which would only add court expenses to the amount due. This explanation receives no comment from the Commissioner. The decrease in Fyzabad is reported to be due to the talúkdár of Ajudhia filing fewer suits; and in Oudh, where estates are much larger than in the North-Western Provinces, the action of a few individual landholders will often materially affect the statistics of a district.

63. Suits under class VIII (to contest enhancement or ejectment) mainly depend on the number of notices of ejectment issued, as notices of enhancement are rarely used. As might have been expected in an unfavourable season in which land was relinquished extensively, such notices were fewer, and suits to contest them were less numerous in almost every district. The statistics of suits for the recovery of occupancy present similar features. In Bahraich, however, there was a sensible rise due to the approach of settlement.

64. The subjoined comparative statement shows the number of suits under the Oudh Rent Act for disposal in the past two years, and the manner in which they were decided:—

There were fewer cases to be dealt with, but the number disposed of was not much below that of the preceding year, and the pending file was reduced in both divisions. An unusual amount of heavy criminal work is given as the reason for the high average duration of cases in Unao and Rae Bareli: an explanation also adduced for the heavy pending file in Fyzabad. The large number of cases pending in Gonda is said to be due to frequent changes in the staff, which necessitated the transfer, and at times retrial, of numerous cases. In Sitapur and Kheri the tendency of courts to postpone their cases too frequently is noticed, a tendency which it is for the Deputy Commissioner to check.

GRAND TOTAL ...	14,711	116,682	13,647	103,698

Following the general decrease in ejectment cases, the area affected by the notices fell by 11 per cent. The decline in notices occurred in all classes except in those on the heirs of statutory tenants. The check on the steady growth of notices on statutory tenants which began last year has continued, and there is a marked diminution of 28 per cent. in the number issued. As in the North-Western Provinces, and for similar reasons, applications to eject tenants for arrears of rent decreed show a marked increase, which in Oudh amounts to nearly 28 per cent. Actual eviction took place from 8,306 holdings with an area of 55,717 acres, of which 18,883 acres were relet to new tenants.

App. B.—III A. Notices of ejectment on statutory tenants.

66. Notices for the ejectment, on the expiration of their tenancy, of tenants not having a right of occupancy, and not holding on special terms, form the most important class of those issued. As in the North-Western Provinces poor seasons have had the result of reducing their number. Four thousand three hundred and five notices to such statutory tenants were issued affecting 20,404 acres. Ejectment actually took place from 2,955 holdings covering 12,474 acres, leaving 7,930 acres with the old tenants. The average rise in the rent of lands relet, in the districts in which the rents are taken wholly in cash, was a little more than 7 per cent. against about 13 per cent. in the previous year, and is only slightly above the percentage allowable by law in individual cases. The proportion of contested notices to the total number issued continued to decrease, being 36 as compared with 39 per cent. in 1893-94. Out of 1,559 suits instituted to contest notices of ejectment, only 615 were successful. The largest number of notices, half as many again as in the preceding year, was issued in Partábgarh owing to the desire of landlords to secure increased rents after settlement operations. The character of the seasons would also appear to have had the effect of reducing the number of illegal evictions. In Sitapur and Bara Banki, the only two districts where such evictions were reported in any numbers, it seems that a great many were really voluntary relinquishments by tenants, who, owing to stress of floods or other reasons, had left their holdings to avoid paying rent, but without filing formal notices of relinquishment. In one of the 28 cases reported from Kheri, and in both of those from Hardoi, the tenants, on becoming aware of their rights under the law, were successful in their appeal to the courts. The number of suits for illegal ejectment declined from 124 to 49.

App. B.—IIIB. Notices of ejectment in respect of which no court fee was paid.

67. In notices in respect to which no court-fee was paid there is a rise of 491 in those issued under section 48 on heirs of statutory tenants. Those, however, issued under section 69 on tenants holding under long leases were 38 fewer, and those under other sections of the Rent Act 705 fewer than in 1893-94. Most of the latter class of notices were issued, as in former years, by landlords on tenants in their sír, or by tenants on their sub-tenants. The total area affected by the notices of every description which find place in this appendix was 44,157 acres. Twenty-five per cent. of the notices were contested against 31 per cent. in 1893-94, and 43 per cent. of the suits filed were successful. Tenants were evicted from 26,270 acres or 59 per cent. of the area to which the notices had reference. The average rise in the rent of the land relet to fresh tenants (excluding the figures for the districts in which a portion of the land was relet on grain rents) was 11 per cent.

App. B.—IIIC. Applications for ejectment under section 61.

68. Applications under section 61 for ejectment of tenants for failure to pay decreed rental arrears rose from 3,070 to 3,920. Except in Rae Bareli, Sitapur and Bahraich, the increase was general. Gonda accounts for nearly a fourth of the total number of applications. Ejectment took place in respect to 16,973 acres out of 39,137 acres to which the applications related. In working the provisions of this section district officers were, as usual, careful not to enforce ejectment till a reasonable time had been given for the payment of the arrears. The steadily increasing work thrown upon them in connection with these applications is noticed by several officers.

App. B.—IIID. Notices of enhancement.

69. One hundred and thirty-three notices of enhancement were issued against 46 in the previous year; 89 out of the total number were, however, in a single district, Fyzabad. The subject of illegal enhancements was referred to in paragraph 10 of the Resolution on the report for 1893-94, and in compliance with the orders of Government a special report was submitted with the Board's No. $\frac{1372N}{II-227}$, dated 29th July 1895. That report was drawn up after consultation with selected officers of Oudh experience, and it was held by the Board that sufficient trustworthy evidence had not been accumulated to warrant a recommendation for the immediate amendment of the enhancement sections of the Rent Act. They suggested therefore that, for the present, district officers be directed to watch the working of the Act, and to scrutinize more carefully than hitherto reported cases of illegal enhancement. To this the Government assented, and district officers were requested to notice the subject, as usual, in their annual reports. It is desirable therefore to briefly notice the details furnished in these reports, and to ascertain how far the more careful scrutiny enjoined has been carried out. The devices used to evade the law which limits the rate of legal enhancement have been fully described before, and need not again be discussed. The important point for present purposes is the extent to which they have been employed; and in the year under report it would appear that, in several districts at any rate, they were less widely resorted to than in previous years, owing to the difficulty landlords had in realising even the present rents in full. In Lucknow, Fyzabad and Sultánpur, where the patwáris were employed on settlement work, no figures are available. From Bara Banki, where the subject received considerable attention, 197 cases of enhancements unauthorized by law are reported; in some cases made on the expiry of the statutory period of seven years, and in others before it had expired. In one instance the agent of a large talukdár had enhanced the rent of 15 tenants before the close of the statutory term, when they were in distress from the failure of their crops from floods. In another a landlord exacted from his tenants, who were cultivators of poppy, a cess on each bigha in addition to their fixed rent. In Partábgarh a list of 64 tenants is given whose rents are said to have been illegally enhanced: but it is not clear if any steps were taken to check this list, which would appear of doubtful accuracy, as one of the chief offenders entered in it is a landlord who has not hitherto been suspected of evasions of the law. In a few districts enhancements appear to have been entered as illegal, though in reality authorized by law. In Gonda, for example, a case in which tenants consented to pay increased rent on land held under the waste land rules is treated as one of illegal enhancement. From Unao several cases are reported in which the enhancement is mentioned as a lump sum over the whole village: further enquiry would have elicited whether or not the enhancements in cases of individual tenants were beyond the legal limits. From no other district are evasions of the law reported to have been at all frequent. It is noticeable that, though the practice undoubtedly continues, in no instance was a district officer able to trace an authenticated case in which a "nazarana" or premium was levied on the grant or renewal of a tenancy.

App. B.—II A. (Oudh). Miscellaneous application and proceedings under the Oudh Rent Act.

70. In this appendix only two classes of applications call for notice—Class II, notices of relinquishment, and Class X, applications by distrainer for sale of distrained produce. Formal relinquishments increased from 8,078 to 17,561, and were most numerous in Bahraich (3,238), Gonda (3,070) and Bara Banki (2,887). In these three districts alone the area relinquished amounted to over 70,000 acres. A sufficient explanation of these figures is afforded by the readiness of tenants to abandon their holdings in unfavourable times.

Out of 4,839 distraint applications shown in this appendix, no less than 3,103 were filed in Hardoi. They were also very numerous in this district in the previous year. The explanations furnished by the local officers appear insufficient; and it is possible that want of uniformity in the preparation of returns may prove to be the reason for this noticeable difference between Hardoi and other Oudh districts. These are the only applications shown in the appendix which are not made to a tahsíldár or superior officer, but to a kurk amin, and on this account the statistics of certain districts may be incomplete. Inquiries will be made in the matter.

App. B.—I (Kumaun).

71. The statistics for the Kumaun division, which were formerly shown in appendices B-X and XII, are now shown in this return, which follows the similar statements for the North-Western Provinces and Oudh. The new Kumaun rules of 1894 were published in the Government Gazette of 30th June 1894, and came into force on the 1st August 1894. This is the first time therefore that complete figures for the entire revenue year of cases under those rules have been available. A statement showing the suits instituted, decided, and pending in the two years 1893-94 and 1894-95 is appended, but no comparison is possible, as many of the cases pending at the close of 1893-94, and shown in the statement, have been transferred to the civil courts:—

Rent litigation is heaviest in Almora, and it is noticeable that Naini Tal, with only half the cases that Almora had, shows five cases pending for over three months. Of the 810 suits instituted in the division in 1894-95, 248 cases were for arrears of rent, and 362 were suits by malguzars for arrears of revenue or rent [section 30 (10) of the rules]. Only 81 ejectment suits were instituted, half of which were in the Almora district. The average duration in contested cases was—

	M.	d.
Naini Tal	0	26
Almora	1	5
Garhwál	2	5

In Naini Tal the duration is extremely low, and the Deputy Commissioner will be asked if it has been correctly calculated.

SECTION II.—APPEALS.

Apps. B.—IV to B.—VII and B.—IX.

Appendix B—IV. Appeals to Collectors from decisions in suits.

72. The detailed appeal statements accompany this report in manuscript, abstracts only having been printed.

Including 262 cases in Kumaun under the new rules, the number of appealable suits decided in the year under report was 23,664 against 23,196 in the previous year. Appeals to Collectors and Deputy Commissioners, however, fell from 4,091 to 3,994. In the North-Western Provinces the percentage of appeals to appealable cases fell from 18·64 to 17·68, and in Oudh from 14·42 to 13·82. In Kumaun the percentage was 22·14.

(a) As shown at page 44 of Board's report for 1893-94.

(b) Of the 58 cases shown at page 44 of the Board's report for 1893-94, 14 cases were transferred to the civil court.

(c) Of the 71 cases shown last year, 58 cases were transferred to the civil court.

The districts in which most appeals were filed during the year were Budaun (253), Azamgarh (220), and Gorakhpur (212). There was a falling off in the number of appeals in all the divisions except Agra and Rohilkhand, where the number of appealable suits decided rose considerably; and in every division, except Rohilkhand, the percentage of appeals was lower. Exclusive of 202 appeals, either summarily rejected or dismissed for default, there were altogether 4,129 for disposal. Of these, 3,802 were decided, leaving 327 pending at the close of the year. Out of 27 appeals pending over three months in the United Provinces, Bulandshahr is responsible for 17, which but for the illness of the officiating Collector would have been disposed of.

73. The percentages of appeals in which the decisions of the lower courts were undisturbed are shown in the margin. The improvement in the Lucknow and Benares divisions which took place in the preceding year has not been sustained. The poorer results in the Fyzabad division, where the percentage of undisturbed decisions fell from 65·60 to 51·56, are due to 65 cases in the Sultánpur district, which depended upon the same issue and were governed by a single decision. In Cawnpore the character of the work of the subordinate courts has improved, but in Fatehpur there is little advance. Percentages, however, in a district where only 22 appeals were decided are apt to be misleading.

The percentage of decisions reversed in the North-Western Provinces is higher than it has been for five years. In Gorakhpur the increase is remarkable and will be brought to the notice of the Collectors concerned. The average duration of appeals in the North-Western Provinces rose slightly from 29 days to 1 month and 1 day, and in Oudh from 1 month to 1 month and 4 days. The duration of appeals was highest in the Meerut division, where the average was disturbed by a few long pending cases.

App. B.—V. (N.-W. P.) Appeals to Collectors from orders on applications.

74. The number of appealable applications decided by Assistant Collectors of the 2nd class fell from 2,326 to 2,085. Out of 117 appeals for disposal, 112 were decided, leaving a pending file of only 5. As in previous years, the largest number of appeals was filed in the Meerut and Rohilkhand divisions.

Though the total number of suits instituted in the year was larger, those appealable to Judges were fewer—a fact which indicates that the increase in the number of suits was chiefly in those of small value. Including 1,668 cases pending from the previous year, there were 3,559 for disposal, of which 2,040 were decided, leaving 1,519 pending at the close of the year. The pending file is still heavy, although it fell from 647 to 517 in the North-Western Provinces, and from 1,121 to 1,002 in Oudh. The average time occupied in the hearing of appeals was reduced in the North-Western Provinces from 7 months and 18 days to 6 months and 11 days, and in Oudh from 1 year and 15 days to 11 months and 5 days. In Oudh, though there is a slight improvement, the duration continues very high.

Appeals to Commissioners.

76. The following table shows for each division the number of appeals filed in the courts of Commissioners and the percentage on the appealable cases decided. Excluding 144 cases in Kumaun under the new rules, the number of appealable cases decided in the North-Western Provinces fell very considerably from 24,776 to 17,582, and in Oudh from 6,327 to 5,762, following the reduction in the total number of applications. In the North-Western Provinces the appeals filed, though absolutely fewer, were relatively more numerous to the appealable cases: but in Oudh a falling off appears under both aspects.

Excluding cases transferred to Collectors for disposal, Commissioners had 6,077 appeals to decide. Of these only 833 remained pending at the close of the year against 2,207 when it began; and 85 cases only were pending over three months as compared with 591 at the close of 1893-94, a creditable result. The improvement is most marked in the Meerut division, where only nine cases remained undecided at the close of the year. The Commissioner's promise to reduce his file to normal proportions has been more than fulfilled. Although Mr. Harington freely availed himself of his power to transfer cases to Collectors, yet the actual number of appeals decided by him (930) was larger than in any other division, though approached by Rohilkhand (876) and Agra (794). The reduction made in the pending file extends to all the other divisions except Gorakhpur, where the slight increase is explained by the Commissioner to be due to the troublesome nature of many of the cases which came before him. In Fyzabad appellate work continued heavy; but Colonel Currie managed to dispose of all the 710 appeals on his file with the exception of 20. The 18 appeals in Kumaun under the new rules were all decided, 14 being summarily rejected. 1,162 appeals against 580 in the preceding year were transferred to Collectors, of which 1,080 were in the Meerut and the remainder in the Benares division. 313 remained pending, but none for over three months. The Commissioner of Meerut distributed the appeals transferred as equally as he could among the Collectors of his division, but the Collector of Meerut, to whose share 263 fell, complains of the extra work thereby thrown on him, and suggests the appointment of an additional Commissioner for six months to clear off the pending appeals. The Commissioner, while admitting that the number of appeals transferred to Collectors under existing arrangements is undesirably large, considers that the appointment of an additional officer for two months would suffice. Now, however, that the pending file in the Commissioner's and Collectors' courts has been brought down to 284 cases, the consideration of this question may be postponed for the present,

The following table shows the number of appeals rejected under rules 5 and 13, Board's Extant Circular 18-II. The number of appeals rejected after perusal of records, but without the parties being heard, rose from 552 to 1,219, while summary rejections fell from 409 to 212. Of the former class the number increased from 113 to 664 in the Meerut division—a figure higher than that reached in 1892-93. The returns, however, do not show that the Appellate Courts in this division were more ready to refuse to interfere than elsewhere, and the Board have no reason to doubt that the discretion given by the rules was rightly exercised. In Rohilkhand hitherto, when records have been called for, parties have been heard; but in the year under report a change in the practice was introduced.

The percentage of decisions upheld entirely slightly improved in the North-Western Provinces, but fell in Oudh from 74·43 to 68·40. In Kumaun 83·33 per cent. of the decisions were undisturbed. The Agra and Fyzabad divisions show the poorest results, while the improvement in the Gorakhpur, Benares and Allahabad divisions is considerable.

Action taken to avert sale of land in execution of decrees of revenue courts.

78. With 275 fresh cases there were altogether 370 applications for sale of land under decrees of revenue courts for disposal against 398 in the previous year. The distribution by divisions is shown in the margin. Two hundred and forty-four cases were disposed of, in 107 of which sale was averted through the Collector's intervention or otherwise, and 137 were reported to the Board for sanction to sale. Out of 123 cases in which sanction to sale was accorded, sale was carried out in 61, and the remaining 62 were disposed of as follows:—

There was a decrease of over 10,000 in the total number of processes, and of more than four lakhs in the arrears for the recovery of which they were issued. The decrease is in the minor processes of writs and arrests, which were employed more sparingly than usual on account of the poor harvests. As the Commissioner of Lucknow remarks, there is no use in pressing the people when it is clear that they are unable to pay; and, in the districts which suffered from agricultural depression, the issue of processes not likely to be effectual in bringing in the revenue was rightly discouraged. On the other hand, attachments of moveable property considerably increased, and the number of sales more than doubled. The most noticeable increase in sales was in the Allahabad and Lucknow divisions, where it is a sign of the difficulty that was experienced in collecting the revenue. In Agra, where the sales rose from 60 to 127, the Commissioner is inclined to think that too much freedom in the employment of this process was allowed to subordinate agency in some of the districts. The attention of the Collector of Azamgarh was called to the remarks made last year on the apparently indiscriminate resort to arrest and attachment in his district; and the present return shows a large reduction in both forms of process, especially in arrests, the number of which has fallen from 2,651 to 487. There is a large decrease in arrests in Meerut and Hardoi also, where the number last year attracted notice. In Agra and Gonda the number of attachments continues high; but in the latter district there seems to be some error in the figures. In Agra, there is a considerable decrease as compared with the previous year, and the Collector refers to the increasing difficulty of revenue collection resulting from the multiplication of mahâls by partition. The most remarkable decline in coercive processes was in Meerut, where the issue of writs fell from 705 to 22, the smallest number in the provinces. This is the result of the introduction by the Collector of a system which he found to work well in Basti some years ago. The patwâris were made to prepare statements of the demand, which they distributed to the lambardars some fifteen days before the revenue instalments fell due. Mr. Wyer states that, in consequence of this arrangement, no writs whatever were required; and that the few issued were sent out by one of the tahsildars, who feared that a blank return of coercive processes might give rise to adverse criticism. Mr. Wyer's system was noticed by the Board in their report for 1889-90, when it was commended to the notice of other Collectors. The other variations need not be discussed. The reports show that care and discrimination were generally exercised in the issue of processes for the collection of the revenue, and that due allowance was made for the circumstances of the people in those parts of the provinces where the harvests were seriously deficient.

The largest number of writs issued in any one mahal for a single instalment was three in the North-Western Provinces and two in Oudh. The longest period of detention on a warrant of arrest was 15 days in both provinces; and the averages were four days and six days respectively.

81. The experiment of utilising the post for the service of writs, and thus assisting the permanent staff, was continued in all districts except the Himalayan tracts. There is considerable difference of opinion as to the results. In some districts the system seems to have been an unqualified success; while in others it is condemned as involving a useless waste of money, and as wanting in the "moral" effect produced by the appearance of a process-server in the village of the defaulter. It is reported to be unsuitable for the Bundelkhand districts and for Azamgarh, and in the latter district the experiment has been discontinued. The circumstances of the year, however, were not favourable to the success of a new experiment; and the Board think that the system deserves a further trial even in the districts where it has been pronounced a failure. It has at any rate the advantage of stopping the employment of temporary process-servers; generally needy hangers-on at the tahsîls, who prey upon the people; who often collect the revenue by unauthorized methods, and sometimes embezzle the collections.

Process-fees.

82. Including arrears, the demand for process-fees was Rs. 37,517, of which Rs. 36,904 were collected. The expenditure was Rs. 17,250, compared with Rs. 24,927 in the previous year. The decrease is in part due to the service of writs through the post, and the consequent reduction in the number of temporary process-servers employed.

(b) Attachment of landed property.

83. There was again a large increase in the number of attachments of immovable property, which rose from 338 to 522. The attachments were most numerous in Hamîrpur, Jalaun, Jaunpur and Ghâzipur, the number being largest in the last named district, which returns 132 cases, and where also there was a general increase in the minor processes of coercion. Of the mahals attached in Gházipur, 47 form a single estate, which it was necessary to take under management owing to dissensions among the representatives of the late proprietor; and, in some of the other cases, the properties returned as separately attached are portions of complex mahals which extend over several villages. But, after all deductions, the number of cases of attachment is large. Mr. Holms, who was in charge of the district when the processes were issued, has explained that the number of mahals is double that in any other district of the division except Jaunpur; that as a rule the revenue presses lightly; and that there was great laxity and unpunctuality among the revenue payers, for which stringent measures were necessary. The Commissioner promises to draw the attention of the present Collector to the position of revenue affairs in the district, and his report will be awaited. Probably annulment of settlement in one or two cases would be found more efficacious in promoting general punctuality in the payment of the revenue than a large number of attachments. In Jalaun, after the liberal reductions and remissions of revenue that have been granted, it was necessary to enforce the payment of the reduced demand wherever default was not due to deficiency of assets; and the Board agree with the Commissioner that the Collector has fully justified his action. Mr. Steel's intimate knowledge of his district and interest in the people are a guarantee that no undue severity was shown. In Hamírpur and Jaunpur the attached mahals belong to a comparatively small number of separate estates.

84. There were 28 transfers compared with 29 in the previous year, and 6 annulments of settlement against 50. The number of sales rose from 1 to 32, but they were mostly of petty shares and small resumed revenue-free plots.

(c) Transfers of shares or pattis; (d) annulment of settlement; and (e) sales.

85. There were 44 estates under direct management, against 40 in the previous year. Including arrears, the rental demand was Rs. 42,486, of which Rs. 34,117 were collected, leaving a balance of Rs. 8,369. The bulk of this is outstanding in Cawnpore, Hamírpur, Azamgarh and Gonda. The balance (Rs. 1,342) in Cawnpore was due from two alluvial mahals, which were taken under management late in the year after the proprietors had refused to accept the assessments. In Hamírpur the arrears (Rs. 2,339) are the result of the unfavourable seasons. Rs. 1,442 have been remitted and the rest will be gradually realised. The arrears (Rs. 1,915) in Azamgarh are the old balances on the estate referred to in the last report, which is now held in farm. About half of the balance is now time-barred and will be remitted. In Gonda the arrears (Rs. 2,178) are due from a single mahal, where collections were not pressed on account of the poor harvests, and the damage caused by floods of the Ghogra. The total expenditure amounted to Rs. 587, and the percentage of charges for establishment to the rental demand decreased from 2·9 per cent. in 1893-94 to the low proportion of 0·93 per cent. in the period under report.

App. E.—XI. Estates managed direct after annulment of settlement.

86. Including four estates in the districts of Ballia, Gorakhpur and Fyzabad, the accounts of which for 1893-94 were not furnished by the district officers, and omitting an estate in the Gházipur district, the release of which in the previous year had not been reported, the number of estates at the commencement of the year of which district officers actually held charge as managers or receivers was 40, and 8 more were taken charge of during the year under report, making a total of 48. Of these, 7 have been released, leaving 41 estates under management at the close of the year. The rental demand, including outstanding arrears, was Rs. 2,32,364; and, including advance collections, Rs. 1,75,627, or 75 per cent. of the demand, were recovered. The unfavourable seasons generally account for the short collections, which were particularly poor in Gházipur, Sháhjahánpur, Rae Bareli and Partábgarh. In Gházipur almost the whole of the outstandings, amounting to Rs. 11,519, in Har Shankar Prasad's estate, are on account of previous years, and the Collector will be asked to take steps for the removal of irrecoverable arrears from the accounts. The arrears in Sháhjahánpur and Partábgarh are due to the release of estates in the middle of the year; those in Rae Bareli are not explained. The total funds available for expenditure, including the opening cash balance and miscellaneous receipts, were Rs. 2,13,168, of which Rs. 1,50,115 were disbursed for charges, including revenue and proprietors' allowances, and Rs. 38,758 were paid into court towards the liquidation of debts. The debts might have been still further reduced had not the Collectors of Ghâzipur, Moradabad and Fyzabad retained unnecessarily large cash balances. After the payments made in the year, the debts still undischarged amount to Rs. 5,52,522. Of this more than four-fifths belongs to three estates: Fatehpur in the Bara Banki district, Har Shankar Prasad's estate in Ghâzipur, and Rampur Kalan in Sitapur. The first of these, which had a debt of over two lakhs, and was past saving, was sold by auction during the year; but the sale has not yet been confirmed by the District Judge, pending the disposal of an objection filed by the judgment-debtor. It was proposed to purchase a large portion of Har Shankar Prasad's property for the estate of the owner's brother, which is managed by the Court of Wards; but legal difficulties intervened. These have now been carefully considered, and as a preliminary step the Collector has applied to the District Judge to be allowed to withdraw from the management which he had been authorized to undertake under section 326 of Act XIV of 1882. When orders have been passed on his application, steps will be taken to sell the bulk of the property. The debts of the Rámpur Kalan estate in Sitapur have been slightly reduced, being now Rs. 99,731; but the position remains much the same as was reported last year. The decree-holders are not pressing for the sale of any portion of the property, and it must remain under management for the present. The interest (18 per cent.) on the decreed debts is, however, exorbitantly high; and, when the new assessments have been declared, the Collector will endeavour to raise a loan from a bank at a reasonable rate of interest to pay off these debts, if indeed the sale of the property does not by then become imperative through the reduction of the available income. The debt on the Sihipur estate in Fyzabad is being rapidly paid off, and some money was spent during the year on improvements; but Bansgaon in the same district continues in a state of hopeless insolvency, and no decision as to its sale has yet been come to by the civil court. The unpaid balances of land revenue due to Government amounted to Rs. 2,380. They were largest in Rae Bareli (Rs. 957) and Partábgarh (Rs. 1,128). There appears to be no reason why more should not have been paid on this account as in both districts there were comparatively large cash balances at the close of the year. The cost of management of the several estates falls on an average at 8 per cent. on the collections, a not excessive rate.

App. E.—XII. Estates attached by order of civil or rent courts.

The principal variations from the figures of the previous year are a decrease of 9 per cent. in sales and other transfers by order of court; an increase of 12 per cent. in succession cases; and one of nearly 9 per cent. in mortgages. The number of redemptions of mortgage and private sales remained almost stationary. No very conclusive or satisfactory explanation can be given of the variations in the different classes of transfer. The increase in succession cases is, no doubt, partly accounted for by the heavy mortality from fever during the rains of 1894 and in the following months; but it is also the result of more accurate registration in some districts. In Basti, for instance, where the attention of the Collector was specially drawn in last year's report to the unreliable figures furnished by his district, the large increase of over 3,000 in the transfers by succession is mainly attributable to better reporting. Again, the increase in mortgage cases might be plausibly explained as the effect of the bad harvests; but the figures are below those of 1892-93, which was a year of prosperity for the agricultural classes. Moreover, in some of the districts which suffered most seriously from agricultural depression, the mortgages declined in number, while in others that were fairly well off they increased. Thus in Hardoi the reported mortgages fell from 850 to 803; and the explanation given is that owing to the bad seasons, the landowning classes, who generally advance money on mortgage, had no funds to spare. The largest increase in this class of transfer is in Partábgarh, where the number of mortgage cases was 791 against 346 in the previous year. This is explained by the Deputy Commissioner as being mainly due to the closing of settlement operations, by which the patwaris were set free to attend to their ordinary duties, and partly to increased indebtedness among the landowners caused by the repeated failure of the crops.

As has been explained in previous reports, the returns of the prices fetched by landed property on sale are of little value, and it is impossible to draw any general inference from them. In the Agra division, however, where there has been a material advance in prosperity during the past few years, the increase in the value of land indicated by the figures is probably a real one. The returns for the Basti and Gorakhpur districts continue to show high average prices, though the figures for the former district are not so extraordinary as those of last year.

The unreported cases in the Bansgaon tahsíl of the Gorakhpur district, which were referred to in last year's report, have now been ascertained to number 19,663, of which 6,775 relate to the transfer of proprietary rights, and 12,888 to changes of non-proprietary interests. One-third of these cases were disposed of during the year, and the remainder are under disposal. Most of the transfers are of old standing, and a large number of them are succession cases. The patwáris failed to report, and their remissness escaped detection, as successive kanúngos neglected their duty of verifying the khewats by local inquiry. The Collector has taken steps to prevent the recurrence of this state of affairs, which can only be described as discreditable to the officials concerned.

Financial difficulties still stand in the way of the Board's scheme for revising the scale of fees and penalties with a view to the relief of small properties. It was stated in the last report that it would probably be necessary to abolish the fees on properties paying a revenue of less than Rs. 5, but it has been found that this would involve a loss of more than one-third of the income derived from mutations. As proposals for the amendment of section 100 of the Revenue Act have been made in the draft bill prepared by the Revising Committee, the Board have decided to allow the matter to drop for the present.

JHÁNSI ENCUMBERED ESTATES ACT (XVI OF 1882).

90. No fresh advances were made under the Jhánsi Encumbered Estates Act. One-hundred and fifty-eight accounts were closed during the year as detailed below:—

By regular payment of instalments	148
By payment of the whole debt in a lump sum	8
By sale of defendants' share	2
Total ...	158

The accounts of 268 loans still remain open. In two cases estates which had been purchased by Government under the Act were returned to the former proprietors on perpetual non-transferable leases.

SEC. III.—PARTITIONS. App. C.—IV (N.-W. P. and Oudh).

91. The number of applications for partition for disposal in the North-Western Provinces fell from 3,913 to 3,658, and in Oudh from 629 to 521. Though new applications were slightly more numerous than in the preceding year, the pending file was reduced by 73 cases.

The table below shows the distribution of the cases by divisions and the progress made in disposing of them:—

Only five districts show cases pending over three years. The oldest case (dating from February 1891) was in Cawnpore: it was appealed to the Commissioner, and is now awaiting the decision of the Board. The largest number of cases for disposal was 843 in the Gorakhpur division. As many as 340 partitions were actually carried out in this division; and, considering the heaviness of the work the reduction in the pending file is satisfactory. Meerut, which is the next heaviest division in this respect, continues to show a steady decrease in the number of cases remaining for disposal. The reduction in the file is most marked in the Muzaffarnagar district. Mr. Whish suggests the enforcement of a rule for partitions similar to that which applies in enhancement cases, namely, that no application should be received after the 31st August, so that the property concerned may invariably be inspected and classified on the spot by the pargana officer during his cold weather tour. With the reduced number of partitions which are likely to be applied for after the proposed amendments of the law have been passed, it may be possible for executive instructions to be framed for a more thorough check of the amins' proceedings than is at present found practicable. Almost all the districts of the Agra division show an increase in their pending files which is chiefly due to a larger number of institutions—305 against 232 in 1893-94.

The result of the year's operations was an increase of nearly 6,000 in the number of mahâls, or 4 per cent. on the total number. This means a considerable addition to the work of land revenue collection; and several officers have called attention to the administrative difficulties resulting from the multiplication of small mahâls. The proposals formulated in the draft bill to amend the Revenue Acts, which is now under consideration, should, however, if adopted, do much to check the excessive subdivision of properties which is taking place.

The system of employing a staff of amins on fixed salaries is now in force in almost all the districts of the provinces, where the work is constant enough to allow of a permanent establishment. So far its results have proved satisfactory.

The total sum advanced in the North-Western Provinces remains stationary, the marked increase in the Allahabad division counterbalancing a general decrease elsewhere. In Oudh there is an increase, notably in the Lucknow division; but the figures are still considerably below those of 1892-93 (Rs. 32,823), and 1891-92, (Rs. 61,698). The year, with its heavy rainfall, was not a favourable one for well sinking; and in Oudh the extension of settlement operations has probably reduced the demand for loans; but, in any year, the amount advanced is too small to have any material effect in encouraging agricultural improvement in the provinces, and there is no indication that the advantages of the Act are becoming more generally recognized. There is an occasional increase in the applications for loans in a particular tract—due in most cases to the personal exertions of the district officer; but there is no persistent and spontaneous demand for Government aid. In most districts the advances are few in number and comparatively small in amount, while in several the returns are entirely blank.

The causes of the small number of advances in some districts and the total absence of them in others have been explained in previous reports, and a detailed comparison of the figures with those of last year would be profitless; but the following points may be noted. In the Meerut division the falling off is principally in Aligarh, where the amount actually disbursed was about a fourth of that advanced in 1893-94. Last year an attempt was made to encourage drainage works in this district, and a sum of Rs. 4,000 was advanced to one of the landowners for this purpose; but only a small portion of the loan has as yet been expended.

This matter is receiving the attention of the district authorities. Several district officers have noticed the suggestion in last year's report that loans might usefully be given for drainage works; but they point to the difficulty of combined action among landowners and of reconciling conflicting interests, as well as that of obtaining competent engineering advice, as standing in the way of any extensive application of the suggestion.

During the past few years fairly large sums have been advanced for the construction of wells in the Agra division; especially in the Mainpuri district, where well irrigation was needed in the neighbourhood of the Bhognipur branch canal. The wants of this tract seem to have been supplied, and the demand for loans has greatly diminished. There is also a large decrease in the advances in Farukhabad. The Collector in explanation refers to the deterrent effect of a recent circular of the Inspector-General of Registration, requiring that the usual fees should be levied, when a search is made for incumbrances in order to ascertain whether the property pledged for a loan is sufficient. Hitherto no fees have been charged when enquiries have been made by the Collector in such cases. The Board will take up this question and deal with it separately.

Two or three loans are the usual number in the Rohilkhand division. This year there were two amounting to Rs. 725, which were granted in the Bijnor and Budaun districts. The Commissioner observes that there are backward tracts in the division where the Act might certainly be worked with beneficial effect, and the Collector of Bareilly makes a suggestion that money might be advanced to landlords to enable them to settle tenants in villages where the cultivating population is inadequate. Such advances would often be useful in cases where reclamation or clearance might be taken in hand.

In Kumaun, where little, if any, advantage has hitherto been taken of the provisions of the Act, the Commissioner points out that the construction of small irrigation works in the hills, and of wells in the Tarái, should be encouraged by the grant of loans. The Board trust that this important matter will now receive attention.

The comparatively large sum distributed in the Allahabad division in an unprosperous year is remarkable. Over Rs. 18,000 were disbursed in Jhánsi alone for the construction of wells, tanks and embankments; and it is satisfactory that not a single case of misappropriation of the money advanced has been reported. Allahabad and Bánda also show good results. The falling off in Hamírpur is attributed by the Collector to the reduction of his budget allotment. He could, however, have obtained an additional grant had he applied for it, and the explanation can scarcely be accepted as adequate.

Loans were made more freely in all the districts of the Lucknow division save Kheri, where wells are not wanted in ordinary seasons, and drainage is a very difficult matter. In the Fyzabad division more than half the amount advanced was granted in Bara Banki—a district where, a few years ago, owing to the exertions of a former Deputy Commissioner, Colonel Grigg, applications under the Act were very numerous, and considerable improvements were effected.

App. C.—VII.

93. Including Rs. 3,49,083, the balance outstanding at the close of 1893-94, the demand on account of principal advanced was Rs. 4,23,824: of which Rs. 99,879 fell due during the year, and Rs. 84,171 were realised. The balance, all of which is recoverable, is most considerable in Bánda, Hamírpur, Jaunpur, Hardoi and Bara Banki. The bad harvests caused by heavy and unseasonable rain are mainly accountable for short payments, and it has been necessary in consequence to treat defaulters with some degree of leniency. In Bara Banki, where the arrears were heaviest (Rs. 2,774), steps are being taken for their early realisation, the past kharíf having been a good crop. In the other districts the outstandings will, it is hoped, be gradually recovered in the course of the current year. The demand for interest was Rs. 33,528, of which Rs. 18,293 were collected.

The advances of the year are the largest on record since the passing of the present Act. All the divisions show an increase, which is most marked in Allahabad, Lucknow and Fyzabad, where the effects of the bad seasons were most severely felt, and where in some districts there was heavy mortality among cattle. It is in a year like the past when the resources of the people are reduced, and the arrangements under which agriculture is ordinarily carried on are likely to break down, that there is a real and general need for takavi; and there can be no doubt that the money distributed was of material assistance to the agricultural classes. In most districts aid was liberally given; but, as in the preceding year, Dehra Dún, Bulandshahr, Benares, Naini Tal and Bahraich were conspicuous with no advances, while in Gorakhpur and Almora the loans were trifling. It might have been expected that, in some of these districts at any rate, the exigencies of the year would have led to applications for loans for seed and cattle, especially as comparatively large sums were lent in some of the adjoining districts. But in this matter variations in practice rather than in natural conditions are the controlling causes.

With a few exceptions, every district shows an increase in the amounts distributed as takavi. In Rae Bareli, Sitapur, Hardoi, Bara Banki, Gonda, Jhánsi, Bánda, Allahabad and Farukhabad the loans exceeded those of the previous year by over Rs. 20,000. In Fatehpur and Muzaffarnagar also the rise was only a little short of this. The largest sum (Rs. 63,068) was advanced in Rae Bareli, and liberal advances for the purchase of plough cattle and seed grain were made in all of the districts of the Lucknow division which had suffered from floods. Even in Kheri, where ordinarily such loans are neither applied for nor required, a considerable amount was distributed. In Farukhabad also the heavy floods of the autumn of 1894 caused a large demand for loans. Assistance in the shape of takavi was given very freely in all the districts of the Allahabad division where it was required, and in some, notably in Bánda, the large grants made in the year under report had to to be supplemented shortly after its close. In Hamírpur, where the takavi loans show a falling off, applications were received late in the year, and a large sum was advanced before a month of the current year had elapsed. Mr. Ferard, the Collector of Bánda, found that too high a standard of security was exacted before advances were sanctioned; and he introduced a different system, of which he gives the following description :—"The plan I have adopted is to make several cultivators jointly and severally liable for the advances made to each, in cases where the grant was really required and the men respectable, but with no means of giving substantial security. Recusancy, except in exceptional instances, need not be anticipated unless seasons are bad. If they are bad, and some of the advances are ultimately irrecoverable, Government will at any rate have the satisfaction of knowing that by assisting the cultivators it has done its utmost to keep up cultivation and prevent the breakdown of settlement in particular villages, which is characteristic of the district owing to its peculiar soil." The system promises well, but it must be judged by its results, and its working needs to be carefully watched. Another Collector notes that much time is wasted by his tahsíldárs in making enquiries regarding incumbrances on the landed property offered as security, although these loans are recoverable from the sureties as arrears of revenue, and as such form a first charge on the hypothecated property. The remedy for such delay lies with the district officer himself.

The annual cattle fair in Hardoi was held on a large scale, and 1,493 bullocks were purchased by recipients of loans, and branded, against 368 in the previous year, the prevalence of epidemic cattle disease throughout the district causing a great increase in the demand for advances. The experiment of making advances for the purchase of cattle at the Sandila fair was repeated, with the result that 62 bullocks were purchased with takávi loans amounting to Rs. 3,000.

The demand, including the outstanding balances of previous years (Rs. 3,60,391), amounted to Rs. 10,37,670. Of this, Rs. 4,99,810 fell due, and Rs. 3,73,253 (74·7 per cent.) were collected, leaving Rs. 1,26,557 still due when the year closed. Heavier arrears than usual are to be expected in a year of agricultural depression such as the past has been, and rigorous measures for recovery were undesirable. The balances were largest in Garhwál (Rs. 17,046), Sitapur (Rs. 14,019), Hardoi (Rs. 12,546), Bara Banki (Rs. 9,373), and Bánda (Rs. 7,719). Those in Garhwál are mostly due from pargana Chandpur, where, on account of further scarcity during the year, it was not deemed advisable to press for immediate repayment. The balances in Sitapur, Hardoi and Bara Banki are due to the general causes noted above, and require no special explanation. A report has been called for from the Collector as to the prospect of recovering the arrears in Bánda; but it is feared that with the continuance of adverse seasons and the distress which prevails, remissions on a somewhat large scale will ultimately be found necessary in this, as in other Bundelkhand districts. The total demand for interest, including Rs. 7,802 on account of previous years, was Rs. 42,722, of which Rs. 22,522 were realised, leaving an outstanding balance of Rs. 20,200.

SEC. V.—LAND REVENUE ADMINISTRATION.
App. C.—IX.

95. This return again shows an increase under all the heads, viz., number of mahál, gross land revenue, number of cases for disposal, the number disposed of, and issues and receipts in the Revenue Department. The issues and receipts in the Board's office amounted to 21,189 and 22,790 respectively.

SEC. VI—ARRANGEMENT, INSPECTION AND WEEDING OF REVENUE RECORDS.
App. C.—X.

96. The number of files to be sent into the record-room, increased from 1,293,658 in 1893-94 to 1,353,098 in the year under report. Of these, 1,292,382 were deposited, leaving a balance of 60,716 compared with one of 79,774 at the close of the preceding year. These results show a decided improvement on the work of 1893-94. The arrears noticed last year in Muttra, though still large, have been reduced by more than half; and the large balances at the end of 1893-94 in Bulandshahr, Bijnor, Budaun, Moradabad, Unao, Sultánpur and Partábgarh have been brought down. The last is the only district where the balance is still apparently excessive, but, as explained last year, the outstandings consist mainly of the records of the Settlement Department, which are in the settlement record-room and should not be taken into account. A few districts show larger arrears than in the previous year, but the increases are trifling except in Gorakhpur, Naini Tal and Bara Banki. No explanation has been furnished by the last two districts: in Gorakhpur the large balance is said to have been due to the Dasserah holidays falling in the last week of September, and to the clearance of arrears by the courts on the last two days of the year, when the offices re-opened after the vacation, an explanation applicable to other districts as well.

The work of registering and arranging the files has also been more promptly carried out than in the previous year. The number of files duly registered and arranged rose from 1,204,253 to 1,284,428, while the number remaining fell from 9,631 to 7,954. The balance is not large in any district, and many districts show clear files in this branch of record-room work. The arrears are heaivest in Farukhabad, where 844 files remained unregistered; but they are said to have been received in the record-room on the last day of the year, and they have since been registered and arranged. The arrears noticed last year against Allahabad, Almora and Unao have been considerably reduced in the first two, and entirely cleared off in the last named district.

The same general improvement is perceptible in the work of inspecting and weeding records, 11,597 more bastas having been disposed of than in the preceding year. It is satisfactory to note that the arrears in Allahabad and Benares at the close of 1893-94 have been cleared off, and those in Agra and Gházipur reduced. But the balance in Agra is still large, and efforts should be made to reduce it in the current year. Bara Banki and Bulandshahr show somewhat larger balances than last year. The Bara Banki report is silent as to the cause of the heavy arrears (2,173 bastas). The Collector of Bulandshahr complains of the insufficiency of the permanent staff allowed to his district under Mr. Alexander's scheme: but this is not the place to discuss this point. The Collector was allowed extra temporary weeders last year, and an additional grant can similarly be made in the current year by the Commissioner if necessity is shown. The number of unweeded bundles is also apparently large in Etah, Cawnpore and Hardoi, but, as remarked in previous reports, they consist of patwaris' papers which do not admit of weeding at present.

The general improvement noticeable in the work of arranging and weeding records during the year under report is no doubt attributable to the larger grants for extra record-room establishment, which the Board, with the sanction of Government, were able to make.

SEC. VII.—APPEALS UNDER ACT XIX OF 1873 (N.-W. P. REVENUE ACT) AND ACT XVII OF 1876 (OUDH REVENUE ACT). App. C.—XI.

97. The number of appeals filed was 5,929 against 5,504 in the preceding year. The Collector of Gorakhpur had most appeals to decide, no less than 363 having been instituted in his court within the year. Among divisions, Meerut ranked first in order of work. There the Collectors out of a file of 838 cases disposed of 730, while the Commissioner disposed of all except 4 of the 470 appeals in his court. Benares also shows good results. Out of 627 the appeals district officers decided 601, leaving only 26 pending at the close of the year. The case in this division dating from October 1893 is on the Commissioner's file, and is awaiting the result of a civil suit. On the whole the outturn of work is satisfactory, and pending files have been considerably reduced.

SEC. VIII.—ACTION TAKEN BY DEPUTY COMMISSIONERS UNDER SEC. 158, ACT XVII OF 1876. Apps. C—XII and C—XIII (Oudh).

98. Applications to recover the rent of mahals held in sub-settlement in Oudh rose from 661 to 1,155, and the amount of arrears claimed from Rs. 1,29,967 to Rs. 1,93,810.

As usual, the provisions of section 158 were most extensively resorted to in Fyzabad and Gonda, where three-fourths of the total number of applications were filed. In the Lucknow division, Hardoi is the only district where cases of this description are at all numerous. The poor harvests account generally for the greater difficulty experienced by the talukdars in recovering rent from under-proprietors. The percentage levied by Government on the collections to cover the expenses of recovery was reduced materially during the year; and the Deputy Commissioner of Gonda is of opinion that the reduction has to some extent encouraged landlords to apply more freely for the assistance of the revenue authorities. The establishments paid from the defaulting sub-proprietors fund were revised during the year.

SEC. IX.—APPLICATIONS FOR THE GUARDIANSHIP OF MINORS.

99. No expenditure was incurred during the year by district officers in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh in respect of applications under section 8, Act VIII of 1890, for the guardianship of minors succeeding to landed estates.

SEC. X—MISCELLANEOUS.

Tours by Members of the Board.

100. The Members visited the following districts during the year:—

Mr. Cadell—Mirzapur, Benares, Azamgarh, Jaunpur and Bulandshahr.

Mr. Adams—Cawnpore, Lucknow, Sitapur, Sháhjahánpur, Bareilly, Pilibhít, Hamírpur, Bánda, Fatehpur, Fyzabad, Gorakhpur, Sultánpur and Partábgarh.

Mr. Neale—Lucknow, Bareilly, Meerut, Cawnpore, Bulandshahr, Bijnor and Agra.

Mr. Moule—Cawnpore, Lucknow, Fyzabad, Shâhjahânpur, Bareilly and Almora.

Record Fund Rules.

101. District Officers generally report that the record fund rules have worked satisfactorily, though in certain instances complaints have been made that the fixed establishment of copyists allowed has proved insufficient. This matter is under the consideration of the Board.

Territorial changes.

102. The only territorial changes that took place during the year were the transfer of three alluvial mahals from Cawnpore to Unao under the deep stream rules, and the amalgamation of the Kora and Kalyanpur tahsíls in the Fatehpur district. The transfer of four villages from Shahabad in Bengal to Ballia under the deep stream rules, though settled during the year, was not notified till 9th January 1896.

Boundary pillars.

103. Boundary pillars and survey stations were duly inspected and steps were taken to carry out the necessary repairs. The long pending dispute at Dhundsagar between the Gwalior State and the Jalaun district has been settled. The monoliths erected along the boundary between Nepal and the districts of Pilibhít and Naini Tal in 1893-94 are being re-numbered.

Hamírpur forests.

104. The Collector of Hamirpur did not inspect the protected forests in his district during the year. Probably the Joint Magistrate in charge of the Mahoba sub-division did, but he left no notes of his inspection. Care will be taken that notes are kept up in future. The tahsíldars visited 11 out of the 14 forest plots. The conditions imposed upon the landholders of the villages appeared to be complied with, and no fines for breach of the forest rules were inflicted. It has been necessary to postpone the erection of boundary pillars referred to in paragraph 108 of last year's report; as owing to poor harvests, the zamíndárs were badly off; but steps will be taken in this direction as soon as their circumstances improve.

Service and character books.

105. Service and character books were duly maintained. In Saháranpur it is noted that fraudulent entries of age in service books are not uncommon. As suggested by the Commissioner, steps should be taken to stop this practice by inflicting exemplary punishment on the offenders. In Lucknow and Dehra Dún the character books are in the old form. They should now be prepared in the new form and brought up to date as soon as possible. The quinquennial verification of the opening page of service books, required by article 878 (b) of the Civil Service Regulations, has not been carried out in all districts. This matter requires attention.

Touring of tahsíldárs.

106. More attention was paid to the rules which require tahsíldárs to move freely about their tahsíls, and the amount of touring done was, on the whole, satisfactory. But a good many tahsíldárs spent less than the minimum period of 60 days in camp, and the explanations furnished are not in all cases sufficient. In some instances the primary object of the rules appears to have been overlooked. Some of the tahsíldárs appear to have occupied themselves with comparatively unimportant matters instead of devoting the greater part of their tours to the systematic examination of the villages in their tahsíls. All tahsíldárs should be made to understand that they are sent into camp in order that they may acquire a personal knowledge of every portion of their charges, especially of the more precarious tracts, and district officers should not be satisfied with tour diaries in which the condition of the villages in the tahsíl is not prominently and intelligently noticed.

More tents are much needed for the use of tahsíldárs on tour, and the Board hope that it may soon be found possible to provide funds for supplying them.

SEC. XI.—MAPS.

107. During the year of report the map of the district of Almora was photo-zincographed at the Survey Office, Calcutta, after the proof had been examined and returned by the Deputy Commissioner, and two hundred copies of the map have been received and issued by the Board. Eight tahsíli maps, including that of Almora (an exceptionally large one in thirteen sections) were prepared and published during the year ending December 1895, making in all 75 for the North-Western Provinces and 41 for Oudh, which have been issued up to date. The first copies of the maps for eight tahsíls were completed, and two more were prepared in rough and forwarded to the district officer for revision. The miscellaneous work of the department was somewhat heavier than last year. The following statement shows the progress made in the preparation of tahsíli maps for the North-Western Provinces and Oudh up to the end of December 1895 :—

SEC. XII.—ECONOMIC HISTORY.

108. The main features of the year have already been fully described in other sections of the report. The year was an unprosperous one, and the agricultural classes in general passed through a period of comparative distress, which was most marked in the Allahabad and Benares divisions and in Oudh. Prices ruled high, and would have been higher but for extensive imports from the Punjab which supplemented the scanty local supplies. In canal districts artificial irrigation was generally unnecessary owing to the heavy rains, and a reduced demand for water rates so far benefited the cultivators. Owing to the early close of the monsoon and absence of the usual winter rains the outlook in the current year in Bundelkhand and some other tracts is decidedly gloomy.

District officers have in their reports given considerable prominence to the matter of communications. The Collector of Meerut suggests the construction of a railway through the fertile Baghpat tahsíl to Saháranpur. The retrospect by the Commissioner of Rohilkhand of the progress made in the last 30 years in communications of all kinds in his division is interesting. The various projects for roads in the Kumaun division are discussed at some length by the Commissioner, who emphasises the necessity for more and better roads between the hills and plains. Much has been done in the way of drainage works in certain of the canal districts of the Meerut and Agra divisions. The Commissioner of the former division points out that all that need be done as a rule is to keep the drainage channels open, and that it is unnecessary, and indeed often injurious, to drain to the bottom a chain of natural depressions. Some further remarks on this subject will be found in Part II of this report. Some of the large talukdárs of the Rae Bareli district are reported to be setting a good example by starting drainage works. It is satisfactory to find that the improvement in the material condition of the deteriorated tracts of the Agra division has been general. Much, however, remains to be done in that division in the way of drainage. The economic sections of the divisional and district reports will, as usual, be submitted to Government, and only the more important of the remaining matters dealt with in them need be briefly noticed.

* Three tahsílis have since been added, namely, the newly formed tahsíli of Chhata, district Muttra, and the two addicional tahsílis of Ramnagar and Naini Tal created out of the former tahsíli of Haldwáni, which has been divided into three.

In Dehra Dún the outturn of tea was poor, but high prices were obtained. The experiment in sericulture carried out by Lord Masham has for the present been discontinued. In Aligarh the increasing tendency of large landholders to refer their differences to the officers of Government for advice and amicable settlement is a gratifying feature. Mr. Williams draws a gloomy picture of the condition of the bulk of his division. In Bundelkhand, owing to excessive rainfall, káns has increased to a marked extent. Trade, however, seems to have been fairly brisk. From Bánda as well as from Jhánsi, the fruit of the mahua tree is largely exported to Europe for the manufacture of oil. In Fatehpur the trade in bones is developing. Canal irrigation is being introduced into that district and should prove of great benefit. The Collector of Jalaun complains of the difficulty experienced by the owners of indigo concerns in obtaining water from canals at the time when they require it. In Naini Tal the stricter enforcement of the rules in respect to new cultivation, which will result in stopping the beedless destruction of forests for potato cultivation, is referred to. In Sitápur, despite heavy mortality among cattle, the loans for the purchase of stock advanced by the agricultural bank of Seth Raghubar Dyal fell considerably short of the figures of the previous year. The Commissioner of Fyzabad and four of the district officers of his division have failed to record any separate notes on the economic conditions of the districts under their charge.

Mr. Harington, the Commissioner of Meerut, has devoted much space to the consideration of a scheme for advancing money for seed and cattle through selected landholders, but the matter is not one which can be usefully or adequately discussed in an annual report.

Chapter V.—SETTLEMENT.

REVISION OF SETTLEMENT IN TEMPORARILY SETTLED DISTRICTS.

109. The report for last year contained a short account of the alterations made in the system of settlement, the most important of which consists in the separation of the work of assessment from that of preparing a corrected record-of-rights, and the introduction of a scheme for the systematic revision of the land record by the permanent agency of the Land Records Department. It has since been decided to limit the record operations to the correction of the annual papers, without attestation under the settlement rules, or the preparation of a new record-of-rights. The procedure in force is described in the following extract from the general instructions issued for the guidance of survey and district officers:—

"In the scheme for the revision of records, the main principle is that no settlement record shall be prepared. The only exception to this is that, in Meerut, the khewats, or record of proprietary right, will be revised and attested in accordance with the provisions of the Land Revenue Act and the rules framed thereunder. In other respects, the work to be done is merely the annual correction of the village papers by the patwáris, performed with special care and under special supervision. The usual procedure, as laid down in the rules for patwaris and kanungos, will therefore be adhered to except in so far as any modification is required owing to the provision of new maps, and the special needs of the assessing officer. There will be no reclassification of tenures, or determination of questions of status, such as is made when a new record-of-rights is prepared. The decision of these questions will be left to the regular courts."

The progress of operations under the new system will be noted in the following chapter, which deals with the work of the Land Records Department. This section of the report will be confined to an account of the work done in those districts where a reassessment of the land revenue is being carried out.

110. The districts under assessment were the same as last year; three in the North-West Provinces and nine in Oudh. In only one of these—Budaun—is a record-of-rights now in course of preparation under the old system; and there also this work was discontinued for a time; but it was resumed under the orders of Government, as the existing rentrolls were considered to be untrustworthy. In Oudh, the system of assessing on existing rentrolls was in full operation; and in most districts the record work was limited to the completion of what had been begun before the new procedure was adopted. Under the guidance of the Settlement Commissioner great progress was made in Oudh in carrying out the operations of assessment. In the North-Western Provinces, the settlement of Garhwál has, by the good arrangements and energy of the Settlement Officer, Mr. Pauw, been practically completed. The following paragraphs give a brief account of the progress of work in each district:—

111. Bijnor.—Mr. F. J. Pert was appointed Settlement Officer during the year, and assumed charge on the 30th November 1894. The fairing of the records of parganas Daranagar, Bijnor, Mandawar and Akbarabad, and practically of pargana Kiratpur also, was finished. The maps of parganas Nehtor, Najibabad and Dhampur were corrected, and the attestation of records commenced when, under the orders of Government, it was decided to discontinue all but the attestation of the khewats. The work in Nehtor was, however, completed, as only a few villages of this pargana remained to be attested. The Settlement Officer and Assistant Settlement Officer inspected four parganas with an area of 350 square miles. According to the programme, a fifth pargana, Mandawar, should also have been inspected; but this could not be done owing to the late date on which the Settlement Officer joined the district. Three of the parganas inspected and a portion of the fourth, were assessed, making a total area of 305 square miles. The Settlement Officer explains that the assessment of the area inspected would have been completed, but for his deputation as Magistrate and Collector during the hot weather months, when he had to carry on the work of the district in addition to that of settlement. In this district the work of inspection and assessment is somewhat behindhand. It is being pushed on, and the full programme will be worked up to during the current year.

The survey of the forest villages in parganas Najibabad, Afzalgarh and Barhapura was, as noticed last year, conducted by professional agency under the supervision of Mr. Freeman, the officer in charge of survey operations in Meerut. The traverse survey of all the villages, comprising an area of 339 square miles, has been completed; and 162 square miles (73 in Najibabad and 89 in Barhapura) have also been surveyed cadastrally. The total cost of this work so far has been Rs. 4,044, or Rs. 24-15-5 per square mile, on the area cadastrally surveyed.

The cost of settlement operations during the year was Rs. 57,599, bringing the total expenditure up to Rs. 91,752, or Rs. 118-1-4 per square mile.

112. Budaun.—The work of map and record correction was practically finished during the year; and that shown as remaining relates to the alluvial mahals in the Dataganj tahsíl, which have been removed from the regular operations of the settlement. The new records of tahsíls Sahaswan and Bisauli, and of portions of parganas Salempur, Budaun and Ujhiani were attested. The fairing of records was completed for the Gunnaur tahsíl, and is in progress in tahsíls Bisauli and Sahaswan. The Settlement Officer and his assistant inspected an area of 768 square miles, leaving the Budaun and Dataganj tahsíls for inspection during the current year. The area assessed was 332 square miles; and the revised assessments of one pargana, Asadpur, were reported for sanction towards the end of the year. The total cost so far is Rs. 1,83,263, of which Rs. 94,491 were expended during the year. The rate per square mile comes to Rs. 91-7-2.

113. Garhwál.—The Garhwál survey party was broken up at the commencement of the year; and the only work connected with survey was the correction and final completion of the maps as correction slips were received from the Settlement Department. The fairing of records was completed, except the preparation of copies for the patwáris, a good many of which were not ready at the close of the year. The work of inspection and assessment was energetically pushed on. The Settlement Officer inspected the parganas of Dewalgarh, Talla Salan, Ganga Salan and Chandpur, and the pattis in pargana Badhan which were cadastrally surveyed. The assessable area of these is 579 square miles. These parganas were also assessed, as well as the remaining portion of Malla Salan, and the total area assessed in the cadastrally surveyed tract was 603 square miles. The small area of 47 square miles remaining has been assessed since the close of the year. The Settlement Officer has also finished the inspection and assessment of the unsurveyed portion of the district, the total number of villages in which is 653 with an assessable area of 38 square miles, scattered over a great extent of very mountainous country.

The assessment reports of parganas Malla Salan, Talla Salan, Ganga Salan, Dewalgarh and Badhan were received during the year; and the revised assessments of pargana Chaundkot were sanctioned and declared. The demand for this pargana has been raised from Rs. 7,132 to Rs. 10,835, an increase of Rs. 3,703 or 51·92 per cent. on the old revenue. The revised assessments of the remaining parganas were sanctioned after the close of the year. The total expenditure up to 30th September 1895 was Rs. 4,90,038. Of this Rs. 60,841, or Rs. 35-4-11 per square mile, was spent on the traverse; Rs. 2,60,190, or Rs. 273-9-6 per square mile, on the cadastral survey; and Rs. 1,69,007, or Rs. 170-14-2 per square mile, on settlement. The work remaining to be done will, it is expected, be completed by the end of the current financial year.

114. Lucknow.—The reassessment of the district was completed during the year by the inspection and assessment of the six remaining parganas, the area of which is 814 square miles. Assessment reports were submitted for all the parganas; and, since the close of the year, the revised assessments have been sanctioned. The increase of revenue for the entire district is, in round numbers, Rs. 2,20,000, or 28 per cent. on the current demand. The expenditure during the year was Rs. 28,330, which, added to the expenditure incurred up to the end of the previous year, gives a total cost of Rs. 50,143, or Rs. 51-13-8 per square mile.

115. Unao.—The resettlement of this district also has been completed. The small amount of record work that remained over from last year was finished; the remaining pargana, Mohan Auras, was inspected; and 404 square miles were assessed. The revised assessments of ten parganas, were sanctioned and declared during the year.* The new revenue for these is Rs. 5,47,063, an increase of Rs. 84,608, or 18·30 per cent. on the current demand. This completes the assessment of the entire district; and in eleven parganas the settlement has been formally closed by notification.

The total expenditure up to the close of the year under report amounted to Rs. 3,39,139, or Rs. 205-6-8 per square mile. The expenditure is very high. It has not been explained by the Settlement Officer; but it is due principally to the protracted operations, and the settlement could probably have been made in a shorter time, and with greater economy, if a separate Settlement Officer had been appointed. Mr. Benett brings to notice the meritorious services of Maulvi Abdul Hamid, the Deputy Collector employed in the settlement.

116. Rae Bareli.—The revision and attestation of records have been finished for the entire district; all that remained being the fairing of some of the records. The Settlement Officer commends the services of Syed Ali Hammad, Deputy Collector,

* The assessment of Safipur was also sanctioned during the year, but the revised jamas were declared in the year previous in anticipation of sanction.

who assisted in bringing this branch of the work to a speedy completion. Very satisfactory progress was made with inspection and assessment. The Settlement Officer and his assistant inspected an area of nearly 1,000 square miles during the year, thus completing the inspection of the district. The area assessed was still larger, viz., 1,740 square miles. This includes four parganas, which were inspected in 1893-94, but the assessment of which was unavoidably delayed by Mr. Baillie's absence on other duties. The Settlement Officer submitted the assessment reports for parganas Inhauna, Mohanganj, Sareni, Khiron, Rae Bareli, Simrauta and Dalmau; and the revised assessments of the first four have been sanctioned and declared. The total enhancement in these is Rs. 67,885, or 22·7 per cent. on the old demand.

The cost of settlement operations during the year was Rs. 64,977. The total expenditure from the commencement of settlement is Rs. 1,94,919, or Rs. 111-7-2 per square mile.

117. Sitapur.—The Settlement Officer inspected twelve parganas with an area of 1,110 square miles, and completed the assessment of 766 square miles. The revised assessments of 323 square miles only have, however, been reported. The Settlement Officer explains that the year was one of such acute agricultural depression that he considered it advisable to delay reporting the assessments of the grain-rented parganas until he could satisfy himself by another rapid inspection that he had not underestimated the assets. The expenditure during the year was Rs. 19,629. The cost rate calculated on the total expenditure of Rs. 41,834 comes to Rs. 18-8-10 per square mile of the total area. On the area inspected the rate is Rs. 17-10-11, and on the area assessed Rs. 24-8-7. The work of the year is correctly described by the Settlement Officer as combining great progress with small expenditure.

118. Hardoi.—The Settlement Officer and Assistant Settlement Officer inspected and assessed the whole of the Hardoi tahsíl and half of the Bilgram tahsíl, an area of 833 square miles. The area remaining is 814 square miles, that is half the Bilgram tahsíl and the whole of the Shahabad tahsíl. The assessment report of tahsíl Sandila was received during the year, and that for the Hardoi tahsíl and parganas Bilgram and Sandi of the Bilgram tahsíl shortly after its close. The total expenditure, including Rs. 49,295 incurred during the year, amounts to Rs. 1,48,104, or Rs. 63-12-1 per square mile on the entire area of the district.

119. Fyzabad.—The Settlement Officer completed the fairing of the records of the four parganas, Tanda, Surhurpur, Birhar and Majhaura, which were taken up last year. In the remaining six the records will not be revised. The four parganas abovementioned, comprising an area of 622 square miles, were inspected and assessed; but the assessment reports were not received during the year. The total expenditure has been Rs. 97,950, giving a cost rate of Rs. 56-12-0 per square mile for the district. The greater portion of this expenditure, Rs. 91,280, was incurred on the four parganas settled under the old system, where it falls at the rate of nearly Rs. 147 per square mile. This is high, but the Settlement Officer observes that it is not higher than it should be considering the complicated character of the work to be done.

120. Sultánpur.—The Settlement Officer has completed the revision of the maps and records of the entire district including the 208 villages in which this work was stopped and subsequently resumed. The attestation has also been finished, and all that now remains is the fairing of the records. This was a little in arrears but is now being pushed on rapidly. Five parganas containing 935 villages with an area of 646 square miles, were inspected during the year, and the revised assessments reported, as well as those of pargana Aldemau which was inspected in 1893-94. The total area assessed was 957 square miles. The only parganas remaining to be inspected and assessed are Baraunsa and Miranpur. The revised assessments of parganas Gaura Jamun, Jagdispur, Aldemau, Isauli cis-Gumti and Isauli trans-Gumti were sanctioned and declared. In them, the revision has resulted in an increase of Rs. 1,27,637, or 26·09 per cent. on the current demand. The charges for the year were Rs. 58,009, making a total from commencement of operations of Rs. 1,62,263, or Rs. 94-11-7 per square mile. The Settlement Officer brings to notice the excellent work done by both his Deputy Collectors, Maulvi Abdul Karim and Muhammad Nur-ulla; and his commendation is endorsed by the Settlement Commissioner.

121. Partabgarh.—The revised assessments of six out of the seven parganas into which the district is divided were sanctioned and declared during the year. The revenue in these parganas has been raised to Rs. 9,19,904, giving an increase of Rs. 2,41,009 or 35·5 per cent. on the former demand. The assessment of pargana Patti was again revised, with the result that the new demand now stands at Rs. 4,32,721, an increase of 41·17 per cent. on the old revenue. One of the talukdárs, who refused to engage for the revised demand, has been excluded from settlement with the sanction of the Government of India. A few other talukdárs have declined to engage; but it is not expected that they will persist in their refusal.

The expenditure during the year was Rs. 37,082, and from commencement of operations Rs. 2,44,945, or Rs. 169-11-11 per square mile. Here, as in Unao, the expenditure is high, and probably from the same cause.

122. Bara Banki.—The fairing of the records of the nine parganas for which revised records have been prepared has been finished. The area inspected during the year was 626 square miles, and the area assessed was 831 square miles. The assessment of the parganas inspected during the year, and of pargana Fatehpur which was inspected in the year previous, was completed and reported. The revised assessments of the four parganas, which were assessed in 1893-94, were sanctioned and declared. The revised revenue in these is Rs. 4,77,274, giving an increase of Rs. 1,02,747, or 27·43 per cent. on the former demand.

The charges during the year were Rs. 51,898. Adding this to the expenditure previously incurred, the total cost so far is Rs. 1,36,362, or Rs. 78-5-11 per square mile.

123. The district of Meerut and the sub-division of Lalitpur in Jhánsi have been formally brought under settlement, and in Bahraich also the Deputy Commissioner has been invested with the powers of an officer in charge of settlement under the Land Revenue Act. But, in these districts, only the preliminary operations of survey and record are at present in progress, and the revision of the assessment has not yet commenced. Sanction has been accorded to the revision of the assessment of the Kheri district. In Sháhjahánpur, which was also reported on by the Director of Land Records and Agriculture, further enquiries are being made to enable the Government to decide whether a general revision of the assessment is necessary. Orders to resume the ubari, or privileged tenure, in Gursarai, a large estate in the Jhánsi district, were received during the year; and the summary settlement of the estate has since been completed and reported for sanction. A regular settlement will be made after the completion of the survey which has been undertaken. A settlement record will be prepared for Gursarai in accordance with the provisions of the Land Revenue Act; and also for Kakarbai, another ubari, in which there is no existing record-of-rights.

124. Abstract statements of the work done during the year and of the cost of settlement operations are appended:—

PART II.

PATWARIS AND KANUNGOS.

125. The report of the Director of Land Records and Agriculture, which is appended, gives a detailed account of the working of his Department with regard to the maintenance of land records, and the Board need only touch on the more important matters with which it deals.

126. Allusion has been made in the preceding chapter to the scheme for the systematic revision of records in anticipation of settlement by the permanent agency of the Land Records Department. An account of the operations, which were in progress during the year in Meerut, Bahraich and the sub-division of Lalitpur, is given in paragraph 17 of the Director's report.

The cadastral surveys made by patwáris under the supervision of the survey staff are preceded by a professional traverse. Parties were at work on this in Meerut and Bahraich, and an area of 3,125 square miles was traversed in the two districts. Since the close of the year traverse operations have been extended to Bareilly, Sháhjahánpur and Kheri. The survey of Azamgarh, which was also included in the programme, has, under the orders of Government, been postponed for the present. The traverse is now well ahead of the cadastral survey, and the difficulty in supplying the patwáris with plots, which was unavoidable at the commencement of operations, should not recur. The difficulty this year has been to arrange for the record-writing of the large area of 2,439 square miles which was cadastrally surveyed by patwári agency during the year of report. On this account, as well as for financial reasons, it has been necessary to curtail the programme for the current year. Both survey and record work, however, are now progressing satisfactorily; and in future the records will be written up in the same season, as the field-survey advances. The results of the scheme, as regards the training of the patwáris and kanungos and the quality of the work, have been excellent. The expenditure has, so far, been moderate; but the financial results will be more clearly ascertained, when the record work of the tract surveyed has been completed.

Establishment.

127. The department was strengthened by the appointment of Mr. Scott to the new post of Superintendent of Land Record Surveys, and by the addition of three trained survey officers, whose services were obtained from the Survey of India for the supervision and control of the patwáris employed on cadastral work. The alterations in the ordinary establishment under the Director's control were unimportant. Since the close of the year assistant record-keepers for patwáris' papers have been appointed in several districts in which the post had come temporarily under reduction. The improvement in the class of candidates for the post of kanungo is satisfactory. As the Director remarks, it has been caused by the prospect of promotion to naib-tahsíldárships held out to kanúngos under the recent rules. The question raised by the Director as to the advancement of kanúngo inspectors will be considered separately.

Revision of patwáris' circles.

128. Proposals for the revision of patwáris' circles and salaries were sanctioned during the year for the Moradabad district and pargana Chandkot in Garhwál, and those for parganas Malla Salan, Talla Salan and Ganga Salan of the latter district received the approval of Government since the close of the year. For the reasons noted by the Director, the Board postponed the introduction of the revised scheme for the Agra district to the 1st October 1896, but the Collector has since reported that, with the exception of some trifling alterations, the scheme has already been completely brought into effect throughout the district from the 1st October 1895, and that the results so far have proved satisfactory. In Sháhjahánpur the revision will be taken up on the completion of survey operations. The reorganisation of patwáris' circles has been started in several districts in Oudh. It has been decided that the revision should be undertaken by district officers, as under the new system of settlement in Oudh it is desirable that the Settlement Officer should not be hampered with any work outside his special duties.

Education of patwáris and kanúngos.

129. The percentage of patwaris and assistants (exclusive of those in Almora and Garhwál) who have passed through the patwári schools has risen from 77 to 79; while the percentage of men who have yet to qualify is the same as in 1892-93—7 per cent. while in 1893-94 it was 6 per cent. The number of untrained patwáris is still very large in Basti (495) and Allahabad (377). The considerable increase in Basti is due chiefly to the withdrawal of exemptions, and it is to be hoped will be only temporary; in Allahabad the matter is receiving attention. In Azamgarh the exertions of the Collector have reduced the number of unpassed men from 243 to 159. Patwáris exempted from examination numbered 4,140 as against 4,991 in 1893-94. Considerable reductions were effected during the year in those districts in which exemptions were most numerous. As a temporary result in some districts the number of unpassed men shows an increase; but the number will gradually diminish as the patwáris pass through the school or are replaced by qualified candidates.

The variations in the standard of examination at patwaris' schools which the Director refers to are noticeable, and he will be asked to further consider his proposal to transfer these schools to the Educational Department, and to report the matter separately. The practical training, however, which patwáris and candidates will now receive, as they work in the field under professional supervision, will do more to raise the standard of efficiency than any instruction that can be given in schools.

The kanúngo school at Cawnpore was closed during the year, as candidates are now trained in surveying with the survey parties which are at work in several districts.

Residence of patwáris.

130. The subject of the residence of patwáris is reported to have received considerable attention during the year in most districts; and, as a result, in many cases the existing classification has been found to be inaccurate. The retrogression shown in the returns of resident patwáris, now 70 per cent. of the total number, and of patwáris non-resident but not exempted, now 16 per cent, is therefore not a real one. The reduction in the number of exempted patwáris, now 14 per cent. of the whole, has led to a temporary increase in the number of those not resident and not exempted, which will diminish year by year as they either take advantage of the time given them to settle in their circles, or are replaced by men who are resident. In Azamgarh the improved results are creditable to the Collector. Vigorous action has been taken in Basti towards compelling residence; but in this district, as in Gorakhpur, it is not desirable that exemptions in special cases should be altogether refused. The question of residence should receive special attention in the districts noted by the Director, and more especially in Allahabad. In Oudh the matter must remain in abeyance for the present. Local characteristics must be taken into consideration in judging of the results attained. In the eastern districts exemptions are likely, for the reasons given by the Director, to remain numerous; while in the northern districts of Oudh, where the circles are large and where the population is in parts scanty, non-resident patwáris are naturally more numerous than elsewhere.

Filing and testing of patwáris' papers.

131. On the whole the village papers were filed with a degree of punctuality which is creditable to the staff, and the results would have been even more satisfactory but for unavoidable delay in the districts under settlement. In the remaining districts 87 to 88 per cent. of the records on an average were filed in time, and only one per cent. were over a month late. The percentage of fields tested by kanúngos has fallen from 8·40 to 7·27. This is due to the prolonged absence from their circles of a large number of kanúngos who were deputed to learn surveying; and in some districts to settlement operations, in connection with which the services of the kanúngos were required.

Notwithstanding this the prescribed minimum of 7 per cent. was, in the aggregate, more than reached; and in some districts, notably Saháranpur and Bulandshahr, it was much exceeded. The number of fields tested by superior officers also shows a decrease, owing to the exclusion from the return of the testings of sadr kánúngos and naib-tahsíldárs. In most districts, however, more testing was done by tahsíldárs and officers of higher rank. The Board thoroughly agree with the remarks of the Director as to the duties of superior officers in this connection. It is their business to see that the kanúngo does his work properly, and not to replace the kanúngo as the officer directly responsible for the patwáris' work. The attention of the Collector of Sháhjahánpur will be directed to the necessity of reforming the method of supervision of land record work in his district. The question as to what officers should be reckoned as "superior officers" for the purpose of testing has again been raised by the Director, and the Board have authorised the entry in the returns of the work of naib-tahsíldárs, as these officials now have charge of the land records work of their tahsíls. The amendment in other directions of the rules as to testing will be separately reported on. The disproportionate amount of time given to the testing of field books, and especially to the crop entries in them, which the Director notices, has resulted in less attention being paid to the checking of rentrolls than is desirable; and, so long as this continues, concealment of rent is in many instances likely to remain undiscovered. In the year under report the most important cases in which the recorded rent was found to be understated were in Aligarh, Basti and Hardoi. The total amount of the concealments discovered in Aligarh is not stated, though they were extensive. In Basti, and Hardoi they were Rs. 719 and Rs. 1,940, respectively.

Map correction in Oudh.

132. Good progress has been made in the work of map correction in Gonda. In Bahraich and Kheri a general resurvey is now in progress, and in other Oudh districts land record work has been temporarily interrupted by settlement operations. The patwaris have been, or will shortly be, supplied by the Settlement Officers with revised maps for Unao, Partábgarh, Rae Bareli and Sultánpur, and for portions of other districts in which the revision of records was finished before it was determined to separate record operations from settlement.

Tahsíl registers.

133. In his thirteenth paragraph the Director has summarised the progress made during the year with regard to the use and maintenance of pargana books. Increased attention appears generally to have been given to the matter, but in several instances the object with which these books were prepared has been lost sight of, and officers have confined themselves to testing the accuracy of the entries, instead of utilising them as a basis for further enquiry. The question of altering the rules so as to ensure greater uniformity of method, and a more intelligent use of these registers, has been under consideration in communication with the Director. It is proposed to allow notes to be made in English only, which will ordinarily require the approval of the Collector before entry in the book; while, in order that the statistics entered may be of as late a date as possible, untested figures will be first entered in pencil, and afterwards, when tested, inked in. The Director's definition of what is required cannot be too closely insisted upon. "The notes should be brief and only regarding matters of permanent importance." This is all that is necessary. Commonplace remarks on unimportant matters only impede inquiry. For instance it could not have been necessary to note on 700 villages out of 706, as was done in Saháranpur. The looseness and inaccuracy of the patwáris' entries as to collections of rent is another important matter to which greater attention should be paid by the district officers.

Revised pargana books and mauza registers for the districts of Bulandshahr, Saháranpur and Jhánsi have been completed, and work was begun in Gorakhpur and Basti towards the close of the year. In Bijnor, Budaun and the districts of Oudh now under settlement, it has been taken in hand by the Settlement Officers. The proposal to start pargana books in Kumaun has been dropped for the present. The failure to utilise the new pargana books in Muzaffarnagar formed the subject of correspondence during the year.

Survey and boundary marks.

134. Lists of survey and boundary marks have been prepared in all districts except in a few tahsíls, and a report as to the action taken in Naini Tal has been called for. The suggestion of the Director to use stone instead of masonry pillars, where reconstruction is necessary, will be considered separately.

Amendment of rules.

135. The most important amendment of the rules was that directing the exclusion of areas on which spring crops have entirely failed from the area shown as cultivated in the patwáris' papers. Rules for the maintenance of settlement records in Garhwál have been prepared and are under consideration. A new form of mutation register was introduced in this district during the year, and permission given to use it in villages in Naini Tal and Almora where the old record had become confused by reason of numerous corrections.

DIRECTOR'S NOTE ON AGRICULTURAL DEPRESSION.

136. A note by the Director on agricultural depression during recent years, which has been prepared in accordance with the orders of Government,* is appended. The note and the district reports which it summarises deal almost entirely with the agricultural losses caused by excessive rainfall. In some instances the undefined channels of the river systems are to blame, that of the Ghogra being cited as the most conspicuous instance. Means to control these streams are not available, the cost is great, and the elaboration required vast. But in the cases of minor areas and minor waters, Collectors should be encouraged to propose remedies for professional consideration. A case in point is the course of certain streams in Budaun brought to the notice of the Junior Member by the Settlement Officer; and no doubt there are similar conditions elsewhere. The Director's suggestions are chiefly occupied with the question of drainage of depressed areas. A few remarks may be added on this subject, which a series of wet years has brought prominently forward. In the western districts very considerable improvements in drainage have been effected during the last few years by the Irrigation Department; further schemes are in progress or inception; and some additional suggestions are made in the present reports to which attention is invited, especially to those for improving the drainage of the Solani tract in Saháranpur. The question of the drainage of the Muzaffarnagar district, which is also important, has been separately referred to Government in the Public Works Department. For obvious reasons, drainage operations have generally been confined to the canal districts; but, as the Director remarks, there are many others in which schemes could be carried out with advantage. The provisions on the subject in the Canals and Drainage Act apply to the provinces generally, and with some slight amendment, they would enable the authorities to take the action that is chiefly needed,—that is to take charge when necessary of the important natural drainage channels and to keep them open and improve them. Provision might also be made, as suggested by the Director, for assisting private drainage schemes. But this is a matter requiring further examination: and the Director should endeavour to put forward some three or four selected cases where he considers such a scheme could be introduced.

As the Director notes (paragraph 31) the wet seasons have encouraged the spread of kans grass in the black soils of Bundelkhand and the light soils of certain other tracts. Relief by remission and reduction of the land revenue has been given in the affected districts, and the condition of a portion of Cawnpore and Fatehpur (where also kans has made its appearance) is now under special inquiry. In some parts of Bundelkhand many villages have suffered additional loss by the cessation of the once profitable cultivation of ál (morinda citrifolia), which was not only a valuable crop, but also had the advantage of promoting careful tillage, and so keeping down the growth of the kans weed.

* G. O. No. $\frac{1024}{\text{I—286B.}}$, dated the 23rd April 1895.

The only other matter that requires special notice is the deterioration of the villages in the neighbourhood of the Government forests in the south of the Gonda district. The Deputy Commissioner's proposal to fence in the forests has been separately referred to the Board, and is now under consideration.

I have the honor to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient servant,

JOHN HOOPER,

Secretary.

DIRECTOR'S REPORT.

Part I.—LAND RECORDS ADMINISTRATION.

The following alterations in the land record staff were made during the year under report. Under orders from Government Mr. Alexander's proposals for increasing the number of assistant registrar kanúngos and for appointing copyists and assistant record-keepers of patwáris' papers were examined in correspondence with district officers, with the result that one more assistant registrar kanúngo was sanctioned, while the post of assistant record-keeper was temporarily reduced in the districts of Saháranpur, Meerut, Moradabad, Sháhjahánpur, Agra and Cawnpore until such time as the patwáris' papers come in from tahsíls to headquarters. As regards copyists the Government have ruled that such appointments from Patwári Fund should not be sanctioned in any district in which the patwáris' papers are under the control of the revenue record-keeper. No such appointment has been as yet sanctioned. In the patwári school establishment one chainman was reduced, while four assistant teachers were added where their services were required. The number of patwáris decreased from 29,398 to 29,355, owing to the revision of circles in certain districts. To make the kanúngo's post more attractive than at present, the Board of Revenue have ruled that not less than five appointments of naib-tahsíldárs shall be filled up annually by promotion of subordinate revenue officials, and five kanúngos were accordingly selected as approved candidates.

During the year under report the number of temporary promotions of kanúngos to naib-tahsíldárships was 20 as compared with 12 in the preceding year, but the number of permanent promotions to that post fell from 4 to 1, and that of officiating appointments as tahsíldars from 4 to 2. Two kanúngos were provided with miscellaneous appointments in other offices. The number of such promotions was the same last year. The recent alterations in the rules by which promotion has been secured to the best of the kanúngo staff has undoubtedly had the effect of securing for the post a number of candidates superior in position and attainments to those who formerly, as a rule, applied for such posts. Both in view of the efficiency of the kanúngo staff and as a means for securing a good early training for future naib-tahsíldárs, this is undoubtedly a move in the right direction. Of all the subordinate posts in the district staff, that of a kanúngo is undoubtedly the one in which the best executive training and the closest acquaintance with the circumstances of the people is acquired. I am informed that in the Punjab all candidates for naib-tahsíldárships have to serve for two years as kanúngos. I have no doubt that as naib-tahsíldárs they are the better for it, and that the presence amongst the kanúngo staff of young men, who desire to show themselves suited to rise in the service, and have fair hopes of so rising, must do much to diminish the tendency to perform work absolutely as a matter of routine, which is now the great drawback in the Land Record Staff. The work of a kanúngo is in its nature monotonous. A part of his work—the inspection of the entries in the field book—is easy and is performed year after year with some degree of accuracy. The more troublesome and intricate parts of the work are, however, I fear, almost, as a rule, performed in a formal way, which not only fails to secure improvement, but makes it more and more difficult to secure it even by more energetic work in the future. The longer a false entry of a rent or a fudged record of collections escapes attention, the more difficult does it become to correct such errors. The more I see of the land record work, the more I am persuaded of the need for instilling fresh life into the kanúngo staff, and I trust that the attention now given to the promotion of deserving kanúngos, and possibly in the future a still wider prospect of promotion founded on good work in this grade, will do much to provide this fresh life. Five nominations per annum is not a large number when distributed amongst 677 kanúngos.

The only part of the Land Record staff, for whose promotion no regular provision has been made, are the kanúngo inspectors. Sadr kanúngos are intimately associated with district officers, and have fair hopes of nominations to tahsíldárships. The kanúngo inspector, in general a promoted sadr kanúngo, has on the contrary, no definite prospects.

2. Revision of Patwáris' circles and salaries.—At the beginning of the year under report the re-organization of patwáris' circles and salaries was in progress in the districts of Muzaffarnagar, Bánda, Muttra, Agra, Etah and Pilibhít. In the first two districts the introduction of the final scale has been completed. In the remaining districts it is still in progress, and will be finally introduced by the following dates :—

(1) Muttra	...	...	... 1st April 1896.
(2) Pilibhít	...	...	... Ditto.
(3) Agra ...	...	...	... 1st October 1896.
(4) Etah ...	...	...	... 1st July 1897.

The scale of pay of the patwáris of the Agra district as proposed in the revised scheme originally prepared having been considered by Government to be somewhat too low, the Board of Revenue have extended the period for the enforcement of the new scheme from 1st October 1895 to 1st October 1896, in order to enable the district officer to consider whether the reduction in the number of circles has in any instances been carried too far, and whether it would not be advisable to raise the rates of pay to some extent. A re-arrangement of circles in the Moradabad district involving a decrease in pay to the extent of Rs 2,760 per annum was sanctioned for introduction with effect from December 1892, but the reductions being found to have been carried too far in certain cases, revised proposals for the entire district, raising the total cost to the old scale of Rs. 81,636, were submitted last year. These have received the sanction of the Board of Revenue, and the scale has been brought into force with effect from 1st March 1895. Consideration of fresh proposals for the Sháhjahánpur district, referred to in the last year's report, has been deferred till the survey operations are concluded. With a view to securing proper maintenance of the settlement records of the Garhwál district, proposals for revision of patwáris' pay and circles in pargana Chandkot have received the sanction of Government, while those for parganas Malla Salan, Talla Salan and Ganga Salan involving an additional expenditure of Rs. 1,440 per annum, have been submitted to the Board of Revenue after the expiry of the year under report. Proposals for pargana Bara Syun had received the sanction of Government last year. In 1893 Mr. Miller took up the question of revising circles in Oudh, and with the Board's permission, issued instructions in respect of Unao and Partábgarh. Proposals were received from these districts in the year under report, but they had to be returned for further consideration. An inspector of the department was deputed to Partábgarh in February 1895 for four months to help the district staff in the preparation of these proposals. Modified proposals for the Unao district were received after the close of the year, but the local authorities have again been called upon to furnish information on various points on which the proposals were not sufficiently explicit. Mr. Miller consulted the Commissioners of Lucknow and Fyzabad Divisions on the question of improving the pay and position of patwáris in the Kheri, Gonda and Bahraich districts, and referred the matter to the Board, who agreed with him that under the new system of settlement it is desirable that the settlement officer should not be burdened with additional duties, and that the work of re-organizing patwáris' circles should be done by the district officers. The work has accordingly been taken up by the Deputy Commissioner of Kheri. The average cultivated area per patwári in Gonda is 1,324 acres, which is nearly the standard fixed for a patwári; no wholesale revision of circles is therefore required in this district. But as the average pay per patwári is Rs. 5-11-3 only, specific proposals for improving the pay of low paid patwáris have been called for from the local authorities. In Bahraich the proposals have been deferred till the completion of survey operations. In Rae Bareli the Settlement Officer has taken up the work of revision. In consultation with the Commissioner, certain general principles in which he is to be guided in drawing out his proposals have been decided on. The present average rate of pay and size of circle is such that some saving is likely to accrue, but it is desirable to avoid, as far as possible, any abrupt reduction, which would cause hardship to the present patwári staff. The Commissioner of Lucknow has also been addressed about the re-adjustment of circles in the Sitapur district.

3. Patwari schools.—Six hundred and seventy-six patwáris and assistants attended the patwári schools during the year, of whom 163 or 24 per cent. passed as against 539 or 51 per cent. in the preceding year. In addition to patwáris and assistants, 1,562 candidates were educated in the patwári schools as compared with 2,801 in the preceding year. Of these 577 passed against 1,370 in 1893-94. The decrease in the number of patwáris and candidates, who attended and passed this year, is due to the schools having been closed for varying periods owing to the deputation of school teachers to survey parties as noticed in last year's report. The following table shows divisionally the number of pupils who attended the schools, the number passed, and the financial results:—

Patwári schools and examinations are in the majority of districts under the management of a member of the district staff, but in a few districts have been transferred to the charge of the Educational Department. In these cases these schools are managed as branches of the middle class schools. It is a matter for consideration whether a general transfer of the schools to the Department of Education would not be beneficial. The schools under the Department of Land Records were originally established to train men already in the employ of the Department. That purpose has now in general been fulfilled, and it is properly rather the work of the Educational than of the Land Records Department to instruct candidates for Government employment. There is not at present, judging from the returns from districts, at all as much uniformity in the management of schools and examinations as is desirable. The percentage of students passed to those instructed varies to a very remarkable extent, even when those districts are excluded from consideration, in which the number of persons taught and examined is so small as to make large variations possible from accidental causes. The percentage of passes to students varies from 79 to 4 per cent. in districts with more than 40 students each. It is impossible that divergencies so large can be due to differences in the ability of the teachers or the taught. There can be little doubt that very undesirable differences occur in the standard of examination. In the year under report the percentage of patwáris who had passed through the school course has risen from 77 to 79 per cent., and the number of patwáris and assistants exempted from examination has fallen from 4,991 to 4,140. The percentage of those who have still to pass has risen from 6 in 1893-94 to 7 in 1894-95. The annexed statement comparing district by district the number of patwáris passed, exempted, and neither passed nor exempted, is one of considerable interest, and shows in this respect also variations that are hardly satisfactorily explained by local differences.

* Figures for 1894-95 have not been received, hence figures for 1893-94 have been reported.

The percentage of patwáris exempted varies from 31 per cent. in Agra and Sháhjahánpur to 3 per cent. in Jalaun and Bulandshahr. The subject has been receiving attention, and during the year considerable reductions have been effected in the number of exemptions in those districts in which they were most numerous. The following memorandum shows the result of the enquiries made during the year into former exemptions in the North-Western Provinces:—

In general the number of patwáris exempted has been reduced. In Saháranpur the Collector and Commissioner consider that the exemptions were judiciously made, and have withdrawn none. This reduction in the number of exemptions allowed has of course temporarily increased the number of men shown as neither passed nor exempted in the districts in which it occurred. Partly from this cause and partly because unpassed men have been kept on from previous years, the number of unpassed men is very large in the following districts:—

District.	Number of unpassed patwáris.	Percentage to total number of patwáris.
Mainpuri	53	10·58

Basti	495	43·81
Azamgarh	159	14·82
Naini Tal	31	23·85
Lucknow	61	15·93

In Allahabad the patwáris, owing to the want of proper supervision in past years, have been reported to be generally a good deal below the average, and the matter has already received the attention of the Commissioner and the Collector. In Basti the number of untrained patwáris has risen from 227 to 495, the increase being due partly to a large number of deaths amongst the patwáris, but chiefly to exemptions having been withdrawn. The Collector of Azamgarh has devoted much attention to the important point of education, and has effected improvements, the number of untrained patwáris having been reduced from 243 to 159. In the other districts above-named the high proportion of unpassed men is, for the most part, due to the withdrawal of exemptions, and will, it is hoped, disappear when time has been given to the patwáris formerly exempted to pass through the schools. In the matter of surveying the instruction given to patwáris, in districts now being surveyed or about to be surveyed, has necessarily been thorough. The facility with which such instruction will in future be imparted will no doubt be increased by the publication of a very practical code of instructions for cadastral surveying drawn up by Mr. Scott, Superintendent of Land Record Surveys, which has been printed in English and will soon appear in Urdu and Hindi. Mr. Twigg's Manual of Mensuration and Mapping has also been printed in English and sent to each district.

4. Annual examination of kanúngos.—The special survey school opened at Cawnpore in 1891 was closed during the year under report after the first session was over. The object of the school was to provide a better means of education for kanúngo candidates in surveying than could otherwise be obtained in the province. The necessity for the special school has now disappeared, as there are now survey parties at work in several districts by attendance on which a much better practical education in survey can be obtained than in the school. To obtain a certificate from a survey party has therefore been made a condition precedent to the entry of any person's name in the list of approved candidates.

The annual divisional examination of kanúngos was held as usual during the rainy season. Out of 152 men who appeared for examination, 114 were candidates and 18 selected patwáris. Seventy-seven persons passed in all subjects and 73 in part, and 2 failed entirely. Of the number of successful candidates, 24 were men who had passed in survey in previous years, and in the year under report appeared in those subjects only in which they failed before, while 53 passed in all subjects except survey, in which no examination was held this year. As regards these candidates arrangements were made for their joining a survey party and obtaining the required certificate of their proficiency in surveying from the officer in charge.

A special examination was held for students in the special agricultural school for kanúngos at Cawnpore. Seventy-one candidates were present during the first session in which the special school was open. Of these 28 passed in all subjects and the remaining 43 in part.

Sixty-two candidates for aminships were also examined against 37 in the previous year; 12 were successful in all subjects, and the remaining 50 in part.

5. Residence of patwaris.—The following table gives for each district in the provinces, details as to the residence or non-residence of patwaris.

* Figures for 1894-95 have not been received, hence figures for 1893-94 have been shown.

Approximately 70 per cent. of the patwaris of the province are resident in their circles, 14 per cent. are exempt by order from residence, and 16 per cent. are non-resident though not exempted. The subject of the residence of patwaris has received considerable attention during the year in the majority of districts. The first result of this attention has been to effect a not inconsiderable alteration in the classification as previously reported and as now ascertained. Men formerly shown as resident were found to be non-resident. In certain districts in which exemptions had been much too liberally granted many of them were withdrawn. The figures for the present year therefore in spite of the success with which residence has been enforced in several districts, show a smaller number of resident patwáris, a considerably smaller number of exempted patwaris, and a much larger number of men who are non-resident though not exempted.

In the North-Western Provinces the proportion of non-resident patwáris is very large in Moradabad, Sháhjahánpur, Allahabad, Benares, Mirzapur, Jaunpur, Gorakhpur and Basti. In Moradabad some improvement has been effected during the year, the number of resident patwáris having been increased from 501 to 528, but the proportion of exemptions and non-resident men is still large. Out of 538 patwáris in Sháhjahánpur, no less than 201 are non-resident. Formerly a large number of these non-resident patwáris were exempted from residence in their circles, but the Collector has now exempted only 2 and ordered the remaining 199 to settle in their respective circles. In Allahabad with little more than half the patwáris resident in their circles, no material improvement has been effected during the year, but the question of residence will no doubt receive attention from the present Collector, who, as already remarked, has taken measures to increase the efficiency of the staff. The reason why six times as many patwáris should be exempted from residence in Allahabad as in any other district in the division, except Fatehpur, requires examination. In the eastern districts in general the number of exemptions is proportionately larger than in the western. The small size of the villages makes it possible for a man to be resident absolutely on the border of his circle although not actually in it. It is hoped that at some future period all patwáris may be resident, but in the meantime in enforcing residence in districts in which it has not hitherto been the rule, it will no doubt be necessary to discriminate between men whose homes are close to their circles and those whose homes are distant from them. The limit of distance to be permitted must for the present vary. In Basti Mr. Nugent, whilst taking strict action to enforce residence of patwáris whose houses were distant more than two miles, deferred action in regard to those who lived at less than that distance. Six hundred and sixty-seven patwáris out of 1,130 in the district were non-resident, and it was clearly impossible to take action regarding all. The limit of distance in view of which action was taken or deferred was fixed to some extent with reference to the number of patwáris affected. Similar considerations must no doubt affect the action now being taken in Benares, Jaunpur and Gorakhpur, and which, so far as can be judged from the returns, is necessary in Mirzapur also. In Azamgarh, a district in which the efficiency of the patwari staff has of late received great attention, the number of patwáris resident has increased from 562 to 823, whilst 164 exemptions have been granted.

In Oudh, the number of non-resident patwáris is, almost as a rule, large, but action to compel residence must await the completion of the schemes for revision of circles now in progress.

6. Filing of patwáris' papers.—The dates on which the more important papers were filed by patwáris in the different districts are shown in Appendix I. The parganas that are under revision of settlement in Meerut, Bijnor, Budaun, Jhánsi, Unáo, Rae Bareli, Hardoi, Fyzabad, Bahraich and the districts of Lucknow and Sultánpur have been excluded from the statement owing to the employment of patwáris on settlement work. The results of the year under report are compared with those of the preceding year in the following table :—

(a) Of these 2,224 papers were not filed at the close of the year under report.

Of a total number of 89,887 comparative area statements, 75,527 or 84·02 per cent. were filed in time, against 83·30 per cent. in the preceding year; 12,483 or 13·88 per cent. were filed within one month after the fixed date as compared with 15·53 per cent. in 1893-94, leaving 1,877 which were filed after one month. Of these, 1,831 belonged to Sitapur, Hardoi and Bara Banki districts where the progress of settlement operations has interfered with the filing work. All the statements were filed with creditable punctuality in Saháranpur, Muzaffarnagar, Farukhabad, Jalaun and Benares.

Of 93,385 kharíf crop statements, 77,878 or 83·39 per cent. against 83·61 per cent. in 1893-94 were filed in good time; 12,739 or 13·64 per cent. were lodged within one month after the prescribed date as compared with 14·40 per cent. in the preceding year. The balance is 2,768 or 2·96 per cent. as against a balance of 1·99 per cent. in the previous year. Bara Banki contributed over one-third of the balance, in Hardoi 512 statements were late, and in Budaun 376. In addition to the districts in which the comparative area statements were filed in time, the kharíf statements were filed with unusual punctuality in the districts of Allahabad, Jaunpur and Basti.

Of 90,014 rabí statements, 79,934 or 88·80 per cent. were filed in time against 88·52 per cent. in the previous year; 7,740 or 8·59 per cent. against 9·76 per cent. in 1893-94 were filed within one month after due date, and 2,340 or 2·59 per cent. as compared with 1·77 per cent. in the preceding year were filed after one month. Here again Bara Banki accounts for 963, Sitapur 401, Hardoi 389, and Budaun 376. Besides the districts of Muzaffarnagar, Farukhabad, Jalaun and Benares, in which the comparative area and the kharíf crop statements were lodged with commendable punctuality, all the rabí statements were filed on or before the date fixed in Fatehpur and Basti.

Of a total number of 102,204 jamabandís, 81,040 or 79·29 per cent. were filed in time against 85·34 per cent. in the previous year, and 14,399 or 14·09 per cent. within one month after the date due. Four thousand five hundred and forty-one jamabandís were filed after one month, leaving 2,224 in Hardoi, which were not filed till after the close of the year under report. Of the total number of 4,541 jamabandís, filed after one month, Fyzabad alone contributed 1,485, Bara Banki 1,472 and 16 other districts, 1,584.

If the districts of Meerut, Bijnor, Budaun, Jhánsi (Lalitpur sub-division), Unao, Rae Bareli, Sitapur, Hardoi, Fyzabad, Bahraich, Partábgarh and Bara Banki, which are under settlement, are excluded, then out of every 100 statements of each kind, more than 88 area and crop statements and 87 jamabandís were filed within time, and 11 area and crop statements and 12 jamabandis were filed within one month after the prescribed date. The punctuality observed in filing these papers was last year noted with approval, and during the year now reported on, there was, excluding settlement districts, in general a further improvement.

7. Results of testing papers.—The testing done during the year under report is shown in Appendix II. This statement from which the districts of Budaun and Sultánpur and certain parganas of districts Meerut, Unao, Rae Bareli, Hardoi and Fyzabad under settlement, have been excluded, deals with 96,158 villages comprising 72,253,926 fields as against 95,830 villages containing 73,996,799 fields in 1893-94. The following table compares the divisional percentages under each head for the past three years:—

Percentage of field entries tested by superior officers whether tested by kanungos or not.		Percentage of entries in field book found incorrect. Of a total number of 72,253,926 fields, 5,255,525 or 7·27 per cent. were tested by kanúngos against 8·40 per cent. in 1893-94. The decrease is not very large considering the fact that about half the number of kanúngos in the majority of districts were deputed to Survey parties and in consequence absent from their regular work for several months at a time. In spite of this the percentage of fields tested in the year under report exceeded the minimum of 7 per cent. prescribed by the rules. Besides the kanúngos of the Saháranpur and Bulandshahr districts, where the percentage rose from 9·71 and 9·70 to 15·20 and 10·47, respectively, those of Bareilly, Moradabad and Naini Tal tested more than 9 per cent. The districts of Dehra Dún, Agra, Bijnor, Pilibhít, Hamírpur, Gházipur, Sitapur and Partábgarh have also shown some increase as compared with last year. Districts in which the amount of testing decreased were almost exclusively those in which survey or settlement operations were in progress or from which kanúngos had been deputed to survey camps.

The number of fields shown as tested by kanúngos and re-tested by superior officers was 234,783 or 4·47 per cent. as against 7·15 per cent. in the previous year. The decrease is due to the exclusion from the return of the testing done by sadr kanúngos had naib tahsíldárs. Increase is, however, noticeable in spite of this exclusion, in the districts of Meerut, Bulandshahr, Jhánsi, Azamgarh, Naini Tal, Lucknow and Gonda.

Besides the 234,783 fields tested by kanúngos and re-tested by superior officers 581,814 fields not previously tested by kanúngos were tested by superior officers a, compared with 612,661 fields in the preceding year. The decrease shown is due to the cause already mentioned—the exclusion of testing by naib tahsíldárs and sadr kanúngos. As a matter of fact testing by superior officers has considerably increased in the majority of districts. The largest amount of testing has been done in the following districts:—

Gorakhpur	... (41,806 entries).	Gonda	... (22,651 entries).
Bareilly	... (39,379 „)	Allahabad	... (20,525 „)
Cawnpore	... (34,546 „)	Fatehpur	... (18,319 „)
Moradabad	... (28,022 „)	Basti	... (17,973 „)
Gházipur	... (26,591 „)	Bulandshahr	... (16,424 „)
Azamgarh	... (26,413 „)	Agra	... (15,048 „)
Saháranpur	... (25,568 „)

The testing ranges from 10,000 to 15,000 entries in the districts of Muttra, Farukhabad, Mainpuri, Bijnor, Pilibhít, Hamírpur, Jhánsi, Jalaun, Benares, Mirzapur, Jaunpur, Kheri and Bara Banki. Almost as a rule, however, testing by superior officers has been insufficiently directed to the re-testing of kanúngos' work. If a kanúngo does his work satisfactorily, the work of patwáris will be sufficiently supervised; whilst if the kanúngo is permitted to test in a formal and inefficient manner, all the exertions of superior officers will not in themselves secure a general improvement in the patwaris' work. Testing by superior officers has fallen in Sháhjahánpur and Banda without sufficient explanation, and in Mirzapur owing to the revision of acreage cess assessment in the Gangetic valley which is presumed to have imposed extra work on the district staff. In Jaunpur the flood of October and heavy rains in November are stated to have prevented officers from going into camp at the usual time, and thereby curtailed the amount of work done. The Collector of Sháhjahánpur does not make it clear that standing orders as to testing by superior officers are being worked up to. Here also the testing by superior officers has been little directed to entries checked by kanúngos. Ninety-five per cent. of the entries tested were not previously checked by kanúngos. The Land Records work of this district wants more distinct distribution of work and closer attention than it has so far enjoyed.

Testing of rent-roll entries has not been satisfactory as a rule. Thus in Sháhjahánpur only 149 entries, and in Kheri only 119, were tested, although both are districts in which, owing to the near approach of settlement, extensive testing of the rent-rolls is desirable.

In the districts of Fyzabad, Sultánpur, Rae Bareli, Budaun, Hardoi, Bara Banki, Bahraich, Sitapur, Lucknow, Partábgarh and Unao, testing by superior officers was more or less interrupted owing to settlement. I have already addressed the Board of Revenue in regard to the amendment of the rules as to testing by superior officers. The rules as they stand at present tend to encourage the almost exclusive testing of field books. Such testing has been extensive in past years, and has had the effect of making the field book the part of the patwari's work which is best done. In the meantime, however, the greatly more important duties of superintending map correction and testing rent-roll and collection entries have been allowed to slide into the background, and the still more important duties connected with the utilization of the figures supplied by patwaris' records have also been often inefficiently performed.

8. A proportion of incorrect entries over 10 per cent. was found by superior officers in the following districts:—

Etáh.—In field books	11·9
Pilibhít.— Ditto	11·4
Naini Tal.—In rent-rolls	10·5

The reports received do not furnish any explanation of these errors and the high proportion of mistakes discovered by superior officers in field books, as compared with those found by kanúngos in the above-mentioned districts, as well as n Jalaun, Saháranpur, Muttra and Aligarh. The obvious inference is that the kanúngos' work is perfunctorily performed.

9. Concealment of rents.—A few district officers have in their reports noticed the correctness or otherwise of the recorded rents. The Commissioner of Meerut division remarks that no serious concealments of rents were discovered in the districts of Dehra Dún, Saháranpur, Muzaffarnagar, Meerut and Bulandshahr. In Aligarh, enquiries were made resulting in the discovery of extensive concealment in certain villages and estates. Two patwáris were dismissed in connection with these enquiries. In one village, Arni, the concealment was as much as Rs. 800. In Rokhrana, one of the villages belonging to the estate of late Sumer Singh of Pisawa, concealment of rent was proved, and good reasons are believed to exist for under-statement of rents in other villages of this estate and of the estates of Thakur Balwant Singh and Gobind Singh. In the Agra division, tendency to conceal rents in view to approaching settlement is reported from the Etah district; whereas in Farukhabad, no serious concealment of rent was found, the use of printed receipts being generally adopted. There were also no such cases in Sháhjahánpur, Mirzapur, Bahraich and Partábgarh. Testing of rent-rolls in the Bareilly district has brought to notice one possible case of concealment, and special measures are taken there to secure correctness of the record of division of grain rents, weights having been procured from Roorkee and duplicate receipts insisted on. The single case of fraudulent concealment brought to light appears, however, to be by no means, in the opinion of the Collector of Bareilly, a measure of the extent to which concealment is practised in the district. He considers that fictitious entries in rent-rolls are general, and apparently believes that the rent courts are used in many cases to support fictitious claims. His reasons for this belief, and the remedy he proposes, have not been communicated to this department, but the subject will receive attention in connection with the settlement forecast to be submitted this year for the Bareilly district. The Commissioner of Rohilkhand division considers that to insist on receipts being given for rent paid is the best preventive of concealment of rent and fraudulent entries in patwáris' papers, and is of opinion that a resolute Collector can constrain zamíndárs to give receipts. There is no doubt that if written receipts are given, concealment is more difficult and more risky for zamíndárs. The same effect would to some extent be secured by insisting on the patwáris' siyáhas being written up from time to time as collections are made and on their accuracy being certified by the zamíndárs and their contents fully communicated to tenants. I have during my present tour frequently had occasion to remark on the formal and unsatisfactory way in which the record of collections is made in districts in which the accuracy of the rent-rolls is most doubtful. Almost, as a rule, in certain districts siyáha entries are worthless. In village after village I found that the practice was to write up after the year was over a statement showing the entire rent of all tenants as paid up in the two usual instalments. The record was one which in most instances the patwári constructed from his rent-roll whilst sitting in the sun in front of his own house.

In the temporarily settled eastern districts the rent-rolls are frequently of very doubtful accuracy. In Gorakhpur a tenant or landholder has often, in order to quote the rent of a given holding, to perform with such expedition and accuracy as his practice in multiplication renders possible, a sum in which the area of the holding is multiplied by the traditional rent rate for his village. It appears to me hardly possible that a tenant, who settles accounts twice a year with his landlord, should not know the gross amount he pays him. The multiplication process is, no doubt, a method of recalling to recollection an imaginary rent which the memory unaided fails to supply.

In Gorakhpur no instances of discovery of false rent-rolls are quoted. In Basti, where Mr. Nugent paid considerable attention to the patwáris' work, Rs. 719 were found in three villages to be paid in excess of the rent (Rs. 1,057) recorded in the jamabandí. Similarly in tahsíl Shahabad of the Hardoi district, a difference between recorded and true rents discovered amounted to Rs. 1,940 or 50 per cent. It is not, as the experience of almost all revenue officers has shown them, an easy matter to secure a true record of rents in villages in which tenants and landlords have for years continued to record false ones, but there can be little doubt that much can be done to improve the accuracy of rent-rolls by constant enquiry in season and out of season, by promoting the use of written receipts and insisting on the patwáris' siyáha being genuine and up to date. Kanungos as a rule do little to discover concealments, and will do little till a start has been made by the exertions of superior officers.

10. The survey and settlement operations in the districts of Bijnor, Budaun, Sháhjahánpur, and in most of the Oudh districts curtailed the tours of the sadr kanúngos in these districts. The sadr kanúngo of Farukhabad was on tour for 182 days, of Naini Tal 171, of Saháranpur 159, of Jhánsi 146, and of Cawnpore 141. The sadr kanúngos of Muzaffarnagar, Jaunpur, Mirzapur, Allahabad, Kheri, Jalaun, Moradabad, Gonda, Meerut, Gorakhpur, Mainpuri, Bulandshahr, Fatehpur, Muttra, Etah and Ballia were on tour from 100 to 140 days. The sadr kanúngos of the remaining districts spent less than 100 days on tour. The districts of Muzaffarnagar, Gonda, Allahabad, Farukhabad, Jaunpur and Fatehpur in which the testings ranged over 10,000 entries the last year, have maintained their position this year also. In Agra the number of entries has fallen from 10,159 to 7,833. The districts of Gorakhpur, Basti and Bara Banki have made much improvement in this direction, the number of entries tested having risen from 7,928, 5,458 and 6,261 to 12,070, 19,974 and 10,014, respectively. In the following districts the testing ranges from 5,000 to 10,000 entries :—

Saháranpur	8,673	Azamgarh	6,679
Cawnpore	8,328	Bareilly	6,628
Jalaun	8,068	Bijnor	6,487
Gházipur	7,862	Bánda	5,907
Agra	7,833	Muttra	5,379
Moradabad	7,505	Kheri	5,377
Pilibhít	6,716

In the other districts the sadr-kanúngos tested less than 5,000 entries. The remarks I have already made as to testing by superior officers apply to a certain extent also to that by sadr kanúngos. It should be directed less to the field book entries and more to those in the other papers.

11. Instructions issued as to the systematic testing of patwáris' papers appear to have been generally attended to. These instructions have been in force now for three years, and in several districts practically all circles have been tested once by a superior officer. Certain difficulties still exist in regard to the distribution of work between tahsíldárs and pargana officers, and in some instances the rigidity of a system by which the tours of tahsíldárs and pargana officers are in part settled three years in advance is objected to. These difficulties are, however, by no means insuperable, and Collectors who devote as much attention to the subject as was done in Farukhabad, will no doubt find a way to make systematic detailed testing possible without interfering injuriously with the other tour duties of their subordinates. There, however, exist certain other difficulties in the present instructions, and the Board of Revenue has been separately asked to issue explicit orders on the subject.

12. Map correction in Oudh.—Amended maps have been or will be furnished to the Department by Settlement Officers for the whole areas of Unao, Partábgarh, Rae Bareli and Sultánpur and for parts of other districts in which the revision of survey was completed before it was determined to disconnect settlement and survey work.

In Lucknow the work of map correction was completed last year. During the year under report considerable progress has been made in Gonda, where 391 patwáris out of 850 are under instruction. Of 295 village maps partially corrected in this district, 190 have been completed. Out of 479,574 fields coming under revision, alterations were necessary in 176,970. Now that half the supervisor kanúngos have been instructed, the Deputy Commissioner hopes to make further progress. In the north of Gonda, however, a periodical redistribution of fields is customary, and no mere revision will be sufficient. Most villages have to be entirely surveyed, and if the maps are to be of any use, arrangements will be necessary by which it will be possible for the patwáris to periodically resurvey when fields are again distributed. Little or no progress is reported to have been made in Sitapur, while in the districts of Bahraich and Kheri the work is being done by the Survey Department. The reports received from the districts of Hardoi, Fyzabad and Bara Banki are silent on the subject. Land record work in these districts is temporarily interrupted by settlement operations.

13. Tahsíl Registers.—The reports of 12 district officers are altogether silent on this subject, but from the extracts received in this office from the remaining 34 districts it appears that increased attention to the use and maintenance of the pargana books has been paid this year, but in many instances it is still clear that the subordinate staff, at least, does not fully realize the purposes which these books are expected to fulfil. In the Meerut division, the Commissioner has taken notice of the importance to be attached to them. In Saháranpur the books were dealt with in almost too zealous a spirit. Entries for 706 villages were examined and notes recorded in no less than 700. It is fortunate that the pargana books, so freely annotated, were the old and not the new ones recently prepared for this district. If pargana books are to be of permanent value notes must be brief, well considered and recorded only regarding matters of permanent importance. It is hard to believe that 700 out of 706 villages, presented features during the past year which called for annotation. The Collector of Meerut has examined the entire registers himself to ascertain how far they are utilized, and his example might be followed in other districts. The Collector of Muzaffarnagar has already been called upon by the Board of Revenue to explain why the books have been neglected. The reports of the Collectors of Bulandshahr and Aligarh are considered by the Commissioner as incomplete and unsatisfactory, and he has called for detailed ones. In the Agra division the pargana books appear to have been duly maintained and notes recorded therein. The Commissioner of Rohilkhand remarks that more attention is paid to the subject but not enough. In the Allahabad division some of the district officers have taken special interest in the matter. In the districts of Cawnpore, Hamírpur and Allahabad the books do not appear to have been sufficiently utilized, but frequent notes in pargana books are reported to have been made for numerous villages of the Bánda district, and in Jalaun the Collector has examined the books for all tahsíls himself. Excepting the districts of Benares and Ballia, where the pargana books are briefly referred to as having received attention, the other district officers of the Benares division in their reports are altogether silent on the subject. The Commissioner of Gorakhpur remarks that while improvement in the use of the book has taken place in all the three districts of his division, much more still remains to be done. In Fyzabad, Sultánpur, Rae Bareli and Partábgarh the work on pargana books was held in abeyance owing to settlement, while in the remaining districts of Oudh the examination of the books was conducted in a more or less satisfactory way. Whilst more has undoubtedly been done during the year to make pargana books useful than in previous years, there are not a few districts in which the use of these books has not been fully realized. Several district officers have simply contented themselves with the examination of the books as to their being up to date or otherwise and no ulterior object appears to be thought of. In others information is given that the entries have been tested. It is no doubt useful to ascertain that entries are up to date and to test the accuracy of entries, but to do this, and this only, is by no means what is contemplated by the instructions issued on the subject. The object of examination of these books by superior officers is not primarily to ascertain their correctness which may be presumed but to acquire information from them as to the state of the pargana and each village in it. This object is often overlooked. I have frequently found that in pargana books, which purported to have been examined by pargana officers, the most abnormal entries and variations have escaped notice. The Board of Revenue have been addressed on the subject of the use of these books, and I trust it will be found possible to issue more definite instructions on the subject. The Collector of Hamírpur suggests that it is necessary that the important columns for rental demand and collections and areas of sír, khudkásht and occupancy lands be filled up before the cold weather instead of after it. The Collector of Jalaun has, as a result of his personal examination of the books, suggested that the notes made by Assistant Collectors should be submitted to the Collector for approval before being recorded in the pargana book. My own observations as to the quality of the notes frequently recorded confirm his experience on the subject.

In August 1894, the special staff maintained for compiling the tahsíl hand-books and the pargana books and mauza registers in the revised form sanctioned by Government was moved to Bulandshahr. During the year under report the hand-books for Bulandshahr and Saháranpur districts and the mauza registers and pargana books for Bulandshahr, Saháranpur and Jhánsi were completed. The expenditure incurred in the three districts is detailed below :—

	Rs.
Bulandshahr	4,343
Saháranpur	3,853
Jhánsi	1,156

A portion of the work in these districts was done on the piece-work system, and this system having proved to result in economy, has been introduced on a larger scale in Gorakhpur and Basti to which districts the staff was moved towards the close of the year. In Bijnor, Budaun and Oudh districts, now under settlement, the Settlement Officers have undertaken the preparation of the tahsíl hand-books and the pargana books and village registers, the forms required having been supplied by this office. Funds, so far as under the Board's orders, are necessary, have been allotted for the work. In the districts of Lucknow, Unao, Rae Bareli and Partábgarh the work will be finished before the settlement offices are closed.

14. Maintenance of survey and boundary marks.—Under G. O. No. $\frac{510-19}{71}$, dated 10th March 1892, lists of survey and boundary marks have been prepared in all the districts of the United Provinces, except some tahsíls in Sultánpur, Fyzabad and Budaun. It does not appear what action has been taken in the Naini Tal district, and the required report has been called for. The marks have been inspected in the majority of districts, and steps are in progress for their repairs or re-erection wherever necessary. A large number of marks were found to require repairs or reconstruction in the districts of Pilibhít, Gonda, Sitapur, Bánda, Muzaffarnagar, Hamírpur, Moradabad, Allahabad, Gorakhpur, Hardoi, Lucknow and Unao, and some progress has already been made with the work. Owing to settlement this work was more or less interrupted in the districts of Bijnor, Kheri and Hardoi, while nothing could be done in Fyzabad. In the case of boundary marks the expense of repairs falls on the landlords. The large expenditure now necessary in many districts in which boundary marks were built of brick and mortar attracts special attention. On the other hand Azamgarh, in which stone-pillars were erected at settlement, now twenty-five years ago, has incurred practically no expenditure since. It appears to me certain that it will be greatly for the ultimate benefit of zamindárs if district officers were directed to provide a supply of stone boundary pillars and to use them where reconstruction is necessary. The initial expense would be somewhat larger, but the zamindárs would ultimately save largely. Survey marks have been found to require repairs or replacement in the district of Basti besides Bánda and Mirzapur noticed in the last year's report. Funds have been allotted where it was necessary. Regarding Mirzapur correspondence is still going on. I have been in personal communication with the Deputy Surveyor-General on the subject, and he considered that no expenditure should be incurred in replacing survey marks which have disappeared and regarding the former position of which any doubt could be entertained.

15. Inspection of districts.—The kanúngo inspectors attached to the Department inspected the work of patwáris and kanúngos in the districts of Saháranpur, Aligarh, Muttra, Agra, Mainpuri, Etáwah, Etah, Cawnpore, Fatehpur, Bánda, Hamírpur, Allahabad, Jhánsi, Jalaun, Jaunpur, Gházipur, Gorakhpur, Azamgarh, Unao, Rae Bareli, Bahraich, Sultánpur and Partábgarh with a view to correcting errors of procedure. The inspection reports were forwarded to the district officers for information and necessary action. One inspector was also deputed to Partábgarh to help the district staff in revising the patwári circles of that district, and another was sent to Gorakhpur to supervise the preparation of the new mauza registers there. It has been decided by the Government of India that the kanúngo inspectors should not be placed under the Commissioners of Divisions as was suggested in G.G.O. No. $\frac{1679}{110}$, dated 30th June 1894. Mr. Miller himself visited and inspected Land Record-work in Meerut, Bulandshahr, Muzaffarnagar, Sháhjahánpur, Etah Kheri and Azamgarh.

16. Preparation of districts for settlement.—Besides the usual inspection of patwáris' and kanúngos' work during the last cold weather, the districts of Sháhjahánpur and Kheri were examined, as a preliminary to settlement, by Mr. Miller who submitted his reports on the condition of the maps and records and the probable financial result of a new settlement in these districts. A portion of the kanúngo inspectors' time was taken up with the compilation of statistics or collection of information required for the preliminary reports of the two districts named above, as well as in assisting the Superintendent of Land Record Surveys in testing the correctness of the maps of the Bareilly and Azamgarh districts.

17. Survey operations.—A complete resurvey and careful revision of the annual land records of the districts of Meerut, Bahraich and the Lalitpur sub-division of Jhánsi was undertaken during the past year under the charge of professional surveyors trained in the Survey Department of the Government of India. Mr. T. F. Freeman was placed in charge of the work at Meerut, Mr. W. Skilling at Bahraich, and Mr. N. Bedford at Lalitpur. On the 24th of December 1894, Mr. G. B. Scott assumed charge of the office of Superintendent of Land Record Surveys in these provinces, a post which it was found necessary to create in order to secure effective professional control and supervision over the different survey parties. The Superintendent first inspected the traverse and cadastral survey work at Meerut, and arranged for the permanent marking of all theodolite stations. Owing to the traverse survey having commenced almost simultaneously with the field to field survey, some delay occurred in supplying the patwáris with plots. The traverse camp of the Survey of India and the cadastral survey in Bahraich were next inspected and there also the same difficulties as to want of plots were met with. Mr. Scott then went to Lalitpur where, although no delay occurred for want of plots, the exceedingly irregular shape of fields, the occurrence of fluctuating cultivation and the long distances which men had to travel to and from the villages to their work, prevented rapid progress in survey work. A regular inspection of the three survey parties was next undertaken in order to bring them on a proper footing and toaccelerate their rate of work. Mr. Miller also spent a portion of his time in the organization of these parties and drew up a note showing the principles on which the work of correcting the records should proceed. Owing to the fact that each patwári had to survey all the villages in his circle, and to the delay in starting work, it was clear very few circles could be completely surveyed till very late in the season, and that khasra writing, if then commenced, would not be completed by the end of the year. It was therefore decided to postpone the work till the next season. In future the records will be written up as the survey is completed. An area of 2,439 square miles, including 1,983 villages, and no less than 1,756,668 fields, were cadastrally surveyed by the survey parties in 1894-95. The total number of patwáris and kanungos and their heirs and relatives, trained and employed in surveying, was 1,009, of whom 235 were kanungos of districts other than those under survey deputed to the survey parties for purposes of training. Many of these were examined by Mr. Scott personally. Of the whole number of patwáris only 76 were rejected as too old or otherwise incompetent. The patwáris who have received training in the survey parties are now quite competent to keep up their maps to date in future, however extensive the alterations may be. No better proof of the success of the system can be desired than that we have in the fact that the average outturn of work done by the patwaris of the tracts surveyed after a single year's training, and subject to a strict test for correctness, approached nearly to that demanded from the trained amíns of the Survey of India Department. The total expenditure up to 30th September 1895, including superintendence and cost of instruments, has been Rs. 87,338: but of this sum Rs. 26,246 were for instruments and tents, which should be carried over six years. The actual cost may therefore be put at Rs. 65,468. Adding to this the sum of Rs. 5,518 on account of Mr. Freeman's pay, which is a provincial charge, the total cost amounts to Rs. 70,986, or an average of Rs. 29-1-8 per square mile. The fact that Mr. Scott's supervision was not paid for during the whole of the year and that the khasra work was not completed for the whole area surveyed, reduces the cost below what it will be in future years, but the full cost of the resurvey and field book has not so far greatly exceeded that incurred in the revision of old maps recently made in connection with settlement in other districts.

18. Amendment of rules.—Of the amendments sanctioned by Government in the rules during the year under report the following may be noticed:—

(1) A rule has been added regarding the verification of the life of a life muafidar residing in a district other than that in which his muafi is situated.

(2) It is now ordered that intimation of the death of a village headman appointed under section 45A, Criminal Procedure Code, be given by the patwari to the Registrar Kanungo.

(3) Certain changes were made in Kanungo Rules 86 and 88 regarding the entry of revenue-free tenures in the Registrar Kanungo's registers.

(4) In connection with correspondence which took place with the Government of India, it has been determined to exclude areas on which spring crops have entirely failed from the area shown as cultivated in the patwaris' papers. This has for several years been the practice in regard to autumn crops, and in a circular issued after the close of the year, was prescribed for the rabi also.

(5) A set of rules has also been drawn up for the distribution of patwaris' salaries and keeping their pay accounts.

(6) Assistant record-keepers having been appointed for the custody of patwaris' papers, arrangements are now being made in all districts in which it is possible to keep patwaris' papers separate from other revenue records.

(7) The introduction of the new pargana book and the mauza register has brought about certain alterations in the patwari and kanungo forms, and the changes that will have eventually to be made in the rules have been embodied in a note which has received the sanction of Government.

(8) In connection with provincial horse-breeding operations, special forms for the registration of mares and their produce by patwaris have been drawn up on the lines of those introduced in the Punjab, and rules framed for their use.

19. Supply of patwari and kanungo forms.—The grant under this head was Rs. 80,000, out of which Rs. 61,725 were spent in the year under report against Rs. 71,196 in 1893-94. The expenditure was therefore Rs. 9,471 less than in the preceding year. The difference was mainly due to a change in the dates of payment.

20. The total receipts of the patwari fund, exclusive of the contribution of Rs. 8,00,000 from provincial revenues during the year 1894-95, amounted to

Rs. 23,62,085 against Rs. 23,96,148 in 1893-94, and the charges to Rs. 33,53,100 as compared with Rs. 31,57,408 in 1893-94. There was thus a total gross deficit of Rs. 9,91,015, which, after deducting the Government contribution, leaves a net deficit of Rs. 1,91,015. This deficit is due to the provincial contribution having been reduced by Rs. 2,00,000, and to the two causes mentioned last year, viz., the operations of the Alexandrian scheme and the separation of the work of correction of the records from that of assessment. These two latter changes have led to an aggregate estimate of not less than Rs. 4,18,234 in the budget proposals for 1896-97.

Part II.—AGRICULTURAL STATISTICS.

21. Crop and area returns.—These returns are for 1894-95 or 1302 fasli. They have been received from all districts except Sultánpur and certain parganas of the districts of Meerut, Bijnor, Budaun, Jhánsi (Lalitpur sub-division), Lucknow, Unao, Rae Bareli, Sitapur, Hardoi, Fyzabad, Bahraich and Bara Banki, which are under settlement. For these figures have been taken, as usual, from the preceding year's returns to complete the provincial statement. The percentage of the cultivated, the culturable and the unculturable areas, and of current fallow, on the total area of the united provinces, is noted below for the last two years:—

	Percentage on total area.
	1893-94.	1894-95.	Difference.
Cultivated area	58·1	57·0	−1·1
Culturable area	22·5	22·5	...
Unculturable area	15·1	15·2	+0·1
Current fallows	4·3	5·3	+1·0

For some years past there has been a steady increase in the cultivated area of the provinces, but in the year under report, owing to the destructive nature of the year's rainfall, it declined from 34,150,923 to 33,522,034, or by 628,889 acres, while a corresponding increase took place under current fallows. The decrease in the cultivated area of the province over last year's is a little less than 2 per cent. It is most marked in the divisions of Rohilkhand, Benares and Lucknow, where it exceeds 2 per cent. The recorded decrease took place principally in the kharif area. It was due largely to the exclusion from the returns of areas on which the crops had been entirely lost. Such areas were, however, as a rule, resown, and for the most part the land transferred from cultivated to fallow consisted of depressed areas which usually grow rabi crops but which after the heavy falls of rain in October, were either under water or too damp to be sown until after the time for rabi sowings was past. In the hill district of Naini Tal the decrease in cultivation was as high as 10 per cent.

22. The total crop area of the province, which differs from the total cultivated area to the extent of the double-cropped area, was 42,363,770 acres as compared with 42,677,770, showing a decrease of 3,14,000 acres. An increase occurred in the crop area of the Meerut, Agra and Allahabad divisions, and also to a very small extent in the Gorakhpur division; elsewhere there has been a decline. The decrease in the total crop area would have been still greater but for the large increase of 314,889 acres which took place in the area cropped more than once. The figures for the different crops are shown below:—

	1893-94.	1894-95.	Difference.
	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
Kharif	21,658,808	21,128,410	−530,398
Rabi	20,754,660	20,933,849	+179,189
Zaid	264,302	301,511	+ 37,209
Total crop area ...	42,677,770	42,363,770	−314,000
Deduct area cropped more than once.	8,526,847	8,841,736	+314,889
Balance, cultivated area ...	34,150,923	33,522,034	−628,889

These variations have been already explained. The kharif area fell owing to the exclusion of large areas on which the crops entirely failed. The rabi area rose in spite of flooding in low-lying tracts owing to an increase in the double-cropped area which the poverty of the kharif made possible and necessary. The zaid area increased to an unusual extent in the districts which suffered most from the excessive rainfall.

23. The following statement compares the area of the principal autumn and spring crops in the year under report with their area in the past year. In compliance with the orders of the Government of India regarding elimination of mixtures from all important statistical returns, the areas of mixed crops of wheat, barley, gram, juar, bajra, cotton, and arhar have been separated and shown under the principal crops for both the years:—

Crops.	1893-94. Acres.	1894-95. Acres.	Difference. Acres.	Crops.	1893-94. Acres.	1894-95. Acres.	Difference Acres.
Barley ...	4,485,794	4,758,565	+272,771	Masur ...	289,289	287,213	− 2,076
Rice ...	7,848,179	7,943,718	+ 95,539	Linseed ...	742,062	753,857	+ 11,795
Maize ...	1,450,469	1,391,665	− 58,804	Til ...	204,542	177,043	− 27,499
Juar ...	2,234,310	2,075,325	−158,985	Rapeseed...	131,017	109,347	− 21,670
Bajra ...	1,566,654	1,327,766	−238,888	Sugarcane,	1,322,270	1,233,844	− 88,426
Mandua ...	326,668	341,762	+ 15,094	Cotton ...	1,069,307	1,214,747	+ 145,440
Small millets,	1,343,789	1,523,933	+180,144	Indigo ...	364,262	420,242	+ 55,980
Arhar ...	1,714,849	1,615,641	− 99,208	Opium ...	251,541	290,805	+ 39,264

The increase in the area of rice, small millets and cotton is due to the favourable character of the season at its commencement, and to the fact that these crops were reaped in time to escape destruction in the floods in the later part of the year, or, in the case of cotton, that it is usually grown in safe areas; while the increase under indigo is owing to the encouragement which its cultivation has received of late years, in consequence of a rise in the price of indigo at Calcutta. The decrease in the area under maize, juar, and bajra, and autumn pulses was caused by the excessive rainfall of the later part of the season, which was especially injurious to the later sown and later reaped kharif crops. The area of sugarcane which showed an increase of 113,060 acres in 1893, as compared with the preceding year, decreased by 88,426 acres in the year under report. The area of this crop sown depends rather on the character of the preceding seasons than on that of the year in which it is grown. The area sown with wheat diminished to the extent of 3,41,071 acres, partly owing to the first sowings having been destroyed by the heavy rainfall of October and November, and partly to the constant rain during these months preventing the elaborate tillage which is necessary for wheat. The land on which wheat would ordinarily have been sown was therefore devoted to the cultivation of barley, gram and linseed crops, the area sown with which shows a material increase this year. The increase in the area under opium is without doubt due to the involved condition of the tenants, which made the opium advances unusually valuable and the large profit, which a successful opium crop gives, a matter of unusual importance.

24. Owing to the continuance of wet weather irrigation was very sparingly resorted to in the present year, and the total irrigated area therefore further diminished from 8,809,061 to 6,002,679 acres or by 32 per cent. The decrease has taken place in all parts of the province, and is shared by the different sources of irrigation as the following table will show:—

	1893-94. Acres.	1894-95. Acres.	Difference. Acres.
Irrigated from wells ...	4,347,936	2,857,295	−1,490,641

„ „ tanks ...	2,420,136	1,948,352	−471,784
„ „ other sources	735,612	388,102	−347,510
Total irrigated area ...	8,809,061	6,002,679	−2,806,382

The total number of masonry wells returned in 1893-94 was 287,085: of these 2,345 fell during the year, while 2,667 new wells were constructed. This gives a net increase of 322 wells in the present year, and raises the area protected by well irrigation by 7,877 acres. Throughout the provinces, and especially in canal irrigated districts, the absence of the need for expenditure on irrigation was a considerable boon to cultivating tenants; but in the eastern districts the fact that the labouring classes lost their chief means of livelihood during the cold weather caused considerable distress amongst the poorest of the people. The labourers were saved from severe distress only by the great damage to earthen houses which had to be repaired during the latter part of the season and provided them with some work.

25. Rental demand and collections.—The returns relating to rental demand and collections, as well as those relating to classification of holdings, are for 1893-94 or 1301 fasli, and are, as remarked in previous years' reports, a year behind the crop and area returns. They have been received from all districts except Budaun, Lucknow, Rae Bareli, and Sultanpur and portions of Bijnor, Unao, Hardoi, Fyzabad, Partábgarh and Bara Banki, where settlement operations were in progress. The total rent-paying area returned for 1301 fasli is 28,743,141 acres as compared with 28,794,938 in the year before, showing a decrease of 51,797 acres, which has mainly taken place in Oudh, where the cultivated area diminished to the extent of 55,503 acres. The total rental demand was Rs. 12,24,36,466 as compared, with Rs. 12,27,88,368 in the previous year, showing a decrease of Rs. 3,51,902. An increase of Rs. 10,06,214 took place in the cash-rental which was more than counterbalanced by a decrease of Rs. 12,52,752 in the cash value of crop rental, caused by the unfavourable character of the year's harvests. The cash rental formed 90·1 per cent. of the total demand, while crop rental and siwai items represented 7·8 and 2·1. per cent. respectively. The total collections made in the year were Rs. 11,12,36,038 of which Rs. 9,86,77,700 were on account of current year's demand, and Rs. 1,25,58,338 on account of arrears of previous years. The percentage of total collections on total demands of the province fell from 93 to 91. The following figures show a noticeably low percentage of collection throughout the provinces, and is a further evidence of the character of the year's harvest, which was decidedly unfavourable, though by no means so bad as that of the succeeding year for which the crop areas have been above given:—

Divisions.	Percentage of total collections on total demands.

26. Classification of holdings.—This return is for the same year as that for rental demand. The area of holdings, as has been remarked in previous years' reports, differs both from the total cultivated area and the crop area of the year, as the holdings area always includes a good deal of land which, though forming part of the holdings of proprietors and tenants, was, for some reason or other, not under the plough during the year. The following table compares the areas under each class of holdings in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh separately during the year 1893-94 with those of 1892-93 :—

	North-Western Provinces.			Oudh.
	1893-94.	1892-93.	Difference.	1893-94.	1892-93.	Difference.

A falling off in the area held as sir in the North-Western Provinces is noticeable in the Agra, Rohilkhand, Allahabad and Gorakhpur divisions, while the increase in the area held as khudkasht took place almost entirely in the Gorakhpur division. The slight increase year after year in the area held with ex-proprietary or privileged rights in the North-Western Provinces is due to the fact that the area over which such rights annually accrue to ex-proprietors exceeds that in which such rights lapse. In Oudh, on the contrary, the area in which such rights lapsed exceeded that in which they were decreed. The increase in the area held by tenants-at-will is owing to the actual extension of cultivation, the cultivated area of 1893-94, to which this return relates, having risen by 259,555 acres as compared with the preceding year. The increase is distributed all over the province, and is greatest in the Agra and Allahabad divisions, where cultivation is once more spreading in the tracts which recently suffered from considerable agricultural depression. Special enquiries were recently made as to the cause of the steady decline in the area held with occupancy rights in almost all the districts of the North-Western Provinces, and the result confirms the view that the decline in the occupancy area is not a real one. Occupancy tenures tend to lapse owing to various causes :—ejectment for arrears of rent ; voluntary relinquishment of holdings, whether under pressure exercised by landholders or in consequence of agricultural depression or enhancement of rent ; the removal of the names of abseonding tenants from the Government papers in terms of the instructions issued in appendix II to Patwari rules, and the deaths of tenants without leaving heirs. While thus a small proportion of the area recorded as held with occupancy rights ceases annually to be so recorded, tenants who have completed a twelve years' period of occupation after the last preceding settlement, and have in fact acquired rights of occupancy, are not classed in the statements amongst occupancy tenants as they seldom have occasion to sue for declaration of their status. It follows, therefore, that the area of occupancy holdings must decline steadily from the time of one settlement until the next is made, when the status of all tenants is again determined, and the occupancy area rises with a bound. In accordance with this general tendency recorded occupancy rights fell by 56,686 acres in the North-Western Provinces in 1893-94 as compared with the previous year. The area held for more than twelve years without record of occupancy rights increased during the year by no less than 179,715 acres. The net gain in occupancy rights was therefore 123,029 acres.

PART III.

NOTE ON AGRICULTURAL DEPRESSION DURING RECENT YEARS.

27. In the past year this subject was dealt with briefly in the Annual Report of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture. Since then, on a representation made by my predecessor in the Directorship, the direction of the annual enquiry on the subject has been somewhat varied. In past years an attempt was made to obtain from districts an annual statement detailing the tracts liable from any cause to agricultural depression. A more practical turn has now been given to the enquiry, by the order that the report should confine itself to indicating the areas which have actually suffered during the past or immediately preceding years; to investigation of the causes of this defined depression; and to the suggestion of remedies for adoption in future years. It is obvious that as a contribution to the preparation of a full and accurate analysis of the circumstances of each district, the information collected under the present scheme is more likely to be of value than that contributed in an annual discussion on the general probabilities and possibilities of agricultural future. The record for one year, or for even a short series of years, will be incomplete: but in the course of a period in which all varieties of agricultural conditions will have presented themselves, there will, or ought to be, on record an exhaustive and valuable account of the areas which are insufficiently protected against the variations of the seasons. In the Bulandshahr report Mr. Porter, formerly Settlement Officer of Saháranpur, has noticed how even a Settlement Officer whose inspection extends to every part of every village, is likely to be misled in judging of the circumstances of a village from an inspection made in a single year. Mistakes such as are almost inevitable in such an inspection, unassisted by the history of previous years, should become impossible if the enquiry now prescribed by Government is effectively carried out and effectively recorded. The difference between the scope of the enquiry as now prescribed and that on which the general directions of previous years invited remark, has not yet been fully appreciated by all reporting officers, and many reports are still directed too largely to the discussion of possibilities rather than to the record of facts. The general history of the agricultural year has been given in other chapters of this report, and brief attention only need now be directed to this subject. The year throughout a great part of the province began with one of the heaviest falls of rain on record in the closing months of the rainy season. The cold weather was almost throughout dull and rainy to an extent most unusual in the provinces. The rains began well, but on the whole were unsatisfactory, being characterized in the earlier months by heavy and sudden falls, and ending abruptly before the later autumn crops had received irrigation enough. The result was one of the poorest spring harvests on record, and an autumn harvest in which the earlier reaped crops were good, and the later and more valuable, as a rule, poor and often very poor. On the whole the outturn of the harvest was both in value and in quantity greatly below average, and such as to add materially to the agricultural depression which somewhat similar harvests in previous years had begun. Fuller details have already been given in regard to the general character of the harvests, and no more need now be said on the subject. The subject to which special attention is necessary in this connection is the detail of tracts which have suffered to a greater extent than usual in the agricultural circumstances of the past year. I have found it impossible to give in a general note on the provinces all the details which are worthy of notice, and I therefore give below a brief abstract of the reports for all districts, prefacing these abstracts with a few remarks on the general character of the deterioration or damage reported.

28. It may be said at once and almost without reservation, that all extensive or important damage to agricultural prospects now reported on was due primarily to excess of rainfall. This was the case also during a somewhat lengthy series of preceding years, and district officers are now in a position to ascertain and record more accurately than, let it be hoped, they will for many years to come, the areas in which excessive rainfall causes unusual deterioration. In a few instances the reports now submitted leave little to be desired in point of detail, but as a rule, the enquiry prescribed by Government has not yet been exhaustively carried out. The attention of all has, however, been fully called to the subject, and in those districts in which the reports are least satisfactory, enquiry in regard to the agricultural circumstances of the past year is now being carried out.

The special damage specified in the reports for the present year may be referred to under three more or less definitely defined heads :—

1*st*—that caused by direct flooding or waterlogging from the main rivers ;

2*nd*—that caused by flooding or waterlogging in insufficiently drained tracts ;

3*rd*—that due to the effect of excess of moisture without actual flooding on certain classes of soils.

29. Extensive damage by flooding from the great natural drainage channels is reported from the majority of districts in the province. The Gogra is beyond comparison the greatest cause of damage under this head. Except at one or two points, its banks are throughout its course ill-defined, and there is on both sides of the main river from Kheri to Ballia, a wide area through which it shifts as chance directs. The other great rivers, the Ganges and the Jumna, have, on the contrary, in general defined banks, and except on the upper reaches of both rivers, and to some extent in Ballia, flooding by these rivers is confined to a depressed and narrow tract recognized as precarious, or to still narrower backwaters in which floods in the main river reach up the course of tributary streams. Of the smaller rivers, the Rapti, the Gumti, the Sai, the Káli nadi, the Kalyani, and many others are responsible for flooding areas which are locally important. Such flooding must, I fear, be in general regarded as irremediable. In several district reports the possibility of embanking rivers so as to confine floods within the bed is referred to : but as the area flooded is in general narrow, the cost of such embankments would, with regard to the area saved, be impracticably high. Such areas have almost universally been regarded by Settlement Officers as precarious, and have been settled either for short periods or at such an annual revenue as to allow for occasional extensive loss of crops and rental.

30. Probably more extensive and more deserving of attention, because less hopeless, are the areas classed under the second head—those in which the damage is due to the fact that the drainage channels naturally or artificially provided are insufficient to carry off the local rainfall so rapidly as to prevent flooding. Several instances are referred to in the district reports in which artificial restriction of the natural drainage is believed to have been produced by railway, canal and road embankments. An excellent note by Mr. Cox, Assistant Collector, on deterioration in the Saháranpur district, a report by Mr. Whish on Muzaffarnagar, Dr. Hoey's report on Gorakhpur, and Mr. Hope's on Bara Banki, all refer to such cases. To provide a remedy where such damage is proved to be due to Government or railway works, would assuredly deserve the first attention of Government, if it be made absolutely clear that the embankments referred to are the causes of, or contribute largely to, the damage. To arrive at a correct conclusion on this point, however, requires the provision of more definite and more scientific evidence than the unsupported statements of the cultivators or the summary inspection of a revenue officer. Most officers must have had experience of how coincidences, often very roughly approximate, are in popular estimation connected as cause and effect. We have had of late a long succession of years of heavy rainfall owing to which flooded areas have largely increased everywhere. Where new embankments have been raised within this period of excessive rainfall, or shortly before it, it is almost certain that the embankments, and not the rainfall, will be popularly regarded as the cause of the flooding. Artificial impediments to natural drainage caused by the action of the cultivating classes themselves will without doubt prove to be numerous. The spread of cultivation within natural drainage lines is a frequent cause of impediment. It takes place in dry years, when the depressed areas are readily brought under the plough, and the damage done is often not discovered by the persons injured until it is too late to hope for a legal remedy.

For the relief of locally flooded areas much has been done in the western districts by drainage channels dug by Canal engineers, sometimes from Government funds—often from funds contributed to by the persons benefited. There still, as the district reports show, remains much to be done even in these districts. In the central and eastern districts effective drainage channels are still few and far between, although there are few districts in which a considerable number of such schemes could not, with benefit both to Government and landholders, be carried out. The Rae Barèli report makes mention of two such schemes carried out within recent years, of which one at least was an entire success. Enlightened landholders are frequently most anxious to carry out such schemes and to bear the entire cost; but the way in which even extensive estates are scattered in isolated villages in all parts of a district makes it, in general, impossible for a landholder without Government assistance, to carry out even a well considered and obviously beneficial work. It is rarely possible for him to carry a drainage channel through his own estate entirely, and the jealousy and selfish apprehensions, however badly founded, of his neighbours prevent him from carrying his channel through their lands. In not a few districts in the East, schemes of drainage such as have been carried out by the Canal Department in the West, would result in a great gain to Government in land revenue, and to landholders in rental. The provisions of the Canals and Drainage Act appear to be general enough to authorise Government schemes to be carried through in any part of the province. It is a matter for consideration whether some legislative provision should not be made to permit private drainage schemes being carried out, subject of course to conditions ensuring other persons affected against loss.

31. Excess of moisture due to the abnormal rainfall has throughout the provinces been responsible for much of the general inferiority of the past rabi crop. It has had specially deteriorating effects on certain soils in the spread of reh and kans grass. Reh has not attracted any considerable attention during the present enquiry, and, though referred to in the Jamna khadir, does not appear in any district to have caused extensive deterioration of late. The spread of kans grass has, however, attracted attention in many districts. Mr. Hoare, the Sub-Divisional Officer of Lalitpur, gives some interesting details on the subject, and shows how closely the spread of kans is connected both as a cause and as an effect with agricultural depression. Excess of moisture in either the black soil of Lalitpur, or the light soil of certain tracts in the Gangetic plain, tends to encourage the growth of kans and necessitates increased exertion and increased expenditure on the part of cultivators to overcome the tendency to spread. Such expenditure and such exertion are not readily given by impoverished and unsettled tenants, unless they are liberally supported by the landholders, so that after a series of bad years the attacks of kans are not repelled except in the best managed estates. Deterioration by spread of kans has attracted large attention of late years, and necessitated extensive remission of revenue. The effect of the past year's rainfall has probably been to increase the area of kans on the whole. In the Agra Division there has, as a rule, been some improvement. In Bundelkhand, and probably Cawnpore, there has been distinct retrogression, and the state of this part of the provinces is everywhere stated to be unsatisfactory.

32. The following resumés of the district reports contain such details as it is considered important to bring to notice. With the information at present at my disposal a map showing tracts deteriorated with even approximate accuracy cannot be given.

Meerut Division.

Dehra Dún.—In Chakrata tahsíl some damage has been caused by landslips which have covered valuable fields in the valleys. The crops are stated by the Superintendent to be throughout the tahsíl entirely dependent on rainfall, or, as the Commisioner states, on the winter snowfall, and the inhabitants suffer when this is deficient, as was the case in 1892. The scarcity of that year was met by liberal advances. During the year now reported on no agricultural distress appears to have occurred in the district.

Saháranpur.—A lucid and careful report on this district by Mr. Cox, Assistant Collector, has been forwarded by the Collector. Mr. Cox was employed on enquiries connected with the remission of land revenue, and his detailed notes are available for reference. The Ganges, Solání and Jumna khádirs are the only portions of the district in which there are any extensive tracts so situated as to cause anxiety. The Solání khadir is permanently exposed to injury from floods and waterlogging, and suffered much from the floods of 1894. The kharif in a large area was ruined, and many of the villages of the tract were still waterlogged during the rabi of 1895. The natural drainage of the country in the east of the khádir is interfered with by the training works and embankments of the Oudh and Rohilkhand Railway main line and the Hardwár branch line, and hence there is a specially precarious tract lying to the east of the Solání and to the north of the Oudh and Rohilkhand main line. Some attempts have been made in this tract to provide an outlet for the drainage water from the north, but these are inadequate in a year of abnormally heavy rainfall. A drainage scheme is suggested by the Assistant Collector, and would appear to be specially desirable in a tract in which the agricultural conditions have been injuriously affected by the embankments of a Government railway. The line to be followed would appear to be indicated by the course the floods took and the points at which the railway embankments were breached. In the Ganges khadir much temporary depression was caused by the exceptionally high Ganges floods which in 1894 accompanied the bursting of the Gohna dam, and by extensive desertion by cultivators of their villages in anticipation of the Gohna flood. The kharif crop was estimated by Mr. Cox to be no more than 30 per cent. of an average successful kharif; but as, even in ordinary years, the revenue is mostly paid by the rabi, and the kharif is for the most part speculative, the effect on the cultivation of the tract has been less disastrous than so extensive a loss would have caused in settled tracts. The Ganges khadir, with the exception of isolated villages, and the island between the Ganges and the Banganga, is stated not to be particularly liable to a repetition of the last year's misfortunes, and no large scheme of drainage is either necessary or practicable.

The most precarious tract in the Jumna khadir is in parganas Nakur and Gangoh in a depressed tract separated from the river by a raised strip of safer cultivation. In this tract both waterlogging and the spread of reh have caused damage. Floods are, especially in the south of this area, of yearly occurrence. Mr. Cox doubts whether a drainage scheme in this area would be financially successful. Full allowance has been made at settlement for the precarious nature of the cultivation both in this area and in those in the east of the district above referred to, and it is believed that the revenue fixed is such that it can ordinarily be collected with ease. Bad years have been amply allowed for.

Muzaffarnagar.—Mr. Whish, lately Collector of Muzaffarnagar, describes the damage by abnormally heavy showers of rain during the year 1895, to four continuous tracts and three clusters of 11 villages with an aggregate area of 82 square miles:—

(1).—The first tract extends from Tuglakpur on the north, to Miranpur on the south, and is enclosed by the high lands of the Ganges khadir on the east and the main branch of the Ganges Canal continued by the Anúpshahr branch on the west.

(2).—The second tract is a pear-shaped piece of country enclosed between the main branch of the Ganges Canal on one side, and the railway line continued by about 16 miles of the metalled road to Rurki, on the other.

(3).—The third tract forms the delta of the main and the Anupshahr branches of the canal.

(4).—The fourth tract is included between the two forks of the Deoband branch of the Ganges Canal where it bifurcates a little to the north of the town of Charthawal.

The loss was considered to be largely due in certain areas to the natural drainage of the country being intercepted by the Ganges Canal and its branches, and by roads and the North-Western Railway. One tract was relieved by temporarily cutting the canal. In another Mr. Whish considers that an outlet should be provided by a lock allowing the drainage water to enter the canal. A general drainage scheme for the district is advocated.

The latest reports received from the district indicate that the view taken by Mr. Whish was somewhat alarmist. The area temporarily injured by floods in the kharif was rapidly covered with rabi crops. Remissions to the extent of Rs. 3,416 were proposed by the present Collector, who considered that no further action was called for. Here, however, as in Saháranpur, the fact that it was considered necessary to breach the canal bank to allow the flood water to flow away, would appear to indicate that enquiry by drainage experts is called for.

Meerut.—No tract is reported to have suffered in recent years or during the year under report.

Bulandshahr.—The Jumna khadir is reported to have suffered extensively from the succession of several years of heavy rainfall. The land revenue of six villages has been temporarily reduced by Rs. 2,190, and detailed inspection of other villages in which it is believed some permanent deterioration has taken place, will be made during the current cold weather. A drainage scheme on the Nim nadi is in progress, and will not only be of use to relieve the villages whose lands lie in the valley, but will render possible the effective drainage of several large land-locked depressions between the Nim and the Kali.

Aligarh.—The tracts on the Jumna and on both sides of the bed of the Karon nadi are reported to have suffered from flooding in late years. Much has been done to improve the course of the Karon nadi, and the Collector was not able to suggest whether further improvements were possible, but undertakes to give the subject attention during the present cold weather.

AGRA DIVISION.

Muttra.—There has been no agricultural depression in this district during the year under report. The twenty deteriorated villages whose revenue was reduced in 1892, are reported to have, on the whole, considerably improved, the cultivated area having increased from 8,616 acres to 10,221 acres. The rise has occurred in the majority of these villages, and there has in none been any further retrogression.

Agra.—The Collector reports that there is at present no agricultural depression in the district.

Farukhabad.—The whole of the Aligarh tahsíl and a portion of the Kaimganj tahsíl, suffered from flooding in October 1894. A hailstorm in March last also caused considerable damage throughout the district: it was consequently found necessary to remit a considerable portion of revenue and to suspend a further amount to a more convenient season. Of the 314 villages, the land revenue of which was reduced in 1299 fasli owing to extensive deterioration—the result of heavy rain and waterlogging—220 villages are improving, 39 are still in the same condition, and 55 show a further decrease in cultivation. The inspection of these 55 villages by the Collector is promised in the cold weather. As a rule, all villages have improved except those in poor bhur tracts, in with the continued damp has sustained or extended the hold obtained on the soil by kans grass in previous years. Two drainage cuts were made in pargana Chapramau, and both have been of great benefit.

Mainpuri.—A list of villages the cultivated area of which appeared to have decreased by 25 per cent. or more since settlement, was prepared, and enquiry on the spot undertaken by Mr. Hopkins with respect to villages situated in tahsíls Shikohabad and Mustafabad. Those in Bhogaon will be taken up this year. The cases in tahsíls Mainpuri and Karhal were not urgent. These enquiries disclosed local damage by flooding in certain villages specified by Mr. Hopkins, and resulted in a correspondence with the Canal Department as to what drainage schemes were feasible. Certain drains have been deepened, two new ones are to be made, and the construction of others is under consideration. In the year under report the kharif is stated to have been almost a failure, and the rabi indifferent.

Etáwah.—There are reported to be no extensive tracts in this district liable to agricultural failure in ordinary, that is, non-famine years. Thirty-two villages in Etáwah tahsíl, and two in the Phaphund tahsíl (now Budhana tahsíl) suffered in recent years from flooding, obstruction of drainage, &c. Their revenue was revised for five years with effect from 1299 fasli. Remission of arrears in rents in favour of tenants, distribution of advances, and drainage schemes have considerably improved these villages. Some 12 villages in tahsíl Budhana are reported to have been deteriorated by spread of kans. The heavy and late rains of 1894 caused a great deal of damage to the kharif crops nearly all over the district, and the tenantry in consequence have suffered a good deal of hardship.

Etah.—The Etah report makes it clear that no extensive deterioration has occurred in that district during the past year. There has been some decrease in the cultivated area in isolated tracts in parganas Etah, Mahrera, Nidpur and Kásganj, owing to flooding. The District Officer was in communication with the Canal Department in regard to the provision of drainage cuts for the areas affected.

Rohilkhand Division.

Bareilly.—The district is, on the whole, fortunately situated. Irrigation in the north and north-east is secure. There has been some deterioration in the Faridpur tahsíl, explained to be due to the poverty of the zamíndárs and uncertain tenure of tenants. The explanation is hardly complete as, primâ facie, poverty of landholders and tenants is more likely to be the effect than the cause of deterioration. There is, as usual, throughout the district a number of isolated villages which have suffered in past years from flooding. This year they were better off, and a carefully worked out scheme for drainage was refused by one group of villages. The breakdown of a private system of irrigation owing to quarrels is referred to. It is under consideration whether the Irrigation Department can take up the work.

Bijnor.—No tract was undergoing agricultural depression during the past year. The Ganges khádir which was to a large extent depopulated in the preceding year owing to the Gohna lake scare, has almost recovered itself this year.

Budaun.—The tracts affected are similarly situated to those in Moradabad. They are the Ganges khádir and a continuous bhúr tract reaching from Sambhal in Moradabad to Shájahánpur.

Moradabad.—Two waterlogged tracts on the Bagad nadi have been formerly reported on. Deterioration of late years is considered real, and extends to a bhur tract reaching for several miles east of the depressed area. The Divisional Engineer has been instructed to report as to whether a general drainage scheme is not feasible. The Ganges khadir has also suffered from depression of late years, but the damage is considered temporary.

Sháhjahánpur.—The report is very brief. The south of the district is traversed by many streams, flooding from which has caused much damage to the kharif, especially between the Baigul and the Ramganga. The circumstances of the villages of four parganas are being enquired into.

Pilibhít.—Pargana Jahanabad, which has canal irrigation, is specially well off. In the rest of the district, and especially in Puranpur, the cultivating classes are, owing to the early cessation of the rains and the mortality amongst cattle, very badly off, and unless seasons improve, the condition of Puranpur is such as to give cause for anxiety.

ALLAHABAD DIVISION.

Cawnpore.—It was found that according to the pargana books cultivation had decreased by 25 per cent. in 126 villages situated in five groups, of which one lies along the Jumna, one in the depression running through the centre of Pargana Ghatampur, two in the country round Akbarpur and Bhognipur, and the remaining one in the low land between the Ganges and the Eison. Along the Jumna the deteriorated soil is poor dry bhúr. The tracts in the country round Akbarpur and Bhognipur have suffered from the spread of kans, which is, perhaps somewhat prematurely, considered to be due to the influence of the canals. Kans has, as a matter of fact, greatly extended its influence in light soil tracts throughout the provinces during the past cycle of excessive rain. Reductions of revenue have already been granted for 20 villages, and proposals concerning 15 more are at present under the consideration of the Board. Inspection of 70 villages is promised in the cold weather.

Fatehpur.—There are no areas in the district that can be specified as specially deteriorated tracts. Agricultural depression, however, existed over the whole district in 1894-95, from economic causes beyond the scope of ordinary remedies.

Bánda.—The kans-infested tracts for which the jama had been reduced for five years, had, in 1301 fasli made distinct progress, and had the past year given a moderate rainfall, the area of kans fallow would in all probability have so considerably decreased as, in the Collector's opinion, to make it possible after the expiry of the five years, to take the full land revenue. The rainfall of 1302 fasli was, however, such as to give the kans a fresh start, and to reduce the area of cultivation in the villages affected. The comparative drought of the present season is of course unfavourable to kans growth; but it is affecting the crops adversely, and unless there is a good harvest, the cultivators will be left without means to reclaim their fallow tracts, and the continuation of the reduced jama after the period of five years has expired, will, so far as can at present be seen, be necessary.

Hamírpur.—The whole district is considered to be suffering from agricultural depression. Kans is on the increase, but the villages which have suffered most from this plague have already come under revision of assessment. The Commissioner has pressed upon the Collector's notice the need for endeavouring to induce zamindars to eradicate kans by cutting down and burning the grass as it begins to flower—a method which has been found by actual experiment to give excellent results.

Allahabad.—The general state of the district appears to be satisfactory. There are some tracts liable to flooding in years of heavy rain. This year suspensions were granted for mahals flooded in Meja, Manjhanpur and Saraon tahsils. Takávi in all the villages which suffered was freely advanced to those applying for it, and attention has been devoted to the subject of drainage. The zamindárs are, however, reported to be unwilling or unable to bear any considerable expenditure.

Jhánsi.—The whole of Jhánsi, including Lalitpur, as the Commissioner says, is peculiarly sensitive to vicissitudes of season. The recent seasons have not been favourable to the district in general. A good deal of damage was done to the wheat crop by rust, and the kharif for the most part was also poor. In 25 villages of tahsil Garotha 990 acres are reported to have been affected by kans, but the spread of kans has in none of the villages been at all so extensive, comparatively, as in the kans-infested tracts in Bánda or Cawnpore.

The Lalitpur sub-division is reported to be passing through a cycle of depression of which in the present year the lowest point has, it is hoped, been reached. The Sub-Divisional Officer gives an interesting report on the circumstances of each pargana, too detailed to be even summarized here. Depression is less marked in the red soil tracts than in the black soil portion of the sub-division. Bad management and the growth of kans, are considered the chief causes of a serious fall in the rental of a village. After a bad year these influences re-act on each other. The tenants cannot keep up the cultivation to its previous level without assistance, and as they are too poor to give security for takavi, are dependent on the support of their landlords. Without such support the spread of kans is certain, and the land in all probability thrown out of cultivation for years. In two tahsíls (Lalitpur and Mehroni) Rs. 7,076 in 1301 fasli, and Rs. 45,559 in 1302 fasli, were advanced under Acts XII and XIX. Throughout the Lalitpur sub-division, and especially in the forest parganas of the south, the circumstances of the tenants are critical, and severe distress, or even famine, is considered to be likely to follow a failure in the harvests of the present year.

Jalaun.—The whole of the district by reason of the heavy settlement and the recent bad seasons is considered to be suffering from agricultural depression. Late rains spoiled the last kharíf, and rust reappeared during the rabí. Rs. 19,187 were distributed as takávi, Rs. 8,475 of land revenue remitted on account of the rust, and a reduction of Rs. 6,031 sanctioned by the Board in the distressed villages.

Benares Division.

Benares.—Thirty-four villages lying on the banks of the Gorai and the Karmnassa in the Chandauli tahsíl form the only tract reported to be specially liable to agricultural depression. During the year under report these villages were badly off owing to the continuous and heavy rain which caused the above rivers to overflow their banks. The kharif crops were thereby damaged, and the soil so saturated that the rabi sowings were adversely affected.

Mirzapur.—Owing to the heavy rains during the last two years the rabi suffered everywhere, but most severely in the Gangetic valley in which that crop is of greater value than in the upland and southern parts of the district. The damage done was general, and, so far as the district report shows, not intensified in special localities.

Jaunpur.—There is no tract in this district especially liable to agricultural failure. During the year under report the whole district, and especially the low-lying lands near the rivers, suffered from heavy rain and floods. Damage to an extent so great is, however, reported to be very rare, this being the third occasion on which it has occurred during a century. The Collector reports that the land so flooded is more productive than usual this year.

Gházipur.—No particular tracts have of late suffered especially from, or appear to be particularly liable to, natural calamities. The sources of irrigation are insufficient in the district. The harvests therefore largely fluctuate according to the favourable nature or otherwise of the rainfall. The condition of the people in the north-east of the district is very unsatisfactory, as sugarcane, which is the staple crop in that part, has been doing badly for some time.

Ballia.—The only tracts liable to agricultural depression by floods are those in tahsíl Rasra on the banks of the Gogra. In 1889-90 considerable damage was done in those tracts by waterlogging, and much assistance in the shape of charitable relief and takavi had to be given in that and the succeeding years. Since then the floods have not been so high, but a large tract of the country remains under water during the rains. The Collector does not consider that any scheme of protection is practicable.

Gorakhpur Division.

Gorakhpur.—The tracts near the Chhota Gandak and other minor streams, and those along the banks of the Rapti, the Rohin and the Gogra, and in the bed of the Ami, are liable to extensive damage from flooding. On the Rohin the villages in the fork of the Bengal-North-Western main line and Uska Branch are popularly reported to have been injuriously affected by interruption of the natural drainage and insufficient waterway. The Collector was unable to obtain confirmation of this complaint by comparison of past and present records. A more detailed report is promised next year. The possibility of preventing damage by the Gogra by a line of embankments connecting the remnants of old high banks still standing is suggested.

Basti.—Two hundred and seventeen villages are reported to have suffered from floods. Nearly Rs. 1,200 has been advanced as takavi, and the flooded villages have shared a large proportion of it. The great majority of the villages mentioned in the Collector's note as having suffered from floods, are either alluvial mahals along the Gogra, or kachar villages, which have been assessed in view of their liability to periodical flooding.

Azamgarh.—There is no especially deteriorated tract. The district, however, is still suffering from recent bad seasons and density of population. Early commencement of the proposed railway is strongly urged by the Collector.

Kumaun Division.

The information received from the Kumaun Division is brief in the extreme. Pargana books are not maintained, and apparently no detailed information about the circumstances of individual villages is available. In Almora the crops are reported to have suffered from hailstorms and excessive winter rains, but no remedial measures were necessary. In Naini Tal the Tarai is reported to be suffering from agricultural depression, the nature and causes of which are stated not to be thoroughly known, but to be possibly due to a change in the management. The explanation suggested appears to be insufficient. It may be surmised that the Tarai is a tract likely to suffer severely both in cultivation and health in a cycle of years of excessive rainfall.

Lucknow Division.

Lucknow.—The whole of the Gumti khadir suffered severely from floods in September 1894. In many cases every house in a village collapsed, and the kharif was a total failure. Takávi was advanced, and private individuals also subscribed money for relief. Other portions of the district also suffered somewhat from continuous rain in the cold weather.

Unao.—The Ganges and the Sai khadirs are liable to agricultural depression in years of heavy rainfall. In 1894 they suffered from excessive rain.

Rae Bareli.—Both the kharif and rabi crops were greatly damaged last year by excessive rain. The rabi also suffered from rust, blight and hailstorm. Takávi was largely distributed and relief works on a small scale started. Remission of Rs. 1,651, and suspension of Rs. 1,722-8-0 land revenue, were granted for 24 villages on account of damage by hail. Considerable areas in the district suffer from insufficiency of drainage, and a comprehensive system of drainage is advocated. During the year two channels were dug by private individuals, and permission to construct another drain was given.

Sitapur.—During the year under report the district suffered seriously from floods caused by heavy rains and the overflowing of the rivers. It was found necessary to recommend suspension of revenue by an amount of Rs. 30,000 for nine parganas in three tahsils.

Hardoi.—Five hundred and thirty-five villages suffered during recent years from flooding. Embankments and drainage channels are suggested as remedies, but the local landholders appear to be unwilling to contribute towards the cost. More detailed information is promised in next year's report.

Kheri.—The greater part of the district is liable to suffer from agricultural depression due to flooding, indented as it is in every direction with rivers, nalas, jhils and depressions. Last year 126 villages in Dhaurahra and Ferozabad, lying between the Gogra and the Chauka, suffered from floods caused by these rivers overflowing, or in some instances extensively changing their courses. Except in one or two cases, no remission of revenue was necessary; the incidence is in ordinary years very light.

Fyzabad Division.

Fyzabad.—The Deputy Commissioner reports that there has been general depression throughout the district during the year under report, but that there are no specific areas liable to agricultural failure.

Gonda.—The Deputy Commissioner went through all the pargana books except those of the Balrampur estate, and called on pargana officers to explain figures which tended to show deterioration. Bad seasons and bad management are responsible for deterioration in 161 villages of Gonda. Flooding was the chief cause of loss in tahsíl Tarabganj: no less than 220 villages attracted notice for this reason. Flooding also did some damage along the Rapti in tahsíl Utraula. Damage by wild animals attracted notice in all tahsils. The Deputy Commissioner contemplates a more liberal distribution of arms licenses near private forests, and considers that the fencing of the Government forests near Mankapur is a matter for consideration. As regards floods, takavi was widely distributed in 1302 fasli. The suggestion of a system of bands along the Gogra is a vast one, and as the Deputy Commissioner remarks, it is unlikely, even if undertaken, to be effective.

Bahraich.—1,244 acres in 13 villages previously reported on, and an area unknown in a number of villages not specified, are reported to have suffered from floods during the year under report. The losses are said to have had no effect on Government revenue, and no loans were applied for. The report for this district is brief in the extreme.

Sultánpur.—Damage by flooding owing to the phenomenal rise of the Gumti in 1894, and by long continuance of the series of years of excessive rainfall, has been extensive in low-lying lands near the Gumti. The Deputy Commissioner considers that the damage done was extraordinary, and that no feasible remedy can be suggested.

Partábgarh.—The Deputy Commissioner quotes the Settlement Officer's report to the effect that no part of the district is liable to agricultural depression. With large bhur and rice tracts, and considerable areas flooded in them in the past year, the conclusion is of doubtful accuracy. It is probable that in Partábgarh, as in Rae Bareli and Bara Banki, loss by flooding is to no inconsiderable extent a remediable evil. In a district of large landholders payment of Government dues does not disprove the existence of depression amongst the agricultural classes.

Bara Banki.—A detailed account of the tracts in which there has been agricultural depression during the past few years is given in a note by Saiyad Raza Husain, Deputy Collector. These tracts consist entirely of villages or portions of villages which have been flooded by one or other of the rivers of the district or by local insufficiently drained tals. Along the Gogra and Chauka the damage has been extensive, and the circumstances of both tenants and landholders, and especially of the petty landholding bodies, are reported to be bad. The lands of the small proprietors are—partly owing to the continuance of bad seasons and partly owing to expenditure on litigation—said to be quickly passing away from them. The Deputy Collector appears to consider that a system of bands and drainage channels to protect Gogra villages is possible. He instances the improvement effected in neighbouring villages by the band and protective works recently constructed by the Bengal and North-Western Railway on the Chauka. On the Gumti the damage, though severe in the high floods of 1894-95, is less extensive, and less frequently recurs. No remedial measures except such as are intended to relieve immediate distress, are considered possible. Along the Kalyani, a minor stream, and in a few isolated tal villages, there has been considerable damage done of late years of a degree not likely to recur except in years of very exceptional rainfall. The total area of the affected villages, and the area damaged, are shown in the following statement:—

Number of villages.	Total cultivated area.	Area damaged.	Remarks.
	Acres.	Acres.
60	24,096	5,813	Damaged by the Gumti.
189	84,729	23,928	Damaged by the Gogra and Chauka.
7	2,903	610	Damaged by the Kalyani.
26	...	999	Ditto.
26	9,863	3,098	Otherwise damaged.
308	...	34,448	Total.

Remarks by Settlement Officer refer specially to the delta between the Chauka and the Gogra, a permanently settled tract liable to inundation, and to the northern half of pargana Kursi, the drainage in which is naturally bad, and which has further suffered from the embankments on the pucca road to Sidhauli and the Rohilkhand and Kumaun Railway: as to other parts it confirms the Deputy Collector's note.

RESOLUTION.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Naini Tal, the 1st July 1896.

READ—

Letter from the Secretary to the Board of Revenue, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, No. $\frac{775}{\text{XII—163}}$, dated 5th March 1896 (received on 27th March), being the Board's Report on the Revenue Administration of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh for the year ending 30th September 1895.

OBSERVATIONS.—The Board are to be congratulated on the punctual submission of their report. It may be hoped that the measures taken to secure the prompt submission of divisional reports will enable the Board to forward their own report to Government on the date fixed, viz., 15th March, in each year.

Rainfall, harvests, and floods.
Paragraphs 4—10.

2. The year was remarkable for wet and cloudy weather. The monsoon of 1894, which began in June, was fairly continuous until the beginning of September, but in July the rainfall was unevenly distributed and in the autumn it was heavy and prolonged, while during the winter months it was generally in excess. The average rainfall over the entire provinces was 65·4 inches, or 20 inches above the average of the past five years. This incessant rain caused serious injury to the autumn harvests generally, and the outturn in the greater part of the provinces was exceptionally poor. Rice and sugarcane gave a fair yield, but the sowings of the spring crops were retarded by the excessive moisture; in many cases they had to be repeated; and finally rust, blight, and high winds shrivelled the grain when ripening, and reduced the produce. With the exception of the Meerut and Agra divisions, where the outturn on the whole was not unsatisfactory, the year must be regarded as one of bad harvests and agricultural depression—a fact of great significance in estimating the effect on the agricultural population of the unseasonable character of the current year. The poorer classes suffered most, and distress would have been actually felt but for large importations of grain from the western districts and the Panjáb.

In many districts serious injury was caused by floods to crops and both private and Government property, and relief had to be afforded by remissions and suspensions of revenue. Severe hailstorms, moreover, occurred in nine districts, and their effect was most marked in Hamírpur and Lalitpur. In the former district the loss of revenue amounted to Rs. 35,492; while in Lalitpur, in addition to revenue being remitted, relief works had to be undertaken in the vicinity of the injured villages.

Health.
Paragraph 11.

3. Although the excessive rainfall of 1894 and the deficient harvests were detrimental to public health, especially in the eastern and southern districts, still on the whole the year was less unhealthy than its predecessor. There was a diminution in the mortality from cholera, small-pox, and fever. It is hoped that the measures taken for the sale of quinine in five-grain packets may result in reducing the heavy mortality from malarial fever. It will be interesting to learn to what extent those measures have been carried into effect, how far quinine has been brought within the reach of the mass of the population, and whether the boon is appreciated by them.

Cattle disease. Paragraph 12.

4. While in these provinces generally the mortality among cattle was less than in the previous year, still it was very great. Rinderpest, foot and mouth disease, and dysentery were rife, and a few cases of glanders and farcy were reported among horses on the Saháranpur-Dehra road. The loss of cattle was greatest in the three northern districts of the Lucknow division, especially in Sitapur, where over 100,000 cattle are said to have perished. The aid of the Veterinary Assistants attached to District Boards was enlisted in some districts, and steps taken for the segregation of diseased cattle and the destruction of the carcasses and skins of dead animals; but the people are said to be generally apathetic in this matter, although they do not object to the treatment of their sick animals if medicines are supplied gratis. Liberal advances were made in districts where the loss of cattle was heaviest, to enable cultivators to replace their stock.

Prices. Paragraph 13.

5. Owing to deficient harvests, the prices of food grains were high as compared with the previous year. But for the large importations of food grains and seeds from the Panjáb and the Meerut and Agra divisions into districts where the local produce was insufficient, prices would have been exceptionally high, and in parts of the country would no doubt have reached famine level.

Arrears of previous years. Paragraphs 15, 24, 29, 36, and 38.

6. Of the arrears of previous years on account of land revenue on the roll, amounting to Rs. 2,37,837, no less than Rs. 1,65,586 were remitted. The real balance is shown as Rs. 70,039, of which Rs. 62,290 were collected during the year and Rs. 62 shortly after its close, leaving a sum of Rs. 7,687 for future realization. The greater part of this balance is said to be due from estates under attachment where bad seasons have interfered with the collections, or from properties in which farm or sale has been proposed.

The collection of arrears under other heads of revenue calls for no remarks.

Current demand. Paragraphs 15—23.

7. The current demand of revenue on the roll amounted to Rs. 5,98,48,332, of which Rs. 5,89,26,331 or 98·5 per cent. was collected. Of the balance, Rs. 6,14,991 is classed as recoverable, Rs. 1,91,938 as irrecoverable, and Rs. 1,08,767 as nominal. Rupees 1,74,486 of the recoverable balance was collected shortly after the close of the year, and the greater part of the money outstanding (Rs. 3,76,450) represents revenue suspended or postponed on account of the unfavourable seasons. The irrecoverable balance consists of remissions on account of destruction of crops by rust, hail, and floods. The largest remissions were granted in the Bundelkhand districts, where the linseed and wheat crops had failed and severe damage was caused by a hailstorm in Hamírpur. The nominal balance is made up of reductions and remissions of revenue on account of deterioration and other causes. It is noticed by the Board (paragraph 16) that the recoverable arrears are heavy in the Rohilkhand, Allahabad, Lucknow, and Fyzabad divisions, but that the circumstances of the year required that consideration should be shown in the collection of the revenue, and time allowed for payment to the poorer landholders; and that discrimination was generally exercised in realizing the Government demand and no undue severity employed. The Government concurs with the Board that the results are creditable to the District Officers concerned, who have discharged their duties well in an exceptionally difficult year. It is satisfactory to note that the deteriorated tracts in Farukhabad, Mainpuri, and Etah, which suffered from agricultural depression, and in which it was necessary to make large reductions of revenue, are recovering. The wire fence erected on the boundary between Muttra and Agra and the Bhartpur State has proved successful in keeping out wild cattle, and it has been found possible to enhance the revenue in some of the border villages adjoining the fence in the Agra district by 23 per cent. A noticeable feature in the year's administration was the falling off in the advance collections by nearly 21 lakhs as compared with the previous year.

Paragraph 25.

8. On 1st October 1894 the land revenue on the roll was Rs. 5,98,48,332; on 1st October 1895 it amounted to Rs. 6,03,07,924, being an increase of Rs. 4,59,592, due chiefly to the enhancement of revenue at the regular revision of settlement in portions of Garhwál, Unao, Rae Bareli, Sultánpur, Partábgarh, and Bara Banki.

Alteration in the demand for land revenue on the roll.
Paragraph 27.

9. The unusually heavy rainfall during the winter months affected the canal revenues to a very large extent.

Canal rates.
Paragraphs 35—38.

In occupier's rate alone there was a decrease of over 18 lakhs, the demand being Rs. 32,49,360 as compared with Rs. 50,95,938 in the previous year. The owner's rate was similarly affected, and the demand fell from Rs. 2,59,494 in 1893-94 to Rs. 1,52,726 in the year under review.

10. In State properties the total demand, including outstandings, was Rs. 7,58,048, of which Rs. 7,10,215 or 94 per cent. were collected. But a large falling off is observable in the current rental demand of the estates in the Naini Tal district, which was due to successive bad seasons and to heavy mortality among cattle. In the Tarái estate alone there was a decline in the rent-roll to the extent of Rs. 22,260, which has already been noticed by the Lieutenant-Governor in his review of the report on the management of that estate. The Bánda estates are again responsible for the heavy arrears, but little more than half the total demand having been collected.

State properties.
Paragraph 39.

Measures are being taken for having these arrears carefully classified and tested, but it is feared that a very great proportion of them will have to be written off, as, owing to a succession of bad harvests and the existing agricultural distress in Bánda, the chances of recovery are small. A further report on this point will be awaited. The outstanding balances in Jhánsi, Lucknow, and Hardoi were also large and are said to be the result of bad harvests. In the Garhwál Bhábar the revision of rents was not completed in time, and the total rental and cesses remained uncollected. After payment of land revenue and rates, the income from State properties was Rs. 5,34,143; the total expenditure amounted to Rs. 3,24,869, leaving a net profit for Government of Rs. 2,09,274.

Revenue money-orders. Paragraph 43.

11. The system of remitting revenue by money-orders maintains its popularity. The total number of money-orders issued was 154,699 and their value Rs. 33,45,331, as compared with 150,303 and Rs. 32,78,485, respectively, in the previous year. The largest increases both in number and value are observable in the Saháranpur, Muzaffarnagar, Meerut, Cawnpore, Hamírpur, and Gorakhpur districts. In contrast to the general increase in the use of money-orders for this purpose, it is not easy to account for the falling off in this respect in the Agra and Benares divisions, in each of which, however, it is confined to some only of the districts contained in them, while in others the number and amount of the money-orders have increased.

Rent law litigation, North-Western Provinces. Paragraphs 45—60.

12. There has been in the North-Western Provinces an increase of 15,013 in the number of suits instituted, but the number of applications has fallen off from 176,754 to 145,094. The total of suits and applications has, however, decreased from 271,592 to 254,945, the figures for the year 1892-93 being 255,765. The table given in paragraph 46 of the report shows that the number of suits (109,851) in the year under review has been the highest on record since the Rent Act (XII of 1881) was passed. Suits for arrears of rent have risen from 85,257 to 99,246, and were 90 per cent. of the total number of suits instituted as compared with 89·8 and 89·7 per cent. of the two previous years. All divisions save Gorakhpur show an increase, and various reasons are assigned for it. The explanation suggested by the Board for the increase in suits coupled with a decrease in applications is that in a year of indifferent harvest the landholders take the opportunity of securing decrees for arrears of rent against occupancy tenants, with a view to their ejectment, while they cannot afford to eject the tenant-at-will. The phenomenon of an increase in suits (7·22 per cent.) accompanied by a decrease in applications (2·55 per cent.) occurred also in 1886-87; while the reverse was the case in 1893-94 when suits fell by 0·39 per cent. and applications rose by 4·94 per cent. There would seem then to be some ground for accepting this explanation. At the same time there have been instances in which an increase in suits was contemporaneous with an increase in applications as in 1884-85, and also in which both classes of proceedings decreased together as in 1885-86 and again in 1890-91. The file of cases which were pending for more than three months, which had diminished in the preceding year to 84 cases, has now risen to 184. The numbers were highest in the Meerut (67) and Gorakhpur (51) districts, and the attention of the Collectors has been invited to the matter.

Applications to eject tenants-at-will. Paragraphs 54 and 55.

There was a marked decrease in the number of applications to eject tenants-at-will, the figures being 53,955 as compared with 72,105 in the previous year. The Board make the following remarks in explanation of this decrease:—

"These figures afford a strong indication of the correctness of the explanation which has been advanced before, and which many officers again advance in their present reports,—that notices of ejectment against tenants-at-will are less numerous when the seasons are unprosperous, differing in this respect from notices of ejectment against tenants with rights. Briefly put, in poor years the difficulty landholders find is not in ousting tenants, but in retaining them. The fact that in the Meerut and Agra divisions, where the harvests were comparatively favourable, the falling off in the issue of notices of this kind was proportionately less than elsewhere, presents a further confirmation of this view. In Hamírpur, Allahabad, Mirzapur, and Gorakhpur the number of applications of this class was less than half of that in 1893-94, and in Budaun, Moradabad, Fatehpur, Bánda, Benares, Gházipur, Ballia, and Azamgarh also the decrease was proportionately very great. In the Bundelkhand districts the effects of the unfavourable seasons in discouraging evictions are accentuated by the fact that land is plentiful and cultivators few, and ejectments are only resorted to in the case of thriftless and persistently recusant tenants. In the Benares division the fact that twelve years have now elapsed from the revision of records is given as a reason in several districts for a falling off in the number of notices. The Collector of Mirzapur is silent as to the very pronounced decrease in his district, where the notices issued were less than a third of those in the preceding year."

The tenants contested 28 per cent. of the notices, the same as in the preceding year. The area affected fell from 477,996 in 1893-94 to 260,555 acres in the year of report. The Benares and Gorakhpur divisions are remarkable for the large proportion of contested applications. The proportion of success obtained by the tenants in resisting ejectment (in 52 per cent. of the applications) fell slightly below that of the preceding year (55 per cent.). Gorakhpur, and next to it Rohilkhand, show a large number of attempted ejectments successfully defeated.

Applications affecting occupancy tenants. Paragraphs 52 and 60.

The number of applications to enhance the rent of occupancy tenants was less by 1,731 than in the previous year (a fall of 22·57 per cent.). On the other hand, the number of applications under section 35, Act XII of 1881, to eject protected tenants for non-payment of rents rose by 5,178 or 28·70 per cent. The increase was general in every district, but most marked in the Rohilkhand and Benares divisions and in Saháranpur, Cawnpore, and Gorakhpur. Ejectment actually took place in the case of 38·85 per cent. of the notices issued as compared with 38·98 per cent. in 1893-94 and 36·29 per cent. in the previous year. The area affected rose from 40,502 acres in 1893-94 to 55,559 in the year under review. The number of resignations of occupancy holdings shows an increase of 12,604 as compared with the previous year's figures, and is attributed to agricultural depression. Many of these resignations are doubtless forced on the tenants, who thus forfeit their occupancy rights, but are let in again as tenants-at-will.

Paragraph 57.

While the tenant area has risen by over 133,000 acres, the protected area shows a decrease of nearly 40,000 acres, following an increase of 20,000 acres in the previous year. The Board have directed enquiries to be made with a view of having the decrease localized. It must, however, be noted that, though the area recorded as held with rights has decreased from 10,283,657 to 10,243,839 acres, on the other hand the area which has been held by tenants over 12 years and in which they could assert and maintain a right of occupancy has increased from 3,215,575 to 3,395,290 acres, an increase of nearly 180,000 acres, which, if only recorded as occupancy, would far more than compensate for the decrease of 40,000 acres in the recorded privileged and occupancy area.

Oudh Rent Law litigation.
Paragraphs 61—70.

13. In Oudh there was a falling off in the number of suits instituted from 35,431 to 33,909, and the most marked decrease occurs under the head of suits to contest enhancement or ejectment. Eviction actually took place from 8,306 holdings with an area 55,717 acres, and about one-third of this area was relet to new tenants. The average rise in the rent of lands relet from which statutory tenants were ejected was a little more than 7 per cent. or slightly above the percentage allowable by law in individual cases. A special report was submitted by the Board in the course of the year on the subject of illegal enhancement; but as sufficient trustworthy evidence had not been adduced to warrant a recommendation for the immediate amendment of the enhancement sections of the Rent Act, the Government approved the proposal of the Board that District Officers should continue to watch the working of the Act, and to scrutinize more carefully reported cases of illegal enhancement. It would appear from the present report (paragraph 69) that, in the year under review, the devices used to evade the law were less widely resorted to than in previous years, owing possibly to the difficulty landlords had in realizing even the existing rents in full; and although the practice undoubtedly still prevails, no authenticated case came to light in which a premium was levied on the grant or renewal of a tenancy. The matter is one that needs continued attention on the part of the Board and District Officers.

Litigation in Kumaun.
Paragraph 71.

14. The new Kumaun rules came into force from 1st August 1894, and it has therefore been found possible to give for the first time complete statistics of revenue and rent litigation for the entire year. A comparison of the number of suits instituted and decided and pending in the two years 1893-94 and 1894-95 cannot, however, be made, as many of the cases pending at the close of the former year have been transferred to the Civil Courts. At the end of the year under review there were 7 cases pending for over 3 months, of which 5 belonged to the Naini Tal district. The average duration was 26 days in Naini Tal, 1 month 5 days in Almora, and 2 months 5 days in Garhwál. The lowness of the figures in the first named district has attracted attention, and explanation has been called for by the Board.

Appeals to Judges. Paragraph 75.

15. There were 3,559 appeals for disposal by Judges, of which 57 per cent. (2,040) were decided. The pending file, though still heavy, has been reduced in both provinces, and the figures are 517 in the North-Western Provinces and 1,002 in Oudh. The Judicial Commissioner was requested last year to suggest means for the disposal of the heavy arrears in the appeals to Judges in suits under the Oudh Rent Act, and he reported that the District Judges of Fyzabad, Gonda, and Rae Bareli in whose courts the pending files of rent appeals were heavy had been directed to apply for the transfer of civil appeals to the courts of Subordinate Judges. The average duration in the North-Western Provinces has been reduced from 7 months 18 days to 6 months 11 days, but in Oudh it continues very high, being 11 months and 5 days.

Appeals to Commissioners. Paragraph 76.

16. Excluding the figures for Kumaun, appeals in rent cases to Commissioners have diminished by 1,115 cases. The number of pending cases was greatly reduced, there being only 833 at the close of the year as compared with 2,207 when it began, and 85 cases only were pending over 3 months against 591 in the previous year. It is satisfactory to note an improvement in the Meerut division during the year under review. The Commissioner has succeeded in reducing his file to normal proportions, the number of appeals decided by him having been larger than in any other division. But the number of appeals transferred by the Commissioner to Collectors, which is admitted by him to have been undesirably large, was 1,080, of which 263 fell to the share of the Collector of Meerut, who has complained of the extra work, and suggested that an additional Commissioner should be appointed for six months to clear off the pending appeals. The Government concurs with the Board that the consideration of this question may be postponed for the present, as the pending files in the Commissioner's and Collector's Courts have been greatly reduced.

Judicial work of the Board of Revenue. Paragraph 77.

17. The cases for disposal by the Board fell from 3,441 to 3,237, and those decided from 2,796 to 2,205. The distribution of judicial work between the Members was more equal than in the previous year, but the pending file is large, being 1,032 cases against 645 in 1893-94.

Coercive processes. Paragraphs 80—84.

18. The falling off in the total number of processes, and in the arrears for the recovery of which they were issued, was due to a decrease in the minor processes of writs and arrests, which were employed more sparingly than usual on account of the poor harvests, and the Government concurs with the Board that care and discrimination were generally exercised in the issue of processes for the collection of the revenue, and due allowance made for the circumstances of the people in parts where the harvests were seriously deficient. On the other hand, attachments of movable property considerably increased, and the number of sales more than doubled. Sales were largly resorted to in the Allahabad and Lucknow divisions, and emphasise the difficulty experienced in collecting the revenue. The remarks made in paragraph 14 of the orders on last year's report have resulted in a large reduction in the number of arrests and attachments in most of the districts that were singled out for mention. In Meerut alone the writs diminished from 705 to 22, owing to the introduction by the Collector of a system he found to work well in Basti some years ago, by which patwáris were required to prepare statements of the demand for distribution to the lambardárs 15 days before the revenue instalments fell due. This system was commended to the notice of other Collectors in the Board's report for 1889-90, but nothing is said as to the extent to which it has been adopted in other districts.

There would appear to be considerable difference of opinion as to the results of the experiment which has been introduced of utilizing the post for the service of writs. In some districts the system has been attended with much success, while in others it is unhesitatingly condemned. There is no doubt that the circumstances of the year were not favourable for working the system, and the Government agrees with the Board that it deserves a further trial even in the districts where it has been pronounced a failure. The fact that it prevents the employment of temporary process-servers, who are necessarily less under restraint than the permanent staff, is a strong recommendation of the system.

Transfers. Paragraph 87.

19. The statistics of transfers show in the North-Western Provinces a decrease in the number of transfers by public and private sale, but an increase in the number of mortgage cases. But in neither case is the change very remarkable. Whether the increase in mortgages be due or not to bad harvests, it is satisfactory to note that the number of mortgages fell below what it was in the prosperous year, 1893-94.

In Oudh, on the other hand, sales have increased in number, notably those by order of the courts, in which the increase is relatively large. The only satisfactory feature is an increasing number of redemptions.

The statistics given of the sales, compulsory and voluntary, in the united provinces distinguish between those which have taken place on land assessed to revenue from those of land free of revenue. It seems desirable to examine them with a view to ascertaining whether they indicate that the assessment of the land to revenue has any effect in multiplying transfers.

In the North-Western Provinces there occurred in revenue-paying land—

In 1893-94	...	...	...	20,895 sales
„ 1894-95	...	...	...	20,485 „

whereas in land free of revenue there were—

In 1893-94 ...	...	...	...	1,334 sales.
„ 1894-95 ...	...	...	...	1,176 „

The proportion of sales in the former to those in the latter class of land was as 16 to 1 in 1893-94 and as 17 to 1 in 1894-95.

The areas of the two classes of land are given on page 22, Form D, of the Appendix to the Administration Report for the North-Western Provinces and Oudh for 1894-95 as follows:—

	Acres.
Revenue-paying land (under headings 1 to 5) ...	42,036,120
Revenue-free land (under headings 6 and 7) ...	2,003,656

The area which pays revenue is to the area free of revenue as 21 to 1.

In Oudh the statistics yield still more remarkable results. The sales of land paying revenue in that province were to those of land free of revenue—

„ 1894-95 „ 37 „ 1

The area of the former class of land as shown in the statement quoted above is to that of the latter class as 75 to 1.

As far then as these statistics go, they afford at any rate some negative evidence that the revenue demand has had no effect in increasing the alienation of land. If it had had any such effect, it might be reasonably expected that the sales in land assessed to revenue would have been proportionately more frequent in such land than they were in land which is not liable to such a burden. This, at any rate judging by the relative frequency of the sales in the two classes of land, has not been the case. The statistics unfortunately do not show the areas transferred, but it may be presumed that they bear approximately the same proportion to one another as is borne by the numbers of the sales that took place.

Partitions.
Paragraph 91.

20. The disposal of partition work was satisfactory, only five districts showing cases pending over three years. The number of applications was large in the Gorakhpur and Meerut divisions, but more than half were disposed of. There has been an increase of nearly 6,000 in the number of mahâls, or 4 per cent. on the total number, which adds considerably to the work of land revenue collection. In the draft Bill to amend the Land Revenue Acts of both provinces proposals were formulated for the encouragement of imperfect partitions and the discouragement of the formation of very minute properties by perfect partition.

Advances under the Land Improvement Loans Act.
Paragraphs 92 and 93.

21. Advances under the Land Improvement Loans Act, although higher by over Rs. 11,000 than in the previous year, are still small, amounting in the year under report to only 77,781. In the North-Western Provinces the Allahabad division shows a large increase, but elsewhere there has been a general decrease, which is most marked in Meerut and Benares. In Oudh the figures have nearly doubled, but are still below those of previous years, and it is probable that extension of settlement operations here has reduced the demand for loans. The Board remark that there is no "persistent and spontaneous demand for Government aid." The connection between this fact and the degree of security of tenure enjoyed in the Provinces is a matter which the Lieutenant-Governor will pursue on a convenient occasion.

In the orders on last year's report it was suggested that loans might usefully be given for drainage works. The only hindrance in the way of carrying out this suggestion is said to be the difficulty of combined action among landowners and of reconciling conflicting interests, as well as that of obtaining competent engineering advice. The question of amending the law with a view to promoting drainage works is now under His Honor's consideration.

Advances under the Agriculturists' Loans Act. Paragraph 94.

22. It is satisfactory to note the marked increase in the advances under the Agriculturists' Loans Act. The figures are the highest on record since the Act was passed, and amounted to Rs. 6,77,280 as compared with Rs. 1,97,983 in the previous year. The largest increases were in the Allahabad, Lucknow, and Fyzabad divisions, where the effects of the bad seasons were most severely felt, and where in some districts there was a heavy mortality among cattle. The Government concurs with the Board that the money distributed was of material assistance to the agricultural classes, whose resources were, owing to the character of the year, greatly reduced. The Collector of Bánda (Mr. Ferard), believing that too high a standard of security was exacted before advances were made, introduced a system of making several cultivators jointly and severally responsible for the advances made to each without any other security. That system has been, within the Lieutenant-Governor's knowledge, tried with excellent results in other parts of India; but, as the Board remark, it must be judged in these provinces by its result, and its working should be carefully watched. Mr. Rose, the Commissioner of Agra, has not yet formulated his proposals for improving the method of advances under this Act, although he promised to have them ready in March 1896. In the report for the Meerut division Mr. Harington, the Commissioner, has discussed at length a scheme for advancing money for seed and cattle through selected landholders, and the Board will doubtless take this into consideration when submitting Mr. Rose's proposals.

Generally the Lieutenant-Governor's experience has been that the procedure for investigating securities is needlessly harassing and elaborate, and that greater care than is necessary is expended on seeing that the money is expended on the precise objects enumerated in the law. Simplification on these points and avoidance of inquisitorial proceedings are very desirable.

Settlement. Paragraphs 109—124.

23. The number of districts under settlement was the same as in the previous year, viz., three in the North-Western Provinces and nine in Oudh. Under the guidance of the Settlement Commissioner great progress has been made in Oudh in carrying out assessment operations; and in the North-Western Provinces the settlement of Garhwál has been practically completed. The Meerut district, and the Lalitpur sub-division of the Jhánsi district, have also been formally brought under settlement. Sanction has been accorded to the revision of assessment in Kheri and Bahraich; and in Sháhjahánpur further inquiries are being made with a view of enabling the Government to decide whether a general revision of the assessment is necessary.

Land Records Survey. Paragraphs 126 and 127 and the report of the Director of Land Records and Agriculture.

24. A scheme is now being worked for the revision of the land records by the permanent agency of the Land Records Department. Record operations are limited to the correction of the annual papers without attestation under the settlement rules or the preparation of a new record of rights. The progress of operations under the new system is described in the Director's report, which forms an appendix to the Board's report. The cadastral surveys made by the patwáris under the supervision of the survey staff are preceded by a professional traverse, and both survey and record work are now going on satisfactorily. The results of the scheme as regards the training of the patwáris and kánúngos and the quality of their work are said to have been excellent. The department has been strengthened by the appointment of a Superintendent of Land Records Surveys, and by the addition of three trained officers of the Survey Department for the supervision and control of the patwáris employed on cadastral work.

Patwáris and kánúngos. Paragraphs 128—131 and the report of the Director of Land Records and Agriculture.

25. The revision of patwáris' circles in the North-Western Provinces has been practically completed. The revised scheme for the Agra district, which it was thought could not be brought into force till 1st October 1896, has already been completely introduced a year earlier, and the results are said to have been satisfactory.

In Oudh the reorganization of patwári circles has been started in several districts, and will be carried out by District Officers on conclusion of settlement operations. It is satisfactory to note the punctuality with which the annual papers were filed. There was a decrease in the number of fields tested by superior officers, and this has been commented on both by the Director of Land Records and Agriculture and the Board. Increased attention has been paid to the maintenance of the pargana books, but officers are said to have confined themselves to testing the accuracy of the entries instead of utilizing them as a basis for further enquiry. The Board have under consideration the question of altering the rules so as to ensure greater uniformity of method and a more intelligent use of the registers.

Agricultural depression.

26. An interesting note has been prepared by the Director of Land Records on agricultural depression during recent years, and details are given in the summary of the district reports of the agricultural losses caused by excessive rainfall. The remedy suggested is the drainage of depressed areas, and although much has been done in this direction in the canal-irrigated districts, there are, as remarked by the Director, many others in which schemes could be carried out with advantage.

27. In conclusion the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner desires to thank the Board for their careful and successful administration of the Land Revenue Department during the year and for their full report.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above be forwarded to the Secretary to the Board of Revenue, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, for the information of the Board.

Ordered also that a copy be published in the Local Government Gazette.
